The funeral of the late Miss Louisa Schaub took place from the Fifth ward meeting house yesterday. Consoling remarks, eloquent of the good qualities of the deceased, were made by friends of the family, and the singing, rendered by the ward choir, was full of feeling. A friend writes from Washington says: The war department is in receipt of the following endorsements by Senator Hawley of officers of volunteers for positions in the regular army: G. W. Young, to be judge advocate with the rank of lieutenant colonel; F. W. Jennings of Salt Lake, to be captain of commissary of subsistence; Benjamin N. Coleman, the colored individual whose exonerants in an obscure city in the east, recently defined in a pathetic letter to the prisoner that he requesting that his Victim be released from behind the bars long enough to be asked to attend his deathbed, so he did not think he would be enabled, though anxious, to see the light at another day. Today he was around police headquarters as lively as a cricket, to see a man who was that the scheme had not worked.

Thomas Hendrickson, who also goes by the name of "Jack the Wooden-another," selected the center of the police office as the spot whereon to disclose yesterday Prosecuting Attorney Dickson's package of rough on rats to thoroughly informed the assembled detectives of the case that he had come to tell them for the 1st Detective Harris, however, thought otherwise, and with an adroit movement, affected the whole kind of poison over the immaculate New York. Hendrickson's Secretary, who was with him at the time, stated that he had been unable to convict Thomas at home, and that his case was indeed a mental derangement. The brother was advised by the officers to take him home to see Sheriff Hynes and call on Hendrickson in the near who, sage works are considered a page of glass in the front of R. G. Dun.

VILLAINOUS TRAMP'S ASSAULT

Cashier Duncan's Wife Knocked Down With a Club.

UNCONSCIOUS HALF AN HOUR

Tramp Goes Through the House and Helps Himself, Then Makes His Escape.

That tramps are getting more bold and daring from day to day is patent to the average householder in Salt Lake. Only a couple of nights ago a gentleman residing in the east part of town opened the door at 9 o'clock, in answer to a knock, to find a burly specimen of the genus hobo on the porch, who started on with a pathetic obligate rendered in the accepted "sonny" tones, and wound up with an insolent demand for money to help him get a bed and get to Park City. This Weary Willie was told to call at the city hall. It a lady had answered the door, possibly the sequel might have had a different ending.

The latest outrage perpetrated by these gentry who go around the outskirts of town terrifying ladies and housewives generally, occurred at 10 o'clock this morning at 1021 east South Temple street, the residence of Mr. Edward W. Duncan, cashier of the Utah National Bank of the Republic.

Mr. Duncan had no sooner left the house, when an evil-looking tramp, who had undoubtedly noted the fact that both the husband and his daughter, who attends the high school, had vacated the premises, put in his appearance and with a take-off was supplicating assistance. Mrs. Duncan, who was alone in the house, promptly cut him a big chunk of cake and a sample of sarcasm that would have appeased the gnawings of a reconstructed's stomach under the most aggravating circumstances.

The tribute, as the repast was handed out to the tramp, pleased it roughly on one side saying:

"Too—kin yo grub, I want money and want it quick."

Mrs. Duncan, thoroughly frightened, was about to open her mouth when the fellow drew her by hand from behind him and struck the lady over the head with some blunt instrument. Mrs. Duncan sank to the floor of the summer kitchen in an insensible condition, in which state she remained, according to her statement, for a period of nearly half an hour. In the meantime her assailant took a free run through the house and among other things appropriated a pair of boots from the larder and then vanished as in empty air.

Upon reaching her senses Mrs. Duncan ran into a neighbor's house for assistance. Mr. Duncan and the police were notified of the occurrence. Sergeant Jamieson took a quick run up to the scene of the instantly outrage, in the patrol wagon, and for the space of an hour searched the vicinity in vain for the unconscious tramp, but he drew a "water-haul."

Mrs. Duncan is suffering considerably from the effects of the fright and the blow, the latter having caused a nasty wound and bruise on her head.

The police entertain strong hopes of capturing in the near future, the perpetrator of the assault.

HURT IN THE COLLISION.

Names of Those Injured in the Union Pacific Wreck on Wednesday Night.

Brakeman David Hamilton and Tourists and Firemen William Mitchell were the men who were injured in the collision on the Union Pacific at the foot of Photonist Hill, Wyoming, on Wednesday night, as detailed in Thursday's "News." Engineer Hamilton, who was on the passenger train, was injured in his cab, and sustained the fracture of a leg, besides other injuries. Engineer Tupman of the sleeper was injured internally and had his cabs badly crushed. Fireman Mitchell sustained the loss of his cabs, having the flesh torn from his legs in many places, besides being injured internally as that he died. Mitchell was formerly an Indian man, having moved from the Junction city to Evanston about a year ago. Brakeman Hamilton of the passenger showed bruises covering his entire at his point. The necessary passed conditions necessitatory of the brave engineer's action.

Work on the Cross Branch.

Actual work on the Eureka-Nevada-Wortsman on the Bonanza canyon will begin on Monday next. Twenty-five teams are now at work on the south fork of Nevada Fork canyon clearing the grade.

Educational Association Notes.

The transcontinental conference meeting, at which Messrs. Wadleigh and Bailey of Salt Lake, were present, has contributed its labors to the education with the Salt Lake educational association. Rate is the element of the meeting at which is a dispatch from Omaha last night:

"After a three days' conference, in which all the lines of the Missouri River and the other sisters acquiesced, the transcontinental lines have adjourned sine die, leaving it to be left to the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe for the National Educational association convention in Los Angeles next July. The rate will be $25 for the round trip from Missouri River, inclusive tickets. The selling dates will be June 30th to 7th, inclusive, and July 3rd to 6th, inclusive, with the final return limit September 15th.

"On all business which goes out over the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe, the clerks of the Omaha railroads and figures via Portland, an extra $5 will have to be added to the regular rate, in order to be able to meet the rate which will use it to book their rate equally with that of the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe, and in order to be able to make the rate, it will be the price of the ticket, in a position, yet to be solved. If the rate be added to the ticket, a point may go from Kansas City to Los Angeles and return, by Portland for the price of the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe rate, which is $60.50. The Southern Pacific will charge $12.50 for the said Kansas City to Los Angeles, and in addition the Omaha railroad will have to pay the same amount which will make the price from Los Angeles to San Francisco. Of the $5 which is to be charged for the Portland ticket, it goes to the International association.

"If the regular rates to Portland, $25 will go to one of the southern lines. The Southern Pacific will get $12.50 for the Salt Lake City to Los Angeles and the lines $12.50 to be divided among the connecting lines following the business to Omaha from the Missouri river.

"The Great Northern, at the close of the meeting, announced a one-way rate of $22 from St. Paul to Portland, going into effect Monday and continuing every day without limit, as to time. The road reserves the right to be a party to one of its pair to settle up the Northern, and the rate applies to all points on the line where the regular rate to Portland is more than $25. Other roads will meet the cut."

RAILROAD NOTES.

Live Stock Agent Gregory of the Denver and Rio Grande left last night for his old home in Maine. Mr. Gregory is hastening to the bedside of his aged mother, who is dangerously ill.

A San Francisco dispatch today states that the Santa Fe railroad will run the first train into San Francisco on April 1 next, using the Tehachapi section of the Southern Pacific. From that time on a regular service will be maintained between Stockton and all eastern points with the company's extension from Fresno to Richmond and San Francisco is perfected.

Traveling Passenger Agent Newell Potter of the Union Pacific came in this morning from Ogden. He left the Ogden company from Tooele to Ogden on the way to San Francisco. The prime object of his visit to Mrs. Kribs, who is expected to be private car. The company may be a special train of Pullmans to Salt Lake City will be offered by the company upon its return in April.

It is officially announced in Topeka, Kas., that the Santa Fe will enter San Francisco over its own track by the middle of the year of next year, and not at the latest. This is a much earlier entrance than at first announced. Simultaneously with the completion of trains over the California line or by the time of the opening up of traffic to the east, a sleeping car service from Los Angeles to San Francisco will be put on.

A Chicago dispatch received last night says that the big meeting of Western passenger men which began today did not develop. It was called for the purpose of drawing upon rates and advertised that a big row was in store of the year. Owing to severe concessions in the West, a number of representatives from the East were to have attended could not get to Chicago in time. The meeting was therefore adjourned until next Tuesday, when it will be held in St. Louis.

Some few months ago the general agents of the roads having offices in Omaha formed an association for the purpose of protection against shippers who attempted to work the roads in such a manner as to defeat the ends of justice. Since that time the Salt Lake agents have had in mind a meeting of the association in Omaha, but it is understood there is no use in trying to accomplish this end held this morning at the Union Pacific office in the Deseret block. When asked about the matter this morning the gentleman in charge of the office stated that a meeting of the character mentioned was to be held. The fact that it did not come off was due to a little accident that the matter had got noised abroad.

ANOTHER OLDEST MEMBER.

Simeon Cook Dedlinger writes from Thatcher, Graham county, Arizona, regarding the oldest person born in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. He says that his brother was March 1st, 1799. He was born in Jackson county, Mo.

The purposes for which the company is formed are to construct and erect canals and works for conducting water and irrigating the lands adjacent and within Rich county. Its property consists of the works erected on the Woodruff creek, in Rich county, together with certain water rights.

AMUSEMENTS.

At the Grand last night the Gran company gave as its first attempt at opera, straight, unbelied by gags or burlesque. Martha was the bill and its bearers, which seem never to fade or diminish, were well brought out. Mr. Davies in particular doing excellent work in the trying role of the tenor, and Miss Farrington sustaining the role of Martha in good form. The last time of Summer, was given with encouraging and fleeting. Mr. Langdon was not at his best, Mr. Stankard and Miss Hayes gave a fair interpretation of the maid. Mr. Pelle's "Lost Chord" as Sir Sir Tristan, and evidently had hard work to do it. The orchestra acquitted itself specially well, and Mr. Tom Two Steps, which is Brunkle under another name.

ABOUT MECHANICS.

Takes all round, the European worker is at a disadvantage compared with the American, so as much time is consumed in washing and starting, in eating mouthfuls, and in drinking beer and ale during working hours. It is impossible, also, for Continental workers to use the hours in this drinking, nibbling fashion as can be turned to account by many rules, under the system, with good fuel and plenty of it. Instead of the time wasted in one day by the average Continental, the English workshop where one thousand men are employed, is in an aggregate to the extent of a thousand hours, or at the time by each individual. For one thousand men this is, say, 10 hours per day, or 6,000 hours, or 750 days, or 2 years and a half. The American mechanic begins the day with a substantial breakfast, stops work at 1, works without stopping till 6, has an hour for dinner, and works again from 1 to 6 without stopping. He has no bed, no sandwiches. Well-fed, steady working. Which has the advantage?—H. P. L. Orman, in the Engineering Magazine for March.
