LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Fireman's Notice. — Regular meetings of the Alert Engine Company No. 3, this Wednesday evening, April 27, at 7.30 p.m. sharp.

CHAS. HIXON, Sec'y.

Grateful Acknowledgements. — The relatives and friends of the late Frederick Jones, desire to tender their grateful acknowledgements to the many friends who have shown so much kindness to the bereaved during their hour of affliction.

Forbes' Lectures.—The lectures by Mr. Archibald Forbes, the famous war correspondent, will positively take place on Thursday and Friday evenings. The report that the nights were changed, is erroneous. Tickets are going rapidly.

First Company.—By telegram we learn that the company of emigrants which left Liverpool on the 16th inst., per steamship Wyoming, arrived in New York yesterday, and left for the west to-day; all well. They will probably reach this city on Wednesday next.

The Missionaries.—Elders A. N. Macfarlane, Rodney Hillam and Ben E. Rich, who left here a week ago Sunday morning, sailed from New York yesterday. The others who left Ogden the Tuesday following failed to connect, as they did not reach New York until this afternoon. This will necessitate their stopping there until Tuesday, the 3d prox., when the next vessel sails.

Beresford Escaped.—Quite an excitement was occasioned in the District Court, this afternoon, by the rumor, soon proven to be true, that Hugh L. Courtney, otherwise Lord Marcus La Poer Beresford, on trial for forgery, had escaped from the custody of the U. S. Marshal. His case came up this morning, and he himself appeared before the Court. On account of the absence of Messrs. Godbe and Medhurst, principal witnesses for the prosecution, the counsel for the people moved for a continuance of the case. This was opposed by the defense, who moved that a jury be empaneled and that a verdict, which in the absence of the witnesses mentioned would have been "not guilty," be given in the case. This the Court did not feel disposed to grant, but instead, ordered merely that the indictment be dismissed. The prosecution then moved that the defendant be held under a warrant of extradition received from Great Britain and transmitted through Secretary of State, Wm. M. Evarts. The arrival of these documents created a considerable stir, and the counsel for the defense asked a postponement till 2 o'clock to enable them to look over the papers, to ascertain if they were in due form of law. The request was granted and the recess was taken, Beresford being remanded to the custody of the Marshal in the meantime. This was the last that was seen of him. It is said that he entered a saloon with a Deputy Marshal and was not seen afterwards. An effort will be made to capture him, but it is very doubtful about his being retaken. It is understood that he has many friends who have been waiting for a long time for just such an opportunity to spirit him away, and in their care, it is believed he can remain in this city for a period of six months with no fear of being arrested. Of course, he will disguise himself and will use all his well known cunning and ingenuity to avoid being captured by the officers of the law. The warrant of extradition, acknowledged by Secretary Evarts, required the removal of Beresford to Great Britain for trial for various misdemeanors committed in that country prior to his coming here.

The Telephone.—As the telephone system has been inaugurated in this city, and is fast being put into complete successful operation, it may be interesting to our readers to learn a little of how the thing is worked. Our reporter, this morning, paid a visit to the Central Office on Main Street, in the same building as that occupied by the Western Union Telegraph Office. It is at present under the superintendence of A. J. Pattison, Esq. On the north side of the apartment is a large stand with an upright back, upon which are the switch tables, two in number, each one capable of accommodating 50 wires. Upon these tables, by means of movable metal plugs, with rubber handles, all the wires of the system are controlled. At the back of, and a little above the switch tables, in double rows are the "drops," by which the central office is called prior to the wishes of the caller being made known. These drops are all numbered to correspond with the names of the callers, and are worked upon by the wires which centralize at the office from all parts of the city. Just above each switch table is suspended a telephone, at which stands an attendant with his ear to the tube and his mouth a few inches from the transmitter, ready to receive signals reported thereto, and make the desired connection on the table before him. Each place connected with the Central Office is furnished with a telephone with signal bell, transmitter, etc., and when the owner desires to communicate with another party, he rings the signal bell. In response to this the central office "drop," labeled with his number, falls before the eyes of the attendant, who immediately puts himself in connection with the caller and speaks through the transmitter the word "Hallo!" The applicant then names the place with which he desires to communicate, and the attendant makes the connection on the switch board and sends back the words, "Go ahead." The dialogue may then take place uninterrupted by and entirely unknown to the central office. Where two or more persons use the same wire, it may be so arranged as to strictly preserve the privacy of the colloquy between the conversing parties. A person on the same wire with several others can call the one he wishes to speak with by a preconcerted signal on the bell, say one stroke for a certain house, two strokes for another, etc. No person is put upon another wire except by mutual agreement of the parties. Some of those on the same wire are at present having considerable fuss answering each other's calls for other parties. For instance, if a gentleman at home calls over the wire for ice cream from Arbogast's, the genial Lannan, on the same line answers back: "Don't keep ice cream. Have some splendid beef, though." "Go to the ——," is very apt to be the reply from the ice cream applicant. Such good-natured mischief will, of course continue as long as the thing remains a novelty. The exchange at present has 106 wires in position, about 60 of which, including one with Ogden, were in successful operation this morning, and 70 or more were expected to be before night. As said, the two switch tables now in use have a united capacity of 100 wires, therefore others will soon have to be procured. Mr. Pattison has but temporary charge of the Salt Lake office. His labors are in Ogden properly, but he will remain here long enough to get the exchange in first class working order. He is an intelligent gentleman, thoroughly posted on the practical details and proper manipulation of the telephone, and says he can guarantee the Salt Lake system to be, eventually, as fine and perfect as any in the world. He will appoint Mr. Leavitt, of this city, as manager of the Salt Lake office, on his return to Ogden. After it gets to working more smoothly in this city, we may say more in description of this wonderful invention—the telephone.

The Situation.—The illustration of tying a man's hands behind him, throwing him into the water and telling him to swim, might find application in the present apparent attitude of the Federal Courts towards the municipal authorities. The party with which the Federal authorities seem to, and undoubtedly do, sympathize, are the loudest howlers against "Mormon" intemperance to be found anywhere. Though most of the liquor disposed of in the whole Territory finds its way down their throats, and the greater part of their time is occupied in putting it there, yet the most besotted of these "Liberal" guzzlers will find time between swallows to bray out at any moment against "Mormon" drunkenness. These and the liquor dealers who defy the law, are they whom our courts seem to uphold and encourage, while the maligned "Mormons" stand helpless to prevent the evil, and are forced to endure with patience the vile insults continually heaped upon them. Having a pure desire to check and abolish the evils of intemperance, but being powerless to make the first move in that direction. And then to hear the despicable advocates of vice and anarchy chuckle with glee, over a decision in the Courts which makes it impossible for the City Council to stir hand or foot to restrain the liquor curse, while arm in arm with such characters, the sanctimonious hypocrite, winking at their depravity, breathes out his deprecation of the "Mormon" authorities for allowing whiskey saloons to run without license. Is it not getting almost sickening enough for sensible people the world over, despite their anti-"Mormon" prejudice, to see it in its proper light?

Beaver Court House.—The contract for finishing the new court house at Beaver, spoken of a day or two ago, has been let to Messrs. Holt and Clayton, of that city. The Utonian says that the roof, which was designed by Oped Tayler, the able architect of Salt Lake City is to be a "Mansard," or French roof, with a clock tower, on the north end, and will cost over $2,000 in cash. It is the intention, if possible, to finish the entire building before the next winter.

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

It seems strange that anyone will suffer from the many derangements brought on by an impure condition of the blood, when SCOVILL'S BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP will restore perfect health to the physical organization. It is indeed a strengthening syrup, pleasant to take, and has proven itself to be the best blood purifier ever discovered, effectually curing Scrofula, Weakness of the Kidneys, all Nervous disorders and Debility. It corrects indigestion. It makes the old feel young, and the young feel gay, and will invariably drive out of the system the many ills that human flesh is heir to. A single bottle will prove to you its merits as a health renewer, for it acts like a charm, especially when the complaint is of an exhaustive nature, having a tendency to lessen the natural vigor of the brain and nervous system. AYERS' CATHARTIC PILLS are the best of all purgatives for family use. They are the product of long, laborious, and successful chemical investigation, and their extensive use, by Physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, proves them the best and most effective purgative Pill that medical science can devise. Being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use. In intrinsic value and curative powers no other pills can be compared with them, and every person, knowing their virtues, will employ them, when needed. They keep the system in perfect order, and maintain in healthy action the whole machinery of life. Mild, searching and effectual, they are specially adapted to the needs of the digestive apparatus, derangements of which they prevent and cure, if timely taken. They are the best and safest physic to employ for children and weakened constitutions, where a mild, but effectual cathartic is required. 4dsw

PERFECTION BAKING POWDER.

We respectfully call the attention of the Public to the following analysis:

Laboratory of the Health Department, Chicago, Aug. 3, 1880.

OSCAR DE WOLF, Commissioner of Health.

Dear Sir:—I have made a very careful and elaborate chemical analysis of twenty-seven samples of baking powders received from the hands of Mr. Merkl, your clerk, and have the honor to report the following table of figures:

	Soluble Ash.	Insoluble Ash.	Total Ash.
PERFECTION, - - -	29.00	0.06	29.06
DR. PRICE'S CREAM, - - -	28.18	0.12	28.30
ROYAL, - - - - - -	33.10	0.12	33.22

A known and weighed quantity of baking powder was incinerated in a silver crucible until only a grey residue was left. This is the total ash. It was carefully removed to a glass vessel and acted upon by hydrochloric acid and distilled water at the boiling point. What dissolved in that menstruum has been called soluble ash, and that which did not, insoluble ash.

I have the honor to be, sir, yours very respectfully, R. S. G. PATON, Chemist of the Health Department.

We have always claimed that the Perfection is the highest grade of baking powder that can be produced from cream tarter and soda. Respectfully,

SPRAGUES, WARNER & GRISWOLD, CHICAGO.
