Swarms of Grasshoppers Make Their Appearance in Denver.

NAINDIAN SKELEION UNEARTHED.

A "secret" in White Sugar Making.—Valuable Strike in Nevada.—Other Items.

The Prescott (Arizona) Courier wants a board of fairly school trustees elected, knowing it believes they know the children and take more interest in their education.

J. C. Fischer, a Colorado journalist and politician, is in Cheyenne making arrangements to establish a new daily paper, to be the organ of the Populists of Wyoming.

It is the general opinion of the Australian who came from Kentucky district, says the Austin (Nevada) Reveille, that it is destined to become one of the best camps on the Central coast in the future. At 12 to 18 in a stick is reported will be 8,500 sections as the mill is completed and the workings are beginning to come with ships.

Reliable information reached here during the week, says the Elko (Nevada) Sentinel, that Crosby Brown has made a valuable strike in South Pole mountain in a claim to Longton in Tom Rockhill, of White Pine. The ledge is three to 4 feet and yields ore that runs from $700 to $1700 per ton in silver. The Bull is about eight miles from the Bull mountain district.

Says the Arizona Prospector: Bones of dead animals in Arizona and elsewhere are gathered and shipped to different parts of the country and used for various purposes, among others they are used extensively in the manufacture of sugar. A Tombstone business man who has worked in the manufacture of sugar, from observation, gives a description of the process it undergoes before it is made is clear and white, passed through six coats of bone coal. Any one who could see the white sugar made would use the brown the darker. It has double the strength, sweeter, and is pure and clean.

The party of Duluth capitalists who went to take hold of the railroad from Weiser north, have arrived, says the Weiser (Idaho) Signal. The entire party will start Monday for the seven Devils and if they are as well pleased with that camp as they are with the balance of the country, construction work will begin at once. The Norrits have just bonded the Lockwood strike on Rapid river for $60,000 and have intentions of becoming further interested in the county and Weiser, mainly on the railroad. They have unlimited money at their command and are able to carry out whatever they undertake.

Last week, says the Denver News, many of the farmers and gardeners in this vicinity were greatly alarmed over the sudden appearance of swarms of grasshoppers. They seemed to be in the greatest numbers over the southern and eastern parts of the city, and while very little or no damage was done, they occasioned great alarm, and for the past few days the old-timers have been relating once more almost forgotten tales of the grasshoppers of '74. The hoppers seemed to be most plentiful about Saturday, but yesterday (Sunday) most of them had disappeared as quietly as they came, and the only damage reported is a wrecked flower garden here and there in some of the swell localities on the hill.

The caves in southern Oregon have attracted a great deal of attention recently, observes the Boise (Idaho) Democrat, and the following description is from the Grant's Pass Courier: "Deputy Sheriff Gallesner took a trip to the caves last week to serve an attachment against personal property. Palatial vaulted chambers, glistening stalactites, brilliant stalagmites, cool, refreshing crystal springs, and long tortuous passages greeted him everywhere. By and by, when he got communication opened up with these gorgeous underground palaces a throng of sightseers will be on the road all the time. It has been suggested that the government reserve these mighty chambers and leaving them for the benefit of the entire nation. It would be a good idea and a commission to examine them should be sent out by Congress."

According to the Sun Democrat, E. E. Hazel, while digging a trench for a picket fence on the bank of the Cowlitz river, at Washington, the other day, unearthed the skeleton of an Indian, together with some stone of beads of various sizes and colors, a pair of scissors, a large number of shells and ten or a dozen copper coins. There were two sets of the coins, one about the size of a quarter-dollar piece and the other the size of a copper cent. On one side of the large coins appeared a dog, and on the other a vignette, together with "Major General W. H. Harrison, 1775," was engraved. Some of the coins bear a different date, while on others the inscriptions were invisible. The coins were evidently brought to the coast by the Hudson Bay company of old settlers in that section, some of them are thought to be valuable on account of their date.

Mrs. James Brown Potter and Kyrle Bellew have just arrived from an extended trip to the Orient, and are staying for a brief time at the Baldwin hotel, San Francisco. According to the Chronicle, Mrs. Potter and Mr. Bellew look remarkably well after their long journey around the world. They experienced the delights of quarantine at Hong Kong and Yokohama, and were also introduced to all the latest face in the distinctively Asiatic line. The Japanese officials are adopting every suggestion offered by foreign residents, they say, and foreign ships are entered with a rapidity that is simply appalling. Among the latest means employed by the astute Japs to rid people and ships of disease is to wash down the deck of the vessel with a toy watering pot filled with a strong perfume which they sprinkle on everything they wish to disinfect.

Not Objected.

"Mr. Coney asked me to marry him last night," she blushingly told her mother.

"And what did you tell him?"

"I told him to ask you."

"Ask you?" echoed the startled parent. "Why, Mary, surely you wouldn't have your dear old mother married again, would you?"—Atlanta Constitution.
