SEN. ALLISON'S BOOM.

A Republican Candidate for the Presidency Goes to Work.

SOME OF THE PLANS REVEALED

General Realpin, of New York, Mentioned for the Second Place on the Ticket.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—The Times-Herald today prints the following: Senator William B. Allison, candidate for the Republican nomination for the presidency of the United States, will start his boom in Chicago today. He enters the field aggressively, seeking the support of Western men, with his friend and fellow statesman, James S. Clarkson, is working for him interests in the East.

Mr. Allison comes to Chicago in company with General Henderson of Dubuque, a leader in the House of Representatives and one of the intimate Republicans in the country. General Henderson's appearance in Chicago with Allison is significant. It may be taken to mean that the distinguished Iowan are here to receive orders.

Senator Allison's lieutenants, according to information received by the Times-Herald, are endeavoring to secure a combination of which the details are all planned and which may receive the favorable attention of Republican leaders in the Eastern States who are supposedly committed to the candidacy of Thomas B. Reed, to the extent that Reed fails to get the nomination. The plan, which it is said has been good authority Clarkson is engineering, has for its object the nomination of Allison for President and of General McAlpin, of New York, for second place on the ticket. Inner circles have for some time been aware that a move of this kind was on foot and last month, when General McAlpin was in Chicago to attend the meeting of the executive committee of the National League of Republican clubs, of which he was president, it is claimed that Reed's friends, who were questioned about it, by evasiveness, he made no reply, or in effect denied, and left the friendly makers more convinced than before that there was a good deal in it.

Army Officer Retires.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Lieutenant Colonel Jeremiah H. Gilman, U. S. A., retired after forty years' service. For the last three years he has been chief of the commissary department of the Missouri.

GRIEVING CUBA.

Changes in the Spanish Cabinet Desired.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—A special to the Herald from Havana, Cuba, says: Serious differences in the Spanish ministry are reported in dispatches received from Madrid. Senor Canovas, the prime minister, has been in protracted consultation with the queen regent, Maria Christina. What was said is kept secret, but a dispatch to the Herald states that the general opinion is that the conference was over Cuban affairs and the ministerial disagreement caused by General Campos's pessimism on the subject of reforms here.

In ministerial circles here it is said Canovas's course is looking for a pretext to leave Cuba. That assertion is strong.

It is also reported that another style of conducting the war may be adopted. The best reports are constrained to mean that insurgents will be dealt with strictly according to the wishes of the conservatives generally.

Six Jobs For Formosa.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—A special to the Herald from St. Petersburg says: Special telegrams from Vladivostock to the Novoe Vremya says that the flag of the Black Flags in Formosa is said to float.

The Japanese troops are concentrated in Taiwan. The natives, however, are hostile that probably more troops will have to be sent to the island.

Nonsectarian in Brazil.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—A special to the World from Colon says: The monarchists in Brazil, according to a Rio News, desire that the republic continue longer than six months more. The French warship Dancourdien has arrived at Rio.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 12.—Rev. Dr. Wm. Lee, of Benton, a suburb of this city, has been found guilty of the charge of undue familiarity with young members of his flock, preferred against him, and has been formally suspended from the Presbyterian church. The secretary of the Presbytery has received orders to publish a list of Lee's suspension in all the church papers.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—A four-story building at 1731 Division street was burned last night, inflicting an aggregate loss of $20,000 on the small business men's which had rented space in the structure.

INTERNATIONAL NEWS FROM CUBA.

Spanish Officers Exchange Prisoners With the Insurgents.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—A special to the World from Havana says: Captain General Campos is said to be busy among the prisoners given by Insurgent General Rego at Sancagua, in Santa Clara province.

The Spanish first sent a volunteer to parley with General Rego, but General Rego would only negotiate with a commissioned officer of the regular army in that jurisdiction.

General Rego eventually delivered twenty wounded prisoners to a commission of six Spanish officers, including a surgeon. It is believed that some of the prisoners were of a very high rank otherwise the Spanish in Havana that Campos will order under arrest the young sons of leading Cubans in all the provinces, hoping thus to prevent the spread of the revolution.

Recently Martinez de Campos offered clemency to all insurgents who would surrender. Believing Campos was sincere, fifty insurgents gave themselves up in Santa Clara some days ago. These men were brought to Havana in chains and will be transported to a Spanish penal colony. Campos treachery has aroused intense indignation.

In the Benzil Spiritus province on Sunday, insurgents raided the towns of Guanaco, Jobosi and Hellanatl. Small detachments of Spanish soldiers in the towns were routed. The insurgents then burned the town halls and carried off several prominent residents, including the town officials.

Walker Will Be Released.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—There is a definite understanding among the attaches of the French legation that ex-Consul Waller will be released before New Years day. This, it is said, is part of the program of the new cabinet ministry in France to extend amnesty to all political offenders. Waller's release will come, it is understood, as part of a general scheme of forgiveness, and will be in no sense the result of any representations by the United States authorities.

Mutiny and Disaster.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—The American ship Bohemia arrived from Philadelphia this morning with stories of mutiny and disaster. The crew, headed by Second Mate Egan, mutinied after the ship had been through a storm off Rio Janeiro, and, against his will, the captain had to make for port. With the exception of the chief officer there was not a man on the vessel who sided with the skipper.

The second officer was led the mutineers, deserted at Rio de Janeiro and the remainder of the crew are absent. They will probably be arrested on complaint of the captain, and on their part say that they will have the captain taken into custody for cruelty on the high seas and do not scruple to state that he was responsible for the loss of one of the starboard watch overboard.

Exchange of Regiments.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—It is believed in army circles the Fifteenth United States infantry stationed at Fort Sheridan will shortly be transferred to the department of Texas, relieving the Twenty-third infantry, which will in turn relieve the Fourteenth infantry at Vancouver barracks, Wash., the latter regiment coming to the department of Missouri, relieving the Fifteenth infantry.

ROBBERY AT SANTA FE DEPOT

Coal Thieves Secure Twenty Thousand Dollars From a Safe.

Official Statement by the Wells Fargo Express Company—Tracking the Villains.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Nov. 12.—The Wells Fargo Express company has given out the following official statement regarding the robbery at the Santa Fe depot last night:

Twenty thousand dollars was sent from Denver to the First National Bank of Colorado Springs early in the afternoon. The money was received about 4 o'clock, too late to be delivered to the bank. The package containing the money was placed in the depot safe and both doors locked. Evidently the thieves knew of its existence. Now No. 8 train came in, about 9:45, there were other packages shipped by express to the amount of $35,000 consigned to the same bank. These packages were delivered to the agent and placed in the safe. After the train had departed, Agent George Krout went to the platform to straighten trucks which were standing there, and when he returned to the office was met at the door by two masked men with drawn revolvers. The package containing the $20,000 was demanded and he was compelled to open the safe and give it up.

The agent said nothing about the remaining packages and the robbers left at once.

When Krout entered the office two men, one tall, the other short, controlled him with revolvers and commanded him to throw up his hands. Krout obeyed. Then one of the robbers said:

"Not a word from you; we want you to open that safe and be quick about it."

With trembling hands he slowly turned the combination. When the door swung open, Krout explained that there was only one package there and reaching in, picked up an envelope containing $20,000 which he handed the thief. At this point the heavy door, Krout's action in handing out the $20,000 package and closing the door of the safe saved the company $35,000. During all this time the thieves did not appear the least excited. The robbers ordered Krout to undress himself and get into bed. After he had done so, one of the men took pains to see the quilts and comforters drawn tightly over Krout's head and tucked down, then they left. When Krout plucked up courage to go outside, there was no one in sight. Before 11 o'clock posses were scouring the vicinity of the depot. Bloodhounds tracked the men along Pike's Peak avenue through the heart of the city. On the theory that they will go to Cripple Creek over the Cheyenne mountain road, the posse started from that city to head them off.

The depot agent was not 100 yards from Krout's office while the robbery was being committed, but knew nothing until informed by Krout.

The express company's officials believe the robbery was committed by A. J. Grey, alias Sam Wells, and J. E. Stearn, alias C. J. Stern, who were arrested for the theft of $16,000 from an express at Cripple Creek on April 11, and were recently, the company with Tom McCarthy, escaped from jail in this city. B. L. Montgomery, who was a prisoner at the time of the escape, notified the police of Denver several days ago that Grey and Stuart plotted when in jail to rob the express company again. The officials of the company believe that the robbers had an accomplice in the bank.

Clifton Mayne Found Guilty.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 12.—Clifton Mayne, who has been on trial for the last week for assaulting Elsie Shipton, his ward, has been found guilty. Mayne was formerly in the real estate business in Omaha and later in San Francisco.

ARRESTED BY SPANIARDS.

Americans, British and French Subjects at Guantanamo.

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 12.—The Spaniards have arrested Ernest Brooks, a British subject and manager of the Soledad sugar plantation; Messrs. Bacon and Hugel, French citizens, and several Americans engaged in business in Guantanamo. The British, French and American vice consuls demanded the release of the prisoners, but the Spanish officials, Spanish authorities assert that the men arrested have paid tribute to the insurgent chief, Maceo, and have also smuggled arms.

The Spanish, at the instance of General Campos, have also arrested about fifty boys, members of the most prominent Cuban families in Guantanamo, to be held as hostages for the loyalty of their parents. It is reported would not have agreed to the terms proposed by the rebel general. The Spanish will not disclose what these terms were.

The news caused a tremendous sensation in this city. The Spanish are amazed. They cannot understand how General Campos's officers dare to close a transaction with a rebel general. They claim that the rebels are worse than bandits and that no honorable Spanish officer should enter into negotiations with them.

FLOWERS AND MUSIC

Marriage of Miss Pauline Payne Whitney to Mr. Paget.

CLEVELAND AMONG THE GUESTS.

Minute Descriptions of Gowns and Corsages—The Ceremonies—The Honeymoon and Home.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The marriage of Miss Pauline Payne Whitney to Mr. Almeric Paget was solemnized at noon today at St. Thomas church.

The bride is the daughter of William Whitney, the former secretary of the navy. The groom is the youngest son of the late General Lord Alfred Paget, the personal aide-de-camp to the queen and the grandson of the first marquis of Anglesea.

The interior of the church was completely hidden beneath ivies, chrysanthemums and lilies, these flowers also being arranged on four triple arches erected across the center aisle seats, while the stone Doric pillars and ornaments were entirely hidden in masses of rhododendrons. Around the chancel and choir tree ferns and palms were placed. The council rail, galleries and side aisles were banked with flowers over which was artistically draped hanging green and white tracery of foliage and lilies, which gave a natural, unstudied effect in the decorations.

The family and immediate friends had seats separated from those reserved for the guests, by the floral gate built on Doric lines extending across the center aisle. On the right sat President Cleveland, Secretary Dohrel S. Lamont, and secretary of Navy Herbert, and in seats immediately behind the presidential party were Governor and Mrs. Morton, Sir Julian Pauncefote and members of the British embassy, Dr. Chauncey M. Depew and specially invited guests. On the left were seated members of the Whitney household, Lady Colebrook and Miss Alice Paget, sisters of the bridegroom; Lord Wentworth, and personal friends of the bride. In honor of the occasion, Edward de Reske and Mme. Nordica sang "Ave Maria" from Mascagni's Mme. Modelmoiselle's Mermaid. Just before the nuptial service Nordikasang Gounod's "Ave Maria" and Frank Ondricek rendered Laud's "Elegie" on violin.

Handel's "Largo" was performed by Frankie's orchestra, accompanied by harps and organ, and a delightful musical program was presented before the arrival of the bridal party.

Soon after 12 o'clock, to the strains of a wedding march, the bridal party proceeded to the chancel in the following order:

Ushers—Gouldhaye, John C. Firman, H. Maitland Kersey, W. Cutting Jr., Winthrop Brotherhood, Jared Flows, Crawford Livingstone, and the bride's brother, Harry Whitney.

Then came four little flower maidens, Misses Catherine Barney, Laura Whitney, Francis Bingham and Dorothy Whitney, the bride's sister.

These four little attendants in white, carried a large basket of lilies of the valley and white roses. Following these came six bridesmaids, Misses Gertrude Vanderbilt, Emily Vanderbilt Sloan, Aesha Barney, Beatrice Reid, Susie Dimmerck and Edith Blake Brown.

Miss Vanderbilt was in white, Miss Sloan in pink, Miss Barney in yellow, Miss Reid in heliotrope, Miss Dimmerck in blue and Miss Brown in green.

Miss Whitney, who entered leaning on the arm of her father, made a beautiful bride. Her wedding gowns of ivory white satin were perfectly plain without lace or embroidery save a heavy silk cord which ran around the edge. The corsage was finished with stock collar of pleated satin covered with point lace finished in rosettes on either side, and half sleeves were finished from the elbow to the wrist in gauntlet style with narrow frills of lace at the wrist. The waist was seamless. A cluster of orange blossoms was fastened at the left side on the waist line, and the veil was made from a splendid piece of point lace worn by the bride's mother, which extended almost to the train.

The bridal party were met at the chancel steps by the groom and the best man, Gerard Paget. The bride and groom were met at the chancel steps by Bishop Potter and Leonard, and Rector Dr. John Wesley Brown. The charge was read by the rector, Bishop Leonard performing the betrothal service, Bishop Potter officiating at the marriage ceremony proper at the altar rail.

Immediately after the ceremony the newly wedded pair were accompanied to the vestry by the president and Sir Julian Pauncefote, who subscribed their names to the marriage registry as witnesses. While the bridal party were signing the registry, Miss Nordika sang and the flower girls presented favors to the specially invited guests.

The reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the residence of the bride's father, to which 400 guests were bidden. In the inner hall an immense bell of white flowers was hung, beneath which the bridal couple received the congratulations of friends. The decorations of the house were simple and effective.

The wedding breakfast was served at small tables set in the dining room. The bridal party was seated at a crescent-shaped table arranged across the bay window.

The bridal couple will pass part of their honeymoon at Mr. Whitney's country seat at Westbury, L. I., and later slowly tour through the eastern states on route to St. Paul, Minn., where Mr. Paget and bride will make their home.

ATCHISON AFFAIRS.

Reorganization Committee to Meet and Name Officers.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The reorganization committee of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad company will meet in this city today to name the officers and directors of the new company. It has not been decided yet who is to be selected as president. The most prominent candidates are E. T. Jeffrey, now president of the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad company and D. R. Robinson, who has been acting president of the Santa Fe since the resignation of J. W. Reinhart. Mr. Jeffrey has the support of some of the foreign interests, but Mr. Robinson, partly on account of his many friends and his familiarity with the system, is preferred by American security holders. Mr. Robinson was born in Vermont in 1847, and has been in the railway service since 1866. He became general manager of the Sonora Railway company in Mexico in 1880, and since that time his service has been with roads in the southwest, part of the time with the Atlantic & Pacific and the Colorado Midland. A FLOUR WAR.

Wholesale Grocers in Chicago Combine with Millers.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—A local paper says: Growing out of an attempt on the part of a majority of the wholesale grocers in this city to form a combination with the big northwestern millers, a flour war has broken out. Prices on the leading brands have been cut sharply by the local grocers.

Last week the Washburn-Crosby company was approached by representatives of the wholesale grocers and asked to put a "limited price" on flour.

The reason assigned for the request was that cutting was going on and by combining what is known as a factor basis an established price might be fixed whereby the grocers would nominally act as agents for the millers and those who would not accept terms given to factors on a mutual equality would be allowed to fix their own prices but shut out from the advantages given to factors.

The Washburn-Crosby company refused to go into the combination. Thereupon the grocers who were working for the new plan retaliated by cutting the prices on other brands of flour.

The discovery of the attempt to put the combination factor plan into the flour trade caused no end of comment among grocers and jobbers. The situation of Attorney General Maloney has been called to the growing tendency among the grocers to establish prices by agreement, since the plan went into operation with the sugar trust, and interesting developments may be looked for.

When he left San Francisco he carried as companions a cat and bull terrier pup. The cat died just as the trio reached the Kansas line.

Whittington reached Chicago 12 days ahead of time. He carries with him a book containing the signatures of the postmasters of all towns on the route. He will leave Chicago Wednesday for Cleveland. He expects to reach Boston in March.

MOCKING THE AMBASSADORS

The Sultan Says Order Has Been Restored in Asia Minor.

But He is Mobilizing Troops to Fight Armenians who Already Have Captured a Turkish Fort.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 12.—Each day shows that the situation here is growing more threatening. The Porte today, replying to the identical notes of the ambassadors of Germany, Austria and Italy, simply said that information regarding the scheme for reform in Armenia would be forwarded to the representatives of the powers "without delay." In other words, these three ambassadors, at least, obtained no satisfaction at all. It is not yet known if the notes of the ambassadors of Great Britain, Russia and France have been replied to. Surprise is expressed, even by diplomats in this city who expect almost anything of Turkey, at the "Porte's" thanks of the sultan in sanctioning the official note issued yesterday, expressing Abdul Hamid's thanks for the "energetic measures taken by the imperial authorities in suppressing the disturbances in Asia Minor, and asserting that "order had now been restored in all the districts recently the scene of riots and conflicts," and adding that "precautions had been taken to insure the maintenance of order." This really looks like mocking the ambassadors.

As to order being restored in the disturbed districts, it need only be said that the mobilization of about 150,000 troops to be sent to these districts is progressing as actively as the Turkish government can pursue an undertaking, hampered by lack of funds and the incompetency of its officials.

Advices received today announce fresh disturbances at Marash, Bitlis and Sivas with attendant massacres.

AN ARMENIAN VICTORY.

It is also announced that a batallion of Turkish troops in the garrison at Zeitoun, which recently distinguished itself by surrounding and shooting down Armenian insurgents, was later besieged in the barracks by Armenians to whom the soldiers eventually capitulated with arms and ammunition. The Armenians now occupy the quarters at Zeitoun previously occupied by the Turkish soldiery.

ANXIETY FOR AMERICANS.

The Armenians also had garrisoned all important possessions in and about Zeitoun, and are gathering ammunition and provisions, throwing up fortifications and in every way preparing to hold the place.

Considerable anxiety is felt in American circles here on account of the absence of news from the districts where the American missionaries are stationed. Ambassador Terrell telegraphed Commissioner Dardnam at Harput asking him if the American missions in safe. According to advices today from Hadjin, several villages in that vicinity have been attacked by rioters who massacred the inhabitants and plundered property. It is feared that the disturbances will spread to Hadjin.

It was stated this afternoon in European officials circles here that as a result of the additional exchange of views between the powers, a joint course of action, involving a display of naval and possibly of military force, already had been decided upon.

Sale of Bonds Postponed.

Two boats with crews of two men each were taken around the Petrel. Over two miles of nets were confiscated. The crews of the boats that escaped admit that they were fishing in Canadian waters.

The Cow-Boy Preacher Arrested.

For the 189th time Mr. Rice, the cowboy preacher has been arrested. He was engaged in addressing an assemblage at the corner of Second South and East Temple streets, last evening, when Joe Walden stepped into the arena and attacked Mr. Rice by classing him as an imposter and a humbug. The reverend gentleman could not stand this, and he immediately took Joe by the neck and pantaloons and threw him out of the circle. This proceeding caused some excitement and Mr. Rice was arrested for a disturbance of the peace. He appeared in the police court this morning but his hearing was continued until tomorrow morning.

IS A BITTER FIGHT.

The Donovan Case Develops Bad Blood in the Department.

PLAYED POKER FOR MONEY.

The Chief and Captain Indulged in Friendly Games at the Union Club—Other Interesting Testimony.

The case of Captain of Police Donovan is now under way before the full board of commissioners, and it has already developed some interesting testimony. It grows more certain as it proceeds that there is pretty bad blood between the accused and his accuser. At this morning's session an attempt to uncover old sores was made with the result that an official secret or two was given away. Full particulars of the hearing so far as it had progressed up to press time are herewith given:

The long and often continued trial has commenced at last. Monday, November 11, at 7:00 p.m., was the time set for the hearing, but it was 7:45 before a quorum of the board had materialized, and the examination began. A large array of counsel and witnesses was present and after hearing the charges read and the testimony of Chief Pratt a continuance was taken till 10 o'clock this morning.

The hearing longer was preceded by Acting Chairman Stephens announcing that the charges against Fireman Tremayne had been sustained and that he would no longer be in the employ of the department. Judge McKay, counsel for Tremayne, filed an exception. The case against Fireman Fitzgerald will be taken up next Monday evening.

Then came the event of the evening. Captain Donovan was represented by Judge Powers and Attorneys Varian, Lipman, McCallum, McKay and Hoghough, while George Sutherland and City Attorney Hoge appeared for the prosecution.

THE CHARGES IN GENERAL.

The charges as filed against Captain Donovan by Chief Pratt on September 7 last, consist of seven specific counts, but in general they are as follows:

I hereveth charge John J. Donovan, captain of the police department of Salt Lake City, Territory of Utah, with conduct unbecoming a gentleman and an officer of the police force of Salt Lake City, with a disregard and violation of the duties of his office; with disrespect toward the chief of the police department his superior officer; a neglect of his duty as captain of the police force; of making false statements and reports to the chief of the police department and members of the board of police and fire commissioners, and wilful suppression of a letter directed to the chief of the said department, and a wilful and intentional concealing of the said letter from said chief, and using said letter for his own sinister and unworthy personal purposes, as will more fully appear in the following specifications.

The specific charges will be taken up in their order as the trial progresses.

Attorney Varian for the defense moved to strike out that part of the specifications which charges that Donovan on August 6th reported to the chief that Officer McDonald has been off duty because of sickness, while he (Donovan) was acting chief, when, as a matter of fact, McDonald was illegally and under the orders of Donovan in Mount Pleasant hunting up evidence to use against Sergeant Ford, against whom Donovan had a grudge. He also moved to strike out specification 5, which charges that Donovan improperly secrete of the department contrary to his sworn duty in that he warned one Smith that the police suspected him of visiting a house, and that the police were after him and would likely get him, and that by this the ends of justice were frustrated.

Both motions were overruled and an exception entered, when Judge Powers moved to strike out every charge in the complaint, alleging that nothing was charged over which the board had jurisdiction. Overruled and exception taken.

A formal plea of not guilty was entered to all the charges after which Chief Pratt took the witness stand.

Just as the examination of Chief Pratt was commenced, the defense entered a protest to City Attorney Hoge appearing as counsel in a case against a city official, as it was contrary to the law. The objection was overruled whereupon an exception was taken by the defense.

Chief Pratt's testimony was mainly in regard to Donovan's visit to Mt. Pleasant to investigate something about a photograph, information of which was received in an anonymous letter, which had been sent to the chief of police, but which was opened by the captain during the chief's absence. The letter was introduced in evidence, and an objection entered by the defense which was overruled. The testimony then went on about a certain assignation house which Donovan and others had been ordered to suppress, but instead of so doing, the captain had given a party by the name of Smith, who was connected with the house, a tip that he was to be pulled, and thereby he effected his escape.

Then the question of Donovan having made false entries in the time book, on Officer McDonald's account, was entered into, and the payrolls produced which showed that while McDonald was suspended on August 11th, he was marked as having worked up till August 20th. The introduction of the payrolls was objected to and the objection sustained.

After being cross-examined by Judge McKay an adjournment was taken until this morning.

This Forenoon's Hearing.
