IN NATURAL COLORS.

Lifelike Tints Imparted to an Ordinary Photograph.

It has been known for a long time that if the such rays are allowed to shine upon the glass side of a photographic negative and the eye looking into the proper position it is possible to see the positive picture in the original natural colors of the object photographed. From a scientific standpoint this is considered a matter of very great importance. In order to bring out this quality of a negative independently of the sun's rays Professor Lippmann has, after long study, constructed an apparatus which enables him to obtain the same result with artificial light. He employs a gas lamp with a Welsbach burner, the rays of which are thrown upon the negative by means of a lens, in order to have the rays strike the negative parallel.

The negative is for the purpose mounted upon a wooden stand with a black pelloleid surface. Another large lens, held in a black frame, is mounted on a separate stand, and a diaphragm held upon the same stand is provided immediately in front of the focus of this larger lens. To see the picture in all its natural beauty of color the angle at which the negative is examined must be exactly the same as the angle at which the parallel rays strike it. It is in the reflection of the light rays and its distribution through the larger lens that the picture, which is fastened upon the negative in dull black tones, is again developed into its original exquisitely beauty. Aside from its scientific importance, it is a matter of considerable moment, for instance, in reproduction of portraits in all after a photograph, since tints of hair, eyes and complexion are clearly discernible in the artificially colored positive thus produced from the black negative.—Exchange.

The Dangers of Divers.

The greatest danger to those who dive into the sea for valuables that have been sunk is that of falling asleep.

On a hot day the contrast between the hot atmosphere and the delicious coolness below water is apt to make a diver sleepy. One of those men stated that he once slept half an hour at the bottom of a wreck, where he was laying a pipe.

Supposing that had happened in a channel where the tide runs so swiftly that a diver can work only during the one hour of slack water, the deadly rush of tide would have snapped the lifeline and hose. Then in working wrecks there is the danger of getting jammed in between freight or of getting the hose or line entangled. When the hose snaps at a great depth the enormous pressure kills the diver. He is frightfully distorted by it.—Pearson's Weekly.

Steam Whistles.

The cause of sound in a steam whistle is the same as in any form of whistle or an organ pipe—viz., a vibration of the atmosphere induced by a vibration set up in a strong jet directed against the edge of the bell, the vibration of the air or steam column in the bell influencing the tone according to its length and diameter.—New York Ledger.

The druggist will tell you that no one is better qualified to judge of the merits of an article than the dealer, because he bears his opinion on the experience of all who use it. For instance he wishes us to publish that no other dealers about an article which he handles, Messrs. C. F. Moore & Co., Newberg, Ore., say: "We sell more of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy than all others put together, and it always gives good satisfaction." Mr. J. F. Allen, Fox, Ore., says: "I believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best I have handled." Mr. W. H. Hitchcock, Columbia, Wash., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy sells well and is highly praised by all who use it."

Sore throat. Any ordinary case may be cured in one night by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm as directed with each bottle. This medicine is also unknown for Bruises of inflammation, sane back and deep-seated and muscular pains. For sale by Druggists.

Mrs. W. H. Stock, who resides at Camptonville, Cal., says her daughter was for several years troubled at times with severe coughs in the stomach, so much so in such agony that it was necessary to call in a physician. Having read about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrœa Remedy, she resolved to try it. She found that it always gave prompt relief. It was not long a necessity to give the second dose. "It has not only saved us much worry and time," she says, "but also doctor bills. It is my opinion that every family should have a bottle of this remedy in the house." For Sale by Druggists.

COLD IN HEAD

THE LITTLE FRENCH GIRL.

She Is a Miniature Woman and Is Taught All Feminine Arts.

However innocent she may be, a little French girl is much more of a little woman than is a child of any other nationality. She does not romp, she is demure and quiet in her games, which are often imitations of a grown person's life. She is trying to learn how to be the mistress of her house, to take care of her dolls, furniture, kitchen and dishes. Feminine arts are still a part of every well arranged French education. Men really care more for these accomplishments than for others, as they make easy at home wives who look after their households, and as a Frenchwoman's principal aim is to please her future husband every mother prepares her daughter for this end. This is why she does not permit her to mix in intimacy with little boy cousins, because ten years later a jealous husband would take a dislike to these friendly cousins, for would he like his wife's bosom friends, to whom she confides and who never leave her, any better.

Mothers, therefore, permit few if any intimacies, and those are all winnowed and selected with the greatest care. One advantage of this system is that the nurse of friend is not carelessly bestowed right and left. It takes time and good reasons for simple acquaintances to rise to that rank. The mother not only wards off little boy cousins and intimate girl friends, but she discourages the little girl in showing off her knowledge out of the classroom, for she is fully aware that nothing could be less attractive in the eyes of the expected husband than a blue stocking.

A bright little girl I could name had by chance picked up some astronomical terms, together with other scientific

Why People Read Our Advertisements.

It is not uncommon for customers to say to us: "We scarcely ever read the average humbugging advertisements so common these days where an article said to be worth $5.00 is offered for $3.50, or $4.00 for $2.00, or some other ridiculous statement, but we do read your ads, because we know you never misrepresent in practice otherwise." We appreciate all such sentiment and would seem to insult the intelligence of this community by attaching our name to ads such as we allude to, where a whole page is filled with serious rot. Of course we know they succeed in humbugging and selling quite a good many people, and by so doing make it pay. We prefer to sell good, honest goods at fair prices for the quality offered, giving best possible values in every case, guaranteeing entire satisfaction or money refunded.

NOW IS THE TIME

You are taking out your last winter's pants to see if you can't make it do for a few months. The pants are worn out, they always were out first, but the coat and vest will do. While you are thinking about the pants remember that we carry the largest stock in Utah, and sell them at the lowest prices. Our $2.50, $3.50 and $4.00 wool pants are guaranteed not to rip. If they should rip to the seat or elsewhere with two months' wear, we will give you one dollar, or a new pair. If a button comes off, two cents. The best worsted ones we have at $4.00, $5.00, $6.00 and $7.00. They are just the common sense pants you want, and we do not carry any other kind. Pants are tailored, as they have a character to them you only see in the $10.00 and $12.00 tailor-made pants.

WINTER SUITS.

Here's a product such as you can't find elsewhere. There are reasons for these suits that are unique in any but the very finest of tailor-made. We have them in Sacks, Frocks, Square Cuts and Double Breasted. The all wool black Cheviots or spun cuts and double breasted at $10.00, make a very nice, neat appearing suit, and has the wearing qualities. The black Clay Worsted suits in Sacks and Frocks at $12.00 make a very nice dress up suit. It is all wool, and will hold its shape and color perfectly. You cannot expect with a year's wear it will look quite as new as the $18.00 or $20.00 suit, as they are better lined and better tailored, and should by, as they now stand.

GLOVES.

This department is full of bargains for us. You would be very hard to suit if you couldn't find just what you wanted here.

The jersey and Scotch knitted Gloves for men and boys we have at 25c, 50c and 75c.

Men's good lined Working Gloves 35c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50.

Men's lined Dress Gloves, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50.

Men's extra value in Kid and Mocha, lined and unlined, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 and $2.00.

Boy's and Children's Gloves and Mittens are made in almost all kinds of materials. In fact, we try to keep everything for the young folks in this line. Gloves and Mittens from 10c up, and Mitten from 25c up.

A little early yet, but just as well to let you know we have them. Wristlets and Ear Muffs.

COMFORT and STYLE

Are united in our handsome heavy coats, which are rated phenomenal by all who see them. They are the perfection of ease and relaxation, and are a temptation at the low prices we are selling them. A little early for Christmas, but just as well to look them over and decide before the rush are broken. The heavy flannels in plain and fancy colors, trimmed with braid, $4.00, $5.00 and $6.00. The plain solid colors in reliable and brilliant cloth are beauties. Here there is blue, brown and wine colors, trimmed on and made in the best style, and the price, $5.00 and $6.00. A few high values at $4.50, $5.00 and $6.00.
