GRANT AND SILVER.

A Question as to His Views on the Issue of the Day.

FRED GRANT'S REPLY TO A LETTER

Asking Him Whether His Father Knew the Effects of the Act of 1873.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 10.—In reply to a letter from Attorney General W. W. Ketchum of Indiana, Fred D. Grant has written as follows, under date of New York, August 7th:

"My Dear Sir—Acknowledging receipt of your communication of August 6th, in which you ask me as to the truth of a statement which is said has been going the rounds for years, to the effect that my father, Gen. Grant, at one time said that he did not know when he signed the coinage act of 1873 that the silver dollar was dropped from the coinage, and that if he had known the fact he would have vetoed the bill, I hesitate to reply to any inquiry I may be asked with my father upon the question of a standard of currency, and that I never heard him intimate any such sentiment as is contained in the above. I am in receipt almost daily of letters similar to yours, inquiring as to whether my father made the statement attributed to him in the little book called "Coin." I can only say that he never intimated such a statement to me. In all his conversations with me he seemed to take the ground that it was a great misfortune for any country to have as the basis for the circulating medium any metal that had the least element of uncertainty about it, and that the workmen whose they collected their wages at the end of the week should be absolutely certain that there could be no question as to the value of the currency they had to supply their needs. From the time he was inaugurated President until the resumption of specie payments, and so far as I know, all his private statements were aimed to secure a stable currency to the people of the United States.

The coinage act of 1873 does not eliminate the silver dollar from the coinage; it fact, the United States has coined since then more silver dollars than had been coined during the entire period of the national existence before, and most of those coins were made during his lifetime. It is therefore, not probable that General Grant ever said that he would have vetoed the act of 1873 if he had known that the silver dollar would be dropped from the coinage, and I would not believe any one who said that he heard my father make such a remark.

THE HOT WEATHER.

A Washington Forecaster Sees No Relief from the Heat.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 10.—Maj. Dunwoody, the weather forecaster, scanned the map tonight in vain for a prospect of relief from the terrible heat under which the country has been sweltering for the past week. It was slightly cooler in the Ohio valley, and the lower lake region was given a slight breathing spell by the thunderstorms. The temperature has also fallen slightly in the Mississippi valley, the mercury today registering not 90 deg., as against 95 at St. Louis and Chicago yesterday.

But on the prairies of Nebraska and Kansas and in the south-west along the coil, humanity struggled to exist at 100 degrees.

The Atlantic coast so far as Boston, showed very high temperatures. At the latter place it was 90, which was now the maximum at Atlantic city. The same temperature existed at Albany. There was no prospect for relief in this locality tomorrow.

Away up in the extreme Northwest in the Rockies, however, Mal. Dunwoody saw a ray of hope. The temperature had risen there today and had fallen in the lower central valleys and the Lake region. It these high and low areas develop the hot spell will be broken.

"But even this is two days away," said the weather sharp, as he shook his head.

The temperature here today was not so high as yesterday, the maximum being 88 as against 90 degrees.

There was not much real estate transaction. John W. Scott, a merchant of the navy yard was the only visitor.

Official Visits.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—Rear Admiral Thomas Stillingfleet, Captain George H. Wadleigh, commanding the United States cruiser Minneapolis, and Lieut. John G. Meiner of the Minneapolis paid an official visit to the United States embassy yesterday. Later, accompanied by the secretary of the embassy, Mr. James H. Hoverel and by Lieutenant Commander W. S. Cowles, the United States naval attaches, the American officers paid official visits to the admiralty.

The Maybrick Case.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—The secretary of home office, Sir Matthew White Ridley, in the House of Commons, replying to a further question on the subject, refused to communicate to the house the statement made to his predecessor, by the lord chief justice, Baron Russell of Killowen, with reference to the case of Mrs. Florence Maybrick, the American who is serving a sentence of imprisonment for the alleg having been convicted of the murder by poisoning her husband, Mr. James Maybrick.

The Irish Land Bill.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—The Daily News in an editorial on the action of the House of Lords yesterday says: "The tender scene on the Irish land bill yesterday means no settlement of it doubt not behind. The lords have always insisted the lords are a minority of the British constitution. Lord Salisbury hates the bill and threatens the lords have nothing more to fear now it their action kills the bill than they too when they killed home rule. No issue would be raised in Ireland over the withdrawal of the land bill. For the hundred years to yield now would be never conceivable."

Foul Play Suspected.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—A. W. Pile of Colorado, secretary of the national silver committee, was found dead today under circumstances which lead to a suspicion of foul play. He had been missing since last Thursday. His body was found today under the sequoiad bridge. When last seen he had considerable money on his person, but no money was missing when the body was discovered. A silver watch, however, had not been found. There is no evidence of suicide. Mr. Pile was the son of the ex-Congressman Pile of California.

PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.

Established in Cuba Under the Presidency of Governorates.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—The Athens correspondent of the Daily News telegraphs his paper as follows: Deputy Gen. of Energumen diplomacy at the Turkish bad tain, the Cretans have finally cut the Gordian knot. The revolutionary party at Canea has dissolved the reform movement and has established a provisional revolutionary government under the presidency of Governorates, the well known Cretan leader who headed the Cretan embassy to the Berlin Congress. He is still hale, despite his 72 years, and is an ardent advocate of British influence in Crete.

HAVANA ADVICES.

Visitors of Yellow Fever—Doings at the Hotels.

HAVANA, August 11.—Colonel Edmund Muller, aide-de-camp to Captain General Weyler, and Francisco Arias y, editor of the Diario, sailed from Havana today on the steamer Cristobal Colon.

The colonel of artillery at Cabo Mayeh has yellow fever.

Augusto Bustard, editor of the Pacifico Santiago de Cuba and superintendent of the Diario de la Marina, arrived here yesterday and was greeted.

Comparison of the statistics of yellow fever shows that in 1878, fifty-three per cent of the patients died in the month of May and forty-seven per cent in the month of June from the same.

In May this year the deaths were twenty-three per cent of the number of cases and for June were thirty-four per cent.

Reports received from Puerto Principe and Santiago de Cuba are that Maximo Gomez remains in the mountains of Cuba.

Insurgents have burned and demolished the plantation of Lola in Matanzas.

At Santuario de los Dunos a populator named Hernandez, who was 70 years old has been hanged by insurgents.
