Mr. Junius F. Wells, who is acting as representative of the "News" in Los Angeles, in the interests of the special Salt Lake-Los Angeles issue of this pa-per, writes that the resolution of endorsement passed by the chamber of commerce of that city on the 22nd was valuable aid to him. He states that it will require from eight to twelve pages to satisfy the requests for space in the issue, made by the chamber of commerce, the merchants and jobbers of Los Angeles.

"Will the trouble between the coffee and sugar trusts in the East have any effect on the price of these articles in Utah?" was asked Mr. Jos. Geoghegan this morning. His answer was that there had been a drop of one cent a bound already in coffee, but no drop in he price of sugar. As very little coffee was carried by merchants here, how-ever, the drop did not cut much figure. The decline in sugar had not had much effect here yet and he did not think it The drop in the East had been fifteen cents per hundred pounds, but the stiff freight rate on sugar between here and there acted as a sort of pro-tection to Western sugar.

The awards for the story and the poem be made by competent judges, to be announced later. Professors Stephens, Daynes and McClellan will act as judges of the carol contest. The decision of the judges will be final. The successful Christmas carol will be rendered by the Tabernacle choir on Sunday, December 23, 1900. CHRISTMAS CAROL

When Christ was born in Bethlehem, "T was night, but seemed the noon of day The stars, whose light Was pure and bright, Shone with unwavering ray; But one, one glorious star Guided the Eastern Magi from afar.

Then peace was spread throughout the The lion fed beside the tender lamb; And with the kid, To pasture led The spotted leopard fed;

In peace, the calf and bear, wolf and lamb reposed together As shepherds watch their flocks by

An angel, brighter than the sun's own Appeared in air,

And gently said,
Fear not.—be not afraid,
For lo! beneath your eyes,
Earth has become a smiling paradise. Contestants for the carol may use their own taste and discretion in the employment of the above words, omitting or repeating at their pleasure. A FINE LUNCHEON AND BAZAAR
