"This, sir, is an accurate summary of the interview with the reporter to whom you referred me, and I trust that you will publish it."

UNFAIR AND MENDACIOUS. The paper was unfair enough to re-fuse the publication of the foregoing letter. The real situation is therefore apparent. The Tribune was trying to make it appear as an element in the case of Senator Smoot, that polygamy was being taught, in official capacity, by the president of the Latter-day Saints' University. When the paper found, to its chagrin and discomfiture, that its assertion to that effect was totally groundless, it still refused to correct the wrong it had thereby done to an unoffending citizen and to an institution of learning. Certainly no one here can doubt that the mission of this school is solely one of peace and good will, and that its record, has been like the requirement of Ceasar from his wife, not only purity itself but above suspicion. It is clear that nothing a member of the Church could do refer in from dainy and had been referant from the could be the could be

In his lecture last evening, in the Jewish temple, on "The Religion of the Educated Man," Rabbi Freund said. "An educated man is looked upon as the man who is a student of philosophy and science and can converse pro-foundly on all questions. But he is more than that, for knowledge is power only when it is properly used, and education is not only a privilege but a duty. If the religion of an edu-cated man should be one of deeds and not creed, and should consist of love for God and his brothers. Higher ideals bring higher requirements and the thought of an educated man should be for the promotion of human wel-fare. The educated man cannot afford to live the life of a hermit or recluse, for it is his duty to do in life that which counts most."

RUNAWAY HUSBAND. Why Mrs. Coonrod is Suing for a Divorce-Was Pitilessly Deserted, The case of desertion alleged in the divorce suit filed yesterday in the district court by Mrs. Blanche L. Coonrod, involves a heartlessness on the part of the recreant husband that is worse than usual. Coonrod was a worse than usual. Coonrod was a Short Line conductor, and with his wife was running the Lincoln House in Ogden in 1899. The venture was not very satisfactory, considering the necessary mental wear and tear, and during a streak of hard times, the plaintiff states, her recreant spouse put on his hat and deliberately walked off, leaving her to bear the burden of settling up the business and bringing up the three little girls as best she could.

tle girls as best she could.
Coonrod went up north where he found a railroad job with the Northern Pacific road, and the last Great Falls Mont., directory locates him as a citizen of that place. Attempts to conf-municate with him that he might do something, at least for his children, have all failed, and, according to recent reports received by Mrs. Coon-rod, the man had left Great Falls for parts unknown, Hence the suit for divorce. Mrs. Coonrod is a hard working woman, and has worked as a professional nurse to bring up her chil-dren and do the best possible by them. She has the sympathy of many friends. Coonrod was quite prominent in the Liberal city campaign, and belonged to the "Tom Guest Tigers," a political command well known at that time.

The Salt Lake Tribune Clearly Exposed and Its Slanders Refuted.

REFUSED TO RETRACT LIBEL

It Had No Foundation or Excuse for The Cross Falschoods it Published About Him.

To the Editor of the "News." Sir-It may be of interest to many of your readers, in view of the anti-"Mormon" agitation at present carried on by the Salt Lake Tribune, to be informed of one case in point, which will illustrate both the unfairness and the untruthfulness of that paper on this subject.

On Dec. 8, in answer to a libelous and totally false statement made by that paper concerning me, I wrote as fol-

PROF, PAUL'S LETTER.

To the Editor of the Tribune: "The Tribune, on Dec. 2, stated that Prof. Paul frequently lectures on 'the Divinity of Polygamy' in the Latterday Saints college in Salt Lake City. "The article did not come to my attention until yesterday, and I now hasten to assure you think." hasten to assure you that the statement quoted above is entirel; erroneous. No such teaching is giver in the institution, either by the president or by any this subject has not seen specifically mentionel in any of ar classes for years, certainly not since my connection with the school.
"The Latter-day Saints' university is organized under the laws of the State of Utah, by articles of incorporation that define its powers, prescribe its duies, and indicate specifically its sphere of operations.

"Article IV declares that 'the nature and object of this association shall be to found a university, with colleges, academies, schools, institutes, muse-ums, galieries of art, libraries, labora-ums, galieries of art, libraries, laboratories, gymnasiums, and all proper accessories, where instruction of the highest grade possible to its resources shall be given to both sexes in science, literature, art, mechanical pursuits, and in the principles of the Gospel as taught by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. The chief aim and object of the institution shall be to make of its students and graduates worthy citizens and true followers of Jesus Christ, by fitting them for some useful pursuit, by strengthening in their minds a pure attachment to the Constininds a pure attachment to the Consti-ution of the United States and to our epublican institutions, by teaching republican institutions, by teaching them the lessons of purity, morality, and upright conduct, and by giving them, as far as possible, an understanding of the plan of salvation revealed by our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, Nothing that is contrary to the laws of the land shall ever be taught in said institution.

A GARBLED REPORT.

"Truly yours."

On Dec. 13, the Tribune finally pubpublished. But the paper also added the following comments, alleg-ng that I had called to enter a peronal denial, etc., as follows:
"In the course of a conversation on he subject he was asked:

"Do you believe in the divinity of oblygamy?" President Paul thought to should not be interviewed for publication and at first eyaded the question. When the Tribune insisted that he had opened the question by his written statement and his personal vis-

"I will answer that by saying that God commanded Moses to take a wife from among the Egyptians when he already had a wife? But do you believe in the divinity of polygamy not mind to say that I do.' Let the reader observe the Tribune's assertion that I had "opened the duestion," by a "written statement" and a "personal visit." I did not "open the question." The publication of the libel by the Tribune did that. I tried to close the question, and the Tribune not only prevented me from doing so, but opened it still wider by the publica-tion of additional falsehoods. The first the simply placed me in a faise light before the public; while the second idded insult to injury by making it ap-bear that I lacked all sense of proprie ty and discretion. This point is dis-cussed below. After some further mis-leading statements, purporting to give the substance of the interview, the pa-per gives this misinterpretation:

"Suppose a student in the university ere to ask you whether or not you elleved polygamy is right or if it had

"Well, I must confess I would have to say it is right and ordained of God,"

As a matter of fact, no such ques-tion was put to me and no such uns-wer or anythig resembling it was giv-en. The concluding misrepresentation ught also to be shown here:
"President Paul was frank in his atements and explanations, and it is robable the Tribune's informant did t hear him go further than to speak general terms of the "divinity of I made it perfectly plain to the Trib.

mentioned the subject in any manner whatever so that his reaffirmation of the slander has no excuse. REFUSED TO PUALISH ANSWER On Dec. 4 I wrote to the Tribune a second letter, which that paper declined to publish, and on Dec. 21 returned it to me. Following is the letter.

"Salt Lake City, Utah, Dec. 14, 1904.
"To the Editor of the Tribune:
"The comments of the reporter, published in connection with my letter, in Tuesday's paper, and purporting to set forth the results of a newspaper inter-ylew, are incomplete in substance, nanged in meaning, and misleading in "I called at the Tribune editorial rooms with a courteous inquiry as to whether my letter was to be published, and, if so, to ascertain the cause for delay. The person to whom you re-ferred me stated that the reason was that this information concerning my alleged lecturing on the 'divinity of polygamy' had been so direct and circumstantial and was from so reputable a source, that the report must be fully investigated before the paper would publish my letter denying it. I then said to the reporter that no matter who gave the information or how it was given, it was wholly false.

"The reporter asked how I, a member of the Mormon Church, could be injured by a report that I was lecturing on by a report that I was lecturing on the divinity of polygamy. I answered that a member of the city school board and told me that a man in my position who, would be so foolish as to lecture that a member of the city school board had told me that a man in my position who, would be so foolish as to lecture on this topic, at this particular time or John Q. The reporter ridiculed the idea that pelygamy could be right at certain times or under certain circumstances, and held that if I believed in it at all, I must, to be consistent, always believe in and advocate it. Then I asked if he believed in the right of revolution, and if so, why he did not proceed to advocate rebellion. He answered that the cases were not similar.
