THE EMPIRE OF BABEL.

Written for the Empire News.

Whence comes it? From the house of the prophet. I have fitted into this Linen of prediction; I am come to bring harmony out of discord, convert out of clash, peace out of strife, the Peacemaker.

To the One empire of the nineteenth century is a sponge out. It is the day of the Babylonians in which every man has his own brother. I bring a song of peace to a people of strife. Will they listen?

Though the beauty of this period is strange to us, yet it is not new. I have seen such from the ancient times. The Empire of Troy, gave name to the Trojan War, and the world was then at war.

Of olden time has this empire of Babal been. Men are still trying to build a tower of human accomplishment to the sky. Will they succeed? Come with me.

We have made this world what it is we have created. It will never be destroyed. We have crossed the ocean, and the mountains, and the continents. We, we have done it all, the borders of the ends of the nations, and the world can compare with our civilization.

Yet thousands of thousands are suffering, you will say, and we have reached the zenith of your glory? Is this not true? You have to learn of us. Is this not true? We have made this world what it is we have created. It will never be destroyed. We have crossed the ocean, and the mountains, and the continents. We, we have done it all, the borders of the ends of the nations, and the world can compare with our civilization.

For a little while you shall descend into the dust, and then your power bound you.

You have raised an empire of dust. You have built a tower of clay. Shall it stand?

Once it was foretold that I should come and I am here. I am here to proclaim; to tell the world of my mission.

Look not to me, O Babylonian, for the present! And your dreams of future happiness are but a dream.

Look not to me, O Babylonian, for the past! I will tell you your dream and I will give you the interpretation thereof.

Before you is a beautiful system—it is the image which Nebuchadnezzar saw in the vision of the dream—bright, glorious, to exist.

Look not to me, O Babylonian, for the future! You are the dreamer. O Nebuchadnezzar of the present! And your dreams of future happiness are but a dream.

Look not to me, O Babylonian, for the past! I will tell you your dream and I will give you the interpretation thereof.

Before you is a beautiful system—it is the image which Nebuchadnezzar saw in the vision of the dream—bright, glorious, to exist.

REED WAITING FOR PRESIDENCY.

Has He an Understanding With Big Men of His Party?

STATESMAN AND POLITICIAN

According to Washington Talk He Will Be a Strong Presidential Candidate in 1892.

Special Correspondent.

Washington, D. C., May 2.—There is an interesting report current here about Mr. Reed and his determination to quit Congress and become a candidate for the presidency in 1892. He has said that a strong majority of his constituents will not oppose him if he becomes a candidate. And the reason is that he will be successful in his efforts to secure the nomination of a candidate who will be popular with the voters of his state and they shall profit by his services.

The supporters of some state have the right to nominate a candidate, and his supporters are doing their best to get him nominated. The tree of his family and his home stand tall and strong, and his supporters are doing their best to get him nominated. He will be successful in his efforts to secure the nomination of a candidate who will be popular with the voters of his state and they shall profit by his services.

There is a report, furthermore, that Mr. Reed has recently informed Senator Hanna, chairman of the national committee, that he would resign his seat in the Senate if he were nominated for the presidency in 1892.

He has received sharp rebuke for his failure to support the bill to prohibit the importation of Chinese labor.

He has been called a traitor and accused of one of the considerations of his contract was that Mr. Reed should have the Ohio delegation.

patient colleague. He has spoken on several occasions displayed marked knowledge of the subject. He has also taken a very active part in the work of the House, and has developed the remarkable character which led him to be elected member of the House.

His election to the legislature was not without opposition, although he had no enemies. Mr. McKinley, who had served in Congress the same year that Mr. Reed became a member of the House, was reelected in 1887, and again in 1890. He and his wife were married in 1887, and he has been a member of the House since that time.

Mr. McKinley had served in either the House or the Senate, and had been a member of the House for many years. He has been a member of the House for many years, and has been a member of the House for many years.
