DESERET EVENING NEWS.

Copy for Advertisements which are expected to appear in the Evening News on the day of insertion should be handed in to the business office not later than 12 m.

Notice of Advertising Contracts upon application.

Advertisements must be paid in advance.

Thursday, July 14, 1892.

FRAGMENTS.

The Ohio Society was indulging in an outing at Garfield Beach today.

The members of the First ward Sunday school were enjoying themselves at Syracuse today.

The articles of incorporation of the Utah Athletic Club have been filed with the county clerk at Ogden.

The Union Gun Club will meet for target practice at Fort Douglas, Friday. All the members are requested to attend.

A The Eighth quorum of Seventies will meet at the Twelfth ward meeting house tomorrow (Friday) evening, at half-past seven o'clock.

Jesse Fowler and wife have moved from the Walker Terrace on West Temple street, south, and taken up their abode on 2 street, as residents of the Twenty-first ward.

The Eighteenth ward choir meets tonight at 7:30 in the ward chapel, for the purpose of reorganizing, and hereafter the weekly rehearsals will be held on Thursdays instead of Sundays. H. G. Whitney has been chosen director and George D. Pyper, assistant; C. S. Barnes, organist, and Mrs. Willard Young, organist. A full attendance of all old and new members is desired.

FUNERAL services will be held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Watson, No. 11 south Fifth West street, tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at o'clock, over the remains of their eldest child, Alexander Eugene Watson, who died yesterday afternoon of cerebrospinal fever. In life the lad was bright and promising, and was universally loved by those who knew him. He was but nine years of age and his death was a sudden as unexpected. His parents have the sympathy of a host of friends in the sudden bereavement they have ever experienced.

NOTICE.

On account of the 24th of July being on Sunday, the celebration of Pioneer Day will necessarily occur on Monday, July 25th. In consequence, those quarterly conferences announced to be held on the last named day will please convene on Saturday and Sunday, the 23rd and 24th inst., and thus have Monday to be observed as a general holiday.

By order of the First Presidency of the Church.

Amusements.

GEORGE THATCHER'S MINSTRELS tonight and tomorrow night at the Theatre. The entertainment has the novel feature of being a combination of farce, comedy and minstrel. Thatcher's minstrels are engaged in the special entertainment of the Tuesday guests, and the development of the story permits the audition to witness the merry minstrels in white facewand then in black. The concert is a happy one, and is happily dealt with by the combined forces of George Thatcher's minstrels and Rich & Harris' comedy company.

Police Items.

J. Brady, arrested for assault and battery, was discharged today for lack of evidence.

Seven members of the demi-monde class were taken into custody last night. Two of the number were keepers of houses and the remaining five were inmates. The former were required to put up a bond of $50 each and the latter $25 each. This they did and today money was forfeited.

George H. Dale is the name of an insolvent upon whom sentence was suspended.

William Auburn was arrested for leaving his home unclad.

BEACH RESORT FESTIVITIES.

Bookings For Excursions to Garfield Beach and Syracuse.

Following are the bookings of excursions to Garfield Beach and Syracuse:

July 16—Barcelli's Juvenile band, a portion of the Tabernacle Choir and the Young Peoples' band of Taylorville will go to Garfield.

July 18—There will be a big excursion from Eureka to Garfield.

July 23—The Germans of Salt Lake City will spend the day at Syracuse. Herman Grether will supervise the affair.

July 25—The Norden Military company of this city have a picnic at Syracuse.

July 25—The Scandinavians of Salt Lake and Ogden will have a joint celebration at Syracuse.

Same date—The Sons of St. George at this and the Junction city will go to Weber.

NEWS FROM PROVO.

Troublesome Tramps—Onyx Marble Mines.—A Point of Law, Etc.

Last evening six or seven tramps were arrested on the property belonging to the Samuel Pratt estate, for fighting. They were fined by Justice Alexander this morning from $5 to $10 each.

The Onyx marble mines, on the west side of Utah Lake, are attracting a great deal of attention, and it is expected that before long some Eastern capitalist will take hold of them and work them.

Three young men, whose names are suppressed by request of friends who represent their parents, were brought before Commissioner Hills today charged with cutting timber on government land, D. D. Evans appeared for the defendants. He claimed that the whole proceeding was contrary to law, and cited rulings of the Third District Court to prove that a man or a number of men could not be arrested under a complaint taken out against "John Doe and others," unless the personality of the offender was unknown. Commissioner Hills wished to wait till he had consulted the United States attorney and the examination was continued till the 26th of this month. The defendants were allowed to go on their own recognizance.

PROVO, July 13, 1892.

A HEARTLESS MOTHER.

Kent, the World-Be Slayer of Hendricks, Relates a Sad Story.

HINSELF AND BABE DESERTED.

His Wife's Strange Infatuation for a Sewing Machine Agent Named Hendricks.

Joseph Kent, the tent canvasser, who was arrested last night for shooting a machine agent near Smith's drug store, was arraigned before Justice Reiser this morning and plead not guilty to a charge of assault with intent to commit murder. He was represented by counsel and the preliminary examination set for 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, at which time it is said Attorney Riley will appear for him.

Before being taken back to his cell in the city jail, Kent told the following story to a representative of this journal:

"I came to this city with my wife from Meadin, Nebraska, where we were married five years ago. We lived happily together, and no serious domestic trouble ever clouded our household until recently. To us was born a bright and winsome baby boy. He was the sunlight of our home. But unfortunately for us all a vision crept into our home in the shape of a sewing machine agent, named Hendricks. In Newcomer he said a machine to my wife. He came to our house after that were frequent. He had cunning ways and was a sleek talker. My wife became infatuated with him and commenced to neglect our baby. The destroyer of our happiness and my wife sought for such other's company. They seemed to find it convenient to be together very often—especially when I was supposed that I was not around.

Hendricks told my wife that he had lots of money and he would make her a lady if she would only elope with him. This she believed and laid her plan to shake myself and baby, which she did on Wednesday, a week ago. She told me that she was going out and I asked her to take the baby good bye, for this she refused to do and left the little one crying and took my best pacing mare. When I came home at midnight I was penniless and penniless drunkard. Last night I met him and—you know the rest."

Kent is about forty-five years of age and is reported to have been very fond of his heartless wife, who is but twenty-three years age and considered rather giddy and exceedingly fond of male companions.

At present the baby is being kindly cared for by the family of S. P. Hall, the coal merchant. The little one is seriously ill with croup. With its father in jail and deserted by its mother it is very fortunate that it has found such good friends.

Kent says that he will forgive his wife but that she can never again come back to their home as his wife.

AROUND THE COURTS.

Farley's Park Scenic Resort Co. Disincorporated.—A Stepfather in Trouble, Etc.

Judge Zane this morning held court, chiefly for the purpose of hearing the further legal arguments in the property case of Ida Hughes vs. John R. Hughes et al. The circumstances of this suit have already been fully reported in the columns of the News. Attorney John M. Zane had the first handling of the but today, and Judge Sutherland followed.

DISINCORPORATED.

In the matter of Farley's Park Scenic Resort Company, motion was made to disincorporate, which was allowed on a satisfactory showing being made that all the debts of the company had been settled.

TO PAY MONEY OVER.

In the case of the State Bank of Utah vs. W. H. Sutherland et al., an order was asked for the payment of certain moneys ($100) in the hands of Clerk McMillan over to the defendant Ward. The same was granted upon payment of costs.

A SERIOUS CHARGE.

Alfred Roberts was to come up for preliminary examination before Commissioner Hills this afternoon on a charge of unlawful assault upon a fifteen-year-old girl, named Annie Metcowan. Annie is the defendant's stepdaughter, and the complaint was laid by her mother, who was a widow when Roberts married her. A divorce suit between Roberts and his wife is now pending, the latter being the petitioner therein. It was filed on the 7th inst., and the grounds alleged are cruelty, neglect to provide, and adultery. Until recently Roberts was one of the proprietors of the White House barber shop.

DISMISSED OVERRULED.

In the case of H. Altman et al. vs. Dan Quinlan et al. the demurrer was overruled by Judge Anderson and ten days allowed to answer.

ADMITTED TO CITIZENSHIP.

William Maland, a native of Lancashire, England, was admitted to Utah citizenship, was admitted to citizenship.

Ogden Brevities.

The Ogden fire department gave an exhibition of the aerial truck yesterday afternoon in honor of the visiting firemen from Brigham City. Besides many other exhibitions of what can be done with the truck, the ladder was run up to the air to a height of sixty feet. While it was in this position and loaded. While it was in this position and Assistant Chief McGregor was at the top an alarm was sounded from fire 25, at the corner of Twenty-third street and Lincoln avenue. The boys went quickly to their places and off for the scene of the conflagration, which was found to be in a small row shed in the rear of the lumber yard of the Utah & Idaho Central Lumber Co. The shanty did not burn very fast, and by employing a stream of water from the one engine at the house was soon extinguished. The loss was about $75. The fire was evidently started from the engine in the passing mill.

A. H. Anderson, a well known resident of Farmington, met with a very painful accident yesterday afternoon by falling from a hay stack, a distance of about thirty feet. The force by which he was precipitated to the ground broke his right leg and slightly cuted his ankle. Dr. Young of Ogden attended Mr. Anderson's injuries.

This morning at eight o'clock a party of Ogdenites started on an excursion over the Rio Grande Western road to Eureka.

The Territorial Board of World's Fair Commissioners have announced the appointment of the following named persons to constitute the Weber County World's Fair auxiliary, viz.: J. Kirel, N. U. Pierce, W. H. Harvey, L. W. Shurtliff, A. C. Dalton, Frank J. Cannon, H. H. Spencer, John Q. Wheeler, N. Sloan Gray, David McKay and John S. Calder, secretary.

Returned Elder.

Elder Richard Williams of Ogden called at our office today, having returned from a mission to Great Britain. He left October 15, 1891, and was on his arrival in Liverpool assigned to the Wales Conference, where he laboured all the time, until honorably released. He arrived in this city July 13.

A DARGAIN NEEDED.

Interesting Event of The Long Society People to Attend a Wedding.

Not long ago a prominent young society lady of a neighboring city was engaged to be married in this city at one of the leading hotels. Now, it happened strangely enough in this, except the one that she was not to be married in a sewing machine agent, and sewing machine. Suppose at the same time was another prominent young lady who was engaged to be married, and the young lady above mentioned, for some reason or other, had promised her friend to be present at the wedding, and she could not do so without breaking her word, and yet she could not do so without breaking her word. Now, it happened that the wedding was going on, both in high society, arranged so as to come evening. That evening, as it all the drawing room of the hotel, the contrasts was figures in the story, and the young lady above mentioned, to her dismay, received a telegram from her friend that she was unable to be present at the wedding, and that she was unable to be present at the wedding, and that she was unable to be present at the wedding. Now, the young lady above mentioned had promised her friend to be present at the wedding, and