How Liquor Dealers Make Profits in Alaska.

A HORSE OUTWITS A ROBBER.

Party to Save Women—Mining Company Swindle—Young Divorcees.

The Sacramento, Cal., officers are making a vigorous effort to find and arrest the man who, a 12 year-old messenger boy in San Francisco, saw just been divorced from his 18 year-old wife.

It is said the Utah & Northern is attempting remote sections of the Idaho Union to run the railway, to detect employes who violate company rules.

The chief of the Union Pacific detectives is making a visit in Idaho. The object is the systematic robbing of Union Pacific coal cars that has been going on.

Monday afternoon, at Pocatello, Idaho, Albert Manassa and Miss Ella Caldwell and Ada Vanderbeck were driving when the horses got frightened and ran away. Manassa tried to jump from, but was thrown to the ground. Miss Caldwell jumped and was injured. Miss Vanderbeck remained in the carriage and was otherwise unhurt, when the was thrown out but not injured seriously.

Saturday evening as C. H. Sherwood, station agent at Aptos, Cal., and wife, were on their way to Soquel, a highwayman with a drawn pistol jumped from the side of the road, caught hold of the horse and, jerking it, said to Sherwood, demanded that he throw up his hands. Sherwood complied for his pistol and refused to give the command. The horse became frightened and violently plunged forward, the hind wheel striking the highwayman and knocking him down. Sherwood had $200 with him.

The Boise, Idaho, Statesman says: One of the most harassed wildcat mining enterprises ever heard of has been inaugurated in the city of Boise. The swindling corporation is in the form style the Ohio Gravy Gold Mining and Smelting company, and it claims to own mines of wonderous wealth in Boise county, Idaho. The promoting operators are attempting to roll such in the vogue institution, and in most many people have been swindled. Worst of all, the scoundrels have formed their scheme in an official garb of a secret society, the Boston American Citizens, and are using the order as a shield for their rascality.

Among the passengers for Alaska on the Port Townsend, Wash., on Saturday, on the steamer Willapa, was a woman named Mrs. J. T. Wilde, who intends making a journey of 2,000 miles across the interior of Alaska, over mountains of perpetual snow and across long chain of lakes and down the Yukon river to Circle City, where she will open a bakery. She made the same journey alone last year, canvassed the country and returned for the necessary fixtures. She takes with her this trip two heavily laden sleds and eight dogs. It will take two months to arrive at her destination, and she expects to remain in the interior two years. Her husband is an engineer in Tacoma. Several miners on the Willapa, also, with their wives.

Liquor dealers have discovered a new way to avoid the prohibitory laws of Alaska. On the last steamer for Sitka, Alaska, there was shipped 1,000 gallons of whisky, rum, gin and brandy, consigned to hand to Fort Cosmos, Northwest Territory, where there are much stronger against the importation of liquor than in Alaska. The shipment secures from the treasury department a permit allowing the liquor to go through Alaska territory in bond, providing the consignors pay the expenses and salary of a special inspector of customs who will be detailed to see the shipment taken through and landed in British territory. Since the liquor is to be landed in a civilized wilderness, and it is an open secret here that it will then be smuggled into the Yukon river to Fortymile Camp and Circle City, where upwards of 2,000 miners are at work, liquor at these places sells at $25 per gallon and also it is properly diluted it is estimated that the promoters will realize over $20,000.

The Newest Petitioners.

The very newest thing in the way of a petition is the propaganda taffeta. The street is a fashionable effect and is composed of silk in black or finished with dots. The mistletoe are for richer and more grandeur than ever before. Very fine wear is not in the form of those skirts to which then ask from the feet. A deep gown gives the proper finer to the garment and is finished at the bottom with a very full ruche of black taffeta, and the bodice has a beading of the same. This beading of the bodice and top gives the effect a free form look, which is elegant and charming.

Cream of Onion Soup.

Put a quart of milk and 4 sliced onions in a saucepan and bring slowly to a boiling point. Simmer gently for three quarters of an hour. Then press through a fine sieve. Return this to the fire, rub to gether a large tablespoonful of butter and a tablespoonful of flour, and gradually add it to the hot soup. When smooth, turn into tureen and our serve it smoking hot. Then add a pint of cream or milk, a sprinkling of salt and pepper, and a tablespoonful of chopped parsley or chervil and serve. This is Mrs. Rorer's recipe.

Mis Nomer.

Husband (skating)—Confound the luck!

Wife—What's the matter now? You're decidedly cross tempered.

"I'm cross! I am not!"

"Why? Why? I ripped up an old skirt with it only yesterday, and it cut beautifully."—Chicago Record.

Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Is the same old story and yet constantly repeating that Hammons Liver Regulator is the best family medicine. We have used it in our family for the last year and find it the best we ever used. We think there is no equal to it. W. M. Allington, Pastor M. E. Church, Atlanta, Ga. "Each member of our family uses it to overcome indigestion."—W. R. Smith, Mt. Vernon, Ky.

The Consideration of Cost

often prevents thoughtful housekeepers from adopting improvements which they very well know would add to their comfort and save their strength. No such obstacle however, stands in the way of the use of
