ANOTHER OUTBREAK

Among the Indians to Be Prevented Only by the Just Treatment of Those By the Government.

ADMIRAL BROWN GOES TO THE CHILIAN WATERS.

Matters Considered By the International Marine Commission.—World's Fair Items.

THE INDIAN PROBLEM

There Need or Need Not Be Trouble, Just as the Government Desires.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The War Department is taking advantage of the cessation of hostilities among the Indians of Dakota and has been engaged in gathering valuable information as to the probabilities of another outbreak this spring. A careful investigation has been made by the officers serving as agents at Pine Ridge and Rosebud agencies, and their reports are not altogether reassuring. In substance these officers assert that there need or need not be trouble, just as the government desires. An outbreak can be prevented, or, on the other hand, very little will fan the smouldering embers of the aborigines into a fierce flame. That is to say, the whole case rests upon the care exercised in the distributing of the appropriation. If the Indians get promptly all that is due them, and there is not too much haggling, there will be peace, but the moment the government attempts to place the Dakota tribes, the hitherto friendly Indians, who do not feel very complacent over the late trip to Washington, will it is predicted, surely revolt. These Indians are at present in a majority in the Dakotas, as most of the hostiles, who have been taken by a Wild West show for a European trip, and the remaining hostiles are thus short of leaders. They realize perfectly well that the chiefs are not held as hostages, but have gone as a matter of enterprise, and so they would not be necessarily deterred from outbreak through fear of retaliation on their followers. Those absent chiefs, however, are perhaps the worst fighters of the nation.

Secretary Foster telegraphed this response: "If the total amount of your liabilities incurred and expenditures made during the current fiscal year, including the expenses of the meeting of the commission, exceeds $150,000, a further apportionment, not to exceed $10,000, will be made out of the current appropriation for the use of the commission."

FUNERAL SERVICES.

The Remains of General Johnston Laid to Rest.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The funeral services over the remains of the late General Johnston, almost the last of the great commanders of the Confederacy, took place in this city this morning. By request of the deceased the ceremonies were free of military display or unnecessary formality, and the simplicity of the services was in character with the life of the dead. There was no display of uniforms or bulle Rore of military trappings, and as the family of the deceased declined the request of a committee of Confederate veterans to participate formally it took the form of a private interment, beyond the attendance of distinguished persons.

There were but two services at the residence of the deceased, but just before 11 o'clock the remains were taken to St. John's Episcopal Church, accompanied by the family and near friends. Of these there were in attendance ex-Governor McLane of Maryland and James McLane, brother-in-law of the dead man, Joseph P. Johnston and Mrs. Taliaferro, a niece, with her son and daughter and George Ben Johnston, another nephew. There were present at the church General Vaux, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., Vice-President Morton, Senators Cockrell, Hawley, Gorman and Butler, Governor McKinney of Virginia, Mayor Ellyson of Richmond, Va., Senators Daniel and Hawley, Captain Thomas McCall, Judge Robert Hughes, Colonel Shepherd, General John Saunders, General Henry Douglas and a number of persons from Baltimore.

The funeral party was met at the church by the funerary pall bearers. They were Senators Morgan and Daniel, Hon. Curry, General Parke, U. S. A., General Field, General Heth, Rear-Admiral Rogers, U. S. N., Rear-Admiral Temple, General Wright, General Price, Colonel Anderson of Richmond, Colonel Harris, Hon. J. G. Blaiscell Davis, and James Waddington. The body bearers consisted of members of the Ex-Confederate Association of this city, all men who fought under General Johnston during the war. Drawn up in a double line from the sidewalk were about one hundred men of the Robert E. Lee camp, Confederate Veterans, without uniform, and they stood with grey hair and beard as the body was borne between their ranks. The casket was a plain one, covered with black cloth and without ornaments. The silver plate bore the inscription, "Joseph E. Johnston, born February 3rd, 1807; died March 21st, 1891."

St. John's church was crowded to its utmost capacity with delegations of ex-Confederate and different societies and many prominent people of Washington. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Douglas, rector of the church, and were confined to the simple Episcopalian burial service for the dead. At the conclusion of the service the remains were removed to the Baltimore & Potomac station and left note on the 12 o'clock train for Baltimore, where the body will be interred in Greenmount cemetery in that city.

ST. LOUIS, March 24.—When the body of General Johnston arrived his old soldiers were at the railroad station, and bared their heads as the coffin was borne past them. The remains were laid at rest beside his wife at Greenmount cemetery.

WASHINGTON NATIONAL BANK.

Hepburn Says Everything Ails the Institution.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Sidell Tigham, one of the directors, today sold the capital stock of the bank was $250,000, and it had been impaired to the extent of $150,000 by loans made by President Sherman. Tigham said he felt certain that the depositors would be paid in full, and the only losers would be the stockholders. Notices were posted this afternoon that all checks drawn on the Washington National Bank of Fremont, Neb., would be paid by the First National Bank of this city.

United States Examiner Hepburn gave out a lengthy statement this afternoon, in which he said, as far as his examination extends, there will be an apparent loss to the bank from various sources of $145,000. This would still leave the stockholders entitled to a dividend of 50 per cent. He thinks the depositors will be paid in full. Among the items of bad business done, he says, the bank received notes for the collections, sent them forward marked "No protest," instructing the corresponding bank to hold them subject to order. At the same time they cashed checks that had been deposited against these collections, and allowed such checks to be drawn.

"No one thing ails the bank," added Hepburn, "but everything; inadequate securities for loans, loans in parties of city and suburbs. The signatures are overworked, and some have as high as 40 to 50 cases of grip alone.

Italian Contract Laborers Arrested.

NEW YORK, March 24.—A number of Italian contract laborers were captured today by customs inspectors on the steamer Caledonia. They were disguised as sailors, but the inspectors' suspicions being aroused, they were watched, and when they attempted to leave the ship were arrested. HEALEY'S INJURY.

It is Said to be More Serious than at First Supposed.

The trial of Michael O'Brien, Dalton, and others charged with rioting at the fight, which was to begin today, Dalton and O'Brien, was opened here today.

Compilation of Appropriations of two Congresses.

ST. Dockery calls attention to the fact that the statements made by Chairmen Allison and Cannon a week or so ago show a total of $23,000,000 less than the above, which he accounts for by saying that Cannon did not include in his statement $2,250,000 back pay in bounty, $3,000,000 surplus bounty and $15,227,000 for direct tax payments.
