OTHER PETITIONS.

W. H. Culmer asked for a reduction in the assessed valuation of five pieces of property. The assessments of all were confirmed except on real estate in lot 1, block 32, plat A, which was reduced as prayed for.

H. Lawrence asked for a reduction on the assessed valuation of four pieces of property. Assessment confirmed in all but one piece.

In the matter of the church property, Henry W. Lawrence, receiver, was notified to appear before the board and show cause why he held $320,000 worth of property without having listed the same with the assessor.

In reply Mr. Lawrence said it was true there was about $315,000 not given for the reason that it was yet undecided whether the property belonged in the church or the United States. His predecessor did not report it and Mr. Lawrence acted likewise upon counsel's advice. If the property belonged to the government it was not taxable. The board acknowledged this, but claimed that it ought to be assessed and taxed subject to the decision of the Supreme court. Mr. Lawrence claimed that what had accrued on rents since January 1, was not taxable.

THE GEOLOGICAL PARTY

Arrive in Salt Lake and Will Have a Good Time.

Yesterday afternoon the members of the International Congress of Geology arrived here from Yellowstone Park, where they have been spending some time in inspecting the natural wonders of that famous spot. The distinguished excursionists are eighty-six in number, and their names have already appeared in the columns of the News. The train by which the party travels is composed of six Pullmans, four sleepers, a diner and composite and baggage car and is superbly equipped.

The visitors upon reaching Salt Lake were met by a delegation of citizens, and after partaking of refreshments took a short drive around the city last evening.

Today they were to visit the Wasatch range and to examine the formation near Little Cottonwood, thence go to Garfield and examine the Montana and Pleistocene glaciers, fault scraps of Post-Pleistocene date, and shore line of Lake Bonneville. Tomorrow they will attend the Irrigation Congress and be present at the concert at the Tabernacle in the evening.

The party will leave on Thursday at 8 a.m., stopping at Tooele, F. V. Junction and Castle Gate, arriving at Grand Junction in the evening. At 5 a.m. Friday they start again for Glenwood and Leadville, stopping en route at the Newcastle coal mines. The train remains at Leadville all night, spending Saturday in looking over the great carbonate camp.

BREATHES THE AIR OF LIBERTY.

A Participant in a Lynching Affray Serves His Term and Emerges from the "Pen."

John Quinlan, one of the principals in the Tintic lynching in 1882, was released from the penitentiary yesterday. The two other participants in the outrage—Harrington and Egan—are still in prison. It will be remembered that the crime for which Quinlan was convicted occasioned great excitement at the time. On the Fourth of July, 1882, in a quarrel in a saloon, a man named Fisher shot O'Brien. The shooter was arrested and confined in the town calaboose, and the same night a crowd of drunk and disorderly men surrounded and broke into the jail, seized Fisher dragged him to a hitching whip and hanged him. Fisher had one friend, Dent Kelley, who was visiting him when the jail was raided. He recognized the ringleaders and informed the authorities of their identity. Accordingly, Deputy U. S. Marshals Vandercook, Franks, Cummings and Evans proceeded to Tintic, and arrested Pat Harrington, J. J. Harrington, Philip Green, John Quinlan, Pat Regan and Dennis Sullivan, and lodged them in the same jail they had attacked. The friends of the prisoners planned a rescue, and the officers resorted to strategy. The priest was advised with, and as a result the men were marched on their own recognizance, but unknown to them a guard consisting of 200 well-armed and determined men were placed as pickets on the outskirts of the town, and the rock morning the men were recaptured and hurried to this city. They had a preliminary examination before United States Commissioner McKay, who held them to await the action of the grand jury. True bills were found and in the early part of 1887, the prisoners were tried and convicted in the southern division of the First District Court at Provo. Pat Harrington was sentenced to eleven years' imprisonment, J. J. Harrington to seven years, Philip Green to five years, Pat Regan to eleven years, Dennis Sullivan to seven years and John Quinlan to seven years. Pat Harrington and Pat Regan are the only members of the gang now in the penitentiary. J. J. Harrington and Dennis Sullivan having been pardoned.

A Conscientious Editor.

We advertise at present for a firm whose preparations have proven to be all they claim in our own family. We refer to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy. We stand up in his medicine because we have tried it. This is not an advertisement for the medicine, it is simply our testimony regarding it after a fair trial.—*Rushville (Pa.)
