DR. TALMAGE IN EUROPE

Remarkable Change of Sentiment Shown Towards Mormons—The Name of Brigham Young Cheered.

The many friends of Dr. James E. Talmage in Europe will be pleased to learn that the distinguished geologist is now enjoying a very successful tour in the old world. It was also gratifying to the writer of this to learn that he was received with a good deal of publicity, and that his lectures were well attended.

We, of course, have received no cablegrams from the Scientist himself, but we have seen a number of European papers, from which we have learned that Dr. Talmage has been received in a most favorable manner by the press of the Old Country. The Millennial Star, for instance, published at Liverpool, England, which is a weekly publication, and which is devoted to the cause of Mormonism, has given Dr. Talmage a very favorable mention in its issue of July 17, 1913. We have received a copy of the issue of July 17, 1913, of the Millennial Star, and we find in it the following:

"Dr. James E. Talmage, F.R.S.E., F.G.S., who is a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and who is a professor in the University of Utah, delivered a series of lectures in Great Britain, in the month of June last, on the Mormons and Utah. The following is a report of the lectures, which have been the means of arousing a new interest in prejudice, and which otherwise would have been accomplished by a personal trip to the Mormon Zion.

"Elder Heber J. Anderson, who accompanied the distinguished lecturer as secretary, is not to be forgotten, for he has been very busy, and has taken his part of the programme for at least two weeks and little sleep, in pack up boxes, arrange charts and models, and use the Interior Arch, consisting of several hundred feet of wire boxes and frames, and stand a little sheep scarcely than the service of a common clerk. Yet we add favorably when viewed for the Church. Both brethren were the hearty thanks of every member of the Church in Utah for the little while they spent in Great Britain during the last twenty days. The results of which labor, long after the Elders of the Church have ceased to preach, and have ceased to gather from the nations before the public, cannot be estimated. G. H. C.

"In the issue of the Star of the 24th is an article regarding the effect of the lectures, a report was called for from each of the Elders, and the substance of parts are summarized in the Star as follows:

LIKE-LIGHT VIEWS.

Cheltenham.—We feel safe in saying that the lecture at Bristol passed very favorably, and one talk with persons who attended. The lecture at Cheltenham was well received, and many people have expressed themselves as being highly pleased with Dr. Talmage's lecture at London.

There were about six hundred in attendance, and among that number were many of the most prominent people in Gloucestershire. Many of the people, the evident blessing of Deseret, and the strength of their testimonies founded on conversation and reading, and the strength of their testimonies founded on conversation and reading, and the strength of their testimonies founded on conversation and reading
