LOCAL BRIEFS.

Students Visit Bingham—Four classes in metallurgy at the state university visited the mills and smelters at Bingham Junction this morning.

Operated For Tumor—Contractor L. F. Larson was successfully operated upon yesterday at the L. D. S. hospital for removal of a tumor on his leg.

Canyon Crest Fund—The Ladies' Literary club has contributed $50 toward the Canyon Crest ranch building fund. Several Ogden clubs are laboring in the same direction.

William Browning Treasurer—The University of Utah Engineering society elected William Browning treasurer in place of Ray Needham resigned. The society has now nearly 100 members.

Dr. J. W. Culley Dead—Dr. J. W. Culley, who practised medicine in this city years ago, but had of late given up practise, died yesterday afternoon, of pneumonia at his home, 174 P street, from pneumonia.

Church Re-Opens Tomorrow—The First Presbyterians will be able to reoccupy their church auditorium next Sunday, for the first time since last October, when the great gale blew in the $1,500 east window.

Seeds For Training School—The nature study department of the training school has received a consignment of seeds from the department of agriculture. The students will do extensive planting on the school farm.

Dr. Pinkerton Also Interested—In the Island Park sale to the Guggenheims, Dr. S. H. Pinkerton was one of the grantors, he owning one-fourth of the property, the same as Messrs. Bancroft, Eccles and Anderson.

Cup For Angora Goats—The American Angora Goat Breeders' association of Kansas City has offered a cup at the next Utah state fair for the best exhibit of registered Angora Goats. Secy. Ensign has accepted the offer.

Another Apartment House—Mrs. Del Wilson is planning for a $30,000 modern apartment house adjoining the Fifth East street hotel, on her 4x6 rods lot. It will be three stories with a basement, and equipped with all the modern appliances. E. H. Birrell is managing the project.

Magazine For Blind—The public library has received a copy of the first number of a monthly magazine for the blind, published at the Hartford, Conn., blind asylum. The "print" is in the Braille raised type which is read by running the fingers over the letters, and is a decidedly curious looking affair.

Better Today—It will be pleasing news to many people to know that President William McLachlan of the Pioneer stake, who suffered a stroke of partial paralysis yesterday, is much improved today. He passed a fairly comfortable night, and this morning his condition was such as to inspire hope for recovery.

Parents' Class—The Twentieth ward Sunday school officials will organize a parents' class at tomorrow morning's session. Stake Supt. Wallace and associates are expected to be in attendance, and will assist in organizing and launching the class. All parents in the ward interested in this new and excellent movement in Sunday school work are requested to be present.

Advertising For Men—The master plumbers said today that the only change in the strike situation was that the bosses had begun to advertise in the eastern papers for men. If the strikers are willing to return to the fold, all well and good, if not, when the new men arrive and are put to work, they will not be let out if the old men want to come back.

Mineral Specimens—The Uintah Mineral Wax company of Colton sent yesterday afternoon, to the Chamber of Commerce, two fine specimens of mineral wax valued at $200 per ton, the Wasatch Copper Mining company of Boxelder county exhibits of iron, copper and antimony ores, assaying in the high figures; and the Utah Sulphur company of Juab sulphur exhibits.

Governor Will Appoint One—Formal notice of the failure of the two county commissioners of Davis county to choose a successor to former Commissioner J. H. Larkins, who has left the state, was received yesterday from County Clerk H. W. Stahler by Gov. Cutler. The governor will have to appoint a commissioner as the present commissioners have been ever since Feb. 18 trying to decide on one and have failed to do so.

Dramatic Entertainment—The First Unitarian society gave a dramatic entertainment last evening, in Unity hall that was a success. The play was "The Lady of Lyons," by Bulwer Lytton, the parts being taken by Frank C. Robinson, Prescott A. Erickson, Mrs. Frank Larson and Miss Annabella Bocker. A musical program was also given with Horace Ensign and Miss Sigrid Pedersen as the principal participants. The evening closed with dancing.

Salvation Army—Everybody is invited to the special meetings to be held in the local army this evening and tomorrow, the occasion being the visit to Salt Lake City of Brigadier and Mrs. Pebles, and Major and Mrs. Harris. The brigadier and wife have charge of the army social work in the west and Major and Mrs. Harris the spiritual work. The meetings will begin on Saturday night with a welcome meeting, and Sunday 11 a. m., holiness meeting 3 p. m., praise meeting, and 8 p. m.

Junior Year Book—The coming year book of the junior class at the state university is promised for May 1 next. It will be bound in green velvet sheepskin, with 250 pages of matter, including 100 copper plates. The editorial staff of the book is composed of these juniors: A. R. Ivens, H. Leo Marshall, Edna Harker, Ivy Cleghorn, Cora Mulgrave, J. P. Russell and C. W. Cornell. Those who are looking after the business end of the book are: Leo Snow, Ralph R. Woolley, Ernest Bowman, Vernon B. Herbst and Lacelle W. Cummings.

Sunday School Outlines—All Sunday school workers will, no doubt, be pleased to know that the Sunday school outlines for the kindergarten, primary, first intermediate and second intermediate departments are now published and are on sale at the Deseret Sunday School Union Book store. The theological lessons are now being passed upon by the board and will not be published for some time, however, in the meantime for the convenience of the teachers and pupils in the above department, the board has had printed March and April lessons in sheet form.

Giles Advertising Bureau—This is the name of a new institution which is opening business at room 608 Templeton building. It is organized by Mr. John D. Giles, who has been in the employ of the Deseret News for nearly four years past. Mr. Giles has always been a valuable employe of the "News" business office, and the institution wishes him well in his new enterprise. The bureau will have charge of the tabernacle organ recital programs, and also make a specialty of working up newspaper advertising. Mr. Giles' wide acquaintance, energy and reliability ought to assure him success from the start.

U. of U. Student Dormitory—Excavating has begun for a male student dormitory to be erected at the corner of Thirteenth East and Second South streets, by J. W. Carpenter of Park City, to house 80 students. The structure is to be 30x108 feet, three stories high, with 40 rooms, and the contract was let yesterday, to O. M. Engdahl for $31,000. Mr. Carpenter will also erect a private residence adjoining on the south side, 25x40 feet, of six rooms. Another dormitory for women students is to be built by Mr. Carpenter and Mr. A. H. Birrell together on a 55x105 foot lot, immediately adjoining the campus; but the plans have not been drawn yet. Mr. Birrell is interesting himself very actively in Salt Lake realty.

Fine Art Exhibit—There is a valuable exhibition of paintings on the second floor of the Hooper-Eldredge building, given by J. B. and Leo Fairbanks, the artists, who are showing their works to many friends for the next week or 10 days. A specialty is made of copies of famous paintings, in which the fidelity to the originals is noticeable. Among these are "The Woodland" from Gustave Bonheur, brother of the famous Rosa; "The Last Supper," from Tiopolo; "The Crucifixion," from Veronese; "The Annunciation," from Del Sarto; "Christ at the House of Simon," from Subleyras; "Cattle in the Woods," from Bonheur, etc. The younger Fairbanks includes in his exhibit, "The Tackle," a football figure which has been highly spoken of, also, in sculpture, a woman weeping, a fine piece of work. Among other paintings are "After the Harvest," "Paris at Night," several views of Chicago from Lake Michigan, and "Meditation," a very fine painting of a lady sitting by a fire thinking over the proposal just received. The reflection of the fire on her dress and the general arrangement of the lights and shadows is excellent. J. B. Fairbanks is shortly to leave for Chicago and New York for art work. While in New York he will visit the Metropolitan Art museum, to make a copy of the celebrated $100,000 painting, "The Horse Fair," by Rosa Bonheur, for the Provo Commercial club.
