The Montpelier Bank Robbery.

The NEWS representative had a conversation, yesterday, with a gentleman well acquainted in Vernal. He looked upon the sensational scheme in connection with the Montpelier bank robbery and Cassidy's and Lay's connection with it, as being very imaginative to say the least. Two weeks ago he heard that Cassidy and Lay were held by cattlemen in Wyoming for stealing cattle, which he says is their business. In regard to Warner and Wall and the alleged scheme to divorce them, he takes no stock in the report that such an attempt will be made, and says that if they had not believed they had a good cause, they would not have waited around Vernal nearly two days after they brought divorce and left town to allow the shooting. They had time to get away but did not do so and why should they want to be hunted by force when they refused to escape before their arrest. This gentleman, who, by the way holds a high official position, further says in regard to Warner and Wall that they have been around Vernal from time to time, for the last eight or ten years, and during that period the United States county officers could have arrested them at any time, if they had been wanted for any of the serious offenses laid at their door in the above mentioned. He further stated that they are considered rather hard cases, and his object is not to defend them in any unlawful act they may have been guilty of, but he objects to the idea going out that Utah is responsible for such a shooting gang as the one of which Warner is said to be the leader, and where he believes he no trouble existence, at least so far as Warner's or Cassidy's connection with it is concerned.

Fourth District Court.

The following business was transacted in the Fourth district court yesterday:

Elizabeth Wallaker vs John Wallaker, divorce, came up for hearing. The parties are from American Fork. The ground upon which divorce was sought was failure to provide, which denying the evidence of Mrs. Wallaker was of the opinion that the facts were not sufficient to justify granting a decree, and dismissed the case.

The case of Felton Co-op. vs E. Holman was transferred to Rocky county, Seventh district.

In the case of Levi Ostrander vs W. A. Hudson; time for defendant to file statement in in dispute for one day extended to and including the 19th.

In the case of Nora G. Kitchens vs Carl E. Johnson; same order as in case above.

The case of W. P. Brown vs R. G. W. Railway company; dismissed by stipulation.

In the estate of E. F. Dee, A. W. Meek, guardian, discharged upon his petition.

CONFERENCE OF DAVIS STAKE.

Excellent Meetings Held at Farmington—Large Attendance and Greatly Inspirational.

CENTERVILLE, Utah, Sept. 7, 1896.—The quarterly conference of the Davis Stake convened at Farmington on Saturday and Sunday, September 5th and 6th. It was held in a large beauty covered for the purpose by the people at Farmington. On Saturday there were present Elder John Henry Smith of the Council of the Apostles, Elder John W. Rees and Joseph E. Cook of the Stake Presidency and a full quorum of the High Councilors (as well as to the Stake (twelve in number) were represented by their Bishops with the exception of Bot Brunton, whose Bishop was absent to the north, and the largest number of Saints that ever attended Stake conference on a Saturday.

At the morning services, 10 a.m., President Rees expressed his pleasure in seeing such a large number of the Priesthood and Saints assembled together on the Sunday of conference. He reported the condition of the Stake; said the Stake Presidency were united and labouring for the good of the people in the best of their ability; there was a general good feeling prevailing in the Stake, no difficulties. There had not been any High Council trials for the last seven or eight months. The High Council held their regular meetings once a month. The people were divided in their last election. The Relief society was doing a good work administering to the sick of the town and relieving the poor, though the relief societies were not appointed as they should be or they were a great aid to the Bishop.

Patriarch N. T. Porter spoke on the object of the Saints being gathered together in this land, "to learn of the ways of the Lord and to walk in His paths;" wondered if we were trying to accomplish this object, and seeking out children to do the same.

Bishop Peter Hatch was thankful for the testimony the Lord had given him; spoke of the promises of the Lord to his ancient Saints, one of the promises of those that held the Priesthood.

Elder John S. Smith of Kaysville bore his testimony to the truth of the Gospel; related some of his early experiences in the Church and gave an account of his conversion to the truth.

Sidney Harvey Peters, John W. Chase and Thomas Abbott made a few remarks bearing their testimony.

Elder John Henry Smith then addressed the congregation; spoke of the love and esteem he had for brethren and sisters that have lived faithfully—were firm to the truth, never betraying the cause they have espoused. He said he never heard of the death in one of this audience; he offered a prayer that he might so live that in the end as they had been, spoke of the promises the Lord had blessed his children with; he was in the habit of writing things rather shadowy of misery; also spoke on true and false conversion.

On Saturday at 2 p. m. Elder Joseph E. Cook said he rejoiced to meet so many saints with the Holy Ghost to listen to the instructions of our servant, as of old, exhorted the Saints to be humble; as humility was necessary for advancement.

Elder Wm. H. Maughan a few remarks to the Saints.

Sister Elizabeth Brown bore a strong testimony; encouraged the young sisters to get a testimony of the truth as the Gospel, and never to marry outside of the Church. Sister Brown spoke in tongues and Sister Jensen interpreted the same.

Elder Joseph H. Noble here six bretheren spoke to the personal knowledge of the Prophet Joseph Smith, with whom he has become acquainted in 1832; related many things that had occurred from that time up to the death of the martyrs.

Elder John Henry Smith again addressed the people, whose the young people to remember what Brother Noble had told—more in regard to the Prophet Joseph; spoke on the experiences of Peter to Paul; said "it is unlikely our redemption the earth" said marriage was ordained of God and was sacred if performed by one having authority from God. He counselled the people to be merry, use not of their faith, for it would bring disaster and troubles.

Sunday, 10 a.m.—There were present today President Joseph F. Smith of the First Presidency of the Church; F. M. Lyman, John H. Smith and H. J. Grant of the Council of the Apostles, Stake and ward authorities and a large number of Saints.

Elder H. J. Grant addressed the congregation for a short time; spoke on the duties of the Saints and exhorted the people to be faithful in paying the tithes and offerings; also spoke on the Word of Wisdom; said if there were any who had not been faithful in the past they could be forgiven if they would now begin to live the law; he testified that if we would live the law we would be healed and enjoy more general satisfaction.

President Joseph F. Smith spoke on the condition of the Church at the present time, the way the Saints are now viewed by prominent men of the world. Said if there were no model of voting as Gladstone, Virtue, temperance, honesty, the Saints would be perfect; we could instill this spirit by having those virtues abiding in us. Said we are to be meek as a lamb and cunning as serpent, but a dirty set as a dirty, mean man in the world. Elder J. H. Smith endorsed the remarks of Elder Grant and President Smith; said we should live up to the spirit of the Gospel, for it is the spirit of life, the spirit of energy, the spirit of righteousness, the spirit of heaven.

President Rees urged the young people to marry, and to wait until they were as well off as their parents; spoke against the Way Saints receive were carried out in the prosecution bothing of late years.

Sunday, 2 p.m. After the opening exercises, the Sacrament was administered, and the general and Stake authorities were presented and unanimously endorsed. Elder F. M. Lyman delivered a most excellent discourse. Spoke of the great strides in science, including the inner part of the century, the discoveries of steam, electricity, etc. The teaching of the Gospel was the first aim—the end following in haste as the Lord's work—to hasten the gathering of the Saints. He said we are living in a period when we should be careful to counsel our children to the Gospel, exhort to keep the commandments of God.

President Joseph F. Smith spoke on marriage and the necessity of paying our tithing. President Smith also spoke very powerfully against Sabbath-breaking, intemperance, adultery and all immorality. He wished the prevailing Priesthood to look simply after those given to them.

Conference adjourned for three months to be held at Kaysville.

ELIAS CLARK.

Of Interest to Bicycle Riders.

There can be no question that one of the most important parts of a bicycle is the tire. It has to bear the brunt of the work, it constantly comes in contact with outstanding elements, and generally receives the least care from the rider. The larger sales of the world it has to do was only recently by makers of bicycles, who, however, had been a great many minor objects of the important subject of the wheel.

There are today, however, quite different styles of bicycle tires on the market, all of which vary in cost. As in their various merits, there are of little value; some experience is the only way to determine this question. Unless an expert practitioner, dismiss for it is a mess. Above 'out of sight' the tire during which time experience, and gladiate tires have been marketed, at least immediately at all the riders to the country today demand and to do satisfaction tires.

The leading tire in the United States, and in fact in the entire world, in the opinion of thousands of bicycle riders, is the Morgan & Wright Chicago. They have by experience in the tire could be exactly taken from the rim to be repaired. That was the principal requirement to tire days, besides the usual requirements of speed, durability and comfort.

That was several years ago. Single tube tires had been pushed in Europe, and were tall or, and the same effort was being made in this country. The Morgan & Wright contribution quickly proved to be superior possibilities. The result stated above. The quick-repair inner tube, which is now over a thousand feet of all this tire, has made the position of Morgan & Wright tires exceedingly fortunate, by making it quick and easy for the rider to secure, at the roadside, a temporary repair—a thing absolutely impossible in the majority of bicycle tires.
