OGDEN.

OGDEN, UTAH, - DEC. 11, 1894.

Was in Bad Company.

Joseph Cohen, who arrived from Wyoming on Saturday night, made complaint at police headquarters that he had been stolen from him. He was in the company of Maggie Kirk and Maud Nelson, who he charges with having robbed him while under the influence of liquor.

Found Dead.

Mrs. Gyrstast, 75 years of age, was found dead in a rocking chair at her home at 1128 Twenty-fourth street yesterday. She had not been seen for several days. Yesterday morning some of the neighbors became suspicious that all was not right. They looked into the window and saw a sight which confirmed their suspicions. They sent for the sheriff, who found her dead in her rocking chair, close to the stove, with an open book in her hand. Things were clean and comfortable in her cottage. Some money and plenty of food and fuel showed there was no lack for the necessaries of life. Deceased had no relatives in Ogden. She had a husband and six children in Holland, from which country she emigrated about ten years ago. One of her sons is in California.

A Forged Check.

William Lewis was arrested for attempting to pass a check for $17.35 drawn on the Utah National Bank and bearing the signature of L. W. Shurtliff. He tried to pass the check at Biggelt's grocery store, but Mr. Biggelt was suspicious and telephoned for an officer who, upon seeing the check, connected it with Lewis, which was done near the Tabernacle by Chief Davenport. When searched at the police station a check for $17.35 was found, also three inches of rope, a club, a revolver and also letters which indicate that the police have an all round crook in custody.

LOGAN.

LOGAN, UTAH, - DEC. 10, 1894.

Surgical Operations.

Drs. Parkinson, of Logan, and Adamson, of Richmond, removed five or six ounces of decayed bone from the leg of Hyrum Bair, of Cove ville, on Wednesday last, and on the same day performed a similar operation on a twelve year old boy named McCulloch, who lives in the Fifth ward. Mr. Bair had been a sufferer from necrosis for more than thirty years.

In Court Circles.

Clerk Roche, of the Territorial Supreme court, has been investigating the charges preferred against U. S. Commissioner Fletcher. A number of witnesses were examined and ample material obtained on which to formulate a report.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Ballantyne was in Logan during the latter part of the week on official business. He took the Hoardall woman down to the penitentiary, the grand jury at Ogden having found an indictment against her for the murder of her infant.

The court held its regular monthly session on Wednesday and Thursday.

Poles For Electric Power.

Bids have been called for the furnishing of 3,000 poles thirty-five feet in length, to be delivered between Logan, Hyrum, Wellsville and Smithfield. Bids are also invited for the digging of the holes. This looks as if the proposed electric street railway and lighting system between these cities, the power for which is to be furnished by the Hercules Power Co. of Logan, is to become an established fact in the near future. If the Ogden, Hot Springs and Brigham City Railway company were to contribute it like as far as Wellsville, as it at one time intended, a profitable freight and passenger business might be done by both roads.

Snow.

Logan has a mantle of the beautiful about eight inches in depth, with fair prospects for as much more.

First Telegraph Line.

Fifty years ago there was no military telegraph line of any successful system in existence, and that was exciting the curiosity and wonder of all passengers on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad between the nation's capital and Maryland's chief city. The interest in the new means of transmitting intelligence was so great that Professor Morse was so impressed by seeing the managers of the railroad, along which ran his single wire, to direct that whenever a break occurred in the line the next passing train should wait at the point until the passengers and manager should have reported the damage; and it is said that he was quite chagrined at their refusal. They might have advantageously reflected this might look for a certain use of the line in the business of the road. There are today few roads, if any, which could safely run their usual trains, or make their schedule time, without an extensive wire.—George J. Forney, in October Lippincott's.

The Grip Lottery.

This is a game that promises to become a serious pool. It has already spread so grossly in Ohio, Iowa and Illinois that the agricultural sections of those states have issued solemn warning lessons of its pernicious and alluring form to dismiss now or otherwise cut out the pools before they ripen the seeds, which are produced in large numbers and are readily carried by the winds. Cutting before the seeds form, or, better, before it blooms, will prevent its spread. Twice cutting will be sufficient. As the plant is either annual or biennial, no detriment would be very great as its seeds are tried long distances by the wind. In localities where the plant is still rare its spread can be prevented with little effort.

Tickets on Public Lands.

One of the noteworthy measures emerging from the committee on public lands is the bill to prevent the free use of timber from public lands. The Supreme court has decided that the acts of 1878 regulating the cutting of timber, and that of 1892 governing prosecution for violations of the law, and provides that hereafter it shall be unlawful to grant permission to any person or corporation to cut timber free of charge. Nothing in the act is to prevent the secretary of the interior from permitting under proper restrictions the use of stone and timber free to bona fide settlers or mineral prospectors for firewood, fencing or building purposes. The committee already on the clause relating all permits already granted by the interior department.

Highest Award

FOR Supreme Excellence, TO THE PUTNAM

HOT FORGED AND CHAMFER POINTED HORSE NAILS.

At the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago. A model and diploma awarded. "Supreme excellence in material, method in manufacture, and quality of finished product; elasticity and smoothness combined with holding power in clinch. It allows the use of very small nails."

"There is nothing beyond extreme excellence and so there nothing compared to a horse nail except "the nearest thing which it is made." "The material of which it is made" "and the method of making it" "Finished product." Putnam Nails, by their "elasticity," give slightly to the expansion and contraction of the horse's hoof, which is the "extreme excellence" in "holding power in the clinch" enables them to hold the shoe in the hardest service with less nails.

At the "use of small nails" large horse sale are sold and shoer saves in the earth.

"This is well to note that the officers of the World's Columbian Exposition judged the "best qualities" in a horse nail to be those and also say the "Putnam" contains them all.
