MILL STILL GRINDING.

Judge Hiles Releases Two More Married Couples Today.

ONE PAIR CONCLUDES TO TRY IT AGAIN.

Nine Cases Yet Remaining on Calendar—Trial of a Suit in Revenue $50,000—Other Matters.

The divorce mill grind which commenced before Judge Hiles yesterday, was resumed this morning, with a fresh bushel to grind. There were six cases down on the call calendar. Divorces were obtained in two of the two instances, while one was dismissed, one continued to the term, and one referred to Clerk Hoge for the taking of testimony.

Elizabeth Tyler obtained a decree from Francis E. Tyler the grounds being desertion and failure to provide.

The jury in the case of Ann Lee, who is known to her relatives, Jesse Lowery, and who was by right Ann Lee, but who for years moved in the world as Mrs. Jesse Lowery, vs. Jesse Lowery, was sworn in at 10:30 and the case was by-product from one Mr. Lee, who married the lady in question in May, 1887. A year and six months went to Montana, and had never lived in Utah since. He had not seen her for a life. For only twenty months prior to his leaving the city, plaintiff and defendant had lived together, supposing herself to be her support, and although he had gone at length she had to keep herself by her own labor and earnings. There were no children born to them.

Mrs. Lowery's witnesses testified to the cruel treatment of the complainant, after which Judge Hiles granted the relief prayed for.

SPENT HIS MONEY IN CHINA.

Sadie Kilpatrick, in a suit filed against Jesse Benjamin Kilpatrick, charged that the defendant had been guilty of adultery and fornication, and on this grounds, today sought to have the matrimonial knot severed.

According to the Kilpatrick testimony, the parties were married in this city, October 31, 1891. His children were born to them, his girls and one boy, ranging in age from eleven to six.

Mrs. Kilpatrick further testified that her husband was a railroad man, and was engaged on the road in good wages. He deserted her about a year ago, but for a long time prior he never gave her any of his earnings to plaintiff, but spent them in drink.

Mr. T. C. Price said she knew the Kilpatrick family well, and knew the defendant to be a heavy drinker.

Judge Hiles gave Mrs. Kilpatrick a decree of divorce, and also awarded her the care and custody of the children.

KISS AND MAKE UP.

Martin Holden and Kate L. Holden have succeeded in again to keep housekeeping. A little over a year ago Martin filed a suit against his better half, charging her of having broken the seventh commandment with a man at 41 east Second South street, one city, in June, 1896, and again with another person in a room in the Constitution building. Other accusations of a similar nature were alleged. When the case was called this morning, Attorney W. H. Hammond, representing plaintiff, asked to have the case dismissed, at the same time stating to the court that the parties were now living together. His honor ordered a dismissal of the case entered.

REFERRED AND CONTINUED.

The case of Rose Hansen Hunt vs Joseph W. Hunt was referred to Clerk Hoge, while the cases of Susan H. Newell vs Jessie E. Newell and Clara Parkinson vs James T. Parkinson were continued for the term.

CASES YET TO BE HEARD.

There are still more cases on the calendar, as follows: Emma R. Willing vs Charles V. Whiting; Blanche H. Criddle vs George Criddle; Mary E. Zell vs Clement J. Zell; Mary F. Price vs Milan B. Pratt; Ada C. Gray vs Marcellus J. Gray; Alice Maud Dorius vs Alexander Leon Kooke vs John W. Kooke; Ruth H. Newman vs Louis J. Newman; Dora Robbins vs Emily S. Robbins.

The first four cases are on tomorrow's call, the remaining five for Saturday.

SUIT TO RECOVER $50,000.

Trial of the Case of C. E. Throop, Receiver, vs Daniel Wolstenholme.

Judge Hiles has been occupied today taking testimony in the case of C. E. Throop, receiver of C. Bunting & Co., against Daniel Wolstenholme.

Mr. Throop is represented by Brown & Henderson and Mr. Wolstenholme by Dickson, Ellis & Ellis.

The suit was brought some time ago to recover $50,000, which the company alleges was secured by Wolstenholme, upon a life policy issued in favor of Charles Bunting, now deceased.

It is further set out in the complaint that at the time the policy was issued to Charles Bunting, he had no funds on deposit in the bank, and that the premiums were paid out of the bank funds. The transfer of the policy to Wolstenholme, Bunting's brother-in-law, it is alleged, was without consideration and that therefore the $50,000 rightfully belongs to the receiver of C. Bunting & Co., the bankers.

The defendant denies the allegations and claims that he loaned the money to his brother-in-law, Bunting's children, of whom there are five.

The taking of testimony was being proceeded with when the "News" report closed.

To Replevin Cattle.

Judge Charles Zane and Jay Bee have entered suits replevining the horses in the hands of Jesse Nicholes and E. A. Smith vs George Harvey, C. J. Anderson, H. F. Stewart and Wilson Wolfe. James H. Moyle appeared for the plaintiffs and F. S. Richards for the defendants.

This was action to recover, brought by the plaintiffs for the recovery of 200 head of sheep, or the value thereof, $1,200 in case a delivery cannot be had, and for $500 damages.

The case had not been concluded at press time.

F. H. Mitchell Divorced.

F. H. Mitchell was divorced from Bessie Mitchell by Judge Giles Rossiter this afternoon. The plaintiff charged the defendant around a dozen times for immoral relations was unlovely on the part of his wife. Mitchell testified that his wife was an inmate of a house of ill fame in Rainey Block. She left him last July, and before taking her departure she confessed that she had been untrue to him. Judge Officer U. L. Theo. was the only witness called. The court granted the prayer of the complaint, in addition to granting a decree, Judge Hiles restored the maiden name of the plaintiff, viz., Mrs. J. H. Shaw, who will adopt the child.

The Case of the Thackeries.

The hearing of the petition of Hulda Thackeray, asking for a divorce from her husband, Thomas Thackeray, on the ground of the latter's cruelty to his wife in June, 1895, has been continued by Judge Hiles to Saturday morning. Meanwhile, Mrs. Thackeray was awarded the custody of three children, and $25 per month alimony. The husband was ordered to refrained from paying the alimony, and with that the custody of the children in question. His further alleges that his wife is a prostitute, and that he was induced to marry her when the decree was granted. The children have been in the custody of Mrs. Thackeray's mother, but Thackeray objects to them remaining with the old lady, upon the ground that she has not legal or her own, and that property belongs to his father. He also asks to have the court appoint a guardian for the children.

District Court Notes.

The divorce suit of Cora vs Orvo Hoyt, has been dismissed by Judge Hiles.

The divorce suit of Cora vs Orvo Hoyt, has been dismissed by order of the plaintiff. Mrs. Cora Hoyt, the plaintiff, is a lady well known, attractive and winning ways. She was married to Hoyt, a young man, the son of Salmon Hoyt, deceased, and resides in Ogden.

PASSING WORTHLESS CHECKS.

The Man Who Has Been "Doing" Central Utah Said to Have Been Captured.

Special to the "News."

Provo, Utah, Nov. 6.—Sheriff Owens received a telegram this afternoon from Thompson, Grand county, advising him that the man who has been passing a large number of worthless checks at various places in central Utah the last few weeks had been arrested, and that he would be brought to Provo on the first train. He is expected back this evening.

AMUSEMENTS.

Tonight Wm. Gillette and Perkoski's New York company will present Secret Service at the Theatre. The attendance will undoubtedly be larger than usual, owing to the fact that the plays of Gillette are well known and have always received good attention when offered upon this stage. Tomorrow afternoon a matinee will be given.

The sale of seats for the Berkely Opera company, which appears at the Theater Monday and Tuesday nights of next week, opens tomorrow morning. The company is reported to be provided with attractions in a big measure. Rich Hudson the company will present the "Mikado" of the opera, Mikado, and Mr. I. Lemon has the affair in hand. Half the proceeds of the two nights' entertainment will go to paying off the Longer's indebtedness.

Dr. Ira Ind and Wayne gave a young performance at the Theater last night, with an audience similar in size to that of the opening before, in attendance.

The Salt Lake Opera company is actively rehearsing The Children of Nevada for presentation in Ogden on Wednesday, Nov. 13, and the company will give the Pearl Lake will carry the company and friends to the Junction city. Special cars will be run to Ogden, in Ogden, will be greatly in evidence, with the opera in the evening to help direction.

The Ogden Opera company will appear here at the Theater on Nov. 20, presenting the Mikado. The members of the Salt Lake Opera Co. will attend the performance in a body.

A social as well as an educational event will be the entertainment under the auspices of the Utah Kindergarten association at the Assembly Hall on Friday night, when the popular Gaelic, Irish tenor-humorist, Mr. David C. Hodge, will present a choice and varied program. Mr. Hodge will be assisted by the local favorites, Mrs. Mollie Dyke-Pugsley, soprano, Miss Lottie Gray, violinist, Mr. Sigurd Cragg, piano, Master Arthur Peterson, violinist, and Master Amos Peterson and J. W. Pugsley, accompanist. The entertainment is for the benefit of a free kindergarten school in connection with Brigham Young academy.

As the case is a most worthy one, the program of the higher character and the attractive nature of the entertainment, the Assembly Hall will be crowded.

Tonight and tomorrow night, Nov. 6th and 7th, the Social Amusement company of the Twenty-first ward will present the interesting military drama entitled, Elizabeth, in the ward meeting house. A good orchestra will be in attendance. All those will great the young college athlete and a great and good time is anticipated.

BANQUET AND EPIGRAM.

Twenty-Fifth Anniversary of the Jordan Lodge of This City.

The Jordan Lodge, No. 2, I. O. O. F. will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary at the Hall, Jones Block this evening, when at nine o'clock the assembled guests propose to fall upon and utterly rout the various furnished by the inevitable banquet, and in the form of lamb-chops, ice-cream, oysters, salads and expensive bottles above mentioned, the lodge will be treated to a program that will appeal to the appetite of the members. H. P. Wood will give a history of the Jordan Lodge; J. H. Dyke, of the grand lodge; Hon. Arthur Brown, of the subordinate lodge; Hon. Frank Armstrong will discourse on the relationship between Brother and John James on the press. Reinhardt will be the toast of the evening, and Jacob Moritz will tell all about the young Odd Fellow.

A Tumor Formed

Finally It Broke Inwardly and Discharged

Trouble Began With Dyspepsia and Impure Blood

Thorough Course of Hood's Sarsaparilla Completely Cures.

There is danger in impure blood. Disease and suffering are surely coming to those who neglect this threatening symptom. Read this:

"Gilliam, Missouri.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen:—My trouble began with nervous headaches, which would last me for two or three days. The doctors pronounced my trouble dyspepsia, but they could not do anything for me, and advised a change of location. At the age of 16 I was forced to say opium, which I used very faithful for the next year or so, when I found I was entirely free from the habit. My health was good, and I felt like I was entirely free from the habit. My health was good, and I felt like I was entirely free from the habit. My health was good, and I felt like