WORDS OF CONDOLENCE.

E-x-Judges Regarding Elder A. H. Cannon, Adopted at a Pioneer Celebration in Kanab.

PILLMORE, July 25, 1896.

To the Editor:

I by previous arrangement went down to Kanab yesterday. Before leaving the place I had understood that the usual Pioneer day celebration would generally be dispensed with, owing to the death of our universally beloved brother, Elder Abraham Hoagland Cannon.

When we arrived at Kanab, my home, we found the festivities being enjoyed by the people as usual and the Pioneer train had been into camp upon the public square, so late now to make any suggestion in the line of our previous understanding. We therefore waited until the procession had been rendered, then, by permission of the marshall, George Crane, went to the stand, and said he offered no apology for his seeming intrusion before that audience, as he knew that every heart present would beat in harmony with the resolution he would offer. He spoke briefly of the life and character of the deceased Apostle, whose whole life issued to the crystal drippings from a hidden fountain—one always felt that there was in him a beautiful reliance at the source; he also likened the deceased to a mighty rock taken hewed by the artist mason—every chip was spent and contact with the world threw off produced a greater symmetry, more fitting for the work of the Master, who had taken him hither to place him with the great ones who had gone before. The speaker was judge of the good name of Kanab, and lest a misunderstanding should go abroad, he offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That we, the citizens of Kanab, Millard county, in mass meeting assembled, do do honor to the Pioneers, who by their faith and sacrifice made it possible for us to reap the rich blessings from God which this day surround us, and we consoled of the great loss sustained by his family, the Church, and the world, in the death of Apostle Abraham H. Cannon, and by our uplifted hands attest our love and honor for this departed brother, friend and safe counselor in life, and we hereby offer our sincere condolence in their affliction, to his wives and his children, and gray God in guide them in the footsteps of their father.

Kind and fellow, that his name may be honored in them throughout all eternity.

Every head and every heart in that great assembly spoke in response to this resolution, for everywhere in the mountains are the people more loyal to the good and the great than in the little town of Kanab. A. BIRD.

Home From Canada.

On Saturday the NEWS received a call from Elder H. H. Bentwood of Santa Jordan, who on the 16th inst. returned home from a mission to Canada. Elder Bentwood left home for its field of labor on Sept. 23, 1895, and during all the time of his mission he traveled throughout the province of Ontario, tracting and in other ways distributing Gospel principles. He reports the mission in a good condition and state that in his labors he has succeeded in alloying much prejudice as to the Mormons and Mormonism.

The prospects for a good work there in the future are highly encouraging, and there is still one missionary in that field—Elder Gardner of West Jordan. Elder Bentwood was released on June 5, after which he visited relatives in Manitoba, Ont., followed by his return home in good health and strength.

DR. BENEDICT'S FUNERAL.

Elder Charles W. Penrose Delivers the Funeral Address.

At 11 o'clock yesterday morning, funeral services over the remains of Dr. Joseph M. Benedict were held at the family residence on the corner of Third South and Fourth East streets. The services were conducted by Bishop Woolley, and were attended by a number of physicians. Elder Chas. W. Penrose delivered the funeral address and Dr. Seymour B. Young delivered the prayer at the city cemetery with prayer. Doctors F. S. Bennett, A. S. Rowe, F. S. Benton and S. Irving of the city and Doctors Pike and Grimy of Logan acted as pallbearers.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to return our heartfelt thanks to friends who have so kindly assisted us in our bereavement in the loss by diphtheria of our two children.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY HOBORN.

STATE NEWS.

Beaver Chipper: Work will start out tramps quicker than anyone will tell bugs. Since the city council decided that tramps must work if they enter Kaysville, Davis county, they are not long enough the dust from their feet, and in fact have grown more scarce than white black birds. City Marshal Bland makes daily trips in the county and in the spots where they usually camp. At first he caught three who were given eight days to the prison. Watermaster Hamilton had them out cleaning out water ditches and repairing sidewalks. They got their board at the hotel. One young fellow at the expiration of his sentence remarked that he thought it pretty tough and he hoped the city would come when the people here would find out who he was—mind likely a duke.

Springfield Independent: The strawberry and raspberry crops in Springville are more than double the last year, so Mr. Hopkins tells us. Mr. Roberson, our sugar beet man, says the crop of beets this year will be in excess of last year, and that we far about of any previous year, greater than any the area in the county (since Lehi Crops in) crops are in better shape at Springville and Mapleton than in other part of the state, so astute is Nature to protect us, so usual, gave us the much needed rain but reserve the calamities—cyclones, hurricanes, floods, thunder bolts, etc., for other less favored localities.

Shelby Lloyd Tingey, son of Chas. H. Tingey and wife, of Nephi, Juab county, died on Friday morning of scarlet fever. The deceased was a grandson of Elder John Tingey, Bishop of the Seventeenth ward of this city, and of the late Wm. Hyde, formerly street superior in Salt Lake City. The Nephi Times says of the deceased: "Shelby was a bright, lovable and affectionate boy, who had won the respect, friendship and admiration of all who knew him."

Nephi Times: W. B. Kennedy and Elizabeth B. Kennedy have decided to accept the course of divorce tendered by Judge Higgins last March. They have settled all trivial differences and misunderstandings between themselves and come to the wise conclusion that marriage is not a failure and have taken out another license to wed.... The three-year-old daughter of W. W. Jenkins met with an accident on Wednesday. She was playing with a file off of a bed bucket, when she fell striking her head on the sharp edge of the bed, inflicting a very severe and ugly wound in the forehead. Dr. Hemmy was called and he found it necessary to sew up the wound which required five stitches. The child is getting along as well as could be expected under the circumstances.... The Hammond shop of Clifton Dale was successfully sealed with boiling coffee Friday afternoon. The little one is reported getting along favorably.

A CANVAS COLOSSUS.

Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Consolidated Show Coming to Town.

Mr. J. A. Bailey, who controls the Barnum & Bailey show and is sole owner of the Adam Forepaugh show, has acquired an interest with the Sells Brothers and hereafter the Forepaugh & Sells shows will be under the same tents. The Sells Brothers, consisting of Ephraim, Lewis and Peter Sells, are among the wealthiest showmen in the country. The Barnum & Bailey show will be an ally of the new combination.

The recognition, says the New York Sun, accorded to the Sells Brothers' show by the extraordinary compact above outlined gives it a world-wide prestige, in addition to the successful one it has for a quarter of a century steadily maintained and increased wherever it has exhibited. Among the world's three greatest shows it is recognized as an equal, and what is of greater moment to the public, one of those is now combined with it, the result being self-evidently the greatest and most formidable exhibition of its kind ever organized, and one that would be impossible in any other country, or in any other partnership of artistic managers and proprietors.

It will visit Salt Lake on Wednesday of this week, and will give but two performances. The will tents accommodating 40 inches the only two elephants ever seen, and they are wonders; the only pair of giant hippopotami, and they are monsters; the only tenderfoot camels, rhinoceros, the only full-grown polar bear, the only Nigger sacrifice, gold, and silver, and the largest and most combined zoological collection ever exhibited. The hippodrome and circus performances are proportionately superior and sensational, including a hundred high-class rider and baseback equestrian, aerial, acrobatic, comical, and novel acts, introducing the very best amphitheatrical and circus talent in the world, motion pictures, tableau and operettas of unusually and amazingly realistic beauty and magnificence. The morning parade is pronounced a wonder in magnitude and magnificence, and the entire enterprise a capacity, type-every, and literalmore means.
