RESOLUTION ON SIDEWALK PAVING.

The Board of Public Works represented that under the resolution adopted by the council on June 17, giving the board authority to accept any sidewalk pavement which in their judgment met the requirements, there was an implied right on the part of land-owners to construct that portion of a sidewalk abutting on their land, provided it met with the requirements of the ordinance. The board, under these circumstances, could exercise no arbitrary discretion in the matter, and if the individuals were not limited as to time in which they might lay the walks, the board would be compelled to accept or reject the work offered in accordance with the contract, and could not assess the contractor as to the extent of the work embraced in the contract to be let.

Councilman Parsons introduced the following resolution on that subject, which was adopted:

Resolved, That any sidewalk which may be or has been laid within any district in the city prior to the letting of the contract within any district shall be subject to the approval of the board of public works, and no sidewalk laid prior to the letting of the contract in any district shall be accepted by the board of public works, and no sidewalk laid in any district shall be accepted by the board of public works, and no sidewalk shall be laid in such district without the consent of the city engineer.

AGAIN IN SESSION.

The Territorial Supreme Court Re-convened this Morning.

THE CHURCH CASE COMES UP.

A Disbarred Attorney Petitions the Court to Re-admit Him.—Other Business.

It was twenty minutes after ten o'clock this morning when the four judges of the Territorial Supreme Court took their seats upon the bench, at which time there was an unusually large attendance of members of the bar. The general expectation was that several opinions would be handed down by their honors, but such was not the case. After Clerk Burke had gone through the customary preliminary of reading the minutes of the last sitting of the court, Chief Justice Zane invited attorneys who had any motions to make to submit them forthwith. Thereupon United States District Attorney Varian arose and made an application in what he termed

"THE CHURCH CASE."

Said Mr. Varian, I have the remittitur and mandate of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case known as the United States against George Romney and others. The judgment of this court is modified in this particular—requiring the court to appoint a master in chancery to hear and determine certain questions in relation to the disposition of the funds in the hands of the Receiver. I now ask the court to make that appointment.

Attorney F. S. Richards suggested, on behalf of the appellants, that the making of the appointment be deferred until a future session of the court, in order that officers could an opportunity to confer together and see whether they could not agree upon some person to act as master in chancery who would be satisfactory to both sides and acceptable to the court. This was a matter of some importance.

Mr. Varian said that should depend, to some extent, upon the time when the court would adjourn. If not till late in the summer, or in the fall, the appointment should be made at an early date. This matter was likely to engage some time, and that was the only reason he had for haste.

The judges conferred, and Judge Zane announced that when the court adjourned it would be until September 12th.

Mr. Richards remarked that even if a master were appointed before that time there certainly would be no testimony taken until September.

The court ordered the motion to stand over until three o'clock this afternoon.

HE WANTS TO COME BACK.

Mr. Charles F. Blandy, of this city, came forward, and in a trembling voice said: I have to ask permission, your honors, to file a petition in the matter of my own reinstatement as a member of this bar, and also that the court will take such action thereon as it might think proper. He then handed up the following:

"To the Honorable the Supreme Court of Utah Territory:

"The undersigned, your petitioner, would respectfully represent that by proceedings begun on the 11th day of January, A. D. 1885, in this court, he was disbarred and deprived of his privileges of practicing his profession as an attorney and counselor at law in the courts of this Territory and that the judgment was satisfactorily and patiently submitted to by him.

He further states that the acts which led to his said disbarment were not done with any corrupt purpose or design, and that he admits their impropriety and now seriously avows his intention and purpose to avoid them in the future, and all conduct of like kind.

Your petitioner would state that since said deprivation he has endeavored to earn a livelihood by accepting job business, but that such business is not agreeable or profitable to him.

That he has had opportunities to earn a support as a lawyer, but mindful of the dignity of the court, and desiring to obey the same, he has been compelled to decline all such employment, although his needs have been great and urgent.

That he has sought by such compliance, and by an honest and upright course of conduct since the judgment referred to, to give an earnest of his intention to lead an honorable and useful life among his fellow citizens, and to deserve and have their respect and the confidence of the community.

He promises in future, if restored to the privilege of again entering on the practice of his profession, to conduct and conduct himself honorably and honestly towards all men which is carefully regard to the duties of an attorney both toward the court and his clients, and to in all things prove worthy, according to his ability, of the distinction which attaches to a member of the profession.

Trusting that this petition will be considered in the same spirit the people in presentation, and that your petitioner may be restored to the status of acting as honest and honorable livelihood, your petitioner, a in duty bound, will ever pray.

Dated Salt Lake City, Utah, June 1, 1891."

The court took the application under advisement.

OTHER MATTERS.

In the case of John Cushan et al. vs. Ann Devil, the mandate of the Supreme Court of the United States was filed and a remittitur ordered affirming the judgment of this court.

In the case of Tarpey vs. Healey, a motion to dismiss was submitted and ordered to stand over until this afternoon.

Attorney Rawlins, in the case of Jennings and others against the Salt Lake City Railroad company (which he represented), applied for an order dismissing the same. The request was granted.

ADMITTED TO PRACTICE HERE.

Upon the application of Attorney Mayle, Mr. Thomas B. Lewis, of Ionia, a member of the bar of the Supreme Court of Michigan, was admitted to the bar.

Court then adjourned until 3 p. m.
