SALT LAKE WANTS NEXT CONVENTION

Seeks to Capture the Quadrennial Conference of Methodist Episcopal Church.

COMMERCIAL CLUB IN LINE.

Mayor Bransford, Manager Fisher Harris and Rev. F. B. Short and Dr. Talbot Wire to Baltimore.

Rev. F. B. Short of the First Methodist church and Rev. Dr. Talbot, superintendent of Methodist messions for Utah, concluded yesterday afternoon, that it would be a good thing to bring the next quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal church to Salt Lake. So they conferred with Mayor Bransford and Manager Fisher Harris of the Commercial club; and as a result of the conference, the following telegrams were sent last night, to the Baltimore convention:

Rev. A. S. Mobray, D. D.
Secretary Methodist Episcopal Conference, Baltimore, Md.

The Commercial club, a broad business organization, representing nineteen-twentieths of the business interests of this city, urge your acceptance of Mayor Bransford's cordial invitation to hold your 1912 conference in our enterprising city. We pledge our hearty co-operation and best effort for your comfort and entertainment.

FISHER S. HARRIS,
Secretary.

Rev. A. S. Mobray,
Secretary Methodist Episcopal Conference, Baltimore, Md.

Personally and on behalf of the city council and the citizens of Salt Lake City I extend you a cordial invitation to hold your next conference in 1912 in our beautiful and interesting city. Appropriate buildings of ample capacity will be gratuitously provided you and every effort made for your comfort and enjoyment. I sincerely trust this earnest invitation may be met with your acceptance.

JOHN S. BRANSFORD,
Mayor.

Rev. A. S. Mobray, D. D.,
Secreary Methodist Episcopal Conference, Baltimore, Md.

We heartily join the mayor and the Commercial club of this city in inviting the general conference for 1912 to convene here. You will do us great good and we trust a most favorable consideration at your hands. Read these invitations tomorrow.

HARRY J. TALBOT,
Superintendent Methodist Missions.
FRANCIS BURGETTE SHORT,
Pastor First Methodist Church.

The conference of four years ago was held at Los Angeles, the present one is sitting at Baltimore, and it is believed that it would be eminently appropriate to hold the next conference in 1912, in the heart of the intermountain country, which is Salt Lake. The intellectual and spiritual cream of Methodism meets at these gatherings, to outline ecclesiastical policies involving the expenditure of millions of dollars. Des Moines, Denver and other western cities are after the conference also, and the claims of each solicitant will be referred to a special committee who will listen to arguments on the subject.

NEW RED LIGHT DISTRICT.

Mayor Bransford is in Favor of Evicting Commercial Street Tenants.

Following out a suggestion made some time ago by Chief of Police Pitt to establish a new place for women of the town, and locate them where they will be under better control than they now are, steps are being taken to acquire property in the block between First and Second South and Fifth and Sixth West streets.

It is said that for several weeks property in this block has been quietly bought up but the matter was kept secret for fear there would be strenuous protests when residents of the neighborhood heard for what purpose the property was being purchased. Those who are back of the scheme propose to erect houses of modern design and have them arranged so they can be kept under constant police surveillance. It is said that those who are interested in the scheme have an understanding with the city authorities and that the plans are sure to be carried out.

This will mean that the women of Commercial street will be forced to abondon that street and take up new quarters. The prospects for this change have proved attractive to resort keepers not only here but in Ogden. It is said that a notorious woman of the Junction City has invested $20,000 here for the purpose named.

When asked about the proposed change Mayor Bransford said:

"The matter has been discussed for some time. For my part, I think it is a good idea. We do not want the tenderloin in the heart of the business district of Salt Lake.

"If the resorts of Commercial street were compelled to seek new locations, Commercial street would become a desirable wholesale district.

"Scattered as the tenderloin resorts now are, it is difficult for the police to give them proper supervision. In the new district arrangements could be made so that the police could preserve order.

"The menace to the morals of the young of such places as Commercial street has engaged my attention for some time. I have gone to that street to study the conditions reported to me, and, day and night, I have found boys either loitering or passing through the street. What a passer may see in Commercial street must certainly have a demoralizing effect upon the young and the doing away with such a spot in the center of the city would be a step in the right direction."

Chief Pitt said:

"The plan will be all right if no effort is made to invade a residence district. In that case it would not meet with my approval. The tenderloin resorts will remain where they now are, unless the location for the new district is in every way satisfactory."

VALUED SAME AS GOLD.
B. G. Stewart, a merchant of Cedar View, Miss., says: "I tell my customers when they buy a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills they get the worth of that much gold in weight, if afflicted with constipation, malaria or biliousness." Sold under guarantee at Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept., 112-114 So. Main St. 25c.

RESTRAINED FROM MURDERING WIFE

Leonora L. B. Knox Sues Husband for Divorce on Sensational Grounds.

JUDGE MORSE MAKES ORDER.

His Honor Smiles as He Does So According to the Prayer of The Plaintiff.

During Judge Morse's divorce matinee yesterday an order was asked for by Leonora L. B. Knox, who is suing her husband, James J. Knox, for divorce on somewhat sensational grounds, restraining Knox from killing her. In the complaint Knox is charged with several kinds of mistreatment of plaintiff during their married career, and now she comes forward with the statement that she is frightened of him and wants the court to order him to desist from killing her. Atty. Edward McGurrin, attorney for the defendant, appeared before the judge and said he was willing that the order be issued, on behalf of his client, and his honor smiled as he made the order according to the prayer of plaintiff.

DECREES GRANTED.

Mary Lavinia Collett was granted a decree of divorce from her husband, Ralph Collett, her testimony to the effect that he was a habitual drunkard being corroborated by John Brown. The Colletts were married March 27, 1902.

Lorena S. Nink was also given a decree divorcing her from Lawrence A. Nink. The evidence went to show that Nink had failed to provide for his wife for six months past. The decree also carried the custody of the baby and alimony at the rate of $15 per month. The marriage of the Ninks occurred Jan. 5, 1907.

Mrs. Gertrude Taylor told a story of marital woes experienced with her husband Clarence Taylor. She said her husband was in the habit of coming home drunk nearly every Saturday night, and that he had given her two fearful beatings since their marriage in October, 1904. On one occasion he chased her with a knife and threatened to kill her. Mrs. Taylor was given a divorce, custody of her baby and $12 per month alimony.

COURT NOTES.

Attorney N. V. Jones was yesterday awarded a verdict of $50 by a jury in Judge Ritchie's court in his suit for attorneys fees against John Robinson. This is half the amount awarded him by the justice's court, from which Robinson took an appeal.

N. A. Dunyon yesterday secured judgment by default against L. R. Martineau for $250 in Judge Lewis' court, for services as expert in platting and reporting on the old Emma mine. He sued for $500 but was given judgment for half the amount.

Judgement by default was entered in Judge Ritchie's court yesterday in the sum of $1,386.86 in favor of the I. X. L. Furniture company and against Louis Berets.

PERSONALS.

Dr. R. J. Hyatt, weather man, left for Modena yesterday.

Landlord Don Porter was able today to visit the Kenyon hotel for the first time since his long sickness.

Miss Sprague, city librarian, is on a vacation trip to Seattle, leaving Miss Lynch to hold down the official chair.
