

SLOCUM DISASTER INVESTIGATION.

Witness Tells How Difficult it Was to Get at the Life Preservers.

CRUMBLING LIKE SODA CRACKERS

The Total Number of Bodies Recovered Is Nine Hundred and Seven.

New York, June 23.—Much of the testimony given at the inquest today into the General Slocum disaster went to show that the life preservers on that steamer were practically useless. At least half a dozen witnesses described how difficult the life-preservers were to get at, and how they fell to pieces at critical times. Paul Liebenow, a passenger on the Slocum who lost six members of his family in the disaster, declared that when the wires by which the preservers were secured in the racks would not give, he took hold of the preservers and they crumbled like so much soda crackers.

Another witness, Reuben H. Tudor, testified that several bodies floated in with the life preservers. To test one of them, he said, he pulled it to pieces with his finger nail. He still had that life preserver in his possession and promised to send it to the district attorney's office.

Other witnesses told of similar experiences with the life-saving apparatus on the Slocum and of the great amount of powdered cork that floated on the water after the steamer was benched. Capt. Van Schick was brought into the courtroom on a stretcher. He apparently was suffering greatly, but expressed a willingness to undergo an examination by the coroner. He was ordered back to the hospital, however, and his examination postponed until next week.

HULL RAISED.

The hull of the wrecked Slocum was raised today, and a great deal of water was pumped out of the hold. A search was made for bodies, but none was discovered. At the next full tide the hull will be taken further inshore. A thorough exploration of the wreckage has not yet been made, and it is possible that tomorrow bodies will be found in the entanglement of timbers and machinery.

Supervising Inspector Rodie, of the United States steamboat inspection bureau, picked up a number of life preservers on the main deck of the Slocum and tagged them for use in the government investigation. These preservers were badly torn and more than half filled with powdered cork.

KNOWN DEAD, 907.

Twenty-four additional bodies were recovered today, bringing the total number of known dead up to 907. One hundred policemen who have been making a canvass of all districts where persons were reported to be missing completed their work tonight. Inspector Schmittberger, who was in charge of the canvass, estimated the total number of dead, including the missing, at about 1,000. He said that the police in many instances had been notified of persons who have been officially reported missing since the day the steamer was burned. In one case a man, his wife and two children, whose names had appeared in all the published lists of missing, were found at their homes. They had not been on the excursion at all, and the others were not even aware that they had been reported missing. Others among the "missing" were found at hospitals and at various other places.

COULD HAVE BEEN REACHED.

The Slocum could have been beached at the foot of 131st street and from there in five minutes saved, according to the testimony of John H. Gilmer, superintendent of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad lighter service. Van Gilmer said he went over the course of the Slocum last Monday, accompanied by the corner and Assistant Pilot Weaver of the Slocum. Weaver described all the conditions that prevailed at the time of the disaster. He contended that 131st street could have been reached by slightly changing the course. The flood tide would have helped, and the wind would have carried the flames outward instead of inward. The reputation of Capt. Van Schick as a commander was declared by the witness to be "first class." He had no doubt the captain had done what he thought best under the circumstances.

WHAT CAPTAIN SAID.

"What did the captain say?" asked Mr. Garvan. "He told us to beach her on North Brother Island."

"Without finding out how serious was the fire? When you did not know anything about it?"

"It did not take a minute when the flames were all about us. It was not until then that we decided to beach her."

CAPT. VAN WART.

Capt. Van Wart said 250 new life preservers were purchased for the Slocum in 1895. He was not sure whether they were examined at the beginning of the present season. He did not examine the fire hose, but did examine the lifeboats and found them in good condition. He had not given the signal for the fire drill this season.

CONDITION OF LIFE PRESERVERS

Much of the testimony offered at the afternoon session had to do with the condition of the life preservers. Almost without exception the stories of the witnesses were to the effect that they were of little value. Many instances were given where the straps attached to the life belts broke easily when subjected to strain, and where the canvas covering was torn and the filling of granulated cork released. Numerous witnesses testified that quantities of the granulated cork were floating on the surface of the water in the vicinity of the burning steamer while the work of rescue was going on.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Protrusion, or Prolapse of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

They have the most remarkable record of cures made by this world-famed remedy ever placed to the credit of any preparation especially designed for the cure of women's peculiar ailments.

A beautiful Georgia lady, Vice-President of the East End Palmist Club, of Savannah, and prominent socially there, relates the following experience: "You certainly have produced the best medicine for suffering women that is to be had in the world. I want to recommend it especially to mothers. I was seventeen years old when my darling boy was born. I felt very exhausted and weak for a long time, and it seemed I could not get my strength back. My sister-in-law brought me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription after I had tried several of the other remedies which are so much advertised, and had no relief. But I took the medicine at the time and was so weak and sick that I felt discouraged, but within a week after I had commenced taking your 'Prescription' I was like a different woman. New life came into me, and I was able to do my usual work. I was two years old and I had been very ill. I am now a healthy, happy woman. My boy is now two years old and I have a strong, healthy child. I am enjoying perfect health. It is all due to your 'Favorite Prescription' and I can give you my word for it. I have tried several of the other remedies which are so much advertised, and had no relief. But I took the medicine at the time and was so weak and sick that I felt discouraged, but within a week after I had commenced taking your 'Prescription' I was like a different woman. New life came into me, and I was able to do my usual work. I was two years old and I had been very ill. I am now a healthy, happy woman. My boy is now two years old and I have a small boy floating away to shore with the aid of one of the life belts. A moment later he saw a woman floating on a life preserver, and then the life preserver parted and floated away from her and into the sea.

LOST SIX OF HIS FAMILY.

Paul Liebenow, who lost six members of his family by the burning of the Slocum, in reply to a question put by one of the jurors, said he first smelled smoke before the boat reached Black Island. He is three days from the upper end of the island was reached.

SERVICES OF CREW.

John L. Wade, engineer and owner of the tug J. W. Wade, who was conspicuous in the work of rescue, told of services performed by himself and his crew.

He declared that the captain and pilot stuck to the ship to the last and that he saw them jump and it is possible that the engineer was there, too. I saw two men leave the pilot house. I think the engineer was at his post all night. The ship beached as gently as possible. The mate did not help us. He jumped aboard from the island and nearly got us into trouble casting off our line. I chased him ashore pretty quick.

To Mr. McManus, counsel for the Knickerbocker Steamship company, Capt. Wade said he thought the Slocum was beached with good judgment, and that considering her great length, the captain did the best he could after the fire was discovered.

ADJOURNED TILL MONDAY.

In asking an adjournment until Monday, Mr. Garvan said he hoped to complete the testimony of John H. Gilmer, superintendent of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad lighter service, and then declared the court adjourned until Monday.

With the approval of the district attorney the members of the crew who were held at the house of detention were released from custody.

The bodies of 31 unidentified victims of the General Slocum disaster were buried today in the Lutheran cemetery, Long Island.

The bodies of 56 identified victims were also interred, a majority of them being relatives of victims already buried.

FINNISH SENATE.

Condemns Bobrikoff's Assassination and Disloyal Agitation.

Helsinki, Finland, June 24.—The senate has adopted a strongly worded resolution on the assassination of Gov. Gen. Bobrikoff, expressing "the deepest condemnation of Schaumann's cruel and treacherous crime," and also condemning the agitation by a number of disloyal people, and the danger to which it may lead.

In conclusion the senate calls upon every true citizen to co-operate in the preservation of order and to spare no effort to prevent any action that would deprive the people of the confidence reposed in them by their country's government.

Congress of Indian Educators.

St. Louis, Mo., June 24.—A congress of Indian educators will be held at the exposition from June 27 to July 1. An invitation has been extended to all those interested in Indian education to be present, and a large attendance is expected.

REUBEN H. TUDOR, who assisted in the work of rescue, said four or five of the corpses he picked up had on life preservers. One of the preservers, he said, was full of powdered cork and was so rotten that he pulled it to pieces with his finger nail.

Much of the testimony offered at the afternoon session had to do with the condition of the life preservers. NO DICTATION FOR CORTELYOU.

Tells Republican National Committee That He Will be The Chairman

HE WILL BE HIS OWN BOSS.

Wants Same Measure of Confidence That was Accorded Mark Hanna.

Chicago, June 23.—George B. Cortelyou was chosen chairman of the Republican national committee at a meeting held today just after the adjournment of the convention. In thanking the committee for the honor he told the members that while he would be glad to have the benefit of their advice and counsel, he intended to be chairman in fact, and would accept no dictation from any one, high or low. He told them that the friends of the late chairman, Mr. Hanna, were his friends, and he asked for the same measure of confidence and support that had been given to the late chairman. In conclusion he sought the advice of both old and new members.

Mr. Cortelyou made no formal statement of his plans. He resigned as secretary of commerce and labor as soon as he was elected chairman, the resignation to take effect as soon as his successor qualifies, which will be about July 1.

Secretary Cortelyou will not give any active time for party matters until he retires from the cabinet.

No vice-chairman will be appointed, and the new chairman will divide his headquarters in the city. Headquarters will not be opened in either city until the latter part of July. Meanwhile Mr. Cortelyou expects to select the executive committee and make his preliminary arrangements for the campaign.

As soon as the committee was called to order Postmaster-General Payne, in a complimentary speech, nominated Mr. Cortelyou for chairman and the election was without a dissenting voice. Messrs. Clayton (Arkansas), Murphy (New Jersey), and Yerkes (Kentucky), were appointed a committee to notify the new chairman and bring him before the committee. After Mr. Cortelyou's remarks Elmer Dove of Ohio was named for secretary by Senator Scott.

Cornelius N. Bliss of New York for treasurer by Gov. Murphy, and William F. Stone of Maryland for sergeant-at-large by Senator Scott. The thanks of the officers were unanimously re-elected.

A resolution was passed authorizing the chairman to appoint an executive committee of nine, with such other officers as are necessary for the management of the campaign. The chairman, secretary, treasurer and sergeant-at-large are to be officers of the executive committee. Under this resolution the chairman is given absolute power in the conduct of the campaign.

Chairman Parker of the Missouri delegation presented to the committee an invitation from David R. Francis, president of the Louisiana Purchase exposition, asking the committee to dine with him at the exposition and then declared the committee were voted to Mr. Francis for the courtesy, but it was stated that the engagements of the members of the committee would prevent them from accepting.

The vacancy in the committee from Louisiana was left to the chairman to fill, and in the evening he was elected and could not choose a member. A resolution of thanks was voted to the old committee and the committee adjourned to meet upon the call of the chairman.

Chairman Cortelyou lunched with the committee at the Auditorium after the adjournment and in the evening he was in constant conference with party leaders in his rooms at the Chicago club. Many suggestions were made to him concerning the election of an executive committee and other matters concerning the coming campaign. He listened to all, saying that he would give them attention when he resumed his duties as a member of the cabinet.

Tired, Tired

Tired. That one word tells the whole story. No rest. No comfort. No particular disease. Just all tired out. Fortunately, physicians know about Ayer's Sarsaparilla. They prescribe it for exhaustion, anemia, depression, general debility.

No matter what ails you nor what medicine you take, you cannot get well if your bowels are constipated. Correct this at once by taking Ayer's Pills, just one pill each night. These are a great aid to the Sarsaparilla. 25 cents. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.

WILLIAM WALTON PAROLED

Imprisoned for Twenty Years For Another Man's Crime.

Helena, Mont., June 23.—Gov. Toole today paroled William Walton, convicted 20 years ago of the murder of John Edwards, near Deer Lodge and sentenced to the penitentiary for life. The pardon is the result of the confession of William Miles, made at Kansas City, June 12, when he admitted having killed Edwards. The latter was a brakeman on a train conveying a circus through this state, and the murder was committed while Miles was stealing a ride on the train. A few months after the murder, Walton was arrested in Minneapolis, where he admitted the crime. Since then he has shown signs of insanity and it is now believed he is insane when he made the confession. Walton is an old inmate of the Montana State Prison and is irresponsible for his crime. No steps have been taken to bring Miles to Montana for trial.

MILES DISAPPEARS.

Kansas City, June 23.—William Miles, who confessed that he killed John Edwards in Montana nearly 20 years ago, has been released by the Kansas City police department. He said that the homicide was justifiable and that he would be acquitted on trial. He will make no further effort to be tried, however.

FATAL COLLISION.

One Man Killed and Several Injured.

Lima, O., June 23.—One passenger was fatally injured and a dozen more or less seriously hurt in a collision between a Lima City street car and a Western Ohio special suburban car here this evening.

DEAD.

Lorena Nichols Klipping or Klippens of Spokane, Wash., aged 8 years.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Miss Letitia Alfratta, an actress of Columbus, internal injuries.

Ten persons who live in Lima were also hurt.

The cars were both entering a switch and the suburban car side-swiped the city car, jamming the first half dozen seats of that car together, which caused the passengers to suffer broken legs. Lorena Klipping or Klippens had her left leg terribly crushed. She was taken to a hospital, where the limb was amputated, but she died from the shock. Many of the passengers were going to or returning from an outing conducted by the Knights of Columbus.

Seth Ellis Dead.

Cincinnati, O., June 23.—Seth Ellis, at one time the Union Reform candidate for president, and master of the national and Ohio Granges, fell from a cherry tree on his farm at Waynesville and died today. He served many years on the Ohio board of agriculture and was a wealthy farmer, being also largely interested in co-operative manufacturing of farm implements.

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband should be a woman's constant study. Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Potts tell their stories for the benefit of all wives and mothers.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will make every mother well, strong, healthy and happy. I dragged through nine years of miserable existence, worn out with pain and weariness. I then noticed a statement of a woman troubled as I was, and the wonderful results she had had from your Vegetable Compound, and decided to try what it would do for me, and used it for three months. At the end of that time I was a different woman, the neighbors remarked it, and my husband fell in love with me all over again. It seemed like a new existence. I had been suffering with inflammation and falling of the womb, but your medicine cured that and built up my entire system, till I was indeed like a new woman.—Sincerely yours, Mrs. C. E. Brown, 21 Cedar Terrace, Hot Springs, Ark., Vice President Mothers' Club."

Suffering women should not fail to profit by Mrs. Brown's experiences; just as surely as she was cured of the troubles enumerated in her letter, just so surely will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure other women who suffer from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, kidney troubles, nervous excitability, and nervous prostration. Read the story of Mrs. Potts to all mothers:—

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—During the early part of my married life I was very delicate in health. I had two miscarriages, and both my husband and I felt very badly as we were anxious to have children. A neighbor who had been using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advised me to try it, and I decided to do so. I soon felt that my appetite was increasing, the headache gradually decreased and finally disappeared, and my general health improved. I felt as if new blood coursed through my veins, the sluggish tired feeling disappeared, and I became strong and well."

"Within a year after I became the mother of a strong healthy child, the joy of my home. You certainly have a splendid remedy, and I wish every mother knew of it.—Sincerely yours, Mrs. ANNA POTTS, 510 Park Ave., Hot Springs, Ark."
