An Account of the Doings of the Queen and Other Royal Persons.

AMERICAN GOLDCALFISM REBUKED

Recovering from the South African Speculating Fever—Barnato in Bad Odor.

LONDON, Nov. 16. [Copyrighted by the Associated Press.]—As if in defiance to the ill luck which is said to accompany the number thirteen, Queen Victoria today returned to Windsor castle, from Balmoral, in a special train consisting of thirteen cars, one of which was a handsome large saloon car set apart for the use of her majesty, the other carriages containing the members of her suite, servants, baggage, etc.

The queen's car is fitted up as a library and dining room. It is richly upholstered with white silk and its furniture is embroidered with gold.

In honor of the visit of King Carlos of Portugal to the queen at her Highland home, her majesty caused a large bonfire to be lighted on the top of the Craig Owen, on Saturday last, an honor heretofore reserved for her immediate family.

The queen also ordered a torch light procession of Highlanders who passed in front of Balmoral castle and afterward executed Highland dances in the presence of her majesty and King Carlos.

The Prince of Wales passed through London today from a visit to the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire at Chatsworth near Bakewell, Derbyshire, on his way to Sandringham. The party at Chatsworth, which included the Earl and Countess of Warwick was conveyed to the races at Derby by a special train every day. Another large Saturday-to-Monday party is being entertained at Sandringham and this reveals the fact that while the Hon. George Curzon, the under-secretary of the foreign office, was one of the party entertained by the Prince and Princess of Wales last week at Sandringham, his wife (formerly Miss Leiter of Washington and Chicago) was not present, while Mrs. Joseph Chamberlain, formerly Miss Endicott, of Washington, and other ladies were invited.

Emperor William of Germany sent a special courier to Sandringham with a birthday gift for the Prince of Wales, who was 54 years old on Saturday last. The emperor is also said to have written to the Prince of Wales expressing the hope that the Duke of York's son will have the name of Shakespeare bestowed on him among his other names.

GOLD CALF WORSHIP.

The newspapers which have published every detail of the Marlborough-Vanderbilt wedding, continue to chaffe the Americans for supplying them. Truth then makes it clear that "New York arch-millionaires have not got beyond the elementary stage of goldcalfism, when the calf seeks to attract attention by the most blatant display of wealth."

NO VOTE OF THANKS.

The common council for the first time on record, at a stormy meeting on Tuesday, refused by a large majority to pass the customary vote of thanks to the retiring lord mayor, Sir Joseph Renals. This was mainly on account of a dinner which Sir Joseph gave to Barney Barnato, on the ground that the latter had proved himself to be the savior of London by bolstering up the Kaffir securities. In short the whole Renals-Barnato affair is causing a great stir in the city. Barnato who a few weeks ago was the most sought after man in London, being petted almost to sickness for tips from about one-half the members of the peerage, is now in very bad odor.

All the "smartest" men and women here at one time suffering from the South African speculating fever, are now recovering.

KATE MARSDEN'S LIBEL SUIT.

The suit for libel which Kate Marsden began with such a flourish in 1894 against the London Times, has just been abandoned. The suit was brought as the result of the report of the Rev. Francis, rector of the American church in St. Petersburg which was published last year. The special charge against Miss Marsden was that she had practically abandoned her work because of her infatuation for an intrigue with a Russian nobleman. She had previously done work with the Red Cross society in the Turkish-Russian war and among the lepers of Siberia, where she traveled 14,000 miles in sledges, or on horseback, to find a precious herb which is said to have turned out to be a specific for leprosy.

On her return to England she wrote a book about her travels, which aroused a storm in Russia, and which, it is claimed, caused the Russian government to attack her, some of the charges made against her being too gross for publication.

Truth thereupon remarked: "This, under the circumstances, is a piece of unwarranted impudence. Nobody in their senses will contribute a half penny until she clears her reputation."

Miss Marsden, who is about 40 years of age and the daughter of a London lawyer, so interested the public in her work at one time that the Princess of Wales was prevailed upon to give her a letter to her sister, the czarina, which paved the way for the work among the lepers.

NEW HOTEL NAMED.

The new hotel upon the Thames embankment has at last been named and will be known as the Cecil. It will be opened early in February or early in March; will have one thousand available guest rooms and is to be managed by M. Bertini, who has been long connected with the Criterion restaurant in Piccadilly circus. It is claimed that when this hotel is completed, including the price paid to the Marquis of Salisbury for the land will have cost upwards of £1,550,000.

CATTLE MEN ADRIFT.

One of the greatest trials which the American consul in London has to endure is the relief of men who have shipped here from America as cattlemen and are turned adrift at the end of the voyage. Many of these men engaged in New York and other ports to take care of live stock are promised a small sum and return ticket for their labor. Upon arrival, however, they only receive a few shillings and the return passage is denied them with the result that they are left penniless on the London streets. There have been numerous instances of this kind of late and the consul has fairly been besieged with applications for relief. The consul has frequently referred the matter to Washington, but it being an issue of personal contract, seems powerless to offer any redress.

HE IS NO FORTUNE HUNTER.

The Duke of Marlborough Plainly Says So Himself.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The Duke of Marlborough, who will sail for Europe today on the steamer Fulda said in an interview last night:

"It is with pleasure that I am enabled to speak kindly of those who have spoken kindly of me. If I speak a little unkindly at times I do not think you can blame me, because there has been a lack of chivalry which has wounded me deeply. Mind you, I do not complain of this at all, for I am more than cognizant of the manner in which you view me. But at the same time, it is entirely within my province to say you are mistaken. Simply because I have chosen for my wife an American girl, it does not necessarily follow that I am a fortune hunter. God forbid that I should be such."

Revolutionary Plan.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—A special to the Herald from Panama says:

The news has reached here from Curacoa, West Indies, seventy-five miles from Venezuelan coast that Dr. Rojas Paul has formulated a formidable revolutionary plan, and that the first blows of the insurrection will be struck simultaneously in Caracas, Coro and Maracaibo and in various other districts in the interior.

FATAL FIRE.

A Detroit Match Factory Consumed by Flames.

DETROIT, Nov. 16.—Another fire, attended with terrible fatalities, occurred this morning, the factory of the Improved Match company being burned and three lives lost. The dead are: Reuben Davis, night watchman; John Wagner, night watchman, and Agnes Yeitke, aged 17. The factory has been working night and day. About 2:30 o'clock 30 hands were employed when the fire suddenly started, probably by friction. The flames spread with great rapidity. Davis & Wagner, assisted by Miss Yeitke, secured a fire hose and attempted to put out the fire. The flames sprung up all around them and they were unable to escape. After destroying the main building and gutting the smaller one, the fire burned itself out. The Improved Match company is a new concern, not in the trust.

Law Decided to be Unconstitutional.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Judge Gibbons, of the superior court, today decided that the law passed by the last session of the Illinois legislature, compelling barbers to close their shops on Sunday, is unconstitutional, because it is class legislation directed against the property of barbers, which is muscle and professional skill.

Pioneer Railroad Builder Dead.

DENVER, Nov. 16.—A telegram has been received here announcing the death in Oakland, Cal., of John W. Smith, formerly of Denver, aged 50. Smith was prominently identified with the construction of the Gulf and South Park Railroad and the Denver, Utah and Pacific now operated by the Burlington. Of late he has been building the California and Utah railroad.

Blockade of Grain.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 16.—During the past week there has been a more or less serious blockade of grain at this port, in bound vessels being delayed from three to four days before being able to unload at their elevators. The cause is said to be the determination of the railroads to shut the canal route out. Elevators having grain connections are filled to their utmost capacity, as also canal elevators, although the latter are used only for storage purposes. The situation has been aggravated by the arrival of a large number of grain laden vessels, which will not be able to reach their elevators before Monday or Tuesday. There is also a big grain fleet on its way down and present prospects are that with its arrival there will be the greatest blockade of grain laden vessels this port has ever seen.

Forsaken by Her Husband.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—William Frank Huey claimed one of the fairest girls of the state capital as his bride a little more than a year ago. She came of one of the oldest and wealthiest families of Springfield and his family was less prominent in the same city. They came to Chicago and lived happily together until a week ago last Thursday, on which day he disappeared.

With a month old baby the young wife and mother awaited in anxiety his return until yesterday when she despaired of her husband coming and, weary and heartbroken, she returned to Springfield. W. Coburn Garris, the secretary of the state board of agriculture, who is a brother-in-law of Huey brought her back to the old home which she had so shortly before left a happy bride.

The French on Society Islands.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—The brigantine Galilee from the Society Islands brings news that the French troops have been ordered to fire on the natives who claim one-half of the island of Raiatea. This will probably end on that island the troubles that have been worrying the French people for many years.

Robbers in an Express Car.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16.—Three desperate men attempted last night to rob the Adams express money car on the train leaving Jersey city at 8 o'clock, but fortunately for the company they got into the car which contained only merchandise. The men boarded the car at Jersey city and after the train pulled out pried the door open and secreted themselves in the car. At Morrisville, Pa., opposite Trenton, evidently becoming alarmed, they put on the air brakes and brought the train to a standstill. The conductor and brakeman saw three men jump from the express car and run down the tracks and across the field. On the floor of the express car lay the contents of between twenty and thirty packages. Nothing had been taken, the robbers evidently being in search of money, not merchandise.

It is Russell Sure.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—It is stated at the postoffice department that there is no doubt that the man held at Bruges is Russell, the Springfield, Ill., postoffice robber, who escaped from Ludlow street jail, N. Y. Chief Inspector Wheeler says that he has received photographs of him and all the officers of the force who know him are sure that it is Russell.

Gold for Europe.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—L. Von Hoffman & Co. have withdrawn from the sub-treasury $1,300,000 in gold which they will ship this afternoon by the steamer Etruria.

Lyons & Co., commission brokers, have withdrawn $70,000 in gold from the sub-treasury which will be forwarded to Europe on the Prince Wilhelm II, sailing at noon today.

DAILY BULLETIN OF BLOOD

The Massacres Continue Throughout the Turkish Empire.

American Missionaries Have a Narrow Escape—Their Property Destroyed—Dispatch from Minister Terrell.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 15, via Sofia, Bulgaria, Nov. 16.—[Copyrighted 1895 by the Associated Press.]—The news from the different provinces of Asia Minor continues grave, confirming beyond a doubt the impression which has prevailed here a long time, that the movements have now assumed proportions which have placed it beyond the control of the Turkish authorities, even if the latter were disposed to punish the Mussulmans for massacring Armenians. In fact, it is considered very doubtful whether the Turkish troops would fire on Mussulmans if ordered to do so. It is now known that there are about 900 victims of the Kharput massacre and that eight of twelve buildings belonging to American missionaries were sacked and burned, in spite of the assurances of the Porte to the United States ambassador, Terrill, that the lives and property of the Americans would be protected, and although it was announced that Turkish gendarmes had been detailed to guard the mission. The American missionaries escaped and are in a place of safety.

Terrell has notified the Porte that the United States will hold it responsible for the lives of the missionaries.

The inhabitants around Kharput are in a state of great distress from hunger and if cold weather was to set in suddenly there would be more suffering and considerable loss of life. From vilayet of Sivas, where the Kurds have been besieging 4,000 Armenians, it is reported that all Armenians have been massacred. In the district of Mardin, where there is a large Christian population of Chaldeans and Syrians, a number of villages have been burned to the ground. People are destitute and suffering from sickness due to exposure and hunger. This outbreak is regarded here as indicating a systematic campaign, directed from Yildiz Kiosk, against all the Christians and not against the Armenian Christians in particular, as generally has been believed to be the case. This puts quite a more serious complication upon the whole matter and is a feature which will immediately attract the attention of the powers even if it has not already done so. At Sivas and elsewhere Turks have claimed that the Armenians were the aggressors, and that the former simply defended themselves when attacked. The weakness of this plea can be judged from the fact that during the recent massacre at Sivas, 800 Armenians were killed and only ten Turks met death. It is therefore safe to presume that it was a massacre pure and simple and not an ordinary disturbance which resulted in such great loss of life among the Armenians.

The report that four Jesuit priests under French protection, had been murdered at Malatiea, turns out to be untrue. There was a disturbance, but the priests escaped. Not a day passes without revolutionary posters being placarded on the walls or distributed on the streets here. The real state of affairs cannot be ascertained by the representatives of the embassies, much less by the representatives of the press, but it is currently stated that 400 softas (Turkish theological students) recently have been arrested.

OFFICIALLY CONFIRMED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Secretary Olney has received a cablegram from U. S. Minister Terrell, confirming the Associated Press reports from Constantinople concerning the massacre of 800 persons by Mussulmans at Harpoot and the destruction of a large amount of ammunition and property.

SYRIANS KILLED BY TURKS.

ROME, Nov. 16.—A dispatch from Alexandretta, northern Syria, says a massacre of Christians has occurred in that vicinity in the presence of 800 Turkish soldiers, who did not render any assistance. It is added the European residents of Alexandretta are in danger.

A TEST CASE.

BOSTON, Nov. 16.—The following cablegram was received today by the American board of foreign missions, from Rev. F. O. Dwight, of Constantinople, by way of Phillippopolis:

"Five hundred were killed in Harpoot, and eight of twelve mission buildings burned. The lives were spared but the houses stripped. The Turks will regard this as a test of intention of the United States to defend the missions. No missionaries anywhere are killed; the villages everywhere are desolated; the people naked and starving. Instant help."

VENEZUELA AGAIN.

Chamberlain Asks Whether British Guiana Will Fight.

AT LEAST HE SENDS DISPATCHES

And Rumor Reads Them That Way—Germany's Representative Against the United States.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Information reaching here today from Demerara, British Guiana, are to the effect that further dispatches of a very pointed character have been received from Joseph Chamberlain, British minister for the colonies, concerning Venezuela. Their contents were not disclosed. A meeting of the high council of the colony was called, at which it was believed the subject will be fully discussed. A report in circulation at Demerara and generally credited is that Minister Chamberlain has forwarded dispatches to the British Guiana government in which he inquires whether or not, in the event of measures between that colony and Venezuela being pushed to extremes, the colonial government is prepared to do its utmost in an endeavor to sustain the prestige of the British flag to which it owes allegiance.

Commenting on these dispatches, the press of Demerara says there need be no hesitation in giving an affirmative answer to Minister Chamberlain. Why such inquiry should come from London excites conjecture and the feeling is that it may be due to irritation because the high council voted down Mr. Chamberlain's proposition to buy Maxim guns, ammunition, etc. In that event the next meeting of the high council is expected to show its purpose to support Chamberlain. Interviews were had with all foreign consuls in British Guiana concerning the Venezuelan question. The French and Dutch consuls refused to commit themselves in their official capacities. The German consul, Mr. Weber, was outspoken against the United States and in favor of the British position. England, he says, should insist on a final settlement on the lines laid down. Weber thinks the idea of any effective interference by America is absurd.

THE OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

A Joyful Event Proclaimed Throughout Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 16.—An imperial manifesto was issued today announcing the birth of a daughter, subsequently named Olga, at 9 o'clock last night to the czar and czarina. It says:

"Inasmuch as we regard this accession to the imperial house as a token of blessings vouchsafed our house and empire, we notify the joyful event to all our faithful subjects and join with them in offerings of fervent prayers to the Almighty that the newly born princess may grow up in happiness and strength."

Spreckels's Insane Visitor.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—Claud Spreckels, the sugar king, was visited by an insane man yesterday who demanded $500,000 in gold. The man, who gave the name of C. W. Lockland, called at Spreckels's office and demanded that the money be given him in return for damages sustained while working on a railroad of which Spreckels is president. By a subterfuge he was induced to leave the room and was immediately arrested. Lockland is a well dressed young man and was a guest at the Palace hotel.

Insurrection in Canada.

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 16.—The whole of the backwoods country in the region of the upper Gatineau Hills and forests north of Ottawa seems to be in a state of insurrection against the government of Quebec. The settlers of this region are almost exclusively Irish, who came out over 40 years ago. Most of them had been evicted from their holdings and were persuaded to make Canada their home, the representation being that there could be no taxation on their land, which should be given to them forever. They have consequently always resisted the local and provincial tax gatherers and the officers have never yet succeeded in coercing them.

A Train Robbery.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—An Adams Express train in which were at least four cars, on the Pennsylvania road was held by four men at 10 o'clock last night at Morrisville, Pa., across the Delaware river from Trenton, N. J.

The train left Jersey City at 8 o'clock and left Trenton at 10 o'clock. Morrisville is a small town. It was said though that the robbers only got into one car. It appears that they knew something about the makeup of the train, for it was said that the car they broke into was a money car. Apparently they encountered no serious obstacle in the trainmen and the messengers. The robbers had time to get out a number of packages. They then left the train and made off. No one was killed and none of the robbers were caught. The train was No. 96.

Whitney Is No Candidate.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Ex-Secretary W. C. Whitney was seen at the horse show and asked about being a presidential possibility, last night. Mr. Whitney was thoughtful for a moment and then said:

"I wish it understood that I am not a candidate for the nomination at present and will not be."

THE "HEALER" LOCATED.

He has Been Seen Heading for the Mountains.

DENVER, Nov. 16.—The News prints a special from Elizabeth, Colo., forty miles southeast of here, which says:

The missing "Messiah" has been located. Francis Schlatter passed through Elizabeth this morning. He was riding a fine gray horse caparisoned with a brand new saddle. There was the beard and wavy hair which has become familiar to all who have seen him or his picture. In personal apparel, however, the strange man was much changed. He wore a bright new woolen hat, brown duck coat, shoes without heels. Strapped on the horse was a large pack of bedding. This huge bundle was behind the saddle and was covered with a new white canvas. The outfit was of a somewhat warlike nature. He was carrying a gun and a new hatchet placed in a scabbard.

Dan T. Cort, president of the Cort-Holmes Mercantile company, first noticed the "healer" and spoke to him.

Mail Carrier Clow overtook the man on horseback, and said: "You are Schlatter. Some of the men in town recognized you and spoke to you."

Schlatter said nothing but smiled.

Schlatter would talk but little. He gave Clow a new white silk handkerchief, blessed it and told Clow to cut it up and divide it with his family. Schlatter said: "I must travel quickly; everybody knows me. Everything will come out all right."

Schlatter had his hair tied up with a white handkerchief. When asked where he was going he said: "To the mountains."

London Failures.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Five failures were announced on the Stock Exchange today, the chief of them being Campbell & Campbell and Phillips & Brown.

ANOTHER ISSUE OF BONDS.

The President, it is Said, Will Not Wait for Action by Congress.

Negotiations Now Going on with New York Bankers—Third Term Talk.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The Journal this morning says: President Cleveland has decided that he will not wait for action by Congress before making another issue of bonds. The Washington authorities are already in correspondence with the New York bankers relative to the issue and it is probable that the bankers will accept their proposition. Here is the proposition:

When the gold reserve falls to $75,000,000 the banks shall deposit $25,000,000 worth of gold in the sub-treasury and take in return 4 per cent bonds on a 3 per cent basis. The decline of the gold reserve to a danger point last spring forced the government to pay 3¾ per cent for the gold procured from the Belmont-Morgan syndicate. Credit has been re-established by the operation and the administration desires to take advantage of the greater business confidence now prevailing to secure the gold at the low rate of 3 per cent.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—"I don't believe that Mr. Cleveland has any more idea of receiving a nomination for a third term than he has of becoming the queen of England."

This is the opinion expressed to a World reporter by President Cleveland's friend, ex-Governor James E. Campbell of Ohio, who has just made a fight to regain his state for the Democrats.

"I think," he continued, "that Mr. Cleveland is treating the success of his candidacy for a third term with the contempt it deserves. The idea is too silly for him to deny. To deny that he even dreams of such a possibility of his being selected for a third term, is to believe that he is bereft of his senses. The whole matter is too senseless and absurd.

"Neither he nor any other living man could be elected to a third term of the presidency of the United States. He would not carry a single precinct. Whatever the President has been accused of, he has not been accused of lacking common horse sense, and I think he has too much of that quality to regard this third term talk as meriting anything but silent contempt on his part."

Canadian Cotton King Dead.

MONTREAL, Nov. 16.—R. L. Gault the Canadian cotton king died today of Brights disease.

Engineer of the Journal Building Indicted.

DETROIT, Nov. 16.—The grand jury today returned an indictment against Thomas M. Thompson, engineer of the wrecked Journal building, charging manslaughter.

The Filibusterer Stopped.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 16.—The American steamship Laurada was seized here today by the Collector of Port George D. Bryan, on orders from Washington. The boat is charged with carrying a filibustering expedition in behalf of the Cuban insurgents. The Laurada was also libeled here yesterday in a civil suit brought by John Kerr & Co. of Philadelphia, for alleged breach of contract.

A Large Expenditure Needed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—In his annual report Brig. General John R. Brook, commanding the department of Dakota states that nothing of unusual military interest has transpired in his department since the railroad strikes last year. The inspection of Fort Assinaboine, Montana, shows that there is great need for large expenditure for the enlargement of the barracks now densely crowded and too small for the proper accommodation of the authorized strength of companies. The general recommends that a regiment of cavalry be stationed at this point as a garrison and that a riding hall be built. He finds that new buildings or reconstruction of old quarters are necessary at Fort Missoula, Custer and Keogh, in Montana; Yellowstone, Wyoming, Yates, N. D., and Snelling, Minn.

The Schlatter Case.

DENVER, Nov. 16.—As Judge Hallett refused to issue an attachment for Francis Schlatter, the case against the three men who advertised to sell and send through the mails handkerchiefs "blessed by Schlatter" was dismissed today by Commissioner Capron. Schlatter was expected to testify that he had not blessed the handkerchiefs.

C.

Bank Robbed of Millions.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 16.—The board of directors of [illegible] Generale, a big banking institution in this city, recently discovered that it had been robbed of $2,500,000. The cashier was arrested in Paris, confessed to stealing the money and attributed the losses to speculation on the bourse.

Express Robbers Sentenced.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 16.—James B. Barnett and Dan Farley, who robbed the Adams express company of $16,000 in Terre Haute several weeks ago, pleaded guilty in the federal court today and were sentenced to five years' imprisonment and $500 fine.

GREATLY APPRECIATED.

Thanks to All Who Made the Fish Distribution Possible in this City.

The following expressive card of thanks was issued from the Bishop's office this afternoon:

BISHOP'S GENERAL STOREHOUSE.

Hon. A. M. Musser, Fish and Game Commissioner, Utah:

Dear Sir—In behalf of the grateful beneficiaries, permit us to thank you, and through you to thank the generous fish and game commissioner and fishermen of Utah county, for the very liberal consignment of fish, (over 3,000 pounds) they have so generously sent to this city for the needy, and which we can assure you are highly appreciated by them.

We have taken pains to distribute them as equitably as possible among all classes irrespective of creed or color.

Sincere thanks are also due to the generous Rio Grande Western railroad officials, who, we understand from you, furnished transportation free of charge.

Respectfully yours,
WM. B. PRESTON,
R. T. BURTON,
JOHN R. WINDER.

FROM THE SAN JUAN "WAR."

National Guard Guns Come Back as a Reminder of the Dave Day's Troublesome Wards.

A chest of army guns and a considerable quantity of ammunition just received at the headquarters of the National Guard of Utah, from Grand county, are forceful reminders of the depredations of Dave Day's Indians in the San Juan county a year ago.

During that period of grave apprehension, unrest and property loss on the part of sturdy settlers, it will be remembered they were supplied, at the order of Commander-in-Chief West, of the National Guard of Utah with one hundred rifles and seven thousand rounds of ammunition. These were personally delivered by the Governor and Inspector General Tatlock who immediately repaired to the scene of disturbance and visited the people assuring them they would be protected in their rights.

Heretofore four chests of guns and 5,000 rounds of ammunition had been returned and the installment now at hand is the last of the shipment sent to the people to defend themselves from a war that fortunately was never fought.

WHO'LL WIN THE CASE?

Question as to Whether Chief Pratt or Captain Donovan Will be Victorious.

The prospects are that the public will be kept guessing for at least three days more as to who will be the victor in the Pratt-Donovan contest that was in progress before the police commissioners for four days this week.

Pratt's friends say that he is sure to triumph. Should their prognostications prove to be correct then the suspended captain will continue to wear citizen's clothes and the chief will breathe easier in the department over which he presides. But the men who have rallied to Donovan's aid declare that he is almost sure to be vindicated by restoration to his former rank with full pay for the period of his enforced vacation. In the event that their opinions and claims shall crystalize into tangibility then it is not unlikely that Chief Pratt will voluntarily retire from the police department as it is a safe conclusion that accused and accuser will not be liable to see eye to eye again. The gulf between them is now wide and deep, if indeed it is not impassable.

Chairman Jennings this afternoon was asked when the commission would arrive at a decision and report the findings to the Mayor. His reply was that he did not know beyond the fact that it would not be before Monday night.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

The Crescent-Silver King Has Another Turn,

OVER THE SHALLOW LAKE WATER.

Defense in the Wilson Case Says the Police Testified Falsely—Other Legal Matters.

When the Third district court opened this morning, the Geo. W. Wilson case, wherein the defendant is charged with assault to rape, was called up. Yesterday afternoon Wilson went on the stand and denied the charge against him, alleging that the police had lied. The prosecution introduced evidence in rebuttal, and this morning the defense wanted to take the testimony of C. M. Jackson. Mr. Jackson was reported as too ill to come into court, so the case was postponed until 2 p. m., the attorneys for each side meanwhile going to Mr. Jackson's residence to take his testimony. He contradicted the evidence of the police, saying that Wilson emphatically denied the charges against him, except that in relation to the Blondell girl. The case was resumed this afternoon and went to the jury.

The litigation of the Crescent Mining company vs the Silver King Mining company was then taken up on an order for the defendant to show cause why it should not be adjudged in contempt for placing a pipe line in after a temporary injunction was granted. The property in dispute is the water of Shadow Lake and its sources of supply in Hayne's canyon, which the Crescent company claims to have appropriated, and which it alleges the Silver King has wrongly and violently diverted from its proper ownership. The defendant company claims that it has not violated the injunction, but has merely put in a pipe line on its own ground, without affecting the rights of the plaintiff. Arguments were made, and evidence submitted by affidavits. The plaintiff is represented by Zane & Zane and Marshall & Royle, and the defendant company by Dickson & Ellis.

Other business transacted today was as follows:

The divorce case of Cooper vs Cooper was referred to Ogden Hiles to take testimony and report.

The suit of Nordquist vs Olaf Nord et al was set for Monday.

In the case of Bothwell vs Markham et al, fifteen days was allowed plaintiff to prepare and serve statement on motion for new trial.

In the case of Rockledge vs Kinney et al, owing to the death of Theodore Burmester the substitution of executors was granted.

In the case of Hamilton vs Dooly the motion to amend findings and conclusions of law in the decree was set for next Saturday.

John H. Bailey vs H. Pembroke et al, report of referee confirmed and order of judgment signed.

NOTES.

Frank Dewey has commenced proceedings in the Third District Court to secure a divorce from his wife, Beatrice Dewey. He says she deserted him in April, 1892.

Stephen Donoviel has paid his fine of $15 for destroying a portion of the fence at the Jackson school building, and has been released.

The case of Oleck Redsker, before U. S. Commissioner Sommer, in which the defendant is accused of slapping Mrs. Margaret Harrison in the face, came up today and was postponed till Tuesday at 11 a. m., owing to the absence of the county attorney.

The Phoenix Mining Company has commenced suit against A. Le Castleman for the recovery of sixty tons of ore alleged to have been wrongfully taken, or $1,500 as its value.

A suit has been begun by Samuel C. Davis & Co. against C. M. Freed, to renew a judgment for $2,279.19.

DAMAGES FOR A FOOT.

Judgment Against the Rapid Transit Company for Cutting a Girl's Toes Off.

In United States Commissioner Sommer's court today, judgment was rendered in the suit of Edward Johnson, as guardian ad litem of Margaret Johnson, a child, vs the Salt Lake Rapid Transit Railway company. The child was placed on the car, in charge of the conductor, and fell off, injuring its foot, by one of the wheels passing over the toes. This was on September 1. The child's fare had been paid. It was alleged that the little one fell off because the car was started suddenly. Suit was brought for $299.50 and costs.
