DEMAND THE MONEY.

A Committee Makes Such a Recommendation to the Exchange

IN THE BACON BANK BUSINESS.

They Don't Want To Jump The Proposed Plan of Settlement—Rules and Binding Matters.

Immediately preceding the call on exchange this morning, Secretary Virgin read the following, which was accepted by the governing board yesterday afternoon and will be voted upon by the members next Wednesday:

Your committee appointed to investigate the status of the money deposited in the late bank of Salt Lake, beg leave to submit the following report:

We called upon James H. Bacon, president of said bank and notified him that legal advice had been given us that the fact of his admitting that he was the sole and only proprietor of the Bank of Salt Lake at the time when he had in his possession the amount of money due to us constituted the crime of embezzlement under the laws of Utah, and we demanded from him that he pay to us said money or we would recommend that the matter be laid before the county attorney. Mr. Bacon said that he had also investigated the proposition and was satisfied that we could not successfully prosecute him. He said he had no fears whatever as to the result of any attempt at prosecution and did not think it was necessary for him even to employ counsel to defend himself from such a charge. He very urgently requested that we accept the compromise proposition which he had laid before the creditors of the bank and which we understand is simply to take his personal note for the obligation.

We hereby recommend that the exchange absolutely refuse to accept the aforesaid compromise and that they continue in their demands for payment in full, and further, in case the said demand, we would recommend that the governing board request the prosecuting attorney of this county to immediately institute criminal proceedings against Mr. Bacon for misappropriating our money entrusted to him as treasurer. In addition we will state that Assistant County Attorney Walte has given his opinion that Mr. Bacon's action in retaining our money is not the crime of embezzlement, technically, but he thinks the exchange or some member thereof is entitled to redress in the premises. We do not think this is necessary, as we believe the statute in defining the duties of the county attorney makes it practically obligatory upon him to make a complaint against our known law breakers.

Very respectfully,
E. L. Ransohoff,
D. R. Fearer Jr.,
Committee.

In the voting on the above report next Wednesday, absent members will be allowed to vote by proxy, and each member will be entitled to two votes, which will be as follows:

"For or against Bacon's proposition."
"For or against the committee's recommendation."

THE CALL ON 'CHANGE.

The Mines and Bullion Stocks Capture the Cap's Business.

Today's call on 'change was fraught with results in no way beneficial to the listed stocks as twelve receiving questions which were in no way encouraging, they passed through the hands of the brokers without a single sale being recorded.

The exchange, however, kept up its reputation of making at least one sale a day and when the unlisted stocks were reached, Swansea came in for transfers aggregating 300 shares, all of which went at $1.00 per share—the lowest figure paid for the stock for some time past. Dalton was favored to the extent of 6,000 shares changing hands at figures ranging from 2 to 2½ cents.

The closing figures were as follows:

THE GOLD MOUNTAIN DISTRICT.

Mines Galore—Some of Which Yield Valuable Ore—The Sevier and Others.

Almost a page of this week's Richfield Advocate is devoted to the gold mines of Gold Mountain, where they are, what they are worth and what they are doing. The paper says that the nearest railroad station to the mines is Elsinore, seven miles south of Richfield and that to reach the land of quartz one must drive from Elsinore to Joseph City, a distance of seven miles and thence up Clear Creek canyon, running due west from its mouth to the ore today. This is the third shipment from the property.

A miniature flood visited Mercur yesterday, but the water subsided before much damage had been done.

Ore to the value of $60 per ton has recently been uncovered in the Silverbrook at Silver City, at a depth of sixty feet.

As soon as a little more development work is done on the Bringhurst at Mercur, work will begin on the erection of a 500-ton mill.

Reports have it that the Sugar Hill group at Mercur has just been sold to George H. Gillett of Minneapolis for $35,000. The parties relinquishing all title to the property are Messrs G. H. Bidwell, J. P. Larkin, George Rowland and Scott Lewis. It is said that New York parties are interested in the transaction.

Mr. George Eckert, The Utah and Hera Silver mines, owned by Robert C. Loud, Robert C. Loud Jr. and J. E. Michels, bids fair to become valuable in the near future, when silver is remonetized. Various specimens they brought from the mines have been assayed, and run from 20 to 178 ounces of silver. The mines are located about sixty miles west of the city.

AMUSEMENTS.

The week just drawing to a close has been a diversified one when taken from an amusement standpoint inasmuch as it has force comedy at the Lyceum, equine and canine gymnastics under canvas, two final performances of the Carnival of Mazda without the fireworks, and lastly the unique and pleasing Apsadee entertainment at the Assembly Hall on Thursday evening. Despite the elements a good attendance welcomed Prof. W. Apsadee and listened to his talk on music and poesy, together with his selections which were a revelation to many from an artistic standpoint and an elucidation in itself, one well known vocalist being heard to remark at the close of the entertainment that he would not begrudge five dollars to have the privilege of hearing the professor again. The people who absented themselves from the Assembly Hall last Thursday night are beginning to realize what they have missed. Doubtlessly next time Prof. Apsadee visits Salt Lake he will find a larger audience to greet him.

After many trials and tribulations on the part of some of the interested it is finally settled that the chief goes to Denver at the end of the month. As one time it looked as though the proposed trip would have to be abandoned owing to the fact that the requisite number of teams and horses were not forthcoming. As it is now, the original enthusiasm in numerical strength of the chief will be materially lessened. From a general knowledge of the members, the reason of the hardy response to the roll call is found not to lie to the members themselves but with their respective employers who could not easily see their way clear to giving them 10 days' vacation. To use the words of one of the disappointed ones: "I backed my horse (a well known merchant) and he said, 'Yes, a trip to Denver would be very nice, most enjoyable, go by all means, only don't come back.'" As a good many members of the Harmony Glee club are unable to go with the choir for various reasons, the rumor soon spread that they were obstructing the cogs to the extent of demanding a stipend for their services. It is perhaps needless to say that the rumor was unfounded; nevertheless the boys have a bad time diverting their vials of wrath and explaining things.

Miss Lily Snyder, who was formerly vocal music instructor in the public schools here, but who has been located in New York for the last three years studying music, gives a recital at the Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening, when she will appear together with Prof. Otto Hauerbach reading and violin and Miss Schroeder pianist.

Doubtlessly Miss Snyder's many friends will turn out en masse to welcome her. When permanently located here she was ever ready to assist in any and all charitable entertainments. Socially she was a prime favorite. From here she goes to Paris to continue her musical education.

The bill next week at the Lyceum will be American Born, a patriotic American drama abounding in "thrill" but said to be well written and exceedingly meritorious. Some of the scenes call for the utmost enthusiasm and are calculated to stir the American breast. The action takes place in America and Bolivia and doubtless the Arper company who are steadily winning friends and reputation by their conscientious work will give a good account of themselves. Tonight closes the final performance of My Wife's First Husband, that has been played to average houses this week. Taken from a financial standpoint the Arper company would do better if they "stayed with" melodrama.

The Grand will open its doors for the stock season on the 31st of next month. Manager Rogers is negotiating with several well known players to make up the company. At present, however, he has only definitely closed with Walter Edwards and George Edeson, for whom Salt Lakers have a warm spot in their hearts.

Miss Lina Crews, who will be remembered as being the merry soprano in the Burton Stanley's opera company at the Lyceum last year, has joined forces with Miss Lawrence, a New York girl endowed with a wonderful baritone voice of wide range. Together they nightly appear at Kooler and Elsi's in a singing act entirely different from the usual run of vaudeville specialties. They sing duets from the operas of Cavaliera Rusticana, the Lion Handkerchief and Il Trovatore. Miss Lawrence, of course, sings the male parts and her splendid figure is shown to great advantage in pretty and appropriate costumes.

Their rendition of the Miserere, from Il Trovatore, invariably brings down the house. The New York Dramatic Mirror in speaking of them says: "Having made side in two of the principal New York houses, whose patrons are more than critical, it can safely be predicted that Crews and Lawrence will have no difficulty in becoming prime favorites in every other city in the United States."

Charles Frohman's weekly advertising bill during the season in New York alone is said to foot up $1,600.

Robert Downing has two new plays for the coming season viz: Putnam, a son of the Revolution, and The Wife of Metz.

Harry Corson Clarke seems to have made a decided impression on the San Francisco theater goers. The Music and Drama of last week says: Harry Corson Clarke has made an excellent reputation for the comfortable home-like feeling he engendered with the Frawley company, and his amusing impersonation of Jeremiah Jarsey in the Great Unknown is one of the best character bits he has made.

W. L. Gleason of Lyceum and Pinafore fame is at present acting as stage manager of the Grand (San Francisco) where the Knaggs, which he originally staged for Jacob Litt, is being produced.

Ellerson's New Program.

The Theater season commences on the 29th of this month with the presentation of a varied and novel program by Utah's now well known magician, Mr. Oscar Ellerson. The entertainment is said to be new in almost every particular, for even the old tricks are so improved and embellished as to make them scarcely recognizable. Besides the small work, he has those new illusions which are described as original, startling and incomprehensible. "Mine, Hers (Ours)" is one of them. This is said to give the spectator the impression that he would better consult the nearest oculist, for while he is positive his gaze is riveted on the lady, she suddenly disappears.

In the Beggar's Dream a poor creature in rags is represented as sleeping near a ruined wall, which Mephisto appears and gives to her all she has ever longed for. The transformation scene are strikingly effective. Like all devotees of the evil one, however, the poor creature learns that the end of her pleasures is pain, for just when her desires are satisfied Mephisto cremates her and goes in search of another victim.

"Around the world in five minutes" will appeal to all foreigners as well as Americans.

An evening of rare enjoyment it is safe to say, awaits theater goers on August 25th and 26th.

Charles Frohman's stock company, from the Empire theater, New York, soon to appear here, is playing a brilliant engagement at the Baldwin theater, San Francisco. It appears in Clyde Fitch's "Bohemia" on August 23d it presented Pinero's fine comedy, "The Benefit of a Doubt", and it will close its run in the Gate City in Jones' "The Masquerader". Viola Allen, William Faversham, J. E. Dodson, Maj Robson, Robert Edeson, Ian Cobquest and many other favorite players are on the present tour of the company.

The company, which is to be seen here at the Salt Lake theater opening September 3, has a new leading man. He is William Faversham. Mr. Faversham has been a prominent member of the organization for several years. His emphatic successes as the Prince in Rupert of Hentzau, "Aylmer" in Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra" and as Hawtree in Jones' "The Masquerader", and in various other recent productions make him well qualified for the important position in which Mr. Frohman has just placed him.

Blame the Company.

Coroner Ollenbach last evening held an inquest over the remains of F. J. George, who was killed between two cars at the Union Pacific yards eight before last. The jury found a verdict as follows:

We find that the deceased came to his death on the 20th day of August, 1896, in the Union Pacific freight or switching yards by being crushed between two cars, one car loaded with telephone poles which projected over the end of the car, making the coupling dangerous. We find from the evidence that the car was loaded at a corporate station.

NO REST
NO SLEEP
DAY OR NIGHT

My hands were completely covered with Eczema, and bandages my only relief. Cuticura did the work perfectly rest. I had to sit with both hands bound up, and away from the fire. My husband had to dress and undress me like a baby. I wish the world could know what I suffered, and what I now feel, and there are almost every. I was advised to try Cuticura, and, as I said before, it did the work perfectly rest. I shall always say husband had to go every night to get them. As soon as he got home I used the Cuticura, and, as I said before, the work was done. Cuticura Remedies I could go on more than as they I would not have to put home. I would get one in a year or two. I always keep the Cuticura Remedies in my home ready, because of their wonderful curative powers. Two years ago I was free from Eczema.
