

THE EVENING NEWS.

GEORGE Q. CANNON,
EDITOR AND PUBLISHER.

Tuesday, January 23, 1912.

The surprise birthday party given to Sister Eliza R. Snow by her lady friends, the report of the proceedings of which appear in another column, was one of the finest affairs of the kind that we have witnessed. The spacious hall of the 14th Ward was well filled with ladies, and the party was eminently a ladies' party. The guests were largely predominated in number; they made the motions, put them to the assembly, elected their president and secretary, dictated the entire affair and conducted all its proceedings with a dignity and grace which delighted us. We knew that the meetings of the Female Relief Societies afforded excellent opportunities to the ladies for training themselves to act with ease and self-possession in public; but we were sorely prepared for so pleasing an exhibition of these qualities as yesterday's proceedings afforded. We know of no class of men who could have appeared more at home or to better advantage under the circumstances than the ladies who took prominent part on that occasion. The extempore remarks were appropriate, pointed, and delivered without apparent embarrassment. The written addresses were read with a feeling and impressiveness which bore evidence of their sincerity. The distinguished lady in whose honor they were written, though her emotion was very deep, acquitted herself admirably in making her reply to them. The party was a complete surprise to her, as she knew nothing of its object until she reached the hall, yet her effective speech evinced a self-control that many of the masculines would have found it hard to exercise had they been caught so unprepared.

The singing on the occasion by Bro. and Sister Careless, Sister Arabella Clayton and Bro. Griggs, was a most attractive feature of the party, the ladies were in most excellent voice, and they were listened to with rapt attention. The performances of Bro. Careless and his pupil, Charles Burton, on the organ were also very fine.

Altogether we think the ladies have many reasons to feel pleased over the success of their party, and they deserve congratulations. There is an enlarged field for usefulness before them, and many of them are entering upon it with commendable zeal and determination. The example and teachings of Sister Eliza R. Snow have had a powerful effect in giving direction to this movement of the ladies, and the knowledge of this fact must have greatly added to the pleasure which she experienced yesterday in being the recipient of the spontaneous manifestation of their affection and good will towards her.

[The report of the meeting arrived too late for publication to-day.]

There it is again. The other day it was the Indians who respectfully declined a Territorial government, and now we hear of the same old tale of terrible political corruption in the little Territory of Columbia (D. C.), and some M. C.'s publicly express their regret that they voted to make the Territory. What is the matter with these peaky little Territorial officials? All around, many of them appear to be trying to behave with scarcely sufficient decency to maintain their positions. They certainly must need a little healthy looking after. It is all very well to be invested with that wonderful brevity of authority, even in a Territory, but when a man does succeed in becoming such an official, it is expected that he is still under obligations to conduct himself with some degree of propriety. It won't do to ignore all the proprieties.

The San Francisco Pioneer immortalizes after this not very encouraging fashion—

Everywhere crime is rampant. Our large commercial cities are pelted with social, political and religious corruption. Right, truth and justice are all sacrificed to the spirit of gain, to enable the fortunate few to gratify their miserly love of hoarding, the showy, the love of superiority and display and all the spirit of pride. Commerce is blind to everything but gain or power. Man's comfort, happiness, condition, prerogative or right must yield to his insatiable demands. Society, in its terrible, expensive temple of justice, palatial residences, have their foundation resting on the aching shoulders of poorly fed and badly clothed labor, whose mean hovels are dwarfed in terrible contrast with the gorgeous home of the non-producing spongers. The rush for gain without honest industry is the immediate cause of all the untold wrongs and outrages which are inflicted on the sons and daughters of this country, ignorance, suffering and toll, while law and religion constitute the practical body guard to defend and uphold the system of wrong.

CINCINNATI, 23.—A letter appears in the Commercial this morning from Gen. W. D. Rorer, in which he denies that he is in favor of a filibustering attempt to annex Mexico. He negates the announcement of imaginary schemes against Mexico, because they produce false views, cause needless suffering, and damage solid interests by hindering the growth and development of a commerce invited by proximity and the similarity of political institutions. He deprecates any attempt to thrust our system of government on others regardless of their feelings or qualifications to receive it, and concludes with the following:

"I think the intelligence and common sense of some people are decidedly

New York, 23.—Mexican advisers report that the revolution is assuming formidable proportions. The revolutionists defeated the government forces near San Luis. CINCINNATI, 23.—An exciting shooting affair took place at Charleston, W. Va., last evening, under the following circumstances: During the war the lands of Jno. Clarkson, a wealthy Virginian, were sold for taxes, and yesterday he sued for their recovery. During the progress of the trial, Clarkson called the defendant, U.S. Marshal Stock, a liar. Stock then struck Clarkson and a riot broke out, in which seven shots were fired. The room was small and over a dozen persons were present. Clarkson was shot four times, one wound is dangerous, being in the leg. All the parties are wealthy and respectable, and the affair causes great excitement.

This is the first judicial decision yet rendered as to the proper parties to bring these suits. The Judge did not hear the evidence, but he believed that the superior court had the right to bring the action and not the people. A Garman presented printed opinions of Geo. T. MILL CREEK, Salt Lake County, Utah, Jan. 15, 1912.

Editor Desert News:

Dear Sir—This valley is eighteen by five miles in extent, of excellent fertility. There are about seventy-five families here, with room for four hundred more, plenty of wood, water, grass and saw and building timber within easy access. The brethren are all wide awake to their best interest in building and fencing to make themselves comfortable. Panguitch will be one of the most thriving places in the valley, especially when the railroad comes here.

Our bishop, brother George Seby, is a good man. He has a good plan in operation about eight miles up the Panguitch stream, where there is an abundance of timber. There is one shingle machine, owned by the Butler boys, and that does the work. Brother Wilson and John Johnson have two sawmills on the way, which will be set in operation as soon as practicable, and also Brothers James and Samuel Henry have a great mill in course of construction at McNally. The fire is up, and all other materials are ready.

This has been a very pleasant, open winter, no snow in the valley at any one time over two inches deep, but there is considerable snow on the mountains. We have a co-operative store in full blast here.

terity thereof as legitimate and left his special blessings upon them.

The great blessings of God, and his dealings with Abraham were all new to a gospel convert. In Galatians 3rd, we read that the gospel was preached to Abraham, and the law was added four hundred and thirty years after, because of transgression.

It was the holy gospel then that was transgressed, the higher and greater law, "For if the inheritance be of the law, it is no more of promise, but God gave it to Abraham by promise," under the gospel covenant.

The Lord Almighty sent his holy angel to Gideon, and he appeared to Gideon while in the humble employment of threshing wheat and saving the ears to the land of his fathers, and commanded him to go forth and save the Israelites from the hands of the Midianites. In obedience to this great command, Gideon went forth in the strength of the Lord, and with only a few men he slew 120,000 of the Midianites, and was the great instrument in the hands of God, to bring peace and rest to Israel for forty years, Judges VI and VII.

Who was Gideon, that God thus favored, and let his special blessings rest upon? Verse 30th, "And Gideon had three score and ten sons, of his body begotten." "For he had many wives." If then his having many wives was an abomination in the sight of God, why did God not take a monogamist, one of those who are so divine in their conduct, and make him the instrument of his blessing?

For, according to the teachings of our Christian friends, and their dealings and the actions of the government with the Mormon Church, and their religion, certainly the Lord in calling Gideon made another wonderful mistake. For he was a polygamist, and consequently corrupt and unworthy of this great favor. And if our very polygamist judges, and the government of God would look him up in the felon's cell, as they would like to do the "Mormons" to prevent them from obeying God.

Again, the Lord made another grand mistake, when he made Abraham great promises, "Because that Abraham obeyed my voice, and kept my charge," "my commandments, my statutes and my laws." Gen. xvi. And at the same time he was a polygamist.

There was also another mistake in the councils on high when Moses was made the favorite instrument, and law-giver to Israel, and he received the law on tables of stone in Mount Sinai from the Almighty in person, when the mount trembled under the thundering of heaven, and he also a polygamist. And again, the Lord made another grand mistake, when the Lord Almighty sent the Prophet Nathan to David.

"And Nathan said unto David, thou art the man. Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, 'I anointed thee king over Israel, and I delivered thee out of the hands of Saul, and I gave thee thy master's house, and thy master's wives into thy bosom. 2nd Samuel, chapter xli.

And again another mistake followed, when Solomon his son was called, and made the great and mighty instrument, in the hands of God, to build a great temple in Jerusalem, which has never been excelled for beauty and splendor before or since. And again in the great wisdom that was given to Solomon by revelation from heaven. And he was only condemned in his disobedience to God, in taking strange women from strange nations.

But the greatest blunder that our heavenly Father has made in all his dealings with our fathers, in this great principle of plural marriage, is making the promises and blessings to the tribes of Israel through the loins of the twelve patriarchs, the sons of Jacob, the polygamist, begotten of his four wives, living at one time on the earth, promising that will reach from earth to heaven, and that will be perpetuated in the house of Israel forever. And the names of those twelve sons are to be engraved in letters of gold on the gates of the great and glorious city the heavenly Jerusalem.

And there they will remain a perpetual testimony, and a memorial of the greatest truth, and divinity of plural marriage, and of the sanction of Almighty God upon it, notwithstanding the testimony to the contrary, of a wicked and corrupt generation, "Who have transgressed the laws, the ordinances, and broken the everlasting covenants."

One thing more and I am done. If God sent Dr. Newman to Utah to convince 150,000 people that Abraham and the prophet had lied, and that plural marriage existed only in the wickedness of their own own hearts and was no where sanctioned in holy writ, for this is certainly what he sought to do, he made another grand mistake, for he set aside not only his own word and promises, but his eternal covenant also.

But not so. God makes no mistakes. And in the restoration of the fullness of the gospel, and the accomplishment of his mighty purposes, he will establish his kingdom on earth, and in doing so he will shake Babylon to pieces, and the mother of all sin and corruption, and the mother of all plagues, shall fall to rise no more for ever, and her offspring, the young harlots, extant over the earth, in all their organizations, having no authority from God, will be made partakers of her plagues.

Respectfully,
REUBEN MILLER

We have no signs for grasshoppers next year.

We live in anticipation of an excellent harvest of all kinds of crops.

We had a wolf hunting expedition recently, but it was not very successful. Our women here say if the judiciary puts their husbands in the penitentiary they will board at the same place. So Uncle will have a large family on his hands. What a good man Uncle is to legalize prostitution and free love and bastardy, while his representatives prosecute plianly. But I guess it ain't going to be much of a shower—it looks clear in the west.
