around the room made a very pretty picture.

Only one other of the barracks was used in the north side of the quadrangle. In this as in all the others the barrack dining room was used. What is said of the room at company D is true of all the others—cozy and a model for neatness to the size of the rooms. Autumn leaves, flowers and hunting were seen everywhere.

Company I, was under the charge of Mrs. Richardson and her aide, Mrs. Rhodes presided over the tables of company A. Mrs. Adams presided over the tables of company H. Mrs. Brooks had charge of company E. Mrs. J. L. Rawlins ably directed the feeding of the band of company G. Company C had in Mrs. Richards an efficient supervisor. Mrs. Walters was at the head of company F and the mountain dew looked after by Mrs. Morris.

The officers were provided with a magnificent repast at the officers' club house, where the president, Mrs. W. W. Bliss, and Mrs. Hoge were in charge. The ample room in the club was very finely decorated and the table fairly groaned with good things to eat and drink. In addition to autumn flowers and leaves the Hudson Fuel company brought up a beautiful christ of flowers, the emblem of Wisconsin in the dahlias. Twenty-fourth appearing in red, blue and purple upon a background of white. In fact all over the post where barrels and patriotic hearts had done all that could be done to make the home coming cheerful, one thought was uppermost and that was our dead, which had remained on the officers had left it when they marched to the front. A funeral still hung in the parlor, had served at Santiago and the effects of the dead for the years 1897 and 1898. Among other names were those of Captain Hodges, vice president, and Lieutenant J. A. Thorpe, secretary and treasurer.

Long before the hour reached the post the tables were all and everything in readiness. The bill of fare was comprehensive, and contained largely those viands relished by the tars in watch the engines of the foreign. The bill of fare was as follows:

Wild Chicken.
Sweet Potatoes.
Ham.
Pickles. Cheese.
Hills with butter.
Pie. Doughnuts.
Peaches. Watermelons.
Coffee.

There were three war companies who came in this morning. These are K, L and M. They take up the quarters of those who were sent to Fort Hamilton. With the exception of the horse all went into their old quarters. The rain was still falling and the post was dreary and cheerless when the boys reached it for the last time in the eyes of the war-worn veterans who had so lately returned home. As soon as they arrived they were detailed to their quarters and turned over to the ladies of the Red Cross, who had charge of the dinner farce as their cook their place at the well filled tables. With a respect such as is due to heroes who fought and served, they took themselves to all the ladies. Some of them freely commented upon the great change between home and the cheerless rainy weather outside and not a few made kindly meeting among themselves of the brave boys that were off behind in Cuba. Ladies, among the fairest and best in the land walked upon the tables and tried to draw to those soldiers that nothing in the land was too good to those who had here their homes (the American flag might be kept unstained.

The meal, like everything else good in the world, came soon to an end. Tonight the gallant Twenty-fourth will sleep in their old quarters.

Kept Up the Fort Sunday School.

Mrs. Allenswarth, the devoted wife of the chaplain of the Twenty-fourth, has endeavored to fill her husband's place as far as she was able. During all the time the regiment was away, she has kept up the Sunday school, and as far as possible the other services that are held in the little church at the Fort. Tomorrow at 3 p.m. the Rev. Clarence T. Brown will hold a thanksgiving service at the Fort and after giving thanks to God for the close of the war and the safe return of those who have come back he will preach to the regiment.

MANY TOUCHING SCENES.

Inexpressible Sympathetic Incidents Witnessed When the Men Reached Home.

There were many touching scenes when the street cars that brought the troops to the Fort arrived. Despite the falling of the same and the rain, the wives and children of the soldiers were watching at the terminus, and eager eyes were fixed upon the train.

As fast as the cars emptied, they were met by cheers and the waving of handkerchiefs. Every now and then a small voice would raise above the rest saying "Oh mamma, there's papa! look, down there!" Up the steps would rush a form cased in blue, and vainly endeavor to hug and kiss all the members of his family at once. One motherly colored lady embraced her soldier husband, and reverently raised her eyes to heaven, thanked God for his safe return.

While the troops were coming in a little girl was standing alone looking on but without a smile as she noticed other children embracing their fathers. "Where is your papa?" was asked of her.

The tears instantly came, big and round into her great black eyes. "My papa," she faltered, "was killed in Cuba," and she sadly turned away.

At one side stood a woman with a bright hat holding her hand and the anxious tears were streaming over her face. Soon a tall soldier pushed and escaped her hands.

"He fell by my side as we were climbing the hill at San Juan," he said. "He spoke of you before he died."

"I know," she replied, "but it seems so hard when they all are coming home!" and she glanced hungrily over at a happy group where a wife was welcoming her born husband.

And so it was until company quarters were closed. The officers' quarters were closed during the volunteer day receptions, but the boys were not so dilatory in order, were marched by the ladies who welcomed home their heroes when they had waited for so patiently during the weary months of the war.

HAND BLOWN OFF.

Serious Accident to a Duck Hunter Reported from White Lakes.

Mr. Ethelbert L. Thomas, son of Postmaster Thomas, came in from White Lakes this morning and informed a "News" man that a young man whose name he could not learn, had his right hand blown off. The accident occurred at the White Lakes early this morning and second to Mr. Thomas it have happened while the young man was reloading his gun. The accidental pale was placed in a buggy and driven off. Mr. Thomas being near enough to see the accident was not sufficiently far away to be able to reach any of the persons who could give him definite information. Inquiry at the hardware dealers' offices and wholesale houses which handle the results of hunters' luck failed to bring out the name of the young man. This fact leads to the supposition that the young man is not a resident of this city, but lives in one of the outside settlements.

LOUD WHIP THE SPANIARDS ALONE.

Letter from Manila Written by George Reynolds—Mormons' Victory Shorty in Fighting Qualities.

The following letter was received from George Reynolds, with the Utah regiment at Manila, by City Recorder Lambourne. Although its publication decision nothing particularly new, it is of interest.

MANILA, AUG. 21, 1898.

DEAR BROTHER GEO.—Your favor of June 19 came to hand July 4, and I was pleased to hear from you and to learn that all was well with you at time of writing. I am glad you received my two letters sent from Honolulu and I hope you received the letters written since my arrival here. As you are to date, we this week, are also now in the city of Manila. I suppose you have read in the papers descriptions of our doings and of our engagements with the Spaniards from time to time, and I will not attempt to describe them. The first shot held by the Spaniards at the United States troops was on the morning of July 31st, about 2 a.m. and the last on Aug. 14, about 11 a.m. I was at the front when the first and last shots were fired, and a number of times in the interim. I have heard the noise from the guns of the boats from the monitors coast and whistle a little closer to me than I care to have them again, and I've seen and drop dead by my side, a target which I do not care to witness again, yet from the description I see in the papers we have seen nothing here that would in any way compare with the battles fought at Santiago de Cuba. It is impossible to describe a person's feelings when he for the first time hears a ball pass close to him or which is the dark for soldiers ever to compare of a fellow comrade. Of course it does not affect all alike, still I believe we are affected to a greater or less degree. The Utah boys have been very fortunate not having lost a man and only one man wounded, and that very slightly—they have also won a name for themselves that Joe Shorty, the General Greene is quoted as having said: "If we had left the 3d Mormons alone they would have taken Manila themselves." We have been kept busy besides to gain through, rich at being on duty in the trenches for 24 hours at the time in a comfort downpour of rain and water up to our knees. We have now a little further apart than what was comfortable for a healthy stomach. We have also had to drag pretty heavy loads through some rice fields in the vicinity of Malate, mission—yet I believe we have had a comparatively easy campaign, and have no great cause for complaint. We are about close for comfortable barracks.

The city of Manila is divided into two parts known as Old and New Manila. Old Manila is that part surrounded by a wall and most like all castles and cities of old. The streets are very narrow and the houses are built up against each other; the wall that surrounds the city is very thick and seems almost impregnable. On top of the wall are mounted scores of cannon but they are all of a rather ancient model, yet they would be very effective even now.

New Manila is not surrounded by wall or any kind of fortification. It reminds one of some European cities except that many of the houses are built of bamboo and the roofs are covered with the leaves from a tropical plant. We have the rainy season here now and have had ever since we came. There is hardly ever a day that it does not rain, and it sometimes rains without ceasing for several days.

The heat is not so great on account of the rain, yet it is warm enough to make it uncomfortable during day and night. The health of the boys is good. I don't think we have one sick man in the battery. My health is good and I hope this will find you and yours in good health also.

There has been some talk of sending us back soon but we have no official authority for the rumor. They can't do it too soon to suit the most of the boys.

Give my best regards to all the Elks. Hoping to hear from you soon, I remain with best wishes.

GEORGE.

Blandford in Boise.

S. M. Blandford has arrived from Salt Lake to establish a station of the weather bureau here. He occupies the position of section director and his office will be the headquarters for the service in the state. There will be an assistant wherever and a meteorograph in the office. Mr. Blandford has not yet selected quarters for his office but will in a few days. He will leave on top of one of the higher buildings where the instruments will not be influenced by artificial causes. It will probably require a month to get the station in working order. Weather forecasts for this immediate vicinity will be published.—Boise Statesman.

DUCK HUNTING SEASON.

Hundreds of Salt Lake Sportsmen Leave the City on Starting Expeditions.

The duck hunting season opened today, and hundreds of enthusiastic Salt Lake sportsmen left on the morning of deserting cash for kids for the Sunday dinner of themselves and friends. The day was an ideal one for duck hunting, as a very heavy fog was present, consequently "quackers" had fallen victims to the worrying ale of sportsmen. All of the lakes and sloughs adjacent to Salt Lake City were crowded, and as day broke the reports of guns could be heard in the trenches for 24 hours at the time in a comfort downpour of rain and water up to our knees. We have now a little further apart than what was comfortable for a healthy stomach. We have also had to drag pretty heavy loads through some rice fields in the vicinity of Malate, mission—yet I believe we have had a comparatively easy campaign, and have no great cause for complaint. Neighbors Could Not Bear to Look Upon Her—A Grand, Complete Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla After Others Failed.

"I was taken with scrofula in my head and eyes. Not long after this, a scrofula sore appeared on my left cheek, extending from my upper lip to my eye. Other sores came on my neck and on my right arm and one of my limbs. They were very troublesome and painful and soon became great running sores. My face looked so bad that some of my neighbors could not bear to look at me and advised me to wear a bandage, but I heard this would irritate the sore and make it worse. do I Could Not Hide the Sores.

My niece, who was familiar with a case similar to mine, which had been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, urged me to try it. Finally I was persuaded to do so, and in a short time I saw it was helping me. The sores began to heal and the new skin in my head was better. In a few months the sores on my arms and limbs all healed; those on my neck gradually disappeared and now they are all gone. I have never had any symptoms of scrofula since. One large scar on my right arm is all the sign that remains of my terrible affliction. The scrofula is also cured."

THE COAL STRIKE.

The Miners' Guns Smuggled Into Town in Loads of Hay.

PARIS, Ills., Oct. 1.—The striking Union miners returning home today from Tower Hill after their exciting experience in forcing back the militia negroes imported by the mine operators to break the miners' strike, the miners' guns were hoed up and smuggled into town in wagons filled with hay. Large crowds congregated on the streets of Paris, but they were orderly.

Not a score appeared in the city and the quietness was only broken by the moans emitted by the sixty negroes marched through the streets last night short. Colonel Crafts requested the militia commander, Capt. Craig, to go to Tower Hill and arrest the Union miners who had captured the negroes and release the latter. Craig flatly refused to do so, saying he was only here to protect the lives of citizens and property. He was not here to do the work of sheriffs, the sheriff's instructions or orders. His orders were from Gov. Tanner. The militia are patrolling only the Union members, miners and merchants.

Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., L. L. Paine's celery compound has conquered early and sure where everything else has failed.

It takes the best sarsaparilla root to make the best sarsaparilla extract. The best sarsaparilla comes from Honduras, C. A., and the Dr. Ayer Co. practically controls the entire product. Yet others claim to be making "best" sarsaparilla. They must be making it out of the remainder left after subtracting three from two. But, "three from two you can't."
