CLOW'S TAVORA WINS HANDICAP

Big Event for Utah Thoroughbreds, Purse of $500, Captured by Mare Carrying Top Weight.

That some fine horses have been bred in Utah was made manifest at the state fair grounds track yesterday afternoon in the running of the Utah handicap at one mile. The race was a great one and was worth going many miles to witness. The favorite was Tavora, a speedy little Utah mare, owned by Charles H. Clow, a genial sportsman of this city. The animal was played at 2 to 3 and 7 to 10, and there was a big sum wagered on the result. Those who liked the favorite had no cause to regret the placing of their money as the little mare ran a game race and won. The contest was witnessed by at least 10,000 enthusiastic persons and Mr. Clow was congratulated on all sides for the signal victory of his mare.

Richard Harrley's entries, Weldon and Thoiaxx fought it out for second honors, the former outgaming the field with the exception of Tavora. The pace was set by My Nurse, also owned by Clow, but the horse was unable to keep up the hot pace. Coming into the stretch, Brady urged Tavora, who was then in fourth position, let the animal go, and go she did, winning by several lengths over the field.

The harness events were all good and interesting. One of the best was the 2-year-olds, which was won by Elizabeth Hal, owned by Ed Strong. The animal took the event in two straight heats. A summary of the harness events follows:

First race, 2:30 pace—

Tom Marshall	1	1	1	1
Tony Star	1	5	6	5
Jack Gregg	4	2	2	3
Walsh Gray	6	3	3	2
Lucky Brown	3	4	5	4

Mar K. Laura B., May D and Bay Tempo also started. Time of heats—2:28½, 2:28, 2:27, 2:25.

Posey	2	1	2

Robert Don	4	4	4

Time of heats—2:30, 2:34, 2:33.

Third race, 2-year-olds, trot or pace—

Elizabeth Hal	1	1
Kentucky	3	3
Happy Jack	2	2

Time of heats—2:34, 2:27.

OFFICERS' RACE ON THURSDAY'S CARD

There is to be an officers' race after all. It will be run at the fair grounds tomorrow afternoon and there will be at least five entries. The winner will receive a handsome silver loving cup and the owner of the winning horse is to get a purse of $100. The distance is to be five furlongs, and undoubtedly the race will prove exciting.

Five of the fastest equines from the Buena Vista track will be on hand for the officers to ride.

Stovall and others of the Louisiana varsity football team. Webster, it is said, was discovered on the practise field with notebook and pencil spying on Louisiana plays. The rival teams meet Saturday.

AMATEURS BREAK FOUR WORLD'S RECORDS

New York, Oct. 5.—Four indoor records were broken tonight at Madison Square Garden at the conclusion of the annual indoor track and field meet of the Amateur Athletic Union. The most interesting contest was the 60-yard run, won by Melvin W. Sheppard of the Irish-American Athletic Club. He defeated Harry Gissing of the New York Athletic Club by two yards. Sheppard's time was 1:16-5 or 1-5 of a second better than the national indoor record he established previously.

In winning the final heat of the 60-yard dash, J. J. Eller of the Irish-American Athletic Club made the distance in 6:4-5 seconds, bettering his time of a year ago by 1-5 of a second.

Ray C. Ewry of the New York Athletic Club hung up a new indoor figure of 34 feet 1 inch in the standing jump.

W. Happeny of the Montreal Athletic Association won the pole vault for height with 11 feet 6 inches.

MEN WHO WILL FIGURE PROMINENTLY IN CUB-PIRATES SERIES—SCENE IN GAME.

Although the Pittsburg team has been officially declared the winner of the 1909 National league and the interest has been lessened considerably, the main topic of conversation being the world's series to start Oct. 8, still there is considerable attention being given to the last big three game series between the Chicago and Pittsburg teams to start Oct. 2. There has been intense rivalry between these two clubs all season, and hotly fought contests are expected. Chance and his men claim that their team is superior to that of the Pirates and only hard luck robbed them of the banner this season. To help prove it the Cubs' great manager says he will take the last three games from Clarke's Buccaneers in easy style. On the other hand, Manager Clarke says that after the series is played the results will answer for him. Pittsburg has played good, consistent ball all season. The Pirates after a rather bad start went into the lead on May 6, passing Chicago, and have never been headed since. Chicago pressed Clarke's crew pretty closely early in September, only five games separating the leaders at that time. Then by winning three out of four games from the Cubs on their last western trip the New Yorks practically put Chicago out of the pennant race. This in a way was revenge for losing the flag to the Cubs last season on the much heralded technicality. Catcher George Gibson has made a wonderfully good record behind the bat this season, having caught in nearly all the Pirates' games played. His throwing to the bases has been excellent, and his batting has been an important feature in giving the pennant to Pittsburg. Pitcher Vic Willis has materially aided the Pirates with his good work in the box. Pfeister, the Cubs' star left hand twirler, has been very effective against the Pittsburg team all season, and Manager Chance will use him in two games in the coming series. Illustration shows close play at home plate in recent Chicago-Philadelphia game. As a windup to the present season the Pirates will play two games with Cincinnati Oct. 6-7.

TWO VIEWS OF GILBERT, WHO RECENTLY SMASHED WORLD'S POLE VAULT RECORD.

Another world's record came to grief on the athletic field during a recent meet at Westville, Conn. A. C. Gilbert, the Yale athlete who captured the world's championship pole vault in the Olympic games at London last year, performed the remarkable feat of clearing the bar at 13 feet 2 inches, eclipsing all previous figures by several inches. It was Gilbert's intention merely to give an exhibition, and he did not look forward to smashing the record, therefore the necessary technicalities when trying for a new mark were not prepared. After the officials at the meet measured the distance accurately Gilbert announced that he would not claim the record, as the bars, takeoff and apparatus were not the regulation size. Gilbert is in training for the national indoor championships to be held in Madison Square Garden, New York, Oct. 4 and 5. Many good judges are of the opinion that he will eclipse all performances at the coming meet. Illustration shows Gilbert clearing bar at recent meet.

HUGH M'INTOSH IS STILL ON THE JOB

Determined to Land Jeffries-Johnson Fight if Possible—Will Increase $55,000 Offer.

New York, Oct. 5.—Eastern sporting men are not at all certain that there will ever be a fight for the heavy-weight championship between James J. Jeffries and Jack Johnson. Recent cablegrams from Paris that Jeffries expected a purse of $150,000 to be offered, together with Johnson's repeated assertions that he would claim a lion's share of any purse offered, have partially confirmed the belief of fear that the two big men will not agree on terms. A purse of $150,000 is considered out of the question. Jeffries styles himself as "undefeated champion of the world," and his friends declare that this is sufficient indication that he will insist on dictating the terms, and will demand the champion's portion of any stake.

Hugh McIntosh, the Australian promoter, left London last night for Paris to see Jeffries and further increase his bid of $55,000 for the fight. At the same time, Jeffries left Paris for London and they passed each other on the way. It is understood that Jeffries will sail for this country next Saturday, and his representatives here declares that immediately upon his arrival in New York he will be ready to sign final articles with Johnson and consider proposals from promoters.

FIGHTERS WORKING HARD FOR BATTLE

San Francisco, Oct. 5.—Yesterday was a very brisk day for both Johnson and Ketchel. To begin with, Ketchel went on the road for an hour or so in the morning. He used all the apparatus in Millet's gymnasium in the early portion of the afternoon and then stepped three rounds apiece with Kid Lafayette, Steve O'Donnor and Young Sharkey in the open air ring.

After the rub down, Ketchel and his manager jumped into an automobile and were whisked to the Chutes. There Ketchel boxed three rounds with O'Connor and Lafayette for a second time and repeated the process for the third time in the evening at the same pleasure resort. In all, Ketchel boxed 21 rounds.

Jack Johnson so far forsook his automobile as to box three rounds with big O'Neil, a similar number with Joe Lorom and four rounds with Dave Mills. Jack also went through his various training stunts of using the pulleys, punching the bag and shadow boxing, and was on the road for some time in the morning.

It is announced that the champion weighs around the 208-pound mark. Saturday it was stated that Johnson weighed 199½ pounds, but having slackened up a bit on that day, Jack has gained a few pounds.

This week, if Johnson abides by his word, he will extend himself more than he has been doing of late by sparring with big Bob Armstrong. Many fight followers are hoping that Johnson will do some lively milling so that they may be able to get a line on his ability.

It is rather early yet for any betting on the Ketchel-Johnson fight, and, as may be expected, but little money is changing hands. The odds still remain 10 to 4 that Johnson will win and even money is being wagered now and then that Ketchel will stay 12 rounds with the champion.

Britt, as the spokesman for Ketchel, says that the plan of battle of Ketchel is fully mapped out.

"It is a mistake to think that Ketchel is going to hurt himself with Johnson," said Britt. "He will press Johnson continually, but not in an aimless, slam-bang way as Burns and Flynn did. Many of the men who have boxed Johnson say that it is next to impossible for him to lead. Mark my word, Ketchel will make him lead. Ketchel will work close to him and pester Johnson and draw his fire. Ketchel doesn't expect to get scot free, but Johnson will miss oftener than us. It will be hard luck if Ketchel cannot land on Johnson's jaw or chin before five rounds are fought. And when that comes off it will be one of two things. Johnson will be either stretched on the floor or else he will dog it to such an extent that the crowd will hoot him in every round that follows."

CORBETT ALL IN.

Boston, Oct. 5.—Young Corbett of Denver, former lightweight champion, was dragged from the ring by his seconds in the fifth round at the Armory Athletic Association tonight, after Dave Deshler of Cambridge had sent him to the floor in bad shape.

BOOKMAKERS PLEAD.

New York, Oct. 5.—The 30 alleged bookmakers, four private detectives, John C. Cavanaugh and the Coney Island Jockey club as corporations, who were all indicted for alleged violations of the anti-betting law, were arraigned in the county court at Brooklyn today and pleaded not guilty. Judge Dike fixed bail at $500 in each case and set Oct. 18 for trial of the defendants.

UMPIRE MAKES GOOD: LANDS FINE JOB

New York, Oct. 6.—Mullen, the rookie Western League umpire, made such an impression on his appearance here, when he forfeited the Philadelphia game in the New York National Club, that President Heydler announces his intention of adding him to the regular staff of umpires next season. The custom of players to rag and worry a new umpire did not rattle young Mullen in the least and when he continued to decide bad balls regarded by the quick action and forfeited the game.

President Heydler witnessed the incident and fully approved of it, as did also the great number of spectators.

KINLEY MACK IS SOLD FOR $5,500

New York, Oct. 6.—Kinley Mack, the horse that won both the Brooklyn and Suburban handicaps in 1906, has been sold to a prominent horseman in Buenos Ayres for $5,500, according to a cablegram received here. Kinley Mack and his thoroughbreds were shipped abroad to be sold by James R. Haggin several months ago. About $100,000 was realized from the sale.

ATTELL AS USUAL HAS BEST OF IT

Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—Abe Attell easily outpointed Buck (Twin) Miller of this city last night. Attell had the better of every round. Toward the end of the third round Attell staggered Miller with a succession of swings to the head and at the finish had the local boy in bad shape. Early in the last round Miller did his best work. He succeeded in landing several jabs on the champion's chin. Apart from this flash Miller was at the mercy of Attell.

GAY COLORS FOR MEN.

If the foremost tailors of the world have their way about it, the man of the near future will be a creature of vastly more sartorial elegance than he has been since the good old silk stocking days, when a sword and a lace ruffle were as much a part of his attire as are the shirts and white collars of the present age.

One esthetic men's costumer, at the recent London convention that was attended by tailors from all of the important countries of the world, voiced the opinion that the sack suit was becoming entirely too bourgeois, and that even the conventional clothing worn at day and evening functions was so plebeian as to require a general revolution. It is his desire that the somber frock and spike-tail coats shall blossom forth anew, in gay greens, plums, blues and browns, that our ungraceful trousers shall give way before a return to the elegant breeches, that waistcoats shall take on the hues of Joseph's famous garment, and that hats shall be made to match other articles of dress. It is a noteworthy fact that his colleagues shared his views in the matter, and that they scattered to the four corners of the earth, determined to do all within their power to work a reform in masculine attire.

And why not, pray? Are we so bound by the thongs of convention that we dare not revert to the becoming fashions of our ancestors? If our wives bedeck themselves in gay raiment, having pre-empted the rights that were originally ours, as the superior animal, why may we not do likewise? The answer is simple. Plainly, we are too cowardly. How often does a man gaze with covetous eyes upon a flaming red cravat in a shop window, only to turn away with a sigh, fearful of the ridicule that wearing it would bring from family and friends!

The appearance of Mark Twain in the capital, clad in clothes of white broadcloth, is fresh in the minds of all Washingtonians. What a furore resulted! The newspapers printed columns about it, and those who would have emulated the example were scared off by the publicity. The same fate befell a prominent New Yorker, who last winter, had the temerity to appear in a fashionable cafe clad in a dress suit of blue, and, on the following night, one of brown cloth. He had no followers.

What we need is a man of unimpeachable position and indomitable courage, who can be strong enough to defy tradition and ridicule until the excitement subsides, when there is no question that he would have thousands of imitators. And really, it would be delightful if we could find substitutes for some of the atrocities of modern masculine attire, and revert, in some degree, at least, to the comfortable and graceful styles of our ancestors, just as the fair sex is permitted, at intervals, to don robes fashioned after the models worn by the grandmothers of long ago.—Washington Post.
