PROPOSED LEGISLATION.

A Number of Bills Relating to Utah Introduced into Congress.

The following bills were introduced in the House of Representatives, on January 7th, 1892, by Utah's Delegate, Hon. John T. Caine:

Read twice, referred to the committee on judiciary, and ordered to be printed.

A BILL

To provide for the organization of the judiciary of the Territory of Utah.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the supreme Court of the Territory of Utah shall consist of a chief justice and three associate justices, three of whom shall constitute a quorum, until a vacancy occurs by the death, removal or resignation of one, and that thereafter said court shall consist of one chief justice and two associate justices, to be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and whose term of office shall be four years and to hold until their successors are appointed and qualified, and to whom respectively shall be paid quarterly out of the Territorial treasury, as an annual salary of five thousand dollars.

Sec. 2. That there shall be six district judges for said Territory, to be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, whose term of office shall be four years and to hold until their successors are appointed and qualified, and to whom respectively shall be paid quarterly out of the treasury of the United States, an annual salary of five thousand dollars, and who shall severally be assigned to judicial districts by the Supreme Court of said Territory. Two of such districts shall be assigned to any one district until the Territorial Legislature shall provide for new districts or otherwise apportion the business of divisions, the jurisdiction of the district courts.

Read twice, referred to the committee on military affairs and ordered to be printed.

A BILL

Granting a right of way through certain lands of the United States in the Territory of Utah.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That a right of way, not to exceed fifty feet in width, is hereby granted to the Corporation of the Fort Douglas Rapid Transit Company, a railroad corporation duly organized and now existing under the laws of the Territory of Utah, across the Fort Douglas military reservation, for a street railway, the said railway to enter upon the reservation from Logan avenue, Fitzgeralds Place, Salt Lake City: Provided, That the location and width of said right of way shall be subject to the approval of the secretary of war, and that the privileges hereby granted shall be subject to revocation or such changes as may be required by him, and that such changes shall be made at the expense of the said railway company; also that no stations shall be erected on the reservation, and that no part of this land or right of way shall be used for storage of cars.

Read twice, referred to the committee on military affairs, and ordered to be printed.

A BILL

Granting a right of way on the Fort Douglas military reservation, in the Territory of Utah.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Salt Lake City Railroad Company, a corporation duly organized and now existing under the laws of the Territory of Utah, and now operating its electric lines upon the streets of Salt Lake City, on Logan avenue and adjacent to, and are hereby granted a right of way, not to exceed in width fifty feet, on the Fort Douglas military reservation, for a street railway, beginning at a point to be approved by the secretary of war, on the southeast line of said reservation, opposite Mount Olivet Cemetery, and running thence northwesterly and westerly to be approved by said secretary to a point near the present main entry to said cemetery, and said company, its successors and assigns, shall have the right to build upon said right of way as hereinbefore set forth a single or double track, and upon the same to run and operate street cars: provided, that the location and width of said right of way shall be subject to the approval of the secretary of war and that the privileges hereby granted shall be subject to revocation or such changes as may be required by him, and that such changes shall be made at the expense of said railroad company; also that no stations shall be erected on the reservation and that no part of this land or right of way shall be used for storage of cars.

Read twice, referred to the committee on judiciary, and ordered to be printed.

A BILL

To provide for the creation of a fourth judicial district in the Territory of Utah.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the governor and legislative assembly of the Territory of Utah be, and they are hereby, authorized to establish a fourth judicial district in said Territory, to such number of the districts in said Territory in such manner as to best promote the convenient administration of justice therein.

Sec. 2. That as soon as may be after the execution of the power conferred by section one of this act, the supreme court of said Territory shall assign one judge to each of said districts, and shall have power from time to time to change such assignment and to provide for occasions of disability or absence in such cases according to the practice now authorized by law.

Read twice, referred to the committee on public buildings and grounds, and ordered to be printed.

A BILL

To provide for the construction of a public building at Salt Lake City, Utah.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the secretary of the treasury be, and he is hereby, authorized and directed to acquire, by purchase, condemnation, or otherwise, a site, and cause to be erected thereon a suitable building, including fireproof vaults, heating and ventilating apparatus, elevators, and approaches, for the use and accommodation of the United States courts, post-office, and other government offices in the city of Salt Lake and Territory of Utah, the cost of said site and building, including said vaults, heating and ventilating apparatus, elevators, and approaches, not to exceed the sum of five hundred thousand dollars.

Proposals for the sale of land suitable for said site shall be invited by public advertisement in one or more of the newspapers of said city at least ninety days prior to the date specified in said advertisement for the opening of said proposals.

Proposals shall be in response to said advertisement shall be addressed and mailed to the Secretary of the Treasury, who shall then cause the said proposals, and such others as he may think proper to designate, to be examined in person by an agent of the Treasury Department, who shall make written report to said Secretary, of the results of said examination and of his recommendation thereon, and the secretary thereby, which shall be accompanied by the original proposals and all maps, plats and statements which shall have come into his possession relating to the said proposed sites.

If, upon consideration of said report and accompanying papers, the secretary of the treasury shall deem further investigation necessary, he may appoint a commission of not more than three persons, one of whom shall be an officer of the treasury department, which commission shall also examine the said proposed sites, and such others as the secretary of the treasury may designate, and shall such hearings in relation thereto as they shall deem necessary; and said commission shall, within thirty days after such examination, make to the secretary of the treasury written report of their conclusion in the premises, accompanied by all statements, maps, plats, or documents taken by or submitted to them, in like manner as hereinbefore provided in regard to the proceedings of said agent of the treasury department; and the secretary of the treasury shall thereupon finally determine the location of the building to be erected.

The compensation of said commissioners shall be fixed by the secretary of the treasury, but the same shall not exceed six dollars per day and actual traveling expenses: provided, however, that the number of said commission appointed by the treasury department shall be paid only his actual traveling expenses.

So much of the appropriation herein made as may be necessary to defray the expense of advertising for proposals, actual traveling expenses of said agent, and the compensation and actual traveling expenses of said commission, and other expenses incident to the selection of the site, and for necessary survey thereof, shall be immediately available.

So much of said appropriation as may be necessary for the preparation of sketch plans, drawings, specifications and detailed estimates for the building by the supervising architect of the treasury department shall be available immediately upon the approval by the secretary of the treasury of such site.

No money appropriated by this act shall be available except as hereinbefore provided, until a valid title to the site for said building shall be vested in the United States.

After the said site shall have been paid for and the sketch plans and detailed estimates for the building shall have been prepared by the supervising architect, and approved by the secretary of the treasury, the secretary of the interior and the postmaster-general, the balance of said appropriation shall be available for the erection and completion of the building, including fireproof vaults, heating and ventilating apparatus, elevators, and approaches.

The building shall be unexposed to danger from fire by an open space of at least forty feet on each side, including streets and alleys.

Read twice, referred to the committee on public buildings and grounds, and ordered to be printed.

A BILL

To provide for the purchase of a site and the erection of a public building thereon at Ogden, in the Territory of Utah.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the secretary of the treasury be, and he is hereby authorized and directed to acquire, by purchase, condemnation, or otherwise, a site, and cause to be erected thereon a suitable building, including fireproof vaults, heating and ventilating apparatus, elevators, and approaches, not to exceed the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

Proposals for the sale of land suitable for said site shall be invited by public advertisement in one or more of the newspapers of said city of largest circulation for at least twenty days prior to the date specified in said advertisement for the opening of said proposals.

Proposals made in response to said advertisement shall be addressed and mailed to the secretary of the treasury, who shall then cause the said proposals, and such others as he may think proper to designate, to be examined in person by an agent of the treasury department, who shall make written report to said secretary of the results of said examination and of his recommendation thereon, and the secretary thereby, which shall be accompanied by the original proposals and all maps, plats and statements which shall have come into his possession relating to the said proposed sites.

If, upon consideration of said report and accompanying papers, the secretary of treasury shall deem further investigation necessary, he may appoint a commission of not more than three persons, one of whom shall be an officer of the treasury department, which commission shall also examine the said proposed sites, and such others as the secretary of the treasury may designate, and grant such hearings in relation thereto as they shall deem necessary, and said commission shall, within thirty days after such examination, make to the secretary of the treasury written report of their conclusion in the premises, accompanied by all statements, maps, plats, or documents taken by or submitted to them, in like manner as hereinbefore provided in regard to the proceedings of said agent of the treasury department; and the secretary of the treasury shall thereupon finally determine the location of the building to be erected.

The compensation of said commissioners shall be fixed by the secretary of the treasury, but the same shall not exceed six dollars per day and actual traveling expenses: Provided, however, That the number of said commission appointed from the treasury department shall be paid only his actual traveling expenses.

So much of the appropriation herein made as may be necessary to defray the expense of advertising for proposals, actual traveling expenses of said agent, and the compensation and actual traveling expenses of said commission, and other expenses incident to the selection of the site, and for necessary survey thereof, shall be immediately available.

So much of said appropriation as may be necessary for the preparation of sketch plans, drawings, specifications and detailed estimates for the building by the supervising architect of the treasury department shall be available immediately upon the approval by the secretary of the treasury of such site.

No money appropriated by this act shall be available except as hereinbefore provided, until a valid title to the site for said building shall be vested in the United States.

After the said site shall have been paid for and the sketch plans and detailed estimates for the building shall have been prepared by the supervising architect, and approved by the secretary of the treasury, the secretary of the interior and the postmaster-general, the balance of said appropriation shall be available for the erection and completion of the building, including fireproof vaults, heating and ventilating apparatus, elevators, and approaches.

The building shall be unexposed to danger from fire by an open space of at least forty feet on each side, including streets and alleys.

A BILL

To provide for the creation of the Uintah land district, in the Territory of Utah.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That all that part of the Territory of Utah bounded and described as follows: Commencing at the northwest corner of said Territory and running west on said northern boundary line of said Territory to the northeastern corner of said Territory, thence south to the forty-first parallel of north latitude, then west on said forty-first parallel to the western line of said Territory, thence north on said western boundary line of said Territory to place of beginning, be, and the same is hereby, constituted a new and separate land district, to be called the Uintah Land district, the land office for which will be located in the city of Ogden, in the said Territory of Utah.

Sec. 2. That the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint a register and a receiver of public money for said district; and said officers shall reside in the place where said land office is located, and shall have the same powers and shall discharge similar duties and receive the same fees and emoluments as officers discharging the duties in the other land offices in the Territory of Utah.

Personal.

Thomas F. Odell, manager of the Chicago Wagon and Machine Company, of Chicago, has returned from the East, after a successful business trip of several weeks' duration.

Hon. A. C. Cleveland, of White Pine County, Nevada, is again in Salt Lake. He is registered at the Walker.

Carl Malmen, a Wyoming cattle and horse man, is at the Continental.

J. W. Hilton, a Kansas City law student, has arrived in this city and will probably engage in business here.

Mr. S. W. Eccles has returned from the East.

Joseph Smith, president of the Salt Lake Abstract, Title and Trust Company, is at the Knutsford, from Denver.

Amusement Notes.

"THE MIDDLEMAN"

will be presented at the Salt Lake Theatre Wednesday, Jan. 20th, and the following Saturday, "Judah" is announced for Thursday and Friday evenings. On these occasions the Salt Lake public will have the pleasure of seeing Mr. Edward S. Willard, the actor with whom the press of the country has already made so more or less acquaintted.

WONDERLAND.

The attractions here this week deserve to be seen. "Ginger Snaps" is a laughable farce well played in the dialectics. The man that breaks nails with his teeth, the big bearded boy and the juggler are special features of the celtic bill.

CORAL SOCIETY.

At tonight's meeting, as we understand, a resolution will be submitted to draw up resolutions asking Congress for the privilege of giving concerts in the Tabernacle in Salt Lake City. A full attendance of members is desired.

Coverings for Bed Springs.

Many of the bed springs now in use to be but are covered over with mere canvas, thus keeping the springs and the under part of the bed free from dust, and saving the labor that results from the accumulation. Such coverings cost a dollar or twelve dollars, but when they are not to be had a good plan, if the appearance of the mattress permit, is to make a strong covering for them yourself. The wide durable printed by furniture dealers for the first covering of upholstered furniture is a very good material for such coverings, though cheaper calicoes will do. The covers should be attached to the bedstead on one side and after the springs are slipped inside, the other side may be sewn up.

Much expense is also saved, and bedding is kept in much better condition if covers of unbleached muslin are kept over the mattress and pillow ticks. The covers may be washed twice three times a year, and the underpartsare kept clean and fresh for years.—New York Dispatch.

Accidents on Road and Rail.

M. Chemin, inspector-superintendent of the Management of the Western of France railway, gives some interesting statistics of the accidents which happen with road vehicles, and which occur on railways. According to his figures the road vehicle accidents can be summed up as follows: One passenger killed out of every 355,000, and passengers wounded out of every 30,000.

At the same time the statistics of the French railways show that one passenger is killed out of 26,000,000, and one passenger wounded out of 1,000,000. Thus in France at the present time the traveler may make a journey of ordinary length with a 1-in-1,000,000 chance of being killed and one millionth chance of being wounded.—London Tit-Bits.

INVESTING MONEY.

VALUABLE OPINIONS ON THE BEST WAY TO INVEST EGGS

Varying Ideas of Wall Street Capitalists, Bankers, Brokers and Holders—Not Four Alike Are Recommended to Be Followed by Every Novice.

Hundreds of thousands of thrifty young men and women, who are employed in good trades, who are endeavoring to secure a competency for their old age, are at a loss to know how to invest their small savings to advantage. There is scarcely a successful capitalist in New York who does not receive in his mail every morning requests for information as to the best way to invest small sums of money.

With a view of obtaining some opinions on the subject a reporter called a few days ago upon some of the most prominent and successful business men of the country, noted for their shrewd investments, and asked them to give their opinions of the best way to invest $100.

Mr. Henry Clews, who has earned a reputation for his sound judgment in all matters relating to investments, said:

"The best investment for this is to place it in a good savings bank and make the foundation to build upon by frugal additions to it. When the amount gets large enough the best investment for any security should be a homestead, and when that is accomplished it will give such comfort and peace of mind to the owner and his family as to make his march the firmer.

"When a man is known to own his home it gives him a status in the community greater than anything else. It also gives him an established credit which, when obtained, is the best and most attractive asset, and make it much easier to acquire his worldly goods.

"The best citizens are those who own their homes and their contents for in the struggle of life they have a stake that otherwise may result dishonest or leaves him a light under a bushel.

"Among those qualities are pride of home, which will cause a man respectable, the loss of country, which will make him a patriot, and almost more than anything else contribute to make him not only respected by his neighbors and friends, but also a good and faithful citizen and a loving husband.

"THE SMALL BOY SAYS HE SERVE.

Dr. Chauncey M. Depew advised that the $100 should be made grow to $1,000 before being invested in any enterprise.

"Put it in the savings bank," said the doctor, "where it can draw compound interest, and add to it as you can until it becomes a thousand. This counsel sound when conservative further and is used it is a golden rule which can be followed. There is no investment for $100 except to put it into a savings bank that is absolutely safe. The chances are that if he went to inquire he would find speculative gentlemen who would lend his $100 in some mining or other similar scheme which promised large returns, and that would be the end of it."

Mr. Erastus Wiman is of the opinion that "the best way to invest $100 or to buy a share in some well managed loan building and loan association. These associations represent the aggregate savings of their members, and the money is invested only in property held by one of their own number. The investment is therefore a very safe one, because man will pay for their homes and the interest she thereon sooner than they would pay for anything else. The money can be withdrawn, if need be, while it rests with the society, and it pays as good an interest as any other safe enterprise can afford. Compared with the savings bank which about nets the interest, while the security is generally just as good.

"Of course all depends upon management, but taken in a whole the money so put people put into building loan associations has been more honestly administered by the poor people themselves than has been any other financial trust in the country. In proportion to the enormous amount invested, which now reaches over $700,000,000—equal to the total of the capital of all the national banks—the amount of defaulations has been infinitesimal.

"The rate of interest paid has been larger, the purpose more neighborly, and the security just as safe as that of the average railroad, bank, mortgage or insurance investment. I put $500 away every month in a building and loan association, somewhat, that it is the very safest and best investment that I can make. By it I am enabled to insure my life for $5,000, and I can all the time accumulating, not only the principal, but interest, which this for me averaged 10 per cent.

"UNCLE RUFUS HATCH'S VIEWS.

"Uncle Rufus Hatch, who has lost over $1,000,000 in Wall street, does not recommend any "high flying" investment. His advice to a young man with $100 was to "go slow," and he added: "If you can find a solvent savings bank put the $100 there and be satisfied with 4 or 5 per cent. Of course, I would open, however, I am for others that national banks and savings banks and all other banks are more or less open to criticism. The vast majority of the public do not know how to take care of their savings and are easily induced to put them wherever they see promised a big per cent. interest.

"However all this may be," said "Uncle" Rufus Hatch looked very serious, "under any and all events, keep out of Wall street. Teach the public to check its profiteers. It is simply suicide for a man to go into Wall street with $100. If he had $100,000 it would be right enough. My advice to the young man is to keep the $100 saved and keep adding to it until it has accumulated to a reasonable amount. Then buy an annuity for life or a paid up life insurance for your wife and children."—New York World.

Imperial Tea.

In the grand vestibule of the imperial palace at Peking are two very large tea books. These are bound in gilt leaves and are carefully guarded by attendants appointed for the purpose. For many years the only tea drank by the imperial family has been picked from these books. One of these plants, by the way, died a few years ago. It is still jealously watched, though, and no one, under penalty of death, save those who guard them, may even touch one of the plants.—Interview in New York Herald.

"A Godsend to Elly's Cream Balm. I had catarrh for three years. Two or three Cures a week are now worth hard. I thought the cure would never end. Your balm has cured me." Mrs. M. A. Jackson, Portsmouth, O. H.

"I have had hard catarrh for ten years so bad that there were days when I could not see out of either eye, nor breathe through. I got Ely's Cream Balm. Two bottles did the work. My sight and head are well." Rev. Geo. Ashby, Ex-U. S. McMillan, Shiloh, Jackson Co., Mo.

For the Children.

"In buying a cough medicine for children," says H. A. Walker, a prominent druggist of Ogden, Utah, "never be afraid to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There is no danger from it and relief is always sure to follow. I particularly recommend Chamberlain's because I have found it to be safe and reliable." 50 and 1 bottles for sale by Z. C. M. I. An Antique!

The tendency of this disease toward pneumonia is what makes it dangerous. La Grippe requires precisely the same treatment as a severe cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of severe colds. This Remedy effectually counteracts the tendency of the disease to result in pneumonia, provided that proper care be taken to avoid exposure when recovering from the attack. Careful inquiry among the many thousands who have used this remedy during the epidemics of the past two years has failed to discover a single case that has not recovered or that has resulted in pneumonia. 50 cent and $1 bottles for sale by Z.
