IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL SERVICES

Held Over the Remains of Judge Dee in the Ogden Tabernacle.

TOUCHING TRIBUTE BY CHILDREN

Great and Useful Life Eulogized by Prest. Joseph F. Smith and Intimate Associates.

Ogden, Utah, July 13.—The last sad rites over the mortal remains of Judge Thomas D. Dee were performed yesterday afternoon and his body was consigned to rest in a vault in the family burial plot in the Ogden city cemetery, President N. C. Flygare offering the dedicatory prayer.

During the entire morning yesterday the late home of Judge Dee was thronged with business associates and friends of Mr. Dee who looked for the last time on his face in mortality, and many were the expressions of sorrow uttered with tear bedimmed eyes by the friends of him who had been a friend to everybody and a great benefactor to Utah and especially Ogden City. Many were the evidences of the great love and esteem in which the deceased was held by the people of Weber county. At the tabernacle where the services were held, there was a wealth of magnificent floral tributes which were arranged on the platform in front of the speakers stand, almost from one side of the tabernacle to the other, and in the center was the portrait of Judge Dee draped with two American flags. Around the walls of the large auditorium were draperies of white trimmed with smilax with fastenings of ferns. The archway leading into the tabernacle was draped in the national colors.

The funeral cortege left the home shortly after one o'clock and moved slowly along to the tabernacle. At the Ogden river bridge the cortege was met by several hundred school children who, with their teachers, led the cortege to the church where they opened rank and the mourners passed through. Immediately following the school children were the members of the Weber club and the board of education. The tabernacle could hold but a small portion of those who attended.

The casket was carried down the church aisle by the pall bearers, David Eccles, Judge Rolapp, H. H. Spencer, Joseph Geoghegan, C. W. Nibley, President N. C. Flygare, W. H. Wattis and George Mattson, close business associates of the deceased.

It was a most impressive scene, when the hundreds of school children and teachers passed by his casket and each one placed a small bouquet on the bier as an emblem of love.

The funeral services were commenced at 2 o'clock President L. W. Shurtliff presiding. The tabernacle choir sang "He was beloved, beloved by all." The opening invocation was pronounced by President C. F. Middleton. The choir then sang, "God moves in a mysterious way."

Hon. C. C. Richards was the first speaker. He referred to the coming to Ogden of Judge Dee over 40 years ago and of his early career which terminated so brilliantly in our midst. Mr. Richards spoke feelingly of his close association with Judge Dee in various capacities, in each of all of which he had found him to be a man of exceptional qualities and true friendship. He also spoke of his devotion to his Church duties as well as public offices, which had been many. Mr. Richards laid special stress of the interest Judge Dee had taken in education and the public school during 35 years of faithful service, and he leaves to his friends and associates in every walk of life an example worthy of emulation.

The speaker referred to the many positions Judge Dee had held and then asked those present to go over their list of friends and see if they could find one who would be able to fill all the positions as acceptably. Many might be found that would fill any one position creditably, but none, perhaps, that could occupy all.

The deceased was a man of strong personality and the only way to know him was to know him well. A slight acquaintance gave but little understanding of him. "To know him well was to know that he was one of the noblest men of God."

The deceased's family life was all that could be desired. Love was the ruling power and a happy home life could be the only result.

Dr. E. Mc Conroy, spoke in behalf of the board of education, eulogizing the work of the deceased in the early days in behalf of education, and stated that as chairman of the finance committee of the board of education it was due to him, more than to any other man, that the public school system of Ogden City is today where it is, a credit to the community, a credit to the state, a credit to the nation.

Tennyson's "In Memoriam" was beautifully rendered by a quartet consisting of Mrs. Allison, Miss Alice Flowers, Fred Tout and Chareton Perrin. The music was composed by Squire Coop.

The next speaker was Hon. John C. Cutler, governor of the state, who paid a glowing tribute to the worth of the deceased by saying that in the loss of Judge Dee Utah had lost one of its best citizens. As a member of the state board of equalization the speaker stated that there had been no man who ever discharged the duties of that office with such fidelity of purpose and credit to himself, although it meant a great loss to him financially.

"Sometime We'll Understand," a soprano solo, was rendered by Miss Mitchell with power and feeling.

President Joseph F. Smith was the closing speaker. He prefaced his remarks by expressing his kind regards for one of his brethren who had been so unexpectedly called away. "I have ever regarded Judge Dee precisely in the same light in which his character has been represented by the eloquent speakers who have addressed you. I believe him to be not only a man full of integrity to every public trust and to every duty devolving upon him as a citizen and a member of the community in which he lived, but I have also regarded him as a man filled with loyal integrity toward the Church to which he belonged."

President Smith then preached a touching discourse on the salvation wrought out for mankind by the Savior, and of the ties that bind families together for time and all eternity, the principles of the Gospel, which Judge Dee had loved and lived, and died that he might receive a glorious reward in God's kingdom.

A duet, "Softly and Tenderly, Jesus is Calling," by Miss Mitchell and Mr. Ferrin, was rendered with much power and harmony of expression.

The benediction was pronounced by George Romney.

The music was conducted jointly by Profs. Ballantyne and Squire Coop. Miss Lund presided at the organ.

RISKED LIFE FOR OTHERS.

James Arthur Pender Seriously Injured in Stopping Runaway.

James Arthur Pender, son of Detective Pender, is dangerously ill at the hospital in Butte, Mont., as a result of an accident which he met with last Friday at Missoula, Mont., while trying to stop a runaway team. The account of the affair did not reach Ogden until last evening, owing to the fact that Pender was rendered unconscious and happened to have nothing on his person by which he could be identified. His father received a dispatch last night from Butte, telling him that the young man had been removed to the hospital and was still unconscious, his condition being critical. Copies of the Montana papers give an account of the accident, which shows that young Pender has probably lost his life in attempting to save the lives of others.

He, together with a companion, was up in the mountains on horseback near Missoula, Mont., last Friday. They encountered a runaway team coming down the mountain side, and Pender placed his horse in front of the runaways and succeeded in stopping them.

However, his own horse fell, throwing him over a 20-foot embankment, seriously crushing his left leg, breaking both his arms, and, it is feared, fracturing his skull. In the rig were a man and a woman, whose lives the young man probably saved.

James Arthur Pender was 27 years of age. He was a member of one of the Utah batteries and saw active service in the Philippines. In one of the skirmishes with the natives he was shot through the left leg while serving his gun.

His mother left on this morning's train for Butte, and his father will leave tomorrow night.

CITY HALL FOR HUNTSVILLE.

A city hall building is to be erected in the city of Huntsville. Plans have been adopted, excepting as to a few minor details, and Friday evening the contracts for erecting the structure are to be let. Bids were called for a short time ago and the bids were opened at a special meeting of the city council held Tuesday night, when the architect was present and discussed the details of construction. The building, counting the changes in plan yet to be submitted, will cost about $2,000, and is to be of native red sandstone and brick with a court and council meeting room; a recorder's office, a basement with cement lining and with two cells for the confinement of prisoners. The work is to be rushed to early completion.

UTAH COUNTY FINANCES.

Jack Smith and George Cluff Charged With Cruelty to Animals.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Utah Co., July 13.—County Clerk Gee has presented his annual financial statement, which shows receipts for the year to be $60,922.88, which, with the amount on hand June 30, 1904 ($2,988.33) equals $63,911.21. Disbursements have been $65,144.20.

PROSECUTED FOR CRUELTY.

A complaint charging cruelty to animals has been filed in Justice Noon's court by James Sutherland against George Cluff and Jack Smith. It is claimed that the defendants drive a team of horses from Sutherland's livery stable to the South Fork of Provo canyon, down to the Provo Lake resort and back to the stable without watering them, and that one of the horses died in consequence of this treatment. Hearing has been set for Monday.

George Wilson of Vernal, formerly of Provo, came here from Kemmerer, Wyo., Sunday, suffering from the effects of a severe attack of pneumonia. Mr. Wilson is improving.

Mrs. Lillian DeLoery and her music students will give a recital here at an early date.

David F. West of Pleasant Grove, who was fined $40 by Justice Noble for failing to maintain a good headgate in his irrigating ditch, has appealed to the Fourth district court.

John H. Lee of Mapleton has been elected trustee of the school district for the three-year term.

Gentry Bros.' dog and Pony show comes here on the 28th, and Barnum & Bailey's circus on Aug. 1.

William T. Tew, Jr., of Mapleton, has left for New Zealand as a missionary.

There is a big fire in the timber on the mountain between Rock and Slide canyons, east of Provo, which will do considerable damage, although the mountain is not very heavily timbered. Efforts will be made to discover how the fire started so that those who are responsible may be reached by the operation of the law if possible.

LEHI.

FOR AN ELABORATE 24TH.

Serious Fire—Missionary Farewell Reception—Commercial Club.

Special Correspondence.

Lehi, Utah Co., July 11.—Arrangements are being made to hold one of the greatest Pioneer day celebrations in the history of the town. A feature of the day will be the entertainment of the Sons and Daughters of the Pioneers of Utah county in the city pavilion. Committees, consisting of the Bishoprics of the four wards and the different ward organizations, are making arrangements for a representative parade, and a fine program in the morning. In the afternoon there will be the usual sports for the children, baseball game and horse and foot races and fireworks and a dance in the evening.

At a school election held last evening in the Central schoolhouse, Bishop Andrew Fjeld of the First ward was elected a trustee to succeed W. S. Evans by a vote of 110. His opponent was Robert Gilchrist, who received a vote of 41.

MISSIONARY RECEPTION.

Last evening in the Central schoolhouse a reception was tendered Miss Emma Woodhouse, who left this morning on a mission to Denver. The affair was given by the members of the four wards, under the auspices of the Second ward M. I. A. Miss Woodhouse is the first young lady to be called on a mission from Lehi and the reception tendered her was befitting the occasion.

The annual conference of the Second ward Sunday school was held Sunday morning, at which were present President A. J. Evans, the stake superintendency of Sunday schools and the Bishopric.

The monthly meeting of the Commercial club was held in the opera house Saturday evening, at which the new grist mill, the getting of the experiment farm here, Bostonia and the railroad from here there and the completion of the club rooms, were discussed. Prof. Ball of the Agricultural college at the invitation of President Austin, gave an instructive talk on the benefit of a Commercial club to a town, and cited several instances in his travels where small hamlets had grown into large and thriving towns through the efforts of a live Commercial club.

This morning the barn, hay stack and other out buildings of H. E. Osterloah were destroyed by fire, caused by one of his boys playing with matches.

It makes no difference how many medicines have failed to cure you, if you are troubled with headache, constipation, kidney or liver troubles, Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will make you well.

MORGAN.

SERIOUS LOSS BY FIRE.

Heber Robinson Celebrates the Fourth And Loses Saw Mill.

Special Correspondence.

Morgan, Morgan Co., July 10.—This is a story of July 4 that has just come down from the mountains, and it tells of a celebration of the glorious natal day of the nation by forces inanimate, and with a fury that cost the owner of a saw mill over $2,000. Heber Robinson stands the loss, and it wiped out an industry into which he has put a great deal of effort. Robinson owned a saw mill on Lost Creek, about 10 miles east of Morgan City. He worked it alone, and this year had 40,000 feet of lumber stacked near his saws. When the Fourth of July came the owner wanted to get away from his work and go out and celebrate, and he did so, leaving it alone for a few days. When he returned he found that the place had caught fire and the lumber been totally destroyed, as well as the entire plant. The origin of the fire he could not guess, but he believes that sparks from his sawmill engine had fallen in wet sawdust and there smouldered for some time before breaking out into flames. The mill carried no insurance.

SCHOOL ELECTION.

Monday was school election day at Morgan City, and the election passed off without feature except in North Morgan, where the people were divided, one side desiring a new school house and the other declaring against it on the grounds of cost, and lack of demand for one. The faction against building won by a majority of 15.

State Treasurer Christiansen inspected the books of the Morgan county treasurer Monday, and found a discrepancy of $19.13 which the county treasurer made good.

It would have been incredible brutality if Chas. F. Lemberger, of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. GARLAND.

Will Honor Pioneer Day—Baseball—Hotel Again Open.

Special Correspondence.

Garland, Boxelder Co., July 11.—The Japanese of this place are making all preparations for a grand celebration at Garland on the 24th of July. The feature of their celebration will be the grand display of fireworks in the evening, which promises to far surpass anything of its kind ever seen in this part of the country. The committee for the Fourth of July celebration at this place tried to induce them to participate in that day's festivities, but owing to the rush of work in the beet fields they decided to put it off until the 24th, when the work on the corps would be pretty well completed.

The baseball game played at this place Saturday, the 8th inst., between the Garland nine and that of Kaysville resulted in a victory to the visiting team by a score of 15 to 9. Another game between the same teams is to be played at Kaysville this coming Saturday.

The Sugar Company hotel was again opened up on the 1st of July, and already quite a number of the employes of the company are staying there. Fred Curley is the manager of the hotel.

FOUNTAIN GREEN.

Promising Crop Outlook—Improving Meetinghouse—Peter Aageson Dead.

Special Correspondence.

Fountain Green, Sanpete Co., July 5.—The farmers are busy securing their first crop of hay, which will be a fair one. The prospects for grain crops are also fair, although the very warm weather is fast drying up the ground, and all vegetation needs water, which is scarce. We have had no rain for two months. The sugar beet crop looks well and a larger acreage has been planted than usual.

The meetinghouse here is being enlarged by an addition on the west side, and by putting in a gallery in the old building. The expenditure will be about $1,500, and when completed the house will seat about 1,000 persons.

There have been a few deaths here this summer. Peter Aageson died two weeks ago, he was 83 years of age, and came here from Denmark about 13 years ago.

Rees R. Lewellyn is very sick and not expected to live long. He is 77 years of age, and has been feeble of late.

Cheerfully Recommended for Rheumatism.

SPIRITED SCHOOL ELECTION.

George Cunningham Elected Trustee—Pioneer Day Celebration

Special Correspondence.

American Fork, Utah Co., July 11.—A spirited school election for trustee yesterday resulted in the selection of George Cunningham, he having received 108 votes and his opponent, J. E. Jensen, receiving 74.

The annual financial and statistical reports were presented to the citizens present, showing the school affairs to be in a prosperous condition. Teachers for the coming year are all engaged.

Preparations are being made for a great celebration here on the Twenty-fourth, the Sunday schools of the four wards having joined. Committees are already at work. A parade contrasting past and present conditions will be one great feature. The superintendents of the four Sunday schools with John H. Wootton as chairman of the executive committee, with J. J. Jackson at the head of the program and parade committee, insure a success.

Harvesting has commenced on the benches and good crops are blessing the husbandman. Water, however, is now getting scarce.

After taking three $1.00 bottles I was completely cured." Sold by F. J. Hill Drug Co.

KANOSH.

ENCOUNTER WITH COYOTE.

Thirteen-Year-Old Miss Shows Rare Pluck and Prowess.

Special Correspondence.

Kanosh, Millard Co., July 8.—About 7 o'clock this morning, Miss Lois, the 13-year-old daughter of Fred and Nellie Bird of Hatton, bestrode old Dobbin as usual, and with Towser, the dog, conveyer the dairy cows to the pasture, about a mile down the Corn Creek bottoms. On the way Towser gave chase to a coyote, which bravely turned and entered into combat with the dog. While thus engaged, Miss Lois urged Dobbin into the fight, hoping to crush the life out of the varmint, with the shoes of Dobbin, and thus she managed to break one of the hind legs of the bounty jumper. But as Towser confined his belligerent attention to the tail end of his opponent, Lois saw the fight would be a protracted one, and probably end in a draw, she therefore dismounted, pulled the bridle from Dobbin's head and attacked the beast with it, thinking the iron bit would make Mr. Coyote take the count. But his endurance exhausted her patience and, leaving Dobbin and the dog in charge, she went a short distance to a fence, pulled out a cedar stake, and with this ended the combat. Then she lifted the dead animal on to the horse's back, took the latter to the fence and mounted and went home, surprising her father with her pluck and prowess.

If ever a coyote hide was worth one fifty, this one should fetch the price.

HENRIE-EXCELL WEDDING.

New Forest Reserve—Visit of Jack Frost—Big Harvest Looked For.

Special Correspondence.

Panguitch, Garfield Co., July 5.—Jack Frost called on us on June 26, but little damage was done, save to the lucern which was cut down about four inches. Very little moisture has fallen in the last 60 days. The nights have been cold, consequently crops are not advanced as they should be, though the stand is good, and should we be able to mature what has been planted an unusual yield is promised.

NEW FOREST RESERVE.

What is known as the Sevier forest reserve, extending south and west of this place from 30 to 20 miles respectively, went into effect on the 2nd inst. Reargard Kener, for two years a ranger on the Manti forest reserve, has been promoted and given the supervisorship of this reserve. Mr. Kener arrived here on the 2nd inst., to assume charge of affairs, bringing two guards with him from Manti. Our citizens will, no doubt, co-operate with the supervisor in maintaining the rules and regulations of this, to us, new department. The supervisor is a very congenial gentle man, and will no doubt win friends among our people.

HENRIE-EXCELL WEDDING.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated on the 3rd inst., at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Henrie. The contracting parties are two of our most popular young people, Mr. Henry Excell, Jr., and Miss Ann Henrie. A host of friends and relatives were present. Mr. Excell departed this morning to fill a mission in the Eastern States. He has the best wishes of all in each of his new undertakings.

She leaves a husband, a daughter, two grandchildren, a brother and a sister; she was a good wife, a kind mother and a faithful Latter-day Saint.

The prospect for a bountiful harvest of sugar beets is very promising.

The yield of the first crop of alfalfa on irrigated farms just harvested, is enormous.
