CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 11.—Cooper, from the committee on finance, reported favorably on the House bill to provide for the expenses of the admission of foreign goods to the Centennial Exhibition; passed.

At 1:40 the Senate resumed the consideration of the bill fixing the rate of postage on third class mail matter.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 11.—Hurford reported adversely on the bill for the appointment of a commission to enquire as to the terms on which a commercial treaty can be made with Canada. A minority report was made by Ward, and on his motion the bill was made a special order for the 3d Tuesday in May.

The House proceeded to the consideration of the bill concerning commerce and navigation, and the regulation of steam vessels, which passed after various amendments.

Randall moved that the House concur in the Senate amendment to the silver bill. Pending action the House took a recess till 7, when the legislative appropriation bill was debated. At the evening session there was nothing of public interest in the discussion. The 26th page of the bill was reached when the House adjourned.

EASTERN.

O. J. Hollister Corroborates McKean's Testimony.

WASHINGTON, 11.—The committee on foreign affairs have decided not to admit the testimony with reference to Lyon's character for truth and veracity.

O. J. Hollister, late collector of Internal Revenue for Utah, corroborated the statement made by Judge McKean, yesterday, to the effect that the Judge could obtain $100,000 if he would favor Lyon's lawsuit relative to the Emma Mine.

Contracts Awarded to the Highest Bidder.

Clymer's committee, to-day, examined Lieut Shoemaker, who testified that the contracts for fuel, at Ft. Reno, were awarded to the highest bidder; the officers at the Fort protested against this but without avail.

Habeas Corpus in Kilbourne's Case.

The counsel for Hallet Kilbourne, this morning, applied to Chief Justice D. K. Carter, of the District Supreme Court, for a writ of habeas corpus; the writ was ordered to be returned forthwith. The writ was served on the sergeant-at-arms this afternoon, and made returnable tomorrow. The sergeant-at-arms will take the order of the House as to whether he shall produce Kilbourne before the Judge.

Argument in Behalf of the Pacific Railroad Companies.

Ex-Senator Trumbull and J. P. Storrs were before the House Judiciary committee, to-day, in behalf of the Central Pacific R. R., and argued that Congress had no power to alter the contract of the charter acts of 1860, or to compel the Pacific R. R. Co's to make present provision for the payment of the subsidy bonds and the interest advances; they stated however that the companies were willing to create a sinking fund in accordance with the bills already submitted in their behalf.

Investigating Corruption of Various Kinds.

The committee on military affairs continued the examination of General Boughton to day. He testified that he was approached by General Bridgeland, who proposed to drop all the cases against him and the others indicted with him for $10,000, which sum was afterwards reduced to $7,000. Finding that he was illegally indicted, and believing that the same influences that got him indicted would continue to persecute him, he did offer to compromise.

Moore, special agent of the Treasury, testified that while he was assessor in Texas, Boughton was democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate, and he heard Bridgeland say that he thought he could do the republicans some good by putting forth these charges against Boughton. The witness afterwards discovered some irregularities on Bridgeland's part, and he preferred charges against him. Witness published a republican paper then, and would have been glad to make a point against Boughton if it could be done fairly.

Bridgeland appears before the committee to-morrow.

Doctor Simkins testified before the civil service committee on the Purman case, confirming the two witnesses who swore last week that Pearman told them he would not sell a cadetship for $900 because another party had offered $500. In reply to a question from Carpenter witness said he was a "democrat, a clean cut right through rebel, sir."

Green testified that he was at work with Cowart at the time the alleged interview took place about the bond and blood money, and he heard no such conversation.

Judge Hood, who has been charged with receiving money from Sawyer, the mail contractor, for services in securing mail contracts, testified before the investigating committee this morning, that he received $13,000 for his services as attorney from 1865 to 1868; the remainder of the money which he was charged with receiving was to pay loans which he negotiated for Sawyer.

The Blaine Sensation—False Story Exposed.

The story recredited to the Indianapolis Sentinel, of yesterday, has been in circulation for some time past in private political circles. Blaine, on being made acquainted with it, promptly denied it, stating that it was entirely a sensational and unfounded story. The story, as repeated in Washington circles, was that a draft was paid for Blaine's benefit by Morton Bliss, of New York, and afterwards taken up by E. H. Rollins, treasurer of the Union Pacific Railroad. In taking measures recently to correct it, Blaine received the following letter:

"N. Y. April 6th,

"To J. G. Blaine, Wash'n.

"Dear Sir—In answer to your inquiry, we beg to say that no draft, note or check, or other evidence of value ever passed through our books, in which you were known or supposed to have any interest of any kind, direct or indirect. Very respectfully,

(Signed) "MORTON BLISS & CO."

Also the following—

"J. G. Blaine, Washington.

"Dear Sir—In response to your inquiry, I beg leave to state that I have been treasurer of the U. P. R. R. since April 8, 1871, and have necessarily known of all disbursements made since that date. During that entire period, up to the present, I am sure that no money has been paid in any way or to any person by the Co., in which you were interested in any manner whatever. I make this statement in justice to the company, to you and to myself.

"Very respectfully,

"E. H. ROLLINS."

A private dispatch from Columbia says that the north Carolina delegation to Cincinnati favor Morton.

Chicago Ruled by Thieves and Scoundrels.

CHICAGO, 11.—A mass meeting will be held at the exposition building this evening, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for mayor, to be elected next Tuesday. Since gross frauds were perpetrated at the last city election, the people have become thoroughly aroused, and propose to take some active measures against ballot box stuffers and ruffians, who are constantly encroaching upon the rights of honest citizens. We are now witnessing a state of affairs almost similar to that which existed in San Francisco in 1856, when the city had to be rescued from ruffianism by vigilance committees. The Tribune, referring to the meeting to be held, says—"If the meeting does nothing more than pass resolutions concerning ballot box stuffing, it will not only be a failure but a public calamity. It will be a confession of the cowardice of the people, and an acknowledgment that Evans, Phillips, Gleason and their associates are masters and dictators of the city of Chicago; if it speaks gently to these scoundrels instead of giving them a positive and peremptory demand that they vacate the offices they have stolen, the meeting will be a formal surrender of all forms of government to the defiant rascals and usurpers who have controlled the city government. We counsel no violence, but insist on justice. We demand that these men surrender the property deliberately stolen, and if they refuse then we insist, in the name of the outraged people, that these men be forced to feel that there is a physical as well as moral public sentiment, and that he who defies the one cannot escape the inexorable justice of the other."

The Mass Meeting.

In response to the call issued by both the republicans and democrats of this city, an audience composed largely of business men and the most respectable citizens, and numbering 25,000 to 30,000, met tonight in the Exposition building to consider the action of the men who in the recent south town election counted themselves into office, though largely defeated by the popular vote. The meeting also had for its object the nomination of an independent candidate to supply the place of Harvey D. Colvin, who claims that under the law he holds over till 1877. Addresses were made by the Hon. John Wentworth, Leonard Swett, Robert Collyer, Rev. Arthur Mitchell, and a number of other prominent citizens. A preamble and resolutions were adopted, which set forth the general and growing corruption which has for many years characterized the city council, and which has damaged the city credit and produced a necessity for extortionate taxes, and pledging the citizens of Chicago to bury party distinctions and to act with unanimity, in order to secure an honest and efficient government; that by the adoption of a new city charter by fraudulent means, one year ago, Harvey D. Colvin is now exercising the office of mayor contrary to the popular will; that its chief officer should be the choice of the people; that an election be held simultaneously with that for the next city council, on April 18th, at which an independent candidate for mayor be presented for the votes of the people; that a committee of three be appointed to visit Mr. Colvin and request him, in the name of the citizens here assembled, to resign. The resolutions urge all citizens to unite upon the best men who are candidates for aldermen, irrespective of party; that a joint committee of republicans and democrats be appointed to protect the purity of the ballot box at the coming aldermanic election; that a committee of 150 be appointed by the chair to demand of the common council that the judges and clerks of election be men of known honesty; that a committee of three be appointed to take steps to have an efficient registry law passed, which shall apply to all elections in Cook county; that, in view of the recent ballot-box stuffing, by means of which men not elected were declared elected, this meeting pledges itself to act unitedly, and resist every exercise of the elections of these officers by men declared elected until they are gotten out of their offices; that a committee of twenty-five be appointed to go to these men and demand their resignations, and the committee is instructed, in case the demand is not complied with, to call a meeting of citizens at this same place, to take what action the exigencies of the occasion may require; that the citizens of Chicago, irrespective of party, reposing full faith and confidence in the honesty, integrity and ability of Thomas Hoyne, nominate him for the office of Mayor, and pledge him, as the candidate of the people, their determined and unanimous support.

The resolutions were passed with the greatest unanimity of feeling, and with great applause. The speeches were generally of a calm and conciliatory kind, though the undercurrent was, that unless proper and legal means succeed in securing the ejectment of the men who have polluted the ballot, force will be brought to bear which shall compel such resignation.

Sale of Shorthorns—Missionary Meeting, &c.

The Tribune of Galesburg, Ills., of April 8th, says that the herd of shorthorned cattle owned by Mrs. E. Byram, of Abingdon, was sold there to-day, the total amount of the sales was $24,205, and the average was $430 per head. The most remarkable sales were—Second Mazurka of Hickory Grove to J. W. Moore, of Beverly, Ills., for $1,100; Poppy's Duke of Airdrie to Geo. Dunlap, of Abingdon, Ill., for $1,200.

The Woman's Baptist Missionary Society of the West had a large and interesting meeting here to-day and this evening; the time was principally taken up with reports, which showed that the society is in a flourishing condition.

The Alton and St. Louis railroad, which has hitherto been opposing the Iowa pool, in the competition for the Iowa and San Francisco freight, has at length joined the pool, and will adopt their schedule.

Plead Not Guilty.

In the U. S. Court this morning, the Hon. J. D. Ward appeared and pleaded not guilty to the charges against him for whiskey frauds, and gave bail in $15,000. Phillip Wadsworth, ex-Collector of Internal Revenue, also pleaded not guilty.

More Rascality.

ST. LOUIS, 11.—The Times has an interview with Captain Joseph La Barge, an old and well known steamboat man, in which La Barge is represented as stating that some time ago he ran freight on the Upper Mississippi River for the government, the bill for which amounted to $1,400; the amount was approved by Col. Easton, the quartermaster, and sent to Washington with La Barge's receipt in full attached. Shortly afterwards La Barge received a letter from Gen. Meigs that his account was disallowed; subsequently John McDonald called on La Barge and asked what he would give to have the account collected, and offered to collect it for half its amount. La Barge agreed to this and in a few days McDonald called again and paid him $700. On another occasion La Barge sent an account to Washington for $650, and received word in reply that he must take half or nothing. La Barge wrote to Senator Bogy about the matter asking him to look into it for him, and Bogy replied advising him to take what he could get.

Motions Overruled.

The motion for a new trial in the case of Adler and Furst, recently convicted on fifty-five counts of the indictment against them, in the District Court at Jefferson City, was overruled by Judge Kackle, also the motion in arrest of judgment; the bondsmen of these parties offered to give them up to-day. Sentence will be passed in all the whiskey cases tried before Judge Kackle on Saturday next.

Funeral of A. T. Stewart.

NEW YORK, 11.—The funeral services of the late A. T. Stewart will take place at St. Mark's Church, on Thursday morning next, Bishop Potter officiating. The following gentlemen will act as pall bearers: ex-Governor Dix, ex-Governor Morgan, Judge Henry E. Davies, Judge Noah Davis, Chief Justice C. P. Daly, Chas. H. Russell, Robert L. Stuart, Royal Phillips, Jacob D. Vermilye, Wm. Libbey, Wm. M. Evarts, Peter Cooper, Stephen Wray, and Francis Cotten.

Various Items of Interest.

The Times Washington special says that the judiciary committee were engaged two hours, to-day, hearing arguments from the attorneys of the C. P. R. R., against Lawrence's bill. It is calculated that Lawrence's bill would save the companies, by way of compound interest, some two hundred millions. A year ago the Union Pacific seemed ready to enter into equitable arrangements, but it now looks as if both companies were determined to proceed without making any provision to meet their constantly increasing debts. The question is asked what will happen to the stock of the roads when the government debt finally becomes due with no provision for payment.

The Centennial committee of the House will call for an appropriation of $100,000. It was suggested to put this amount on the deficiency bill; this, however, was overruled, and it is now extremely doubtful if the Centennial bill can be passed.

The House committee on territories have decided to strike out the words New Mexico and give the new State the name of Montezuma.

It is the universal opinion that if the Senate entertains jurisdiction, there can be no possible escape from a verdict of guilty in Belknap's case. His counsel is hard at work.

The Daily Times publishes a list of Stewart's city real estate, which is valued at ten or twelve million dollars. A catalogue of his pictures shows their value to be $600,000.

The Times Washington special reports that the witnesses who have testified before the committees are all hawking about the streets the certificates for the fees due them, and are freely offering them for 50 cents on the dollar, without any warrant of law. These committees have incurred reckless and extravagant expenses, and there is no money appropriated to meet them.

The Sun's St. Louis special says it is stated by a well informed party that during the Babcock trial, Bristow suspected Grant of the intention of shielding Babcock at all hazards. When, in November, Grant and Babcock visited St. Louis ostensibly to look after Grant's farm, half a dozen whiskey indictments were then waiting a trial. Bristow confidentially informed Henderson that his visit was a mere excuse to bring Babcock, Joyce and McDonald together without exciting suspicion, in order that Babcock might be protected. Bristow informed the Government prosecutors freely as to his suspicions, and spies were actually placed on the President's track. Bristow knew that Babcock was guilty, and that Grant would go to all lengths to shield him. The spectacle of a cabinet officer dogging the President is without a precedent, and ought to involve one or the other in indelible disgrace.

The World's Washington special says it is understood that Sherman, Fish and other high dignitaries will go to New York to receive the Emperor of Brazil.

A charge is published in some journals that Charles O'Conner, while pretending to serve Mrs. Forrest gratuitously in the infamous Forrest divorce suit, actually exacted from her a very large sum for his service. O'Connor indignantly denies these accusations, and asks their investigation by the Bar Association.

The Herald reports that Tweed is in Italy, travelling as an "American baron."

The Herald's Windsor, Vt., special contains a long account of an interview at a prison there, between a correspondent and Miles, recently convicted in Vermont for burglary. Miles says he was the chief operator of the safe burglary robbery at Washington, and in conversation he declared that Harrington and Babcock knew all about the business, but the President did not.

The Herald's Washington special says that revenue agent Phillips' report about the whiskey and custom frauds in California says that the general understanding is that the senators and representatives have absolute control of offices, and that those who hold them are only required to be loyal to congressmen, hence the civil service is utterly debased, venal, and purely personal. No sooner had agent Clark, a perfectly honest officer, arrived in San Francisco than Sargent filed charges against him, but the affidavits were of such a character that would have precluded their use, Clark being above suspicion and beyond purchase. Supervisor Hawley reported in full on this matter, and the attacks on him were for the purpose of securing the removal of an honest public officer who proved troublesome to revenue officers and distillers engaged in plundering the Government, and who relied on republican and representative omnipotence. Efforts will be continued to crush all who try to expose them, and they will continue to be protected until the hand of senatorial power is removed. It is regarded now as an invasion of senatorial rights in California for any one to suggest the exercise by the executive head of the nation of his just constitutional powers in other appointments or removals. California tax payers and private citizens are dumb. The regal hand of the senators and members bears sway, and distillers, wholesale liquor dealers, and revenue officials do as they please, being protected by this imperial despotic power. After a prolonged investigation, evidence has been discovered of frauds in 1865, and 1868 0, amounting to $1,500,000. The men thus caught have furnished some of the affidavits filed by Sargent against Clark. The report on the condition of affairs among the revenue officials in San Francisco was of an exceedingly unfavorable character.

The Tribune's Washington special says there is a strong effort making in the Senate to increase newspaper postage. The Post-office authorities ridicule Hamlin's bill and say it is impracticable, and nobody could carry out its provisions.

Counterfeit five cent pieces are now passing; they are just as valuable as the originals, only were not made at the mint. An assay shows that they contain copper and nickel in equal proportions.

Challenge Accepted—The Beecher Scandal Again.

The yacht club has accepted Gifford's Canadian challenge.

The Times will publish, to-morrow, the call for evidence regarding the Beecher scandal issued by the committee appointed by the New York and Brooklyn Association of Congregational ministers; they most earnestly urge all persons professing to have evidence to present the same.

Fears Subsiding.

MEMPHIS, 11.—The fears of a serious overflow are rapidly being dispelled, though the planters below are still actively at work to keep the levees intact.
