AMUSEMENTS.

FRANK DANIELS never knew what it was to play before a poor audience in Salt Lake, and last night the desire to see him filled the house with one of the old-time gatherings. Doctor Cupid, while it has not the interesting and connected story of Little Puck, is a ludicrous fancy with more plot than the average farce comedy boasts, and it is full of the features which always make Frank Daniels pieces successful, with or without plots—catchy music, bright face, the latest gags, clever actors and unique specialty acts. Daniels himself, too, would be funny if he lines were as heavy as the Congressional Record. In the character of the keeper of a summer hotel, in whom a trans-mission of blood develops a full-fledged sport, he has unlimited opportunities to exercise his comedy talents, and he makes almost as much of his character as of his famous old time "Old Sport" in the Rag Baby. He is excellently supported by a bright company, of whom Mr. Canfield is the inventor, Mr. Finley as an imitable tramp, and Miss Bessie Clayton as Daniels' daughter, were the leading features. The whistling of the tramp, the trapeze performance of Mr. Grant win, and the dancing of the Daly sisters, were encored over and over again. The song by the company in imitation of a band, and Mr. Daniels' own excellent rendition of a costermonger's ditty, were the best musical selections.

Dr. Cupid goes again tonight and is easily good for another large audience.

THE MINSTRELS RETURN.

The Deseret minstrels reached Salt Lake by a U. P. delayed train at 8 o'clock this morning, very sleepy and rather dispirited with their Ogden engagement, which was not all a financial success. The boys say the opera house folks told them that the "Light of Asia" had "hoodooed their performance—Ogden people having expected a comic show from the title of the oratorio, and being altogether disgusted when it turned out a two and a half hours' sitting with classical music. Whether opera house folks represent Ogden opinion generally, may be open to question.

Paving the Way.

This morning Governor Thomas received a letter from Attorney W. K. Reid, of Manti, Utah, stating that a petition was about to be presented by Mrs. Chew, of Gunnison, for the second time, praying for executive clemency towards her husband. The first time, the writer says, the effort was futile, "owing to a remonstrance gotten up against interference." Mr. Reid thinks, however, that that feeling has now entirely changed, and that sympathy, with perhaps a few exceptions, is with the prisoner and his family. A great many persons who signed the former remonstrances would now join in the petition for Chew's pardon.

The offense for which the convict is serving his term in the penitentiary was grand larceny.

MINING AND REAL ESTATE.

Reported Trouble at the Henry Mountains.

THE CANVASS FOR THE SMELTER.

Homestead Patents Issued. — Real Estate Matters.—Mining Notes.

The following dispatch came over the wires from Green River, Utah, last night: "Reports have just been received of the jumping of six thousand acres of rich placers at the foot of Crescent Gulch in the Henry mountains. Three hundred desperate prospectors are on the ground guarding the claims with Winchesters. The townsite is also involved. Doubtless shooting is frequent. No one as yet is killed. Two saloon outfits from Salt Lake and fast to the fitness. Prospectors are determined to protect at all hazards the new location. Rumors also prevail regarding shootings on Gardner's creek townsite. This cannot, however, be corroborated at the early hour writing. More than a hundred prospectors crossed the Colorado river bound for the Henry mountains within the last two days."

Persons here who are well acquainted with the conditions at Green River up to a recent date believe the reports of the shooting to be greatly exaggerated. Such extensive claim jumping is regarded as an impossibility under existing circumstances in the Henry mountains, although if any considerable amount of it is attempted and persisted in, it will probably result in bloodshed.

THE COPPER CANVASS.

The total subscription raised by the real estate soliciting committee up to date amounts to $1,800. This includes cash as well as real estate to the up the amount appropriated by the city. A number of these who responded with special cards sent out to have failed to give their addresses. For instance, John Hanson sends word that he will contribute $500, Alex Annie O'Malley, $500, Master Schettler, violin, and Messrs. Carpenter and Schettler, banjo duet. Doors open at 7:45.

WASHAKIE "Tribe", No. 1, Improved Order of Red Men, held their regular meeting last night. It was well attended and interesting meeting. The sachem degree was conferred on recently adopted brothers. The "tribe" is growing and prosperous and hopes to soon be one of the most prominent in the city.

MACKAY SHOT.

The San Francisco Millionaire Wounded.

HIS ASSAILANT SUICIDES.

The Latter's Identity is Hazy and His Purpose Unknown.

THE WOUNDED SUFFERER DIES

With a Bullet Lodged Near the the Heart.—Mackay's Wound Not Fatal.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—John W. Mackay, the famous millionaire, was shot in the back in the Lick house this afternoon by an old man, identity unknown, who then turned the pistol on himself, inflicting probably a fatal wound.

MCKINLEY NO BEGGAR.

He Does Not Want Any Public Subscription for His Benefit.

WATERBURY, Conn., Feb. 24.—Thomas Reilly, of the West Side Savings bank, has telegraphed to offer financial aid to Governor McKinley, received a reply from Treasurer Herrick, of the society for Savings, Cleveland, saying: "I desire to thank you for the governor for your most generous proposition, but it would not be long before public subscriptions, as the governor says he is "no beggar." Herrick adds that McKinley's friends may do something, but it will have to be done without his knowledge.

No Grievances.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 24.—The local switchmen say they have no grievances and are not contemplating any action either now or during the World's Fair.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

An Uneasy Feeling Caused by Various Rumors.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—The feeling in Wall street is very uneasy. The liquidation in New England is believed by no means complete and hints are made that the Reading is in a crippled condition and will find it a heavy load. There are also broad hints of cutting Mellon from the receivership. Even the Northern Pacific is threatened with receivership, though leaders most emphatically deny the possibility of such a thing as liquidation. The market opened excited, very active. The selling was largely by shorts. The issues at the start ranged up to 1½. Western Union leading. Sugar, whisky, envelope and lead were cultivated to specially heavy pressure, among the industrials, and New England and Northern Pacific among the railroads. Reading was also sorely held, comparatively quiet; the envelope broke to 61½, sugar 4½, New England 4½, distillers 2½, Northern Pacific preferred 2. The last named afterwards recovered all the loss and more. Distillers nearly recovered, others made partial rallies. At 11 the market was active, firm and rally.

After 11 the offerings of stocks came very free and the prices as a general thing retired to about the lowest. Sugar especially was pressed for sale on the belief that the sales of the last few days had been by pool, and the price dropped to 111½. New England was sold at 42 and 41 last evening. Coalers were strong, however, rising 1½ and 2. At noon the market was active, firm, slightly above opening.

After being driven down to 120½, New England rallied 1 per cent. The demand for Reading became urgent and it advanced 2 from 59½. Lackawanna gained 4½ at 167; Delaware, Hudson 3½ to 127½. The appearance of White in the sugar crowd prevented the course of the stock and a rally 3 per cent to 114½ followed. Cordage sympathized with a like advance to 60, while the strength of the rally disappointed bears and forced a covering of the shorts slacked away and prices again receded from the highest. The market at 11½ was still active and quite firm, with Northern Pacific as a ruler at close to the best, but with the leading weak stocks only slight gains over the lowest.

Harter, Ohio, introduced a bill for the free coinage of silver and gold at the present ratio and on equal terms. It provides that after the passage purchases of silver bullion by the government shall cease and the mint be opened to the coinage of both metals on the same terms as prior to 1873 provided, however, that all silver and gold coin thereafter for the account of the owners shall not have legal tender function and instead of being stamped one dollar, five dollars, etc., it shall be stamped ten dimes, fifty dimes, etc., the legal tender function of gold and silver coin already coined or hereafter coined for the account of the United States to continue legal tender. All laws in conflict with this are repealed.

The Whisky Trust.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Before the committee investigating the whisky trust this morning, L. A. Brisbin, attorney, testified that the adulteration and sale of imitation goods were on the increase and the production of pure goods on the decrease. This was a cause of loss to the government, as all adulterated goods put on the market displaced to much imported goods which paid much larger revenue. The production of rye whisky last year decreased over a million gallons, and bourbon over nine hundred thousand gallons. The spurious goods increased accordingly.

Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue Wilson suggested as a remedy for the increased production of adulterated goods that law be passed requiring them to be stamped as such.

CANADIAN SENSATION.

The Government Accused of Falsification of Reports.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 24.—Premier Davis of Prince Edward's Island created a sensation in the commons last night by a terrible arraignment of the government for the falsification of the record of the delegates' trip to Washington on reciprocity. Minister Foster reported that the United States would only grant a treaty of unlimited scope, with uniform tariff made at Washington discriminating against Great Britain. Davies gave the lie direct to Foster by reading Blaine's report to Congress on the matter showing that the Dominion government would accede to a treaty which included only natural products, something which every Canadian knew the United States would never accede to. The list of manufactures, said Davies, was also included in the treaty which the United States would accede to, and so uniform tariff it was pure fabrication. Blushing his hand in the face of the finance minister, Davies declared that while he (Foster) kept back the record of the proceedings from the parliament he was justified in calling him a falsifier for the pure purpose of deceiving people, so that he and his colleagues might retain their situations. The report of Blaine proved the government guilty of deceit, falsehood and political trickery of the worst kind. He defied Foster to contradict him, and the minister did not.

A Rumor Denied.

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—The officers of the New York and New England railroad say that they know nothing of any application for receivership and believe the report is false. They say there is no ground for it as the company has no debt. it cannot pay.

Grosham and Foster.
