SAD DEATH OF SAMUEL B. WILLIS

Widely Known and Highly Esteemed Young Man Mourned By Many.

WEBER STAKE ACADEMY NOTES.

Republican Primary and Convention —Asahel Farr Succeeds Judge Dee —Water Case Concluded.

Ogden, Utah, Sept. 23.—The entire western portion of Weber county mourns the accidental death of Samuel B. Willis, which occurred at noon yesterday at the Ogden sugar factory. He was one of the best known and most highly esteemed young men in this county; was a young man of excellent habits, possessing many noble traits of character; was a faithful member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and highly respected by his fellow employes at the sugar factory. He had performed his morning's work and with a glad heart was just starting home for dinner and to see his young wife and baby. He had just mounted his horse when it suddenly lunged forward, throwing him to the ground, breaking his neck and fracturing his skull. Dr. R. S. Joyce was summoned and rendered every assistance possible, but the injury was fatal. He passed away peacefully about 20 minutes after the doctor arrived. His remains were turned over to Undertaker Larkin, who prepared them for burial. The breaking of the sad news to his young wife, to whom he was married only about three years ago, was a painful duty.

Deceased was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill E. Willis. He was born at Toquerville, Washington county, Utah, Aug. 13, 1876, but for a number of years has been living at Warren, Weber county. His wife was formerly Miss Mary J. Wayment, daughter of Joseph Wayment.

The funeral services will be held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at his home in Wilson, and from there the body will be taken to Warren, where services will be held at 2 o'clock. Interment will take place at Warren, Weber county.

W. S. ACADEMY NOTES.

Conservatory of Music—Business Course in Night School.

The teachers are pleased with the way the students are getting down to work. Those entering this year promise to make a very strong class.

A business course will be given in the night school this year if enough students apply to make it worth while.

Miss Jennette McKay, a member of the faculty, has been chosen as president of the Y. L. M. I. A. of Weber stake.

Principal David O. McKay delivered a lecture before the Sunday School Union meeting of Salt Lake stake on Monday evening, taking as his subject "The Aim, How to Choose It."

President Shurtliff paid a visit to the school on Thursday.

William Mitchell, '02, visited the school on Tuesday. He returned 10 days ago from a mission to the Northwestern States.

Dr. Heber Sears of Chicago was the speaker at devotional on Friday morning. His subject was "the making of an opportunity." The thoughts thrown out by the speaker will prove most valuable to students.

A school choir of over 100 voices has been organized. Some very fine work is expected from them at devotional this year.

Thomas E. McKay, last year a member of the faculty, who is now at the Agricultural college, visited the school on Saturday.

Principal McKay and Prof. Joseph Ballantyne have concluded arrangements whereby the academy is to have a conservatory of music. John J. McClellan will teach the piano, Willard Weihe, the violin, and Joseph Ballantyne will give the vocal instruction. A studio is being fitted up and the work will be in progress in a week or 10 days. The nature of the work will be private instruction with reduced rates to students of the academy.

OGDEN BOARD OF EDUCATION

Asahel Farr Succeeds Judge Dee as Member.

The board of education at its regular session last evening announced the successor to the late Judge T. D. Dee as a member of the board, to be Mr. Asahel Farr, a well known resident of the Third ward, and a friend of education. It is believed he will make a very able man on the board.

The sanitary committee reported five new cases of diphtheria having developed during the past week, but all are in families where the disease had already been. They reported only two deaths from the dreaded disease so far out of over 20 cases that have developed.

Miss Blair b. Stein was released as one of the teachers at the Dee school, as she is going to leave Ogden.

Miss Minnie Brown was granted a free scholarship in the University of Utah.

The board considered the matter of the right of way claimed by George Maul at the west of the Central school, which it is claimed he is using to get to other grounds than those for which it was opened, and the clerk was instructed to notify him to cease using it for other purposes.

HOSTETTER'S Stomach Bitters is used exclusively by hundreds of women and girls. It cures ailments peculiar to them. All sickly women should try a bottle. It never fails.

POLITICS LIVENING UP.

Republican Primaries Oct. 9 and City Convention October 12.

The first move in the way of politics was taken last evening, when the Republican central committee held a meeting and discussed briefly the outlook for this year's city election. It was decided that the primaries will be held Monday, Oct. 9, and the convention Thursday, Oct. 12. Aside from this the only other work done was discussing matters pertaining to places for holding the primaries and apportionment of delegates.

The political arena has been exceptionally quiet so far this year, and it is doubtful if a great deal of enthusiasm can be awakened this fall in politics. Both the Republicans and Democrats are holding off as long as possible with their primaries, they say so that those who in former years have grafted and fleeced the office-seekers to death for their support will not have so much time to work on them this year.

IRRIGATION CASE CONCLUDED

Matter Taken Under Advisement by Judge Howell.

At 5 o'clock last evening the arguments in the suit brought by Francis Clark et al, against the North Ogden Irrigation company were completed, and the case submitted to Judge Howell, who took the matter under advisement and announced that he will render a written opinion on the case. The case has been before the court for a week, and has been hard fought by both parties in interest. The North Ogden people claim to have been accustomer each year to go to the Ogden river and clear out the river bed so that they could get water to their canay, but this year when they went to do the work, the Eden irrigators got out an injunction against them, which they desire made permanent, and it was on this point the action was brought, the North Ogden people resisting the injunction being made permanent.

The officers of the company are Charles Zelmer, president; W. J. Lindsay, vice president; William C. Hunter, secretary and treasurer and they with Louis Bitton and John Spires, form the directorate. These are some of the wealthiest and most influential cattle and sheep men of Weber county, and the uniting of their interests makes one of the strongest livestock corporations in this western country.

He was accompanied on the tour of inspection by M. S. Browning, A. T. Wright and his engineer. The call for bids for the building of the road bed for the car line will be made in a few days, and when the contract has been let, the work will be pushed with all haste, so that everything will be ready for the spring business next year. At the resort grounds the gentlemen looked over the various sites for cottages, and decided on several sites where cottages will be built this fall.

AUGUST F. BROWN DEAD.

Although the resignation does not become effective until Nov. 1, there are a number of aspirants for the position. Dr. E. M. Conroy, who is chairman of the board of directors, announces that there are five or six applicants for the place and that he is unable to say who will be chosen.

Two men, who give their names as J. A. Smith and Ed. Wallace, were arrested last evening by Chief Browning and Officer Al Herrick on the charge of possessing worthless checks. A $25 reward is offered for the returns of the jewels.

HARVEST OF GRIM REAPER.

A number of homes here have been saddened by death during the week. The first was Johanna Hedland, who was called to leave her life-long companion, Carl Hedland. Mrs. Hedland died Monday in her sixty-fourth year. She has lived a life of activity, though the last few years she has not enjoyed the best of health.

The next to follow was John A. Olson who joined the immortal band in his forty-fourth year, falling a victim to typhoid fever.

A gloom which will take years to raise fell on the home of B. D. Davenport when death claimed his loving and affectionate wife, Ella B. The couple had been married only a few months when Mrs. Davenport was taken sick, which terminated in peritonitis. An operation was decided upon, but did not bring the expected results. Another one followed, but owing to the weakness of the patient, was as ineffective as the first. The young wife sank gradually until the vital functions refused to act. The body was taken to C. H. Bank's undertaking parlors for embalming, preparatory for shipping to Missouri for burial.

Mr. and Mrs. Konkelborg were called to mourn the loss of their eight months' old baby, Elva Leona.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Deputy Sheriff Andrew Smith had a narrow escape from capturing a man whom he was after here yesterday afternoon. He had him once, and then he lost him, through a ruse the man worked on the deputy sheriff, and when it came to getting him again the officer got the wrong man. What the man's name is and why he is wanted, is not known here. The deputy sheriff arrived from Salt Lake on an afternoon car, and caught his prisoner in the Vincent cafe. After expressing his willingness to accompany the officer he asked permission to step into the next room a minute to settle with the proprietor, and failed to return. The sheriff took after him through a rear door, and sighting a man with the same general appearance and a similar suit of clothes, he caught him instead. The second victim proved he was not the man, and was released, while the original prisoner was not heard from again.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Mrs. A. J. Walquist, who underwent a surgical operation Monday morning, is greatly improved.

D. W. Moffat, who has been east studying law, was stricken with typhoid and was compelled to return home. Mr. Moffat has had the fever for three weeks.

Walter Ottley is recovering from typhoid fever.

August Wallin, who has had a long siege of typhoid, and who was not expected to live, is somewhat improved this morning, but is still in a critical condition.

Breeders of fast horses are much interested in the arrival at Murray of a speedy young stallion, to be added to the stables of J. W. McHenry. His name is Allett, and he comes from a line of fast horses, being sired by Altoke, and his dam being Intellect. He has a record of 2:10¼.

The promoters of the Murray band have appointed a committee to look for a suitable location on which to build an $8,000 pavilion. The committee is now waiting on E. C. Warenski for the purpose of purchasing a site next to E. J. Warenski's grocery store. Here a modern structure will be built with a hardwood spring floor. This will give the band employment and keep out outside musicians. The band organization will be incorporated.

Business in Murray is more active than a month ago, especially with coal dealers. The Miller-Cahoon company reports coal receipts much larger than at the same time last year, and the lumber business is equally as good.

Dr. Humphreys' Seventy-Seven breaks up Grip and COLDS

Lassitude is the premonitory symptom of a Cold. Even before the shiver, the sneeze or scrapey throat, comes that feeling of weakness. This is the time when a stitch in time saves nine. If you will recognize a Cold at this stage, it is easy to break it up with a few doses of Dr. Humphrey's Specific "Seventy-seven." Later on "77" is equally useful but the cure is not so quick. Drowned in Crystal Spring Lake.

San Mateo, Sept. 22.—Arthur Sloane of San Francisco was drowned in Crystal Springs lake recently and the query is whether the tragedy was the result of accident or suicide. Sloane was employed by the Spring Valley Water company. He was missed from the party in the early afternoon and a search was organized at a point where the banks are very high and precipitous. His hat was seen floating on the water, which is 30 feet deep there.

Several hours later the body was recovered by dragging and sent to Coroner Crowe, who will make an investigation. W. B. Lawrence, local superintendent for the company, thinks that Sloane lost his balance or was seized with sickness and tumbled over the cliff. Sloane's parents live in Ireland, but he has a brother and a sister in San Francisco.

Great Outcry Against Komura.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 22.—R. Kayahara, editor of the Yorodzu Choho of Tokio, who arrived here today by the Iyo Maru, says there is a great outcry against Baron Komura in Japan, and says that it is probable that he will be assassinated. Newspapers have published cartoons of him with a rope about his neck, others with Samurai handing him a dagger to kill himself. The Yorodzu was suspended for making a bitter personal attack on Baron Komura, advising the people to "turn their backs" on him when he returns.

The Osaki Asaki published a cartoon showing Admiral Togo being borne in triumph on a portable shrine by coolies and a companion picture of Baron Komura buried. The baron is seated, dead and borne by bearers with tall hats and cadaverous faces. Another cartoon shows men with massive closed fists shaking them in the face of Baron Komura who is returning by train.

Both Legs Cut Off.

Santa Barbara, Sept. 22.—With both legs cut off at the knee and with fatal internal injuries, Joseph M. Burns lay beside the railroad track four miles west of here, calling for help. His cries were heard at a ranch by several persons, but they were so inarticulate that no one paid any attention to them and, perfectly conscious, knowing that death was very near, Burns kept calling from 2 to 5 a. m., when the cries were investigated, and he was found.

He was 22 years old, and was seeing the world. He told his name and address, 610 Tenth street, Cheyenne, Wyo. He had fallen asleep when riding on a freight, and was ground under it. The young man was brought here at 7, and, conscious to the last, died at that time. He met death bravely.

Tuttle Knows Nothing of It.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 22.—Commenting on the fining of four of the officers of Schwarzschild & Sulzberger Packing company at Chicago yesterday for alleged conspiracy to obtain rebates from several railroads, one of which was asserted to be the Boston & Maine railroad, President Lucius Tuttle of that company today said:

"I understand that the gentlemen name the Boston & Maine road as one of the six over which they conspired to secure rebates, but if they so conspired I know nothing about it. I can say confidently that so far as I have been able to find out they never got them, either directly or indirectly."
