at 8 a. m., 12 m. and 7:30 p. m. All the above leaves Salt Lake City, and belongs to the company in which Lake A. Ellis is a stockholder. Ellis's stock is worth from $1,000 to $2,000 and he has never received a cent from it. He has never received a penny for his services and has paid his expenses out of his own pocket. Ellis's stock is worth more than the stock of any other man in the company, and he has never received a penny for his services
