FRAGMENTS.

The case of the People vs. Hunter is set for Friday next.

The murder trial of Michael Murphy is set for November 5th.

HOME MISSIONARY meeting to-night at the Social Hall, at 7 o'clock.

The trial of Peterson for polygamy; two cases, is set for Friday week.

HIGH COUNCIL meeting in the Social Hall, at 7 o'clock to-morrow (Thursday) evening.

The case of the People vs. Richardson, for assault with intent to rob, is set for to-morrow.

JUDGE TWISS has granted a decree of divorce in the case of Stephen Hays vs. Agnes Ladd, administratrix.

C. V. WHITING, indicted for extortion, has his trial set for Saturday, but it is doubtful if it will be reached that early.

F. AUERBACH & BRO. advertise in another column for bids for carpenter work, plastering, painting and tin-roof for their new building.

A DEPRESSION in the road on East Temple Street, just south of City Creek bridge, is being filled in with granite chips from the Temple Block.

The members of the musical organization of the Caledonia Society are reminded that their meeting takes place at Calder's Hall, at 7.30 this evening.

STAY and Edwards, for creating a disturbance in Coffee John's, were tried yesterday before Justice Fyfe. Stay was fined $10, and Edwards was discharged.

Two brick fire-proof vaults are being built on the east side of the County Court House; one is for the use of the County Recorder, the other for the County Clerk.

MASON WORK on the foundation of the Eighteenth Ward School-house has been commenced. Excavating has been going on for the past fortnight, or such a matter.

HON. JOHN T. CAINE, Hon. C. W. Penrose, S. A. Kenner, Esq., and others will address a People's mass meeting in Provo this evening, in the interests of the coming election.

THE popular and veteran restaurateur, James Dinwoodey, formerly of the Arcade, has opened out anew at Clabey and Hogle's old stand. It is Dinwoodey and McTier now.

In the case of the London Bank of Utah against W. H. Bowers, a suit over a mortgage made by the defendant to the plaintiffs, Judge Twiss has overruled the demurrer to the amended complaint. Exception, and ten days to answer.

ATTORNEY General Brewster, who wrote some time ago, asking Marshal Ireland for estimates as to the cost of a new Penitentiary for Utah, has since informed the Marshal that, without waiting for his reply, as he was compelled to put in his estimates for improvements at once, he set the cost of the Penitentiary at $35,000.

LOCAL NEWS.

Cases Settled and Dismissed.—In the District Court this morning the cases entitled James Lowe et al. vs. Robert Johnson et al.; N. B. White et al. vs. James Lowe; Isaac Wolf vs. Morris E. Evans; Solomon Barnett vs. Samuel Levy; N. Groesbeck vs. John A. Groesbeck et al.; George C. Biddle vs. Amos Mosher; John T. Gilmer vs. Matthew Cullen; Daniel O. Dickerson vs. Frederick Hill were all settled and dismissed.

Private, Not Public.—We have received a call from Brother John Edwards, of Sugar House Ward, who informs us that the property owners of the bench land at that locality have built a new bridge at Pleasant View, over Emigration Creek, in place of the public bridge which was destroyed some time ago by malicious persons.

In consequence of the new bridge having been built by private persons and not by public use. We are requested to state this much that the general public may be aware of the fact that they have not the privilege of crossing that way. Our informant, Brother Edwards, called in the morning. As a member of a committee of the property holders interested in the matter.

Supreme Court Session.—The Utah Supreme Court will hold a two days' session on the 10th and 11th of November, during the interim of the adjournment of the District Court from Saturday the 8th to Wednesday the 12th.

There are several cases to be decided, which were submitted during Chief Justice Hunter's regime, therefore it will depend on the unanimity of Judges Emerson and Twiss, before whom they were argued, whether they will then be disposed of or re-argued before a full bench, with Judge Zane included. If the Associate Justices agree, of course that will settle the business, without Judge Zane's action in the premises; but if they disagree, it will be necessary to re-argue the case of cases before him and the others.

Delayed in San Francisco.—A private letter from Elder George S. Taylor, one of the party of missionaries for New Zealand and the Sandwich Islands, who left for San Francisco a week ago yesterday, states that they arrived there in safety last Thursday morning. The steamer which the New Zealand missionaries were to take, was to start the following Saturday, but would not touch at the Sandwich Islands. This was a sore disappointment to the brethren bound for the latter field; as they were not only separated from their traveling companions, but were thrown on extra expenses in San Francisco until November 1st, the date of the departure of the next steamer touching at Honolulu. The Elders did all they could to obtain a modification of the arrangement, but without success, and those bound for the Sandwich Islands had to wait and will sail on Saturday next.

A Valuable Work.—One of the best books which is being offered to the public at the present time is entitled, "The Golden Rule of Life." It is intended for the home circle. It treats on subjects in which both old and young, married and single, male and female, in every condition of life should be interested. It is a pure book. Its sentiments are lofty, but couched in simple language. Its morality is without taint, its advice is timely and sound, and its tendency is to elevate and refine. The duties and relationships of the family are touched upon with delicacy and yet with force, and the husband and the wife, the parent and the child will find in its pages the expression of thoughts which, entering into practical life, will benefit the individual and purify society. The work is clearly printed on fine paper, the numerous engravings are finely executed, it is beautifully bound, and is worthy of a place in any library. Mrs. S. M. White is agent for this pen of a book in this city.

THE CONNELLY CASE.

THE EMPANELING OF A JURY DRAWS ITS SLOW LENGTH ALONG.

The case of the United States vs. John Connelly, indicted for bigamy, was called at about 10.45 a. m. to-day, the intervening time from the hour of 10 o'clock being occupied with setting the civil calendar. Connelly's case being reached, the empaneling of the trial jury was begun and proceeded with. Twelve names from the venire of thirty-six petit jurors for the term, were called from slips of paper in the possession of the clerk, and on taking their seats in the jury box, were challenged by Mr. Rawlins, who, with Mr. Sheeks, represents the defendant, on the ground that the slips containing their names were not put in the box and drawn therefrom as provided by law. The court sustained the challenge and the jurors vacated the box; their places were filled by twelve men whose names were drawn from the box, the slips having previously been placed there.

Another challenge was made to the new panel by Mr. Rawlins on the ground that the names were not placed in the box at the time the venire upon which they were summoned was returned and kept there till drawn. Judge Zane denied this challenge, remarking with a bland smile that the legislature seemed to be somewhat technical in the provision requiring the names to be put in a box and kept there, as the defense claimed was legal and proper to be done in the premises.

Examination of jurors as to their qualifications then went on, but was soon interrupted by Mr. Varian, speaking for the prosecution, who begged to inform the court that there had been told by the clerk that there had not been any arrangement in this case.

The defense replied that they thought the defendant had been arraigned and had pleaded not guilty, and the Judge coincided, from the memorandum in his possession. The clerk said he had no record of it, and was asked to look again among his papers. He did so, but was unable to find it.

A delay of a few minutes occurred and it was then decided that the defendant be arraigned. Mr. Connelly accordingly stood up and the clerk read to him the indictment. He was asked to plead guilty or not guilty to the same, and responded not guilty. The examination of jurors was then resumed, the defense agreeing to take no advantage of the irregularity in the arraignment. A discussion next took place as to the qualification of juror George W. Richmond, who was challenged by the defense on the ground that he was a taxpayer. The court overruled the objection, holding that the possession of taxable property was sufficient to qualify a juror, so far as that particular qualification was concerned. D. W. Richman was challenged by the defense for implied bias, the challenge was confessed by the prosecution (they had probably had enough of this juror, who was one of the four who stood out for acquittal in the first trial of Rudger Clawson) and Mr. Scribner was excused. George M. Turpin was excused for a similar cause.

In the course of the trial, as to polygamy, etc., William C. Winder, George E. Hill, George W. Earl and Carl C. Amussen were challenged by the prosecution and excused for declining to answer the question as to their belief in its rightfulness.

Mr. Rawlins denied the challenge on the ground that the Edmunds law, which provides that if a person shall decline to answer, refusal to persons living in the practice of polygamy instead of believing in it. The court ruled that if a juror declined to answer the question on any ground, he should be rejected as incompetent.

Silas T. Pack and Louis Oviatt were excused for declining to answer, and George Hardman for answering in the affirmative. D. C. Booth was peremptorily challenged by the defense and excused. This left two jurors, Thomas Sappington and George W. Richmond, who were sworn; they having with Booth, negated the question as to polygamy and cohabitation.

Balliff Hurd was sworn to take charge of the jurors, and the court took recess till 3 p. m.

At the above hour the empaneling proceeded, and in little over half an hour the petit jury panel was exhausted and only two more jurors obtained, making four in all secured thus far.

Those obtained this afternoon were J. J. Farrell and W. W. Davis. An open venire was asked for and issued for thirty names, and the last heard from the court room it had not been returned. The court took a recess meanwhile.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

CULLED FROM LATEST EXCHANGES.

—Neither Hannah, the murderer, nor Oath, the horse thief, who escaped from the White Sulphur Springs jail, will be recaptured. Meagher county, M. T., offers $1,000 for their return.

—John Rockhill, who was examined at Provo on the charge of selling liquor to the Indians, has been committed to the county jail, and a jury at the December term to be held in Ogden. Commissioner Smoot fixed his bonds at $1,000, for which we understand Rockhill has furnished the sureties.

—Frank Rushton, gunsmith of Provo, has invented a double extractor for the Ballard rifle, which is a decided improvement on the method of extracting the cartridge from the chamber, and enhances the usefulness and value of that rifle considerably. It is quite a unique invention, and purely his own. While the Ballard has generally been regarded as the best sporting rifle in the market, it has had one defect which has interfered with its popularity, and it is this defect that Mr. Rushton has effectually removed by the substitution of a double extractor in place of the old one. He has also invented a double set trigger for the Springfield rifle that can be applied without retooling.

—The coach which left Helena, M. T., on the morning of the 23rd, for Boulder, when forty miles south of Helena, was stopped by five armed men at the top of the Boulder range. On board were Chief Justice D. S. Wade, District Attorney J. A. Johnston, E. W. Toole, W. E. Cullen, Judge Chumasco, T. H. Carter, Rev. L. L. Wood, and Sheriff Cameron, of Meagher county. As soon as the robbers ordered the half Sheriff Cameron and two or three other members of the party opened fire on the desperadoes returned. The robbers retreated and took to the mountains. No one on the coach was hurt. Sheriff Cameron received a shot through the coat. It is believed that the attacking party wanted to rescue Neal Murphy, the captured road agent, who was supposed to be on the coach en route to Boulder for trial. Murphy, however, was left in jail at Helena. The same afternoon two posses of five armed men, headed respectively by Deputy United States Marshal Nathan and Deputy Sheriff Shanks, left for Beaver Creek, where they expect to intercept the desperadoes. Sheriff Cameron with a posse is following the trail from a point where the encounter took place. Later advices state that none of the road agents were captured.

CITY COUNCIL.

Proceedings of the City Council, Tuesday evening, October 26th, 1904.

Alderman Speirs presiding.

PETITIONS.

John D. H. McAllister and eight others presented a petition setting forth the former City Council's order to grade Fifth South between Second and Third East, said request being granted and the Supervisor instructed to perform the work; but only the south side of the street was attended to, the north side having been left in its original broken condition. The petition asked that the north side be graded as soon as the grading on Sixth South Street, between First and Second East, is completed. Referred to the committee on streets and alleys.

Lewis Oviatt, by petition, represented that on June 5th, 1898, he obtained from the city a lease to a parcel of land containing 1-16th acres, lying north of the Bath House enclosure, from which he designed excavating and removing limestone, and selling the same to the smelters for fluxing. That he agreed to perform the work; but for the lease and the privilege of excavating the time deposit upon said land, the sum of $200 per annum, payable in four quarterly installments of $50 each. That two of said payments had been made, but owing to the discovery that the limestone upon said land, though of good quality, was too fine for smelting purposes, he was unable to excavate and remove the same, and the balance was therefore unprofitable, the petitioner asked that he be permitted to relinquish the lease without further payment.

Referred to the committee on public grounds.

A petition from E. D. Egan and Wm. K. Egan, for the purpose of protesting against the granting of W. H. Shearman's petition to change the flow of water through the old and established ditch, and would run the water through the land of petitioners, which amounting to a trespass, was referred to the committee on irrigation.

G. D. B. Miller, Head Master of St. Mark's School, asked that the Mayor donate to said school one of Jos. A. West's maps of Utah. Referred to the Mayor to act in his discretion.

Fred Barnes represented that he was obliged to close out his business as a hotel and saloon keeper, because of an attachment levied upon his land, and asked that the unpaid balance of said license be refunded to him. Referred to the committee on license.

The reports of the committee on finance recommending that the City Hall and contents, the Fireman's Hall and Prison and the buildings adjacent be insured for $50,000 and an insurance of about two-thirds its value be placed on the Warm Springs Bath House property, came up as unfinished business and was read.

After considerable discussion, the report was amended so that $50,000 was ordered to be placed upon the City Hall and adjoining buildings, and $50,000 on the Bath House property, and the distribution and selection of companies was ordered to be made under the direction of the Mayor.

APPROPRIATIONS.

To Thomas Wardell, for six months interest on the corporation note for $50,000, held by him, due November 1st, $1,250.

To the contingent fund of the Street Supervisor $1,000.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A certificate of land title from the Probate Court conveying two rods of the north side of North Temple Street, to the estate of Heber C. Kimball deceased, was read and referred to the committee on public grounds, associated with the Mayor and City Attorney.

Adjourned to Tuesday, November 2nd, 1904, at 7 o'clock, p. m.

After its next trip the pay car on the Utah & Northern will be abolished, and division superintendents have been appointed paymasters of their respective divisions on the Union Pacific.

A couple of tramps held up an Indian farmer named Now, near Indian, on the night of the 14th. In attempting to resist them he got shot in the hand. They took his pocket-book containing $27.50. The authorities have telegraphed descriptions of the men to points east.

THE floral decorations on the Sacramental stand in the Tabernacle, designed and constructed by George Hamlin, for the funeral services of the murdered Elders W. S. Berry and John H. Gibbs appeared so pretty and artistic that I photographed the same, and to perpetuate the memory of the above Elders, I thought that the portraits of these two men would be considered in their place in the Tabernacle. Consequently I applied to Mrs. W. S. Berry, of Rich County, and Mrs. J. H. Gibbs, of Paradise, Cache County, for the portraits of these two men, which they kindly responded to by sending. The portrait of W. S. Berry I got from his son, who was in his pocket at the time of his death. That of J. H. Gibbs was photographed with Elder W. H. Jones, the son of the murdered Elder, who was with him when he escaped. These photographs are now on sale at a gallery corner of Third South Street, Salt Lake City, and will be mailed to any address at the following prices, viz: 8 x 10, 60 cents; cabinet or stereoscopic, 25 cents. All orders, 10 cents; good on postage stamps.

Agents wanted in every settlement. By forming clubs you can get them at a reduced rate.

AN EDITOR'S TESTIMONIAL.

A. M. Vaughan, editor of the Greenback, Greenfield, N. J., writes: "Last January I met with a very severe accident, caused by a runaway horse. I used almost every kind of salve to heal the wounds, which turned to running sores, but found nothing to do me any good. I was recommended Henry's Cataplast Salve. I bought a box, and it helped me at once, and at the end of two months I was completely well. It is the best salve in the market, and I never fail of selling my friends about it, and urge them to use it whenever in need."

Buy Power. After trying in vain for several years to cure my hay fever, I purchased a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm which entirely relieved me. R. H. Harris, Letter-Carrier, Newark, N. J.

A REMARKABLE ESCAPE.

Mrs. Mary A. Dailley, of Turkehan, Pa., was afflicted for six years with Asthma and Bronchitis, during which time the best physicians could give no relief. Her life was despaired of, and she was about to give up. She procured a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, when immediate relief was felt, and by continuing its use for a short time she was completely cured, suffering in less than 10 days, in a few months.
