DESERET EVENING NEWS.

AN EXPLANATION.

Alfred Lambourne Did Not Make False Representations to the Land Board.

A misstatement of facts seems to have crept into the "News" editorial yesterday. In an article treating on grazing as a mineral, and a recent decision of the interior department concerning the status of the lands on Gunnison Island, Great Salt Lake, a short history of a case involving somewhat similar portions of said lands was given. In this it appeared, or intended to appear, that Mr. Alfred Lambourne had made false representations to the State land board, when the facts in the case are that the gentleman stated and nothing of the kind.

Inquiry at the office of the State land board has brought out the information that the "News" had been misinformed in the premises, and that Mr. Lambourne had never made any sworned entry on the land in question, although alleging to the board, as stated, that the lands were mineral and should pass. In justice to Mr. Lambourne, whose the article referred to appears to a bad light, this statement of the case is now made.

A Mistake Corrected.

In the account of the marriage of Mr. John S. Hanson and Miss Hannah Morris, reported in Thursday's "News," it was inadvertently stated that the ceremony took place in the Temple. This statement was incorrect. The wedding took place at the residence of the bride's parents in the Eighteenth ward last night, Bishop O. F. Wilcox officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Hanson will spend a few weeks on the coast.

DOINGS OF THE MOTHER

Splendid Sentiments Expressed Upon Subjects Handled by Speakers.

ONE DISAPPOINTMENT IN THE PROGRAM.

Mrs. Corinne T. Hewes of Chicago Was Not Present to Take Part This Morning, but in Expected room.

There was one disappointment experienced at the session of the Mothers' Congress held in the Assembly Hall this morning, and that was due to the absence of Mrs. Corinne T. Hewes, of Chicago, and the consequent omission of the part that only was to have taken in the session of practical nature, which, by the arrangement of the committee, was to follow Mrs. Hewes's address. In reference to this matter it is thought by many people, and the handling of the subject so cited to the present speakers will add a great deal of study and extensive research, and, assuming to not a disappointed one of importance in consequence.

The theme, "Great Lives of My Sex," was good, and other papers, Mrs. Brigham Young's on "Some Principles of Discipline," the subject given her, and covering some "The Pioneer of the Church Pioneers," by Mrs. Rachel R. Ballantyne, "Mormon Pioneers," by Mrs. J. C. Warner, of Park city, and "The Kindergarten and Other Progress," by Miss Tessie Brown, of Ogden, were very highly interesting and valuable. Much food for thought in these pioneer papers, and the handling of the subject by the ladies, it would be a good thing for many of the mothers to read, and to attend the sessions of the congress, for instance, if they could, and bring out in the subjects that will are certainly of great interest and value. The paper of Mrs. Ballantyne, "The Foundations of the Child," the absence from which Mrs. Hewes was to have contributed her thoughts, was omitted, and the delegates required that they were unfortunate in the absence of the lady, whose part in the program was anticipated with satisfaction.

The Afternoon.

At the session which commenced at 2 o'clock the afternoon, the subject of "Fraternalism" was spoken upon by Mrs. Lily B. Lane, Mrs. Sarah E. Hewitt took up "Obedience," Mrs. Cheney H. Cleaves handled "Humanitarianism," "Heredity" received attention from Mrs. Mary Hood of Mt. Pleasant, and Mrs. E. E. Shepard spoke about the "Mother as a Scientist." As in the morning session, all the subjects were beautifully handled, as was a group of kindergarten songs by Miss Lizzie Irvin.

Miss Mary C. May presided at this morning's session and Mrs. Jacquette Perry wielded the gavel during the afternoon.

Tonight's Session.

Mrs. Martha H. Zerlaupp will conduct this evening's meeting through the program, in which no changes have as yet been announced, and which is as follows:

Hymn, Battle Hymn of the Republic.
Prayer ..... Rev. Angie M. Cannon
Opening Address ..... Mrs. Ellen M. Harrison, Chicago
Relationship ..... Mrs. Mary Mumford, Phila.
Are Marts Immoral ..... Mrs. Nellie Piper-Pomeroy
The Child and the Country ..... Mrs. Martha Holmes, Omaha
The Child—An Interpretation ..... Mrs. Rachel Holmes, Omaha

Tomorrow.

There will be two sessions of the congress tomorrow, one at 10 a.m. and the other at 2:30 p. m. There will also be a business meeting of ladies in the afternoon and a reception at the residence of Mrs. E. E. Richards, 12 A street, at 8:30 in the evening.

Last Night's Session.

There were about 400 visitors and delegates present at the session of the Mothers' Congress in the Assembly Hall last night. The hall was nicely decorated with banners and mottoes and flowers. Bishop Leonard opened the session by leading in the Lord's prayer. The whole audience joined in the repetition, and then he as chairman in behalf of the mayor and city of the United States.

C. S. Varian delivered an address of welcome, which was replied to by Mrs. Mary Mumford of Philadelphia, other speakers during the evening were Mrs. Amanda Gibson of Kansas City, Mrs. D. O. Hilmer Jr. of Denver, Mrs. Maggie Tupper Tyler of Denver, Rev. J. Ross and Philippa of Los Angeles, Mrs. C. E. Allen, Mrs. Helen M. Ingersoll, who sang a lullaby and Professor Mary C. May read a paper on Professional Training.

AMUSEMENTS.

The plaudits heard ringing in the ears of Miss Minnie Dupree in the Unity last night were a double tribute, past and present alike. Miss Dupree is to be congratulated upon the excellence of the production, the admirable work of the leading man and the further fact that no matter were allowed to drag long enough for it would be extremely difficult to say which acquitted himself or herself the best. The performance was composed of little more than an hour and three fourths otherwise, and it was so constructed that the audience at the production, the admirable work of the leading man and the further fact that no matter were allowed to drag long enough for it would be extremely difficult to say which acquitted himself or herself the best. The performance was composed of little more than an hour and three fourths otherwise, and it was so constructed that the audience would have had very gratifying to their entertainer, Miss Dupree, if only the "Hand in Glove" had been the only song in little Dot Sweet, as Lonsdale in the play, to be sung, and the audience would have had the pleasure of hearing the sweet little Dot sing "Hand in Glove" with
