THREE MEN LYNCHED

A Kansas Mob Make Short Work of a Murderous Job.

SUPPOSED MURDERERS KILLED.

They Are Taken from Jail and Hung to a Bridge.—No Officers Aware of the Proceedings.

BURDELL, Kan., Jan. 14.—Last night a mob of about twenty men entered the jail, took out S. G. Burton, Wm. Gay and his son, John Gay, and hung the trio. About midnight the residents of the north part of town heard a party of fifteen or twenty horsemen come in from the north, who left their horses at the stockyards, where the plans were arranged and the party proceeded to the jail. No officers were around or even were aware of what was going on until early this morning. In the jail were two steel cells, in which the prisoners were confined. Guards were placed about the jail, and it was but the work of a moment for the mob to gain an entrance. About this time Burton gave a few loud yells and asked what was wanted with him. The mob began to break the locks of the jail with sledge hammers.

Burton was the first one taken out and proceeded to the spot selected for the lynching and left under guard, the balance of the party returning and joining the guards watching the jail. The two Gays were then marched to the bridge where Burton had been left. Ropes were placed around their necks and each given a chance to speak. Burton said he could tell lots about his connection with stealing cattle, selling whisky and other things, but when asked to tell about the Dinning murder replied, "No, sir."

Young Gay made a prayer and said Burton had killed Dinning with an ax. Old man Gay stated: "We were led into this." The leaders then slapped their hands three times, and, quick as a flash, all three were pushed off the bridge. The Gays evidently died from strangulation, but the noose on Burton's neck slipped around up over the chin and he was heard to breathe heavily for a moment, when several shots were fired into his body. Each of the others also had a bullet sent into him.

The mob then left as quietly as they came, going north. The crime for which the men were lynched was the killing of Fred Dinning in July last, on Burton's place, about twenty miles northeast of this city.

The Denver Legislature.

DENVER, Jan. 13.—After debating the question of adjournment of the extra session of the legislature all day the house refused tonight, by a vote of 23 to 28, to adjourn sine die. The senate is overwhelmingly against the extra session being continued, and while it cannot adjourn without the concurrence of the house, it can defeat any legislation.

SANTA FE EMPLOYES.

No Wages Since Last October and Consequent Distress.

DENVER, Jan. 14.—A committee of Santa Fe railroad employes from La Junta, Colo., inform Governor Waite that the engineers, conductors, brakemen, switchmen and trackmen of all grades on the western division of the road have received no salary since last October, and many of the men and their families are on the verge of starvation.

Governor Waite laid the matter before Judge Hallett today, and the Judge declined to present the matter by letter to the receivers and request them to take immediate action. A communication from Governor Waite will accompany the letter of Judge Hallett.

In a Bed of Cinders.

POMEROY, O., Jan. 14.—A dead man found in a bed of burning cinders at Clifton, W. Va., yesterday, is thought to be Henry Waltonbrinck, of Coal Valley, Allegheny county, Pennsylvania. He was suffocated by gas, having fallen into the fire while going to the ferry. This bed of fire is on the site of the old Clifton nailworks, and is an acre in extent and sixteen feet thick, with a thin crust, through which the flames burst out and light up the town at night. The gas from it makes life a burden to the inhabitants.

A Veteran Editor Dead.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 14. — Herman Sigel, the oldest editor in point of service in the United States, died, aged 84. He had been editor-in-chief of the Abend Post, this city, three years, but has been connected with the Milwaukee papers nearly twenty-five years.

Honoring Vaillant.

PARIS, Jan. 14. — The appeal of eighty deputies for commutation of the death sentence of Vaillant has been sent unopened from the Palais de Elysees to the pardon committee. Duchess d'Uzes is interesting herself in behalf of Vaillant's daughter, so that the young girl may not suffer by her father's fate. An anarchist meeting was held last evening (Sunday) at Lyons. A thousand people were present. Vaillant was proclaimed honorary chairman.

Discontent in India.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—A dispatch to the Times from Calcutta says the government's refusal to indicate its intentions in regard to silver is causing general disappointment and an unfavorable influence upon exchange, which, for the first time in many months, has fallen below 15¼.

THE PRIZE FIGHTERS.

Corbett's Compliments to His Antagonist.

BUFFALO, Jan. 15.—Corbett has written a letter to the Commercial, in which he says: "The Duval plan has the had to jolly Mitchell like a two-year-old baby to get him here at all. He insists on knowing the place of the fight ahead, so he can post the authorities. He insisted on fighting at Roby because he knew the impossibility there, and would not sign at Coney Island till he had inside information that the contest would not be allowed. He would not go to New Orleans until certain that the governor would interfere. He did not come to Florida until Governor Mitchell was on record as positively opposed to the match. I don't think Mitchell tricky or smart; he is simply a confidence man, who gulls his friends, and if he should ever sum up courage to meet me in the ring, an event I look for with a great deal of pleasure, you may rest assured that his money will be on Corbett to win, thus throwing down his friends, as he has always done."

The Treasury Situation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The position which confronts the Administration is one which they have decided to handle with promptness. All the available money now in the treasury consists of the so-called "gold reserve," which has now been invaded to the extent of $20,000,000, and by the first of the month the department believes the total amount will have been reduced to $65,000,000. Such a situation, it is thought, will again start a movement of gold towards Europe, which would still further reduce the amount of gold held by the United States.

Carlisle prefers that Congress should deal with this matter, but if the national legislature fails to show any indication that it intends to aid the secretary of the treasury, it is known that he will be forced to avail himself of the authority granted him by the act of 1875 and issue the bonds necessary to replenish the reserve.

Desperadoes Killed.

WESTON, W. Va., Jan. 14.—Information was received here this afternoon of the apprehension of Calvert and Hamuel Flemming, two notorious outlaws, for whom the state of Virginia offers a reward of $2000 and the county $500. The Flemming brothers Saturday evening stopped at the store of John Boggs. While they were engaged in making purchases at the store the officers came in and demanded an immediate surrender. The desperadoes resisted arrest, and opened fire. Their shots were returned by the officers and a fierce conflict ensued. Calvert Flemming was killed outright and his brother, Hamuel, mortally wounded. He received three shots in the left breast. He is still alive, but cannot recover. The two officers, John H. Branham and Doc Nunnell, were seriously wounded.

The Great Fight.

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 14.—Another rumor is current as to the method the Duval Club will pursue in preventing the governor from interfering with the Corbett-Mitchell contest. It is conceded that the means employed by Governor Mitchell, should he decided to stop the contest, will be to order the sheriff to inform the executive whether the county authorities will be able to cope with the threatened disturbance, and if the aid of the militia is necessary. It is rumored, however, that a day or so before the contest, the Duval Club will apply to Judge Call, circuit court, for an injunction restraining the sheriff from interfering in any way with the contest. If the injunction is granted, it will be impossible for the governor to act, as by the laws of Florida he is not empowered to order out the militia without a call from the sheriff of the county.

The Death of a Statesman.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—The French statesman, Waddington, was ill several days previous to his death. Friday night last he suffered congestion of the brain while seated in his study. Thenceforth until he died he was unconscious.

Bismarck Not Well.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—A Berlin dispatch to the Standard says Bismarck's health is reported not quite satisfactory. Besides the old gastric disorder, he has suffered recently from influenza.

Chinese Roasted to Death.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—The Pacific Mail steamship City of Pekin brought details from Ningpo of one of the most terrible fires on record, which occurred in the big temple of that city December 8th, and caused the death of nearly 300 women and children. It appears that the annual theatrical performance of the first of the eleventh moon, in honor of the gods, was being given in the temple, and was attended by upwards of 400 people. Some were trampled to death, others jumped out of the windows and were either killed or so badly injured that they were unable to escape the flames and so perished, while others passively awaited their fate.

The Italian Insurrection.

CARRARA, Jan. 14.—An armed band of discontented citizens barricaded the main road to Massa di Carrar and attacked the mounted patrol of gendarmes. They next stormed the customs barracks and disarmed the officials. Two gendarmes were killed and another wounded.

Cleansing the Separator.

Hot water, soda and a stiff scrubbing brush will do the business. Two correspondents of The Rural New Yorker give their respective methods as follows:

After the milk has run through the machine pour warm water through till it begins to come out clear; then take the bowl apart and wash the inside and inside fixtures in water in which has been dissolved a small quantity of soda, scrubbing the parts with a brush—not a soft paint brush, but a stiff one made for the purpose. Cream can be handled all right in the hottest weather without ice if you have plenty of cold water. When the cream is separated, run it into common shotgun cans and immediately set them in water which will cool the cream down to 60 degrees or a little below. Held at that temperature, it ought to keep sweet for 48 hours. It is better to mix before it becomes sour, but if this is not done before it should be mixed at least before churning so as to insure a perfectly even ripening of the whole, for this is absolutely necessary to get an exhaustive churning. For the past two years I have used a farm separator in my dairy. The milk is separated at the barn as fast as it is milked from the cows. Doing as I have stated, no matter time is enough to clean the separator by one who is used to it. We have water from a well at a temperature of 50 degrees, pumped with a windmill, and have no trouble at all in handling the cream.—C. F. Goodrich.

I use hot water and soda, and with a stick and rag the cleansing of the bowl is quickly done. The bowl is then rinsed in cold water and dried until wanted for the next separation. I have had no experience in handling separators and butter without ice and, would not attempt it. If the C. S. separators are operated under the directions sent out with each machine, there will be no trouble. My experience is that all vessels after being used for milk should be rinsed with cold water and soap or hot water and soda, rinsed in cold water and aired until wanted.—W. H. Lawson.

FOREIGN EVENTS REVIEW.

Further Developments in the Hawaiian Affairs.

The Hawaiian Situation.—An Argentine Anarchist Plot.—The South American War.—In Europe.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—From statements made by the Examiner's Honolulu correspondent, it would appear that representatives of the United States government, either at Honolulu or in America, may have broken faith with President Dole. Dole occupied nearly five days in formulating the document. Willis was exceedingly anxious to have the answer. A rumor reached him that the reply was ready, and I was informed by one close to the administration that Willis sent semi-official information that an early reply would greatly favor, whereupon Dole called upon the minister December 23rd and frankly stated that the answer would not be delivered until the arrival of a vessel by which the provisional government could send a dispatch to the United States simultaneously with the departure of the Corwin.

After considering the question in every light, the minister agreed that the Corwin might also carry dispatches for the provisional government, whereupon a special session of the cabinet was summoned, and the president's reply approved without changes and sent to Willis, who dispatched the Corwin at an early hour Sunday morning, December 24.

It is clear that no dispatches were delivered by the Corwin to the provisional government's representatives in America.

The Examiner correspondent also has this to say of Liliuokalani's physical condition: The sudden death of Queen Liliuokalani has not hitherto been counted as one of the possibilities in the Hawaiian problem, but it is likely to occur at any moment, as those close to her have admitted. It is no secret that the queen has valvular trouble of the heart, but it is not widely known that severe and prolonged smothering spells have lately come upon her with increasing frequency, greatly to the discouragement of those in attendance upon her. The details of her illness are not announced, and every precaution has been taken to avoid the publication of any facts concerning her health, but there was much alarm and hastening to and fro last night.

Anarchists in the Argentine.

BUENOS AYRES, Jan. 13.—An anarchist plot was uncovered at Rosario, one of the chief commercial towns in the Argentine Republic. It included the destruction by dynamite of the Olympic theater.

FROM BRAZIL.

A Government Vessel Sent out of Harm's Way.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—[Copyrighted by the Associated Press.]—A letter from the Associated Press correspondent at Pernambuco, December 31, says the Brazilian government guard ship, Parnahyba, was sent north suddenly upon the plea that her services were needed in order to suppress an insurrection of convicts upon an island used as a convict settlement, but the departure of the ship from Pernambuco was really ordered for fear she would join the rebel fleet.

THE REBELS DESERTING.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 14.—[Copyrighted by the Associated Press.]—The news received in this city from the south is of a character most encouraging to the Brazilian government and disheartening to the insurgent admiral. The serious illness of Mello, now on board the Republica, has had an apparent disastrous effect upon the insurgent forces in the southern part of the republic.

In the Rio Grande do Sul the insurgents have raised the siege of Bage and have left the city in triumphant possession of the government garrison. Discontent is said to prevail and fever is also thinning the insurgent army.

It is very probable that this news will lead to greater activity than ever on the part of Peixoto, and a battle between his troops and the insurgent squadron and forts of a decisive character will be fought within a very short time.

War and Coffee Crops.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The Herald's special from Managua says: The Nicaraguan administration is becoming alarmed over the present aspect of the war situation. It fears to allow its forces to advance further into the territory of Honduras, because Salvador is massing troops on the frontier immediately to the rear of the region the invaders occupy.

The coffee crop is suffering meantime, and much of it has been lost through the scarcity of pickers, who have gone with the troops.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

A Case of St. Vitus Dance Cured, Demonstrating the Skill of the Physicians of the Zion Medical & Surgical Institute.

The $5 Rate for All Diseases Closes Feb. 1st.—Nervous and Chronic Diseases a Specialty.

George Stan on, Esq., a prominent business man of Payson City, Utah, in conversation with the writer, said: "My little son, Raymond, was a great sufferer when I consulted Drs. Shores & Shores of the Zion Medical and Surgical institute, located 34 East 2nd South St., Salt Lake City. After an examination the doctors informed me his disease was nervous St. Vitus dance, and I asked him the question, Can he be cured? The doctors answered me with an unqualified yes, and it gives me great pleasure to state that after two months' treatment by these eminent specialists in chronic and nervous diseases that he was entirely cured. He commenced to get better from the first. My little boy's case was certainly a bad one. He began to not bad, and was peevish and fretful, his temper was irritable, his sleep was disturbed by disagreeable dreams. He was very fidgety and nervous, could not sit still. The muscles of the face would twitch, his gait was peculiar, being slow and shuffling. No matter where the hand was placed it could not be kept steady. So grave were all these symptoms that it seems almost a miracle that he was restored to perfect health in so short a time.

"I heartily recommend Drs. Shores & Shores."

The above case is one of special interest to parents. Many children are subject to the same nervous symptoms, put in a milder form. This should never be neglected. All such cases, if taken in the early stages, can be cured. Drs. Shores & Shores have proved this fact in the case of little Raymond Stanton.

REMEMBER,

All patients who apply for treatment during this month will be treated until cured for $5 a month, medicines furnished FREE.
