A NEW DEPARTURE.

August B. Eder Takes Unto Himself a Wife and Leaves for San Francisco.

August B. Eder, the young attorney whose name has been disputed before the public for a week past, because of his having been arrested for embezzlement, is now brought into prominence by a new departure. Yesterday he took unto himself a wife in the person of Miss Isabelle Singgenette, to whom he was joined in the bonds of matrimony by the Rev. Clarence T. Brown. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's parents and was witnessed by only a few of the young couple's most intimate friends.

The groom's mother, at whose instigation he was arrested, was present, but his half-brother and fiancée whom he accused of having influenced his mother against him, were not among the invited guests. Shortly after the ceremony the pair left for San Francisco, where it is stated they may remain permanently, the young attorney having in view the casting of his lot with the legal profession of that great western metropolis.

Eder's case has been hanging fire in the police court during the week, but it came to the expected termination this morning, when his mother asked to have it dismissed and a motion to that effect by the prosecution, brought out an order so ancient that Mrs. Eder being required to pay the costs of court.

SUBMITTED A BID.

The Big Cottonwood Power Company Offers to Light the City—Other Propositions Locked For.

Committees Collister and O'Meara of the Council committee on improvements held a meeting in the committee rooms of the Council chamber last night, at which time there appeared before them representatives of the Big Cottonwood Power company, who submitted a bid for street lighting.

The meeting was behind closed doors and no information was given out as to the figures submitted by the bidders, but it is surmised that the bid is somewhat below the $10 mark as provided for in the company's franchise. The only reason for refusing to divulge the figures was in view of the fact that bids are expected from other parties, among whom are the Provo Canyon Power company and Walter Cameron, and it was thought best to keep the figures secret until bids were received from these parties. It is also expected that the Salt Lake and Ogden company will try their hands at it again and put in another bid.

The committee also held a short conference with Mr. T. A. Davis of the Provo company, who said that the power works started by L. L. Nunn in Provo canyon could probably be ready to furnish street lights in Salt Lake by October 1st, and asked whether the committee would entertain a bid. Mr. Davis was told to present his proposition, which he will probably do before the next meeting of the Council. The Nunn company is working seventy-five men on the ditch now. Its intention is to take out the water about ten miles up the canyon. A mile and a half below this point a temporary 2,000 horse-power plant, the machinery for which is now ready, will be put in, but ultimately a 10,000 horse-power plant will be built at a point about five miles below the intake.

The municipal lighting proposition also received attention from the improvement committee, the board of public works and the city engineer. The result was the appointment of City Engineer Kenny and Chairman Dickson of the board of public works to act as a sub-committee to make the necessary surveys on City Creek, which work will be attended to at once, and a report of it submitted to the Council, with estimates of the cost of putting in either a water power plant on City Creek or a steam plant in the city for the generation of electricity for street lighting purposes.

BICYCLE ORDINANCE REFERRED.

The cycle ordinance submitted to the Council by Dr. Dewey in behalf of the Wheel Wheel club, and over which so much discussion has been given vent to, was referred to that detail the city attorney, to whom the proposed ordinance was referred, reported adversely upon it, stating that the Council had no right to tax bicycles as such because of their being already taxed as personal property, and as the committee on streets thought this a sufficient objection to it, they deemed it legal and proper to strangle the obstreperous measure in its last resting place.

The Company Won.

The damage suit of Albert Swenson vs the Union Pacific came to an end in the United States district court yesterday afternoon. The plaintiff was a brakeman and was injured on March 5th, 1895, while attempting to remove one of the switch fastenings to the east switch.

His collar bone was broken and for this and other injuries he sued for $15,000. The jury returned a verdict for the defendants.

ATHLETIC ITEMS.

Case and Thompson to Sign for Another "Go"—the Williams-Sullivan Bill.

Arrangements have been practically completed for another Belle exhibition at the Salt Lake Athletic club rooms, between Dick Case and Bob Thompson, who stood up before each other on Monday night last for forty-four rounds through the longest fight ever "pulled off" in the State.

"Little Bob," says he wants another chance to "vindicate" himself and declares that if he gets it vindication will be certain. He has accordingly sent a challenge to Case to meet him in the ring at 145 pounds, while he himself will endeavor to climb up to 158. The challenge has been accepted and Case says he will sign articles of agreement on Tuesday next, the day following the Williams-Sullivan mill. The date of this "meeting" has not yet been decided upon.

The main feature of the program at the Athletic club on Monday night next will be the seven-round bout between Jim Williams and Jerky Jack Sullivan, whose pugilistic reputations seem to be somewhat after the order of Bob Fitzsimmons—whose trainer on was behind the Dakas battle.

A story is going the rounds to the effect that Case was subjected to an exposure a few nights ago, similar to that which many another pugilist has undergone before him—that of receiving a thorough drubbing from a man who does not make fighting a business, but who knows how to take care of himself when occasion requires. As you today Case gets into trouble in an East Temple street saloon near Third south, with the bartender, with the result that the latter closed in on him, threw him to the floor and during the scuffle which followed, handled him so severely that he has been absent from his usual haunts for some days past.

A GRATIFYING RECEPTION,

Accorded Five Elders in Lamar County, Alabama.

SULLIGENT, Lamar Co., Ala., April 17, 1896.

To the Editor:

Five of our Elders have just had a very enjoyable time among the people of Clem, this county, and we thought that perhaps a short account of the same might not be uninteresting to friends at home.

There is a private college at Clem conducted by a Mr. Walker, through whose courtesy we were accorded the use of the college building for holding meetings, and accordingly the news was circulated that the Latter-day Saint Elders would visit Sunday and Saturday evening, the 25th inst.

At the appointed hour we found the house crowded with eager listeners. After singing and praying by the writer, Elder Albert Matheson addressed the people in the history of our people, touching lightly on the principles of our religion. The attention was very attentive and a goodly degree of the spirit of God was enjoyed by the listeners. It was announced that we would hold meeting on the following day (Sunday) at which time, and again we were rewarded the pleasure of meeting a crowded house. The subject of the Holy Ghost was dwelt upon and its truths were laid open in plainness and power, under the influence of the spirit of God.

At the close of the meeting many expressed themselves as being well pleased with the doctrine advanced. The Elders were invited to different places for dinner, Elders Matheson and Mellinger being the guests of the writer's family. A very pleasant conversation was had with these educated people, and it afforded the Elders much pleasure in giving them correct information respecting the efforts of our Church and the history of our people, subject, they assured us, of which they had a tolerably good idea. We were treated right royally and felt to thank God that we were permitted to mingle with this class of people, as we believe that making such our friends will have a strong bearing in our favor. This college is rendered and intended to be the foremost institution of learning in this county. Its founder, Prof. Walker, formerly presided over the college at Nashville, where were students from Germany, France and Greece, and students from fifteen of the states of our Union.

In the afternoon (Sunday) we were called upon by a Mr. Kirk who desired us to hold meeting in his house. His wife, he said, had attended our meeting on Saturday evening and had become very much interested and desired to hear us again. We were pleased to comply with his desire and an interesting meeting was held with about twenty persons present. Elders Black and Simpson discoursed on the first principles. We were kindly invited to stop with the people and to call on them when we came this way again. Some of them seemed especially struck with a remark made by Elder Brown to the effect that the Gospel was not to be sold and that we preached without price or scrip. This is so different from the customs of the world and yet so consistent with the doctrines of Christ, that it cannot help attracting attention from the thinking populace.

With hopes of yet presenting the plan of life and salvation to many of the honest in heart of this land, we are,

Your brothers in the Gospel,
ALBERT MATHESON,
JOSEPH F. MELLINGER.
