LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Thermometer.—The mercury stood 93°, this afternoon.

Obsequies.—The funeral services over the remains of Elder J. Evans will take place to-morrow at 10 a. m., at the 7th Ward Assembly Rooms. The members of the Tabernacle choir are requested to be present.

The Tables Turned.—The cricket match yesterday between the City boys and the Fort Douglas eleven, was won by the former with a score of 57 to 87.

Bad on the Eyes.—The smoke in the atmosphere is very troublesome to the eyesight. Most every one we meet complain of a defective vision. We trust there is no exception in the cases of those who first set fire to the timber.

Twenty-Eight to Three.—This was the score yesterday afternoon at the close of the game between the Rochester and the Deserets, the visitors, as before, coming out a long way ahead. The Deserets seemed to stand in chance at all in the hands of their doughty opponents, the ineffectual struggle throughout reminding one of the story of the "Giant and the Brave Little Tailor." Only the brave little tailor didn't get away with the giant this time.

Many Thanks.—Sister Thompson, of the 17th Ward, whose haystack and shed were burned down, yesterday, desires to express her heartfelt thanks to the Fire Brigade and all others who strove so manfully, though vainly, to save her property from the flames. She wishes especially to acknowledge her appreciation of the strenuous effort made by Mr. Russell, a fireman, who ran so hard to reach the scene of the fire with the hose cart, that he fell overpowered by the exertion, while on the way, and was with difficulty resuscitated.

Jas. McKee vs. Thos. Speakman et al; continued for sixteen days time.

Henry Collins vs. Owen Dix; time for answering extended thirty days.

Henry Barnes vs. The Utah Coal Mining and Coke Company; hearing on motion for judgment on report of referee resumed. Argument in progress.

"Dispatch" Notes.—Mr. Daniel Murdock, an aged Weber County pioneer, died yesterday forenoon at his residence in Wilson's lane, west of Weber river.

Louis Johnson, a Swedish emigrant on the railroad at Laramie, was instantly killed last Wednesday, by being accidentally thrown from a cattle train while it was backing up to be loaded. Six cars ran over him.

Phillip Carrigan (not Garrigan), the clothes thief at Ogden, was arraigned yesterday morning before Justice Middleton, found guilty of the charge made and fined $100 and costs. Mr. Jones, the father, not the suit back, nearly as good over, with the exception of the coat, which Carrigan had badly torn, purposely, on being requested to take it off by Officer Brown before the trial.

Carrigan will work out his fine at the rate of $1 per day.

The Upler Case.—From the Junction, we learn that Mr. Upler (not Uhler), the gentleman whose wife attempted to elope with another man, has forgiven his penitent spouse and taken her home to his heart again.

Deputy Marshal Young, of Ogden, is said to have endeavored to injure Sheriff Brown in this matter, by representing to Mr. Upler, while the Sheriff was trying to regain possession of the fugitive wife and the $3,000, that he (Brown) would throw the matter into the "Mormon" courts and that it would cost Upler at least $500 to recover his property. Mr. Upler comes out in the Junction this morning with a card, asserting such to have been Young's representation to him, and vindicating Mr. Brown from the mean aspersion sought to be thrown upon his character. Young's motive is said to have been a selfish one, as he wanted the job of recognizing the property himself.

The Bar Meeting.—As announced in the News last evening, a meeting of the legal fraternity of the Third District Court was held at 10 o'clock this morning. On motion, Judge Tilford took the chair and Mr. A. S. Patterson acted as secretary. The chairman stated the object of the meeting to be to take steps with a view to reorganizing the judicial system of Utah. All present felt the evils of the present system and the desirability of concerting measures to obviate those evils. He invited suggestions and discussion upon the subject.

Mr. Thos. Marshall then presented the following draft of a bill, as embodying his views of the case:

An Act to provide for proper courts in and for the Territory of Utah.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled:

Section 1.—That the Supreme Court of the Territory of Utah shall consist of a Chief Justice and three Associate Justices, any three of whom shall constitute a quorum, and who shall hold at least two terms at the seat of government of said Territory, annually, and they shall respectively hold their offices during the period of four years or until their successors are appointed and qualified.

2nd.—A District Court shall be held in each of the judicial districts of the Territory by one or more of the Justices of the Supreme Court, as often as is now provided by law, and at such times and places as are now fixed for the purpose, until changed by the Governor of said Territory. And that the Governor shall have power by proclamation, to change from time to time, the times and places of holding the District Courts in the several districts; two of such Justices shall be assigned by the Governor to the Third Judicial District; that each of them shall hold a District Court therein at Salt Lake City, but either may hold the Court in the other's place, at such other request, and any of said Justices may act in the place of any other Justice at such Justice's request.

3.—The District Courts held by the two Justices in the Third Judicial District shall be deemed one and the same Court, and the business of said District may be brought therefor, under such regulations as the Justices of that District shall adopt, but subject however to any regulations which the Supreme Court of said Territory may by rule prescribe.

4th.—No member of the Supreme Court shall sit, in the exercise of its appellate jurisdiction, on the hearing, or participation in the decision, of any order, judgment or decree made or rendered by him in the District Court, or as District Judge, provided, that whenever, in the opinion of the full bench, more than one member would be excluded in any particular case, by the operations of this provision, then it shall not apply.

Judge Sutherland read a bill similar in its provisions to this, and made remarks supporting his views. He did not favor holding the district court at all times at Salt Lake City, as contingencies might arise demanding sessions at other points.

Judge Hoge did not fully approve of either of the proposed bills, but for the sake of bringing the matter up for discussion, moved the adoption of Mr. Marshall's. This was followed by remarks from Judges Rosborough, Tilford and Snow, the last advocating, instead of the appointment of two judges to the Third District, the creating of a fourth district. The chairman suggested the advisability of appointing a committee to consider the matter and report before final action was taken. It was then moved a committee of five be appointed to whom both proposed bills should be referred, but before it was carried, two amendments were made, enlarging the committee to seven, and referring the whole subject to them for consideration.

Col. Merritt then offered the following proposed amendment to the jury law:

Section 5.—That in the Third Judicial District the clerk of said District Court and the Probate Judge of the County in which said District Court is held, shall select and list four hundred names as the jury list for said district for each year, under the provisions and regulations as now provided by an act "in relation to courts and judicial officers in the Territory of Utah. Approved June 23, 1874."

This amendment duplicates the members of jurors now drawn, which is 200.

The committee appointed for the purpose of considering the matter and reporting at the next meeting were Judge Rosborough, Mr. Bennett, Mr. Marshall, Judge Sutherland, Mr. Dunne, Judge Suow and Mr. Maxwell. Mr. Dunne desiring to be excused on account of his limited knowledge of the merits of the case, he having been in Utah but a short time, Judge Van Zile was chosen to act in his place.

The meeting adjourned, to meet next Monday morning, at half-past nine o'clock.

The Opera Repeated.—The attendance at the Theatre last evening, was not so large as on the night previous, but was a fair house nevertheless. The performance was better than ever, the actors all showing increased ease and confidence from their experience before, which enabled them, in consequence, to sing and act more creditably. Miss Sherwin again sang the "Last Rose of Summer," and being encored, rendered "Home Sweet Home" in a manner equally excellent. The other performers were all up to the mark, as was the orchestra, which, under the direction of Professor Careless contributed largely to the pleasure of the audience and the general success of the opera. The series of performances just ended, rank side by side with other amateur productions we have had of a similar character, and the public, therefore, are well satisfied.

House Burned Down.—Our Toledo correspondent, S. S., writes that on the 17th inst., the house of Boris Patrick, of that place, was burned to the ground with most of the furniture. The cause was a smoldering fire that flew out of the stove into a coal oil can, while the inmates of the house were attending to some out-door duties.

For Denver.—The Deserets left for Denver this morning, to contest with the base ball clubs of that city.

Sunday Services.—Sunday schools in session at 10 a. m.; meeting in the Tabernacle at 2 p. m., and in the various wards in the evening as usual.

Home missionaries will preach in the country.

The Gipsy's Curse.—The Logan Leader says that one of the gipsy fortune tellers that infest that place "called at a house in the lower part of town a few days since, and asked a young lady to have her fortune told. The girl sensibly refused; and then the gipsy woman asked to have some clothes washed, offering to tell a fortune in return for this service. Finding herself still refused, the old hag began to threaten, among other things saying that she would curse the young lady unless she complied with the insolent request. Another denial brought forth the expressions, 'You shall never marry.' Still the brave girl refused! 'You shall wither and die, like a flower beneath the scorching rays of the summer sun.' Then the soothsayer took her departure, with her bundle of unwashed clothing. To all outward appearance the young lady has not withered much; and probably the young men call to see her with just as much pleasure and with just as serious intentions as if she were not to die unmarried."

Too Much Noise.—One of the annoying features at an amateur performance is the uproar indulged in by the actors and supernumeraries behind the curtain, before its rise and between the acts. This was especially noticeable and especially disagreeable, Thursday and Friday evenings, just previous to the farcical in the opera of "Martha." Cracking of whips, laughing, loud talking and other foreign sounds, vied with the orchestra to entertain the audience, but unlike the latter, only succeeded in making it unpleasant for them. And then the one who rung up the curtain traversed the whole length of the stage and kept the bell going like a child with a noisy toy in his hand for the first time, trying to see how much noise he could get out of it. Very annoying and intelligent, no doubt, to those back of the curtain, but to those in front it gave the impression that a blind bull mule or some other eccentric animal was to be introduced in the farcical scene, and that the laughter, whip cracking, etc., were the accompanying requisites to the rehearsal then in progress.
