MUSCULAR SHARKEY

The Doughty Sailor Pugilist Who is to Meet Jim Williams

IN THIS CITY MONDAY NIGHT.

He is the Winner of Thirty-Three Battles and the Loser of None—Aspires to the World Championship.

Thomas Sharkey, that man of mighty muscle, elephantine strength, winner of thirty-three battles, loser of none, aspirant to the pugilistic championship of the world, who is to meet Jim Williams, the Utah fighter, in the Tunnel on Monday night next, arrived in Salt Lake from the coast this morning on his way to Gulcana, where, under the auspices of the Greater New York Athletic club, he is to measure science and strength with Peter Maher on May 31.

Mr. Sharkey is accompanied by his manager, D. J. Lynch. Both men are registered at the Knutsford and a News man interviewed them briefly this afternoon. In a muscular way Sharkey seems to be all that is claimed for him. That he is a hard fighter is proved by his record. By occupation Sharkey is a sailor, but quit that following several years ago for the more salutary and profitable calling of a pugilist. He has had thirty-three battles and is the winner of them all. He has lost none and fought one draw, with Alex Greggains, who on the 15th inst. is to meet Sullivan, the man defeated by Jim Williams. Sharkey's first fight was with Nick Burley, the Pacific coast heavy weight. The battle was pulled off in Honolulu.

Sharkey weighs 184 pounds stripped and says he expects to meet Maher at 174. The doughty fighter feels confident of winning both battles and, speaking of the Bob-Thompson-Lanigan-Sharkey-Maher affair in San Francisco on the 12th, he says he believes the latter will win. He declares he is a regular little whirlwind and concedes that the Salt Lake man is a terror.

Asked who was the gamest man he ever met, Sharkey immediately replied, "Jim Williams, I think, is the gamest man I ever fought." When it is remembered that he has fought Fitzsimmons, Greggains, Choynski and several other great men, the Sharkey idea, it will be readily seen that the cool complexion is rather important place in the rank of fighters.

Spring Medicine

Experience teaches the importance of special care of the health.

And deed among the important principles of hygiene and health is the science helped necessity of a good Spring Medicine.

Just as firmly established by the experience of millions of people, is the position fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla is "far and away" the best blood purifier and spring medicine ever produced.

The necessity is found in the impure condition of the blood at this season, owing to the close confinement and the effects of impure air in office, shop, school, factory, or farm; excessive eating and drinking, for rich and heavy food; late hours and social indulgences. With the blood thus clogged and impure, the feeling is one of lassitude.

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood, builds up and strengthens the nerves and tones the stomach. It is the nourishment of the whole body. In the office it is work, work, work. In the shop, energy, activity, the whole goes out of the body, the bowels are regulated, the appetite restored, the mind is refreshed and invigorated.

Don't wait till you are thoroughly sick before you begin to take a Spring Medicine.

Look the door before the horse is stolen.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now as a preventive and it will pay you a thousand dollars in health and strength through the coming summer.

"We always take several bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla in our family every spring as a tonic and blood purifier and we find that it overcomes that tired feeling and gives us strength and keeps us well all season." WM. BRUNS, 812 5th Ave., Peoria, Illinois.

Excellent Spring Medicine.

"For a number of years I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla in the spring, not for any particular ailment, but on general principles, that the system needs a tonic at this time, and I have always found Hood's Sarsaparilla a most excellent spring medicine." HENRY HANNER, Engineer, Pittsburg, Pennsylvania.

That Tired Feeling.

"I was troubled with that tired feeling all the spring. I purchased three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after using it I felt about half of it I was feeling well again. I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla to be an excellent blood purifier and tonic." MISS OLA E. MOULTON, Bangor, Illinois.

Boils on the Health.

"We take Hood's Sarsaparilla as a tonic in the spring. Two of our children had boils, and their blood was in a bad condition. Hood's Sarsaparilla built them up, and we have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla with much benefit." MRS. F. H. GARDNER, Pleasant Lake, Mass.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy anything else instead. There is no substitute for Hood's.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1, six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. The One True Blood Purifier.

"GUILTY AS CHARGED."

That is the Verdict Rendered in the Edson Case.

The Defendant Now in Jail in Default of $10,000 Bonds—To be Sentenced Monday.

Special to the News.

OGDEN, April 3, 1897.—About 8 o'clock last night, after an absence of two hours, the jury in the Edson case returned into court and rendered a verdict of "Guilty as charged in the information."

Edson was visibly agitated before the reading of the verdict, but upon receiving his late he relapsed into his normal state of coolness. His mother was present, and when the verdict was read she broke into tears and wept bitterly.

The prosecution moved that the bond be increased or that the defendant be taken into custody and asked for sentence. The bond was increased from $5,000 to $10,000, and it was being furnished the sum when the judge into custody of the sheriff. Mooney was the surety for sentence.

The defense made a plea of a motion for a new trial. It is understood that one of two of the jurors being out for a modification of the verdict to that effect, and with a doubt, and that the majority overruled them. It is rumored that all the jurors will sign the recommendation for mercy, which will be presented to the court, and that this recommendation would have been incorporated in the verdict had not the jurors believed it would have vitiated it.

THE OMAHA EXPOSITION.

Land-cap Features, Cost of Buildings, Applications for Space and Other Interesting Matters.

The board of lady managers, members of which were elected recently, will meet at Omaha April 6th and effect permanent organization. Members of the board were chosen in meetings of women in the various congressional districts. A president will be chosen from the membership.

The board of managers decided there shall be no official organ of the Trans-mississippi exposition of 1898, thus giving preference to regularly issued and long-established newspapers, and a hearty response to opening liberal space to the exposition.

The exposition grounds are known locally as the Ore Fair grounds, situated in the southern suburbs. Many acres adjoining will also be enclosed for the purpose of the exposition, affording ample area. The Belt Line (Missouri Pacific) runs along the north edge of the tract, while the main line of the Elkhorn (Northwestern) railway runs within a block of the exposition site. The great Burlington system, the Union Pacific and the lows lines may enter the grounds via the Belt Line, or extend their lower tracks. These trolley lines now run to the grounds, over perfectly level streets from the heart of the city, admitting of heavy trains and rapid transit. Steam cars may run every minute from the Webster street station of the Union depot at Tenth and Mason, and from either point the run can be made in ten minutes. Trolley cars make the run from the new government building at Sixteenth and Dodge in about ten minutes. The exposition grounds are most accessible. Ample transportation facilities can be readily provided.

John Urloch of New York, a landscape architect of national reputation, will determine the general plan of the landscape features and supervise the laying out of the grounds. The supervising architect will then be able to prepare a plan for the grouping of the main buildings. The following buildings have been determined upon:

Administration building, agriculture, horticulture and forestry building, mines and mining building (silver palace), manufactures and liberal arts building, machinery and electricity building, auditorium, transportation building, dairy and apiary building, railway transport building, live stock buildings and pavilion, poultry building.

The total cost of the buildings is estimated at $500,000, and the total cost of preparing the grounds is estimated at $300,000. Work will begin just as soon as preliminary plans can be made and contracts let.

The auditorium will be modeled after the wonderful Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City, a building reckoned far more beautiful. The plan contemplates two or more permanent pavilions. The government building will probably be one of these, the purpose of the exposition permanent being to promote the building after the exposition is over. It is also the purpose to have the auditorium a monument of permanent interest.

Applications for space at the exposition continue to pour into the department of agriculture and every day flattering showing has been made in the number of applications. The list of applications for space, already sign, amounts to 200 calls. Manager E. E. Bruce, of the department of exhibits, announces special prizes, consisting of six gold trophies, six silver medals and twenty bronze medals, to commemorate in each of the following classes: For the best display of an irrigating system in operation; for the best display of irrigated products; for the best display illustrating the process of the manufacture of beet root sugar; for the best display of manufactures from the beet root; for the best and two more lots of similar grass for other high class exhibits to be designated hereafter.

Manager A. L. Reed of the department of concessions and privileges has on file a large number of applications. The line which seems to be receiving the most attention is undoubtedly in the nature of which formed the immortal Midway Pleasure at the World's Fair. There will be no lack of novelties at the exposition of 1898.

The Chicago & Northwestern railway has announced a subscription of $50,000 to the stock of the Trans-mississippi and International exposition to be held at Omaha next year. The Burlington road now more than a month ago subscribed $50,000. The Rock Island and Chicago, Union Pacific each subscribe $25,000; the Missouri Pacific, $20,000, and the Milwaukee $20,000. The total stock subscriptions to date amount to $300,000, and the promised subscriptions of the railways will raise the total to $500,000.

E. L. Lindley, manager of the department of ways and streets, expects to secure at least $1,000,000 in stock subscriptions.

Congress has appropriated $200,000 to defray the expenses of the national exhibit. The government will erect a great building for its exhibit.

The state of Nebraska has appropriated $100,000, while Ontario and Dominion only will vote $100,000 in aid of the exposition. Utah has appropriated $50,000 for an exhibit at the exposition, and Montana will spend $50,000 for the same purpose. New Mexico's appropriation, with private subscriptions from that territory, will amount to not less than $50,000. Appropriation bills are pending in most of the legislatures in states and territories west of the Mississippi river.

The beginning of work on the grounds will be formally celebrated on Arbor day, April 22nd.

The exposition will open June 1, and close November 1, 1898.

Sheets Knocked Out.

The next time Detective Steele goes to arrest a drunken woman, he won't go. Why? Because last evening he got the worst of the deal when in the act of conveying Alice Moore, nicknamed Wild Cat, to the police station in the patrol wagon. Steele and Raleigh were called down to Victoria avenue south to locate an Sixth between Third and Fourth South streets to quell the disturbance of a woman who was making night hideous with her yells. They went down post-haste in the patrol wagon and handcuffed the woman into it in such order. Then Steele had to get into the wagon and pushed the woman along so as to make room. No sooner had the officer then had his hands on her than she turned with a Filipino moro blow which precipitated the officer backwards from the "jiggle-box" into the mud. Steele says it cost him a $25 suit of clothes, but he takes consolation from the fact that none of the other officers date tackle her. Also, who is a woman who could get behind "Sam Jim" from the ground up," was in the police court this morning and tearfully pleaded guilty to charges of drunkenness and disturbance of the peace. The former cost her $10, the latter $15.
