LOCAL BRIEFS.

Last night has established a record as the coldest night of the winter.

The fact that Valentine's Day is at hand is abundantly testified to by displays in the stationers' windows.

Frosted combs and wattles are more prevalent than profitable or popular among poultry in the present cold snap.

In a number of schools today, the pupils had a rather chilly time, in spite of the most vigorous efforts of firemen to keep up a sufficient supply of heat.

There is a man in Farmington who says he does not care a cent for Mardi Gras—that he is entirely out of date theatrically. He also has considerable property, Lucky man.

Livestock Agent Hudnutt of the Midland left this morning for the Sanpete valley in company with several Iowa buyers to pick up a train load of cattle.

Alden Crochron of this city has received a patent for a design for a pocket for grease pots. The round man's inventive genius has developed a very clever device for the convenience of teamsters and others who have vehicles for which it is necessary to carry a lubricant.

The meeting of the Beautiful Irrigation company, which was to have been held at South Bountiful at 2 p. m. today was postponed to a later hour—2:30 p. m. Directors and officers are to be elected this afternoon, provided a sufficient amount of stock is represented.

Coyote-hunting is quite a popular pastime in northern Davis county, particularly in the vicinity of Kaysville. Up to the present time, however, there does not appear to have been such good success as last year, since the fourth and last county bounty came out this far, returned with but one carcass-one beast as a prize. There may be some more successful work, now that there has been a heavy fall of snow.

Leo Hollander, the owner and manager of the Hollander poetry store, filed a petition in bankruptcy late Saturday afternoon in the Federal court here. Mr. Hollander made an assignment in 1895 and has since been managing H. Hollander's business on East Temple street. The liabilities amount to $15,475.90. Of this $1,000 is secured. There are no assets, except what is covered by exemptions.

The lecture on National Progress given by Judge W. H. King at the Ninth ward assembly rooms last night was listened to by an appreciative audience. After going over the early history of the United States and other nations, he spoke of the territorial expansion of this country. He expressed himself in favor of the idea of expansion which he claimed did not conflict with the Constitution. In speaking of the Philippines he gave it as his opinion that the treaty should be ratified and that it was the duty of the United States to govern those people until such time as they were fit for self-government. He was given an ovation by the members of the Young Men and Young Ladies' Mutual Improvement associations.

SHOOTING OF BANKER STOUTT.

The Prosecution Files Information Against Ex-Cashier Jones,

FOR ATTEMPTED MURDER.

Trial Will Take Place Latter Part of Present Month or Early in March —Allegations as Set Out.

Another move was made for the prosecution in the Stoutt shooting case today by the filing of an information with the clerk of the Third district, charging A. H. Jones, ex-cashier of the Utah National bank, with the crime of attempted murder.

Jones will be formally arraigned some time within the next two weeks, though his trial will not take place until about the middle of March.

The case already set will take until the 20th inst., when Judge Norrell goes to Coalville, expecting to return in about two weeks later. It is expected that shortly afterwards Jones will be placed on trial, unless something unforeseen occurs to prevent it.

The defendant's attorney, Arthur Brown, will, it is understood, move to quash the information on the grounds that Jones was not given a preliminary hearing before a committing magistrate. Mr. Brown bases his argument on the supposition that the prosecution suppressed certain testimony before Justice McMaster, which it intends to use against the defendant at the regular trial.

The information in full reads as follows:

In the district court of the Third judicial district of the state of Utah, in and for the county of Salt Lake.

The State of Utah vs A. H. Jones, defendant.

A. H. Jones having heretofore been duly committed by Alexander McMaster, a committing magistrate of this county, to answer to this charge, to accused by Graham F. Putnam, county attorney, prosecuting attorney for the county of Salt Lake, State of Utah, in the information, of the crime of assault with intent to commit murder, as follows:

That the said A. H. Jones on the 9th day of December, A. D. 1898, at the county of Salt Lake, State of Utah, with a certain gun, commonly called a revolver, loaded with gunpowder and leaden bullets, which he then and there had and held in his hand, unlawfully and feloniously did make an assault on one Joseph M. Stoutt, and at and against the body of him, the said Joseph M. Stoutt, did unlawfully and feloniously discharge the said loaded gun, thereby, and by striking him with one of the said leaden bullets, grievously wounding the said Joseph M. Stoutt, with intent then and there unlawfully, feloniously and of his malice aforethought to kill and murder him, the said Joseph M. Stoutt, contrary to the form and statute in such case made and provided and against the peace and dignity of the State of Utah.

GRAHAM F. PUTNAM,
County and Prosecuting Attorney, for the County of Salt Lake, State of Utah, by NAT VAN COTT, Deputy.

The names of the prosecution's witnesses, as endorsed on the back of the information, are as follows:

Joseph M. Stoutt, Donald Lochrie, Arthur Pratt, William Kraut, J. C. Sims, Joseph McFall, Mrs. Hulda Moench, Florence Donahue, Marion Gillespie and George A. Steele.

TIMBER RESERVE QUESTION

Great Interest Concerning It in Uintah County.

Maps and Data Sent to the Legislature Mutual Lecture Series—Shipments of Copper Ore.

Vernal, Utah, Feb. 2, 1899.

To the Editor:

The farmers of Uintah county express satisfaction over the heavy snow fall of today. There has been considerable anxiety lest the water supply should be short this season as the snow-fall has been light this winter both in the valley and in the mountains, but the prospect is more favorable now.

Great interest is shown here in regard to the new timber reserve question. The present boundaries include the entire supply of pine timber in the county and if the timber should be deprived of its use it would work a great hardship, as lumber, lath, shingles, etc., would have to be hauled over land from Price, a distance of 125 miles over a bad road and at a great cost. Besides, firewood, logs, etc., cannot be obtained in the county. The sheep and cattle industries would also suffer greatly if the timber should be deprived of their summer range. The entire people of the county without exception, have been in favor of the reserve from its, and at a mass meeting held in Vernal last Saturday evening resolutions to that effect. A man has been made showing the proposed boundaries and data compiled showing the uses made of the timber in this county if the change is not made, and these were forwarded to Hon. Hardin Declaney from this district, for the purpose of getting the Legislature to memorialize Congress against the Reserve. I enclose a copy of the proposed boundaries include the sources of every stream in the county and we hesitate to think that the water supply would not be affected by the change. In fact these streams to be no good reason, which we can think, should not be made.

President H. S. Cottrell left for Salt Lake yesterday taking with him the data, affidavits, maps, etc., bearing on the timber reserve question.

The attorneys of counsel are from the famous Dyer mine are still being made in Price. The bill now up for consideration is for a tax. With a tax of 1-2 mill to facilitate the incorporation of the Utah county would become one of the great copper producers of the country.

WARD E. PATE.

TOO COLD TO KEEP SCHOOL.

Classes dismissed at the University today. A broken crew in the boiler which furnishes the heat for the buildings made it impossible for the firemen to keep the steam pressure up, and after the time-tricks classes had endured through half their hour, the president ordered a suspension of all exercises. The broken water was repaired during the day, and classes will resume at the usual tomorrow morning.

WORK OF IDAHO LAW-MAKERS.

Much Unfinished Business Still Pending.

EXTRA SESSION PROBABLE.

Gambling Law Passed—An Outline of Important Measures Likely to Pass.

Boise, Idaho, Feb. 5.—(Special Correspondence.)—The fifth week of the Idaho legislature has passed, and but three weeks more remains in which to dispose of the volume of business that has accumulated since the opening of the session. But one-half of the referred laws have been enrolled and signed by the governor, yet all the force available will not be adequate to enroll the remainder much before the time expires for the expiration of the session. Moreover, there are many important measures which cannot be introduced until the laws which they propose to amend have been enrolled and signed. It is almost a foregone conclusion that one of two things must happen—either that those bills will not be introduced, or that the session will be called for a special session. This latter proposition seems to be just, as the first three weeks were practically wholly consumed in the re-enacting of the unconstitutional laws of the past four sessions.

The past week will be a memorable one, because of the passage of the anti-gambling bill. Notwithstanding the powerful fight that was made against it, it succeeded in passing both houses by a majority and is now in the hands of the governor, who will sign it tomorrow. The bill provides that every person who deals, plays or carries on, opens or causes to be opened, or who conducts, either as owner or agent, or otherwise, whether for hire or not, any game of face, banking or percentage, or keeps any table used with cards, dice or any other device, for money, checks, credit, or any other representative of value, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and is punishable by fine not less than one hundred dollars or imprisonment in the county jail not less than four months. The law positively but purposely prohibits all games of cards, billiards, pool, etc., for money, chips, etc. In fact all sorts of games, wherein anything of any value whatever is at stake. Prominent home attorneys say the bill is unconstitutional, while the attorney general says it is not.

There was much talk of a local option law respecting liquor, having it be each voting precinct, municipality or county, whether or not intoxicating liquors shall be sold therein. Such a bill will arouse more interest than did the anti-gambling bill.

Another good measure which passed the house during the week is what is known as the committee irrigation bill, a substitute for the irrigation measure introduced by Representative Stevens. The provisions respecting appropriation of water are the same as those of the original bill. The main new provisions being that county commissioners, upon proper application, by either local companies or their patrons, shall fix the maximum rate to be charged for water. It also provides that such canal company must, before the first Monday of January of each year, file with the county auditor a sworn statement, giving a general description of the property, a statement of present value, the total amount and the character of the indebtedness of the company, including data respecting perpetual water rights sold, the amount due the county and the amount of water that is used by the company during the preceding calendar year and from what source, the expenditures for the same, the acreage for what purposes, the total area irrigated having no water right to be given separately, lands which are not and which cannot susceptible to irrigation, the capacity of the works and the quantity of water carried during the season, the amounts of recorded appropriations and the date of each. Failure to comply is subject to a fine of $100 for each offense, or not more than six months' imprisonment.

This bill is of great importance to the people all through the Snake river country, and will give the new settler much more heart to develop the immense stretches of country that he has at present. As it is at present, the corporations owning the canals have practically discouraged the settler, but the passage of this bill will give him much hope.

Another good measure which is selling pleasantly through both houses is the bill to prevent the swindling business of lottery and providing punishments for drawing and selling tickets, advertising, soliciting, hawking lottery offices, hearing lottery tickets, publishing offers to insure lottery tickets, and offering for sale or sale of any lottery, renting buildings for lottery purposes, and providing punishments for the drawing of a lottery, or being any scheme for the disposal or distribution of property by chance, from persons who have paid or agreed to pay, any valuable consideration for such chance, or obtaining such property or a portion of it, or for any share or any interest in such property, upon any agreement, understanding or expectation that it is to be distributed or disposed of by lot or chance, whether such property is there or elsewhere, or for whatever name the same may be known. The conducting of any such lottery is declared to be a felony, and violation of any of its provisions being punishable by a fine not exceeding $500, or imprisonment not exceeding six months. This bill is another blow at a species of gambling conducted here for years and "protected" by a fine. As fine is what is known among the gambling fraternity as "an open town," where gambling can be carried on day and night unmolested, and where the doors are open at any time of the day or night, and play at any of the scores of gambling games can be seen by any one who chooses to be seen on all sides, it is safe to say the labors of the fifth session of the Idaho legislature will not be a pleasant recollection with them.

A bill the provisions of which will be of much interest to the whole people of Idaho, is one amending the present poll tax law. It provides that the poll tax shall remain as it is, and that all persons from its payment all those who pay a property tax of $7 or more. It also provides for the seizure of any personal property owner by the delinquent poll taxpayer, and its sale and the purchase of the same. The law is one of the best proposals on the subject, and it will doubtless pass.

The Shoshone Journal bill stirred clear of the Snakes in the house, but it is now in waiting for it directly it reaches the senate.

The Pope-Yerkes railroad bill, which provides for a city entity to discourage all railroad building and improvements in the state, was promptly killed in the house, and the Pumphrey measure to tax taxes with county warrants was "laid out" in the senate.

UNIVERSITY LECTURE.

Prof. Allen Will Give an Illustrated Talk on the Yellowstone Park.

The illustrated lecture on The Yellowstone National Park will be reported at the University this evening. The lecturer, Prof. Allen, stays giving the lecture at any time has compelled him to make numerous and his added a number of new slides. This evening he will take his audience through a complete tour of the wonderland of nature and will exhibit to them more than 100 views of the most beautiful of the scenes to be found there. The lecture is to be given in the University laboratory building. The hall there will be warm, as the heating apparatus was not affected by the broken pipes yesterday. The lecture is free, and the public is cordially invited to be present. It will begin at 8 o'clock.
