RAIN DAMAGES WHEAT CROP.

The recent heavy rain did considerable damage to grain in the Bear River valley, the grain that was cut and in shock and stack began sprouting and growing and that growing was in many instances knocked flat and beaten into the wet muddy ground.

The large tract of dry farm wheat owned by Geo. W. Craghead, and from which he expected to get at least 4,000 bushels was in a deplorable condition. Mr. Craghead felt quite discouraged and offered the whole crop for $1,000. The offer was taken up by Mr. N. B. Cheney who gave him $500 in cash and $500 worth of land and took his chances on the wheat.

LEWISTON.

J. D. JAMISON IS CALLED.

Summoned Without Warning—Girls' Baseball Match Game.

Special Correspondence.

Lewiston, Cache Co., Aug. 28.—J. D. Jamison passed away on Saturday about noon, the result of a severe attack of paralytic stroke.

On Friday last Mr. Jamison attended a birthday dinner and was in excellent health and spirits and was seen in town as late as 6 or 7 o'clock, but soon after returning home was seized with a violent pain in his head which terminated with his death the next day at noon.

Threshing has been at a standstill for the last few days on account of the recent rains, which resulted in no material damage, however. Some stacks of grain which had been recently cut with headers were so wet it was necessary to tear them down and spread them out to dry in order to keep them from spoiling.

The girls' baseball team from Clifton, Idaho, came to Lewiston last Saturday to cross bats with the Lewiston girls; the result was an overwhelming victory for the Lewiston team.

HE WAS IN TROUBLE.

"I was in trouble, but found a way out of it, and I'm a happy man again, since Dr. King's New Life Pills cured me of chronic constipation," says E. W. Goodloe, 307 St. Louis St., Dallas, Tex. Guaranteed satisfactory. Price 25 cents at Z. C. M. I. Drug Store, 112-114 So. Main St.

GRASSHOPPERS.

A recent press bulletin of the New Mexico Agricultural Experiment station suggests the following grasshopper remedies. As these insect pests threaten to damage crops in various sections of Utah, the suggestions will be of value to the farmers of the state:

There are a number of methods recommended for combating the grasshoppers that are quite practicable, and if they are constantly practiced, the destructive work of these insects can be materially reduced.

Winter plowing or deep discing is most efficient where it is possible at all. The plow or disc disturbs the egg pods, burying some, breaking open others, and exposing still others to the sun, rain, birds, and to other insects.

Poisoned baits are used chiefly for the crawling and jumping species. Poisoned bran, which is used quite commonly, is prepared by mixing one to two pounds of Paris green or arsenic and 20 to 50 pounds of bran together with enough water to thoroughly moisten the mass. Add one or two pounds of sugar or a little molasses, so that the bran will stick together. Distribute the poisoned bran in small balls near the plants disturbed by the grasshoppers. Care should be taken that chickens or other domestic fowls or animals do not eat the poisoned bran.

The criddle mixture is a preparation of fresh horse manure with arsenic and salt. It is known that grasshoppers are fond of anything containing salt. This mixture has been recommended from some of the northwestern states and from Canada. At the New Mexico Experimental station the results with it from one trial were not so satisfactory as with the poisoned bran. The mixture is prepared as follows: Take two pounds of salt and dissolve it in a pail of water, stir in one pound of Paris green or arsenic, and then mix this with about 100 pounds of fresh horse manure in a half barrel with enough water to moisten thoroughly. Distribute same as bran mixture.

The species that fly from tree to tree can probably be managed best by spraying, when it is safe to do it.

SPRAYING MIXTURES.

Paris green	1 lb.
Water	160 gallons
Fresh lime	2 to 4 lbs.

Make a paste of the Paris green in a small quantity of water, slack the lime, mix in the Paris green and put this in with the water. In spraying, the solution must be kept well agitated for the Paris green and lime settle readily. For very sensitive plants, like peaches, apricots and beans, it is safer to use 200 gallons of water to one pound of Paris green.

Arsenate of lead, which is considered by some to be superior to other arsenical poisons, can be purchased already made, and is used as follows:

Arsenate of lead	6 lbs.
Water	100 gallons

The poison is first dissolved in a little water and poured into the barrel of water. In spraying the solution must be agitated the same as when Paris green is used.

The Hopperdozer, when used freely and continuously, tends to reduce the number of grasshoppers in a field. The hopperdozer is a long, shallow pan of sheet iron, set on two runners and having behind an apron or sail of canvas stretched on an upright frame. When the machine is ready for use, place some water in the bottom of the pan, add enough coal oil to form a film over the water, and hitch a horse to one of the outside runners, bring a long rope from the other runner and hitch it to the hame staple of the harness. As the grasshoppers fly, many of them strike the apron behind and fall back into the pan containing kerosene, which is fatal to the insects. As fast as the pan fills up with grasshoppers, remove and fill again with water and oil. These hopperdozers are better adaped for use in alfalfa fields, and still better results can be had if they are used before the grasshoppers have formed wings. Very satisfactory results are reported from Colorado of the use of hoppedozer in alfalfa fields.

LUCKIEST MAN IN ARKANSAS.

"I'm the luckiest man in Arkansas," writes H. L. Stanlay of Bruno, "since the restoration of my wife's health after five years of continuous coughing and bleeding from the lungs; and I owe my good fortune to the world's greatest medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which I know from experience will cure consumption if taken in time. My wife improved with first bottle and twelve bottles completed the cure." Cures the worst coughs and colds or money refunded. At Z. C. M. I. drug store, 112-114 South Main St. 50c and $1.00. TENNIS FINALS ON LABOR DAY

Preliminaries Being Run Off At Miller Courts Per Schedule.

SALISBURY REACHES FINALS.

His Opponent in Singles Match Will Be Either Brown or Roberts.

TENNIS FOR TODAY

Miller Courts—Boyd and Taylor vs Hills and Taylor.

Roberts vs Conrad.

Griffen and Neal vs Badger and Brown. (Exhibition match).

The intermountain tennis tournament is going through its preliminary stages in rapid style, and promises to be finished on schedule time. The men who are to line up and be champions and near champions are already pretty well in sight. Since defeating Rodney Badger, Brown is fairly sure of a place in the finals, and has already reached the semi-finals, with Roberts still to beat. Brown played in good luck in the tourney in that he drew his first games against poorer players and has had a chance to pick up form rapidly while advancing towards the finals.

The other man of the finals has already been selected. He is State Champion Jimmy Salisbury. Owing to the absence of Hunt, who last year won a leg of the Newhouse trophy cup, there is not title defender this year, and the winner of the finals will receive a mention on the cup through the defaulting of his opponent in the final game. The finals, in fact, become the championship game, and will be played with Jimmy Salisbury against the winner of the Brown-Roberts match in the semi-finals.

There is one feature of the tennis tourney that is causing comment on the Y. M. C. A. Through accident or design an informal tournament of a practise nature was scheduled during the intermountain week on the Y. M. C. A. courts and these courts were thus made unavailable for the intermountain championships, on which it would have been expected, all tennis interests ought to combine. The gentle task of making Salt Lake the center of interest in the intermountain west, in every line, receives its most serious setbacks from the division of interest locally, after the opportunity has come to do something.

When the Y. M. C. A. series started a month ago, it was thought by most people to be a preliminary series to the intermountain championships and would work for the increase of interest in them, instead of framing up into a competitive basis.

The Miller courts were taken as a substitute by the tournament committee, and seats have been provided by a local furniture company. Not only the preliminaries but the finals as well will be held on these courts, which lie on North Temple between Main and West Temple streets.

The play yesterday advanced Salisbury to the finals, and counted Dr. Richards out with a tennis racquet for making the semi-finals. In the doubles, Badger and Brown demonstrated again the fact that they are a strong combination, and slated for a through passage to the vicinity of the finals, by almost shutting out Peabody and Nettleton from any showing whatever.

The scores.

O. J. Salisbury beat Richards, 6-2, 6-4.

Badger and Brown beat Peabody and Nettleton, 6-0, 6-1.

Hills and Taylor beat Dinwoodey and Sunderstrom, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2.

Richards and Plummer beat Whitney and Conrad, 2-6, 6-2, 6-1.

Boyd and Taylor beat Brodie and Riter, 6-0, 6-2.

PROGRAM AT SAUCER.

Kramer and Lawson Ride Again Friday in Match Series.

Tomorrow evening at the Salt Palace saucer Kramer and Lawson meet for the last time in their series of contests for the world's championship, so-called, and indifferently desired by the riders in comparison to the gate money brought in. Lawson has ascribed his showing of last Tuesday to being out of condition on account of quitting training for seven days, and declares he will be in better shape Friday.

The program for tomorrow night includes some inviting events besides the match race. Among them are a quarter mile open amateur, three-mile lap race amateur, mile open professional, half-mile open professional, and a mile team race paced between Hopper and Bardgett, and Pye and Clark.

HARVARD CREW.

It is Considered the Finest Bunch That Ever Came Out of America.

Putney, England, Aug. 29.—On an ebb tide and against a slight head wind Cambridge did the full course this morning in 20 minutes 4 seconds. This is 21 seconds slower than Harvard's time yesterday evening. The Harvard men were somewhat favored by a following wind, but the Cambridge crew had the advantage of being paced during the last half-mile by a Leander crew. Stuart set the stroke at 36 on starting, but after two miles it had dropped to 31. Subsequently the crew rallied and finished strong with a stroke of 36.

The Harvard men were only out for a quarter of an hour this morning and were mostly engaged in paddling, though they had a minute burst from the stake boat, doing 35 strokes to the minute.

The result of Cambridge's trial this morning was distinctly disappointing to the supporters of the home crew, and Harvard stock went up several points. The Cambridge men themselves were quite disappointed and as the result of a short consultation after the trial they decided to immediately order a new boat from Clasper.

London, Aug. 28.—Vivian Nickalls, writing on the performance of the rival crews, says the Harvards are finer than any crew that ever came from America. He thinks, however, they ought to be able to row a finer stroke than they appear capable of doing, since they never get much above 30 for long. He criticises some other points, but says if the race was for today he would put his money on Harvard. He explains that the Cambridge men are very disappointing and, with one or two exceptions, look stale and dried up. The Daily Chronicle says Cambridge's ordering of a new boat can only be construed as a sign of doubt and weakness.

CHAMPION TAKES GAME.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—The western woman golf champion, Mrs. C. L. Dering, won her game in the women's championship tournament today, defeating Miss Llewellyn 5 up and 5 to play.

In the semi-finals, which will be played tomorrow, Mrs. Dering will play a game against Alexander, and Miss Everett will play against Miss Helmer.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

WASHINGTON WINS.

Western State Troops Take Tyro Match at Seagirt.

Seagirt, N. J., Aug. 29.—Company D, Second regiment, state of Washington, won the company tyro match, which was the first event in the national rifle tournament today. The company tyro match was open to teams of three men each from any company of the United States army, a ship's company of the United States navy and marine corps, the United States military and naval academies, and the national guard of any state, territory or the District of Columbia. Members of the teams to be eligible to shoot in this match must never have been on a winning team in any team match at Seagirt previous to the present meeting. Each man fired five shots at 200 yards and five shots at 500 yards.

The first prize was a trophy of gold medals for the team mates.

CLOTHIER WINS.

Easily Takes Championship in Tennis From B. C. Wright.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 29.—The ease with which William J. Clothier of Philadelphia won the National Lawn Tennis championship from Beals C. Wright of Boston, last year's title holder, on the Casino courts today, was one of the surprises of the tennis year. A victory for Wright, or at least a hard fought contest, was anticipated, but that Clothier should win in straight sets, 6—3, 6—0, 6—4, was beyond the calculations of even the closest followers of the sport.

Wright's playing was 50 per cent below the form shown on the same court last year, when he won the title from Holcombe Ward. On the other hand, Clothier displayed a well balanced game, carefully planned and skilfully executed.

At the net he was like a stone wall, against which Wright hammered in vain, unable to either go around or over it. Had Wright been able to put the same force into his returns that he did last year, the result might have been different, perhaps, or the match extended to four or five sets.

Clothier's play was entirely for Wright's backhand. He frequently caught the last year's champion off his feet and the ball struck the court far out of reach. The fact that Clothier scored 13 passes, or place shots, to 19 for Wright, shows at once the superiority of the new champion's game.
