November 20

THE DESERET NEWS.

Grant, in looking over the banks of the than it had ever been before. During Bear or by the banks of the Jordan, the coming four years of President of rock, has just been commenced, which ing in the mines, and the family are living should select any man for office in the Grant and the republican administra-Territory of Utah, and he should hap- tion, he expected to see perfect harpen to be that man, he would accept mony restored and established between the office. But that was not what they every section of the country, and the were called together for. They were laws administered and enforced alike in there to make speeches; some good, every State and territory. others, like himself, the only stock they had-bad ones. Having been sandwiched between the most elequent citizens of the Territory, he feltawkward and clumsy, and something like the boy who applied to the Dean of Saint other human being. Patrick-Jonathan Swift, for a situation as messenger in his office. The boy arrived at a time when three or four hundred other urchins of Dublin were being catechised by the revolutionary clergyman as to their qualifications. He asked Jim, and Patrick and others what they could do, and they would answer, going through the catalogue of their virtues and capabilities, and fically the Dean came to this boy and his answer was, "I can do nothing, these other fellows do it all." (Laughter) That boy was employed. He did not want the Associated Press to send away his sentiments about that boy, for unfortunately if any federal who violate it, suffer its penalty. office holder were there he might have his head off in twenty-four hours. But "bloody chasm" which had been said is no great distance, and if it is soon filled very glad of this, as I do not wish to reseriously, he could not say anything t about the late election but what had been said, and he could not say it as well. He knew that thirty States had line, and declared that Ulysses S. Grant should be President for four years from the fourth of March, 1873; and that the popular voice by a thundering majority had declared that Grant was an honest man and a wise administrator of the law. The people had confidence in Grant because he had fulfilled his promises, and had endeavored to faithfully execute the laws as he found them on the books. Mr. McLeod was announced for the next speaker, and in response he stated to the audience that he had the spirit of prophecy mightily upon him, and he could make revelations, but he resisted; if he made a speech it would be stale, flat and unprofitable. The audience seemed to think otherwise, and cries of "McLeod" were frequent, but their importunity failed to get more than a very few words from the gentleman, in which he said he heartily rejoiced with them in the grand and peaceful victory of the republican party, because he believed it was the victory of truth and liberty, and would result in blessings to the whole people. The Chair then introduced the orator of the evening,

T. S. S.

He believed in the right of every man, under the Constitution, to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience, as long as he did not infringe upon the rights of any

In relation to Utab, the speaker said he expected during the coming administration, to see the laws of the United States enforced here as in any other Territory. He asked no more, and wanted no less. He wanted those who religion or politics, promptly punished. he believed in them being rigidly enforced against all offenders. He wanted no man punished or persecuted because of his religious notions; but let every citizen in the Te itory stand upon a perfect equality-those who obey the law have its protection, thos

Previous speakers had referred to the country. In his desire for complete fraternity and union he was the peer of any man in the republican party, and every feeling of hostility would be banished, and naught but amity and brotherly kindness would exist between the North and the South. In expressing that sentiment he knew he but echoed that of the entire republican party; but he did not want that to be brought about by the sacrifice of principle. He hated by poorisy, whether in politics or religion, and did not want the "bloody chasm" bridged over at the cost of manhood, as at the Cincinnati and Baltimore Conventious. He believed in parties, and recognized the good they accomplished for liberty and humanity; and as they honestly differed in opinion, he would not have them abandon a single dogma of their faith with any certainty of seeing them again. for the sake of securing a seeming fraternity, but rather seek a lasting and permanent one in the quiet judgment of the people. At the close of the Governor's speech, three cheers were proposed and given for President Grant, when the band played dismissal. The proceedings were orderly, and the strictest propriety was observed practice, besides scattering the animals, through the entire meeting. The assembly dispersed at about a quarter to ten o'clock.

"A new School House, 24x34, to be built regular salary. His boys are at work dig-Year's."

"We have had several visits from the tains, striving to build up Zion. Navajoes this fall, in small bands. Their conduct has been peaceable and good, and through Canada to Boston, stopping one day I think it but just to state that the article in St. Lawrence Co. and passing through copied from the Pieche Record in the the towns in Vermont where Joseph and News is not true, in that it charges the Hyrum Smith were born, and through the Navajoes with stealing the band of horses | town in New Hampshire where my father from Parowan. It was at first supposed | was born. they were Navajoes, but they afterwards proved to be Elk Mountain Utes, or In- paralyzed by the sickness among the horses, dians from that vicinity.

busily engaged exploring and mapping express wagons. this country."

RAILROAD EXTENSION .- Here are a few ideas from the Pioche Record;

"The trade of Pioche is now assuming had violated law here, irrespective of such large proportions, that both the tories of that wonderful place. His kind East and West are bidding against each | feelings towards our people, so often mani-Laws were made to be obeyed, and other as to which shall control the greater portion. In the struggle the question of railroad extension will cut no mean figure Through the extension of the Southern Utah the iron arms of the in New York to-day, all well. They have Union Pacific have been partially opened | had an agreeable visit, among others with to grasp this trade, while the construction | Malcolm Little's family. of the Bullionville Railroad adds another link to the chain of communi- expecting to accompany me had started cation. The gap between the termina- and that Bro. Schettler was also to arrive tion of the Utah Southern and Bullionville here in time to cross the sea with us. I am to exist between the two sections of the will have an irresistible tendency to throw main long in the damp climate of England, the bulk of the Pioche trade towards the and I shall be in favor of crossing the Chan-East. As we before remarked, on the line | nel as soon as consistent. of this road there are some magnificent coal mines that are only waiting rived to-day. Bro. Feramorz Little and formed themselves into magnificent he wanted to see the day come when for the construction of a railroad myself go to Washington by the night hither to supply Pioche with cheap train. We have seen Bro. Spencer Claws and abundant fuel, an element essential to our continued prosperity. Staines is very busy, outfitting small par-Altogether there can be no more favorable | ties of emigrants, who have unexpectedopening for railway enterprise than in the | ly made their appearance. construction of a line between the Southern Utah and Bullionville. We cannot but our departure. hone that this will ere long be recognized by capitalists, and that the coal measures of Kauarra will be bound to the silver mines of Pioche with the iron bands that will insure the mutual prosperity of both."

is expected to be completed by New quite comfortably. I did not fail to tell them that they ought to be in the moun-

635

"I took the Grand Trunk Rail Road

"While at Boston business was much the streets being silent. A few yoke of "Lieutenant Wheeler's expedition is oxen were all that could be seen, moving

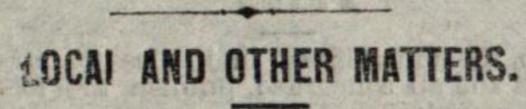

> "I spent the Sabbath with the Hon. Alva Crocker, M, C., of Fitchburg, Mass., whose family took every pains to make us comfortable, and he exhibited to us to the best advantage the wonderful manufacfested in Congress, are repeated by him whenever opportunity offers. He wishes to be remembered to you.

"Bro. Feramorz Little and family arrived

"I was glad to learn that the brethren "Bro. Thomas Taylor and daughter arson, he is well and in good spirits. Bro. "Bro. Thomas Taylor will return after

Hon. Geo. L. Woods,

Governor of the Territory, who made a lengthy and eloquent speech, of which our space prevents us giving mere than a very brief synopsis. The speaker adverted first to the philosophy of political organization in a free government, and to the differences of opinion that necessarily arose in the discussion of great political questions. Then, briefly, step by step, he traced the organization of the various political parties which had existed in this country since the formation of the government, and the various questions upon which they had differed, showing that as each party accomplished its mission it passed away, that in the progress and development of the country new questions arose and new parties were formed, which in turn performed their mission and then passed away. Had the democratic party not galvanized itself into new life on the slavery question, it would have passed away as did the whig party before it. The corollary of this was that the question of slavery being now finally settled, the democratic party would cease to exist and be The republican party arose as the vindicator and champion of human freedom, in opposition to the slave power of the country. The speaker then eloquently traced the efforts and in suppressing the rebellion, and abolishing slavery, conferring the suffrage

TAKE CARE OF YOUR STOCK .- Stock raising on the Jordan range, west of this Gity, for a number of reasons, has become a very precarious business, A person can no longer turn animals out to range there, One cause for this may be found in the fact that persons are allowed to hunt and drive stock at pleasure on the range or from the range, whether the stock may belong to them or others; may bring a band of horses into this city or to adjacent settlements to corral them, and select those they wish without being questioned as to their reasons, or forced to return the others to the range whence they were driven. This gives opportunity for persons to practice their thieving propensities, which a great many are not slow to take advantage of. We were reminded of this on hearing a gentleman relate how narrowly he escaped losing one of his animals that had been running on the Jordan range. Happening to pass a corral in this city a short time since about dusk in Ogden on a western bound train on Monthe evening, he noticed two individuals day evening. Dr. Murphy examined him preparing to brand a horse, one of a number which they had driven up. The appearance of the animal struck him as being like his, and on approaching, he discovered igration, is expected to arrive in this city, that it really was, though the brand which from the east, on Thursday, the 14th inst. | was plain when he last saw it, a year previous, was now quite hidden by the long growth of hair. His claim to the hurse was rather mildly disputed by the would-be labored with his usual diligence to make owners, until he made it perform a number of tricks which he had taught it when a colt, when he was allowed to take it with. out resistance. It is possible those persons who were attempting to brand it really thought the animal belonged them; but this may admit of question. There was no brand visible, but they thought "it looked as most prosperous. There are at present like an animal they once owned." It is very certain that the real owner would have lost his horse, but for happening there in the "nick of time,"

"GEO. A. SMITH."

TRIAL OF THE STEAM FIRE ENGINE.-It has been demonstrated that the new steam engine is a very effective one. Yesterday steam was got jup, and the water commenced to play through the hose within fifteen minutes after the fire was lit, notwithstanding tha the quality of coal used for fuel was far from being of the best. Two streams were thrown out from the nozzles of the hose, which could have been brought to bear on the roof of the highest buildings. The testing of the engine was directed by Mr. McDowall. agent of the Silsby Manufacturing Company, from whom the engine was purchased, and Mr. Ames, a gentleman who had charge of a similar engine in one of the eastern cities, was on the ground. Messrs. Silver and Sirrine, practical engineers, were also there, and a large crowd of spectators witnessed the trial. Now that the efficiency of the new engine has been practically demonstrated, it is presumable that an able fire company will be at once organized.

SMALLPOX .- A sick man arrived in and pronounced it a clear case of smallpox. This created a stampede among the passengers, but Supt. Campbell at once detached the car from the train and ran it out upon an open space, on Broom's bench., Dr. Williams is attending the patient. So says the Junction.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, NOV. 12

COMING HOME. - Elder William C. Staines, having wound up the business, at New York, pertaining to this season's em-So far as we are aware, all the business connected with the emigration has worked satisfactorily, Brother Staines having it, so far as he was concerned, a complete success. His many friends in this city will be pleased to see him once more at home.

PAROWAN.-Brother Wm. Marsden, of Parowan, is in our city on business, and speaks of the oldest settlement in Iron Co. in operation three lumber and four shingle mills, run by water, also two steam saw mills, and two more are on their way from the East. Parowan has long been noted for its superior quality of lumber, which finds a ready market in the western mines. The co-operative store is prospering and the people are feeling well.

places I found three sisters of the Prophet The astute Junius Henri Broughne, the emigration this year and now resides Joseph Smith, whom I had not seen for of New York, has discovered that "nearin this city, forwarded a portfolio containtwenty five years. They were very glad ing sea weeds of great beauty to the Muss ly all the sources of unhappy Ireland's to see me. Sophronia McClarry is a widew, rum in 1870. They were delivered, but a miseries may be indexed with the letresiding with her daughter, Maria Stodard, conflicts of that party for and in behalf letter describing their history was lost on ter P: thus, we have popery, priests who married a man named Woolley. the way. They were collected on the of human freedom, and in defence of and pigs; politics, patriotism and pot-Catherine is living on the place that you north coast of Ireland during a period of the Republic. He traced its course furnished her means to purchase, and is teen; population, poverty and potatoes, fourteen years, by Bro. Marshal and his apparently the happiest woman I have and though last not least, Pat himself!' wife. Thep have been very much admirseen on the journey. Her place is a piece G. W. Curtis, who does the delighted." of timber land, which your last bounty upen the negro, and giving him equal ful old bachelor articles in Harpers' KANAB.-Bro. James L. Bunting writes enables her to increase to twenty acres, civil and political rights with all other Bazar, says that if he had a son he and as in all her life she has never been citizens. The financial success of the from Kanab, Oct. 29, as follows: would rather that it should be remarked able to enjoy a home of her own for a party was adverted to, also the exten-"The weather has been remarkably fine of him, "that he is the son of a poor, single hour, her gratitude to you seems sion of commerce, and internal devel- this fall, but rather dry; frost on the night though worthy father, than the son of unbounded. opment in the construction of railroads, of the 26th, just one month later than last "Arthur Milliken rents a house at Colthat rich old bachelor." This is very &c. Under the republican administra- year. The health of the people is good, chester at nine dollars per month, and likely, as few sons of old bachelors care tion the standing of the United States | and all hands, as usual, are very busy takspends his time weighing coal for the Rail to acknowledge their parentage. with other nations was more elevated ing care of late crops and putting in fall Road Company, for which he :eccives a wheat, PRESIDENT SMITH AND PARTY .- The following are extracts of a letter to President B. Young, dated November 1, and courteously handed for publication:

"Bro. W. D. Fuller accompanied me numbered with the things of the past. An Illinois man coughed so heavily here, and did his best to make me comfort-SEA WEEDS.-Prof. Jos. L. Barfoot sends that one of his ribs snapped. Its mission was filled, and it could able. Bro. Little went to St. Louis from a few specimens of sea weeds, nicely prenever appear again as an organized Another twelve-year-old boy has fa-Omaha, I went to Chicago by the Bur. served. They are exceedingly interesting. party. lington road, switching off to visit Coly The following note explains their historytally shot his seven year old, this time chester and Fountain Green, at which in the "Vale of Avoca," Ia. "Bro. Robert Marshall, who came in with

AT WASHINGTON! - The Washington Star of Nov. 5 says-

"Hon. Thomas Fitch and family, of Utab, are in the city for the season. They are staying at the Hamilton House for the present, but Mr. F. is negotiating for a handsome house with a view to a permanent residence here."

EASTERN NOTES.

Ashtabula, O., boasts of a twentynine pound baby.

A gang of female incendiaries have been arrested in Owensburg, Ky.