SALT LAKE STAKE CONFERENCE

SUNDAY MORNING SESSION.

The choir and congregation sang the hymn commencing:

The time is for speed, then is this morning.

Prayer was offered by Elder Joseph E. Taylor.

Singing by the choir and congregation:

We thank Thee, O God, for a prophet.

Elder Jesse Hales, latter counsel from a mission to the Sandwich Islands, prayed his labors while abroad. He said found a spirit of unanimous among the officers of the Sandwich Islands. A spirit of love and unknown prevailed in hearts of the natives. The Lord has been a mighty God in the work and the exalting character of the Gospel.

Elder Chas. W. Penrose said the statement of fact that the Sandwich Islands Mission was opened June 28, 1850, which was received and entered first. Elder Hales was called to open the mission, suggested by the prophet. It was in no expected that one year would already be set up in the Church, and it was the duty, and should be a pleasure for those who had honors, to contribute to carry expenses. It is a great work, and it is a great and country, and that part of it is a work one should be proud. The last day work is the work of the Kingdom of God, the work, not many of the Saints are exclusive in the advancement of this part of the work. It is not expected that every Latter-day Saint would go into this matter. If all would do as Brother Hales, it would be a great work. Every share would be an honorable for which to sell on the Bishop's store house for help in sustaining the work. Elder Hales has been on the people of the stake was heavy, it should be borne cheerfully, and as a matter of honor and duty. When the opportunity should not be encouraged, let the worthy and helpless poor should be assisted.

The question should make it a part of their duty to interest the people with reference to this and other missions. The speaker strongly urged the giving of support to the poor, according to the blessings God has bestowed upon the people. Every thing done in this direction would meet with the approval and blessing of the Lord.

Elder Angus M. Cannon, president of the Stake, followed on the same subject. He quoted some inspiring words who had left for poor people should and could spare of fast offerings to the general store house, to assist the needy where there were none poor. It is compulsorily could spare some, now paid each month by every member of the Church, there would be no need of calling on the general store house for the assistance of the poor. Brother Cannon urged the sisters, young and old, to help the Relief societies and assist in their noble work. He commended the labors performed by these sisters in caring for the poor, and in saving up food for future contingencies. Every had of a family had, or the Priesthood in it, the right to administer with power in family matters, and it was a sacred duty for such one to contribute out of the family resources, or the support of the poor according to the circumstances.

Benefits should be planned for those of the poor who were able to labor, and all should be encouraged to greater faithfulness in this regard and in attendance at all meetings appointed for the gathering of the people.

The report was made that the home missionaries were improving in the doing of appointments, and that the High Council was more prompt in attending to their duties and that in the main the whole, the stake was in a better condition, notwithstanding the meager attendance at some of the conference meetings. The M. I. A. meetings on the evening of last day were well attended and probably contained. Despite the fact that many unworthy ones still hold a standing in the Church, yet the tares had to be allowed to grow with the wheat longer than would seem advisable, if other circumstances did not render such delay necessary. It was sometimes found well to show particular kindness to old and enfeebled brethren and sisters, who had been baffled by evil spirits. Yet stringent law should be enforced in the case of those who willfully violated their covenants, and led unsuspecting ones astray.

President George Q. Cannon followed directing his remarks to the subject of supporting the poor.

Elder Charles W. Penrose referred to the support of the poor, which was rule published under the auspices of the Church. The Improvement Era, Juvenile Instructor, Deseret News, Instructor, Bureau, Young Woman's Journal, Woman's Exponent and the Correspondence were particularly mentioned and each in its respective field was commended to the people, to be patronized by them. The Relief Society gathering was the Doxology, and benediction was pronounced by Elder John T. Caine.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The hymn commencing:

Great God attend while Zion stage
The joy that from The presence springs, was sung by the choir.

Prayer was offered by Elder Geo. H. Wallace.

Singing by the choir:

Darth with for ion thousand towers.
