Mrs. Cleveland said: "We are glad to get back home again. Mr. Cleveland is very well, though not entirely recovered. Yet he continues to get along nicely. We have made no plans for the future as yet, but we ex-pect to stay at Princeton for some time." BELIEVE HE IS INSANE. New York, June 1.—Julius G. Truel-son, the young man whose alleged con-fession in connection with the Guinness farm mystery and his subsequent re-traction was made public today, is be-lieved by his family to be mentally un-sound. His brother Harry said Julius had been firesponsible since he was struck by a trolley car in Broadway here five years ago. Julius sustained a serious injury to the skull at that time, the brother said and Harry thinks his brain was affected. Harry said this story told by Julius of his con-nection with the Guinness farm affair could not possibly he true, as Julius was serving a sentence in Elmira re-formatory at the time covered by the alleged confession. Young Truslson's family is in fairly good chroumstances. BELIEVE HE IS INSANE. The Cleveland home was decorated with many flowers in honor of the home-coming of Mr. Cleveland. It is probable that the former pesident will drive in to Princeton this afternoon. The Cleveland children are at Tam-carth W. H. forth, N. H. AFRO-AMERICANS. FOR UTAH ASPHALT.

Those who favor asphalt, as per the Moran desires, find with a glance at efforts in support, of the president's request for four battleships, defending that policy both on the floor of the senate and elsewhere. He led the adminstration forces in defense of the forestry policy of this country, making a strong address on the necessity of the preservation of our forests. He was active in pension legislation and was one of the conferees on the pension bill he supported all legislation in favor of the old soldiers. He was successful in securing the passage through the sen ste of a bill providing pensions for veterans of the Blackhawk Indian war of Utah. He secured the passage of a great many private pension bills. Senator and Mrs. Smoot and family have been very prominent in Washington society this winter. Mrs. Smoot's home has been open to all Utah people passing through Washington, and all callers and visitors have been loyally entertained. The senator's family has made & good impression in Washington.

SENATOR SUTHERLAND'S WORK. Senator Sutherland introduced and Meured the passage by the senate of the following bills: An assay office for Bilt Lake City; appropriating $25,000 fr a monument for Gen. P. E. Connor; appropriating $20,000 for right of way across the Fort Douglas military reser-Vation for Salt Lake City water supply system; an appropriation of $175,000 for the addition to the public building at Salt Lake City; appropriation of $5,000 for a government exhibit at the international mining exhibition, Madisor Square garden, New York. The dis tinguishing feature of Senator Sutherland's service this year was his advotacy of the report of the joint special committee on revision of the laws on the floor of the senate. Mr. Sutherland Was for much of the time during the discussion of the code report floor manager for the revision committee and as such defended the action of the committee in changing the old law and substituting new sections. In this connection he largely added to his reputation as a clear headed and sound judge of the laws and received unstinted Prise from his colleagues.

MR. HOWELL'S WORK. In the house Mr. Howell has been ever active in promoting the interests of the west and has loyally supported the efforts of the Utah senators in all legislation propositions for the benefit the west, and especially those of Etah. BOOSTING IN LOS ANGELES.

Newspapers There Cover Up the Bad Things to Draw Big Crowds.

Los Angeles, the City of Angels in teh accepted translation of the two words in California, is a different city to the one pictured in the newspapers of that city, according to a letter received in this city from a former Salt Lake man, who is now sojourning in the city of sunshine and flowers—and angels. In speaking of recent affairs in the city on the coast, he says in his letter:

still arive, have some good triends and still more thankful that the fleet has gone up the coast. "The world dates back to the flood, Salt Lake to the Pioners and Los Angeles dates back to the date when the fleet arrived in this glorious land of sunshine and flowers. In fact the fleet just steamed by Los Angeles, but from the number of columns in the newspapers it might have steamed up Spring street and back down Broad-way. Los Angeles is a white chip and always will be. Nothing here dates back further in the minds of these human vultures than the last crop of tourists or conventions where "suck-ers" were "skinned to a finish." "The fact of the matter is that while there were over 100 burglaries and pickpockets were in the crowds where pocketbooks literally rained into their hands, not one word got into the pews-reners Hush burgh we hav deed are papers. Hush, hush, my boy, don't say a word. It would hurt the town. It would scare away the pext convention or hurt the town for the next fiesta if the stories were printed in the news-papers. Everybody boosts here and the east coast does not know what the west coast is doing."
