NINE-YEAR-OLD BOY FATALLY SHOT

Brakeman Caught in a Flying Switch Choked His Collmate to Death—List of Fatalities.

The coroner of San Diego, Cal., on Wednesday, received a telegram saying that Harvey Collandt was killed at Tassley at Ogilby station, on the desert, by falling from a track on which he was riding.

Wednesday morning Steward Lewis of the county hospital at Marysville, Cal., went to the insane ward, in which two mildly insane patients were kept and made the horrible discovery that one, O. de Yoe, better known as Buckskin Bill, was dead, and that he had been killed by his roommate, Charles Thresher, a German, who had choked him to death.

Tuesday afternoon Willie Ingram, a nine-year-old boy, who was distributing papers for E. R. Finley, the news agent, of Pacific Grove, Cal., was shot, perhaps fatally, by a young companion, Edward Warren, who was carelessly carrying a loaded gun. In some way the trigger caught in the boy's clothing and went off, the charge striking young Ingram in the side and abdomen.

James F. O'Hearn, employed as coachman by John T. Doyle, of Menlo Park, Cal., met with an accident Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock which resulted in his death this morning. While riding a horse, the animal reared and, falling over backward, caused O'Hearn to strike his head against a tree. He never regained consciousness. Mr. O'Hearn was an old G. A. R. member.

News was brought to Reno, Nev., Wednesday evening of a double murder said to have been committed at F. L. Finnigan's sheep ranch, thirty-five miles northwest of Reno, on Pyramid lake. Two men, John Benoist and Dan Merrill, are accused of the crime, Merrill having confessed to the killing of one of the herders. The story was told by C. W. Pearl and John Linton, who came in from Finnigan's ranch. They said two sheepherders were killed Saturday night, and said that D. A. Merrill, the camp tender, admitted he and John Benoist had done the killing.

Word has been received in Los Angeles that a party of twenty-five immigrants, men, women and children, is toiling painfully across the Colorado desert from Yuma to Beaking. Their horses have given out and now they trudge along with their shoeless feet wrapped with old gunnycacks. Their clothing is in tatters, and for three days they have had no food but gruel. Sunday their water gave out. They signaled a Southern Pacific train to stop and the engineer gave them a barrel of the precious liquid. Tuesday night an express messenger, By Rolfe, took a quantity of food and clothing which he had solicited in the city to put off at Walters, as the sufferers were expected to reach that point last night. They are from Oklahoma, and started almost without resources. They have been helped on from point to point, their last benefactors being the citizens of Yuma.

When the north-bound freight was being made up Wednesday, at Ashland, Oregon, an accident occurred, resulting in the death of a brakeman, T. J. Kearney Jr. The men were making what is called a "flying switch" at the east end of the yard. An empty car which it was designed to throw off on a side track was pushed out immediately in front of the engine on the trestle over Ashland creek. Brakeman Kearney was on the car, and when last seen by the engineer he was climbing down between the car and pilot to draw the coupling-pin. He probably caught hold of the door at the end of the car, which gave way, letting the unfortunate man down on the track. He was caught under the pilot, and the engine moving back rapidly, he was dragged along some 200 feet before his absence was discovered. He was found under the pilot and rescued alive. The whole of the right side of his body was shockingly mutilated, but his head escaped injury, and he lived some fifteen minutes. He begged piteously for the boys to kill him. The deceased was a young man, the son of T. J. Kearney, one of the old conductors on the road.

Self-denial is the one thing most difficult to inculcate and always hard to practice, especially when there are good things to eat within reach. But there is no self-denial necessary if you take Simmons Liver Regulator. It promotes digestion, prevents Dyspepsia and a dose after a hearty meal of delicacies will prevent any discomfort. It's the best good-night teddy. 3

Subject to Attacks of Cholera Morbus

While staying in the Delta (Mississippi bottoms) last summer, E. T. Moss, representing Ludlow, Saylor, Wire Co., of St. Louis, suffered from malaria and became subject to attacks of cholera morbus. In every instance when attacked he was relieved as if by magic, by using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says: "I regard it as the 'ne plus ultra' of medicines."

GRAVEL CURED.

An Operation Avoided.

(Philadelphia, Penn., Item.)

A healthier, heartier, happier man than John J. Neill, of 2437 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, would not be found in a day's search. The fact that he is still alive is a constant wonder to his friends.

In the fall of 1893 he began to suffer from stone in the bladder, and the sufferings were indescribable. Consulting an eminent physician in Philadelphia, he was told that a surgical operation was necessary. So much did he be dread the result, for it unquestionably meant death, that he put off the evil day as long as possible. While in this state of mind, he chanced to see a notice of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Although disheartened with his many fruitless attempts at medicine, he was induced to make one more trial. On July 1, 1895, he bought a bottle of

DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY

And within a month had experienced beneficial results, and before he had finished the third bottle, the gravel was completely dissolved and his sufferings at an end.

Mr. Neill feels that he owes a lasting debt of gratitude to Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and for disorders of the bladder and urinary organs, says "It will either a cure or one be possible."

Favorite Remedy is prescribed with unfailing success for rheumatism, dyspepsia and nerve troubles in which it has made many cures that were considered beyond the aid of medicine. All druggists, $1.

FITS CURED

(From N. Y. Journal of Medicine.)

Prof. W. H. Pierce, who makes a specialty of Fits, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any living Physician; his success is astonishing. We have heard of cases of 20 years' standing cured by him. He publishes a valuable work on this disease which he sends with a large bottle of his absolute cure, free to any sufferer who may send their P.O. and Express address. We think no person should fail to send his address, Prof. W. H. PIERCE, P. D., 186 Pearl St., New York.
