CALLING THE PETIT JURORS

In the Third District Court This Morning, for September Term.

AN ACTION BY JUDGE POWERS.

Judges Zane and Anderson Resume Work on the Civil Docket.

Judge Zane's place in the Third District court was his morning occupied by Judge Anderson, before whom the calling of the names of the petit jury was proceeded with shortly after ten o'clock. The jurors, whose names are appended, were subjected to the customary statutory questioning, as to their fitness and qualification to serve, by United States Assistant District Attorney Stephens, who got through his work in quick time.

PETIT JURORS.

John Robinson,	Parley E. Savage,
John A. Lindsay,	L. J. Rich,
Wm. G. Pett,	Wesley Stephenson,
Ira Ames,	Ira Ivins,
Milton Weiler,	G. Y. Sutcliffe,
George W. Horrocks,	W. Jennings,
Joseph Bernhisel,	Wesley P. Williams,
Geo. Bradbury,	J. C. Irving,
Wm. C. Walker,	Geo. Q. Cannon,
Richard Ball,	Chas. Larsen,
Edward Bridge,

Mr. Fox satisfied the court that he is not in the best of health and also that his hearing is defective, and was excused.

Mr. Earl said he was troubled with "extreme paroxysms of coughing" and expectorated incoherently. He feared sometimes these circumstances that he would not be acceptable to the other jurors and asked, therefore, to be excused from serving. Judge Anderson thought that if Mr. Earl could stand the work of a juryman the other jurors could stand him, and ordered him to remain, at all events for the present.

Mr. Irving stated to the court that he suffered terribly with headache when confined in a room for any length of time, and had been obliged to give up his remunerative sedentary occupation in consequence. He produced a doctor's certificate to that effect, and asked to be excused. Judge Anderson requested him to remain and serve for the present. There should be enough jurymen on hand to compose two juries.

Thirty had been summoned, it appeared, but that number had not answered.

The judge said he thought it would be necessary to issue another venire, and Clerk McMillan was so instructed.

Mr. Larsen begged to be excused, on the ground that he was the victim of cough and catarrh. Judge Anderson told him that, like the other gentlemen, he must stay for the present, and if later on their services could be dispensed with, the court would probably excuse them.

Mr. Cushing applied to be excused. He said he was the manager of the Pioneer sampling mill, and with the exception of the bookkeeper—who was away from business—he was the only one there who could run the mill. His absence now would interfere with the mill's operations, and the business would suffer materially. Mr. Cushing was allowed to go.

The remaining jurors were then sworn and at 11 o'clock the court took up cases on the civil calendar.

AN ATTORNEY'S CLAIM.

The first case heard was that of O. W. Powers, attorney-at-law, vs. Thos. G. Bywater, of this city, suit having been brought to recover the sum of $100, for professional services rendered to the defendant. The plaintiff conducted his own case; Williams & Van Cott represented the defendant, the action was tried before a jury.

It appeared from the facts adduced that while working with the chain gang at the city gravel pits some time ago a portion of one of the tanks caved in, injuring Bywater severely. He subsequently went to Judge Powers, the plaintiff in this action, consulted him upon the matter, and arranged with him to bring a suit for damages against the city, on his behalf. Judge Powers, having looked up the law bearing on the case, drew up the necessary complaint on a contingent fee, the defendant being a poor man. Some time afterwards, however, the defendant placed the whole matter in the hands of Attorneys Williams & Van Cott, through whom a compromise between the city authorities and Bywater for $1000 was effected. The plaintiff then instituted these proceedings.

Defendant admitted having consulted the plaintiff in the first instance with reference to taking proceedings against the city authorities. When he took his witnesses to Judge Powers' office, he said, the plaintiff told him he had a good case, but afterwards changed the tune, and said he had no case at all, and that he could do nothing for him. He then went and placed his case in the hands of Messrs. Williams and Van Cott.

The defendant's latter statement was however denied.

In answer to Mr. Van Cott, Judge Powers said he might have been accepted largely with election affairs about the time the defendant came to him, but he never neglected his legal business, even for politics. He never forgot the interests of his clients, whatever might come.

The jury retired, and, after being absent from court about ten minutes, returned a verdict for the plaintiff for the amount claimed.

OTHER CASES.

John J. Bryant vs. M. Shaughnessy; on motion of Attorney Arthur Brown, for the plaintiff, judgment upon supplemental complaint was ordered and judgment granted as prayed.

John Marsh, administrator, vs. Edwin Tuttle et al.; on motion of plaintiff the case was dismissed.

F. Westbrooker vs. Kate Marsh; dismissed by agreement of plaintiff.

R. J. Cook vs. Milton Roberts et al.; leave to file supplemental answer overruled.

Court then adjourned till ten o'clock tomorrow morning.

BRIGHAM JUDGE CASE.

In the case of the People ex rel. vs. L. G. Hardy, involving the title to the county collectorship, the arguments were in progress when the court adjourned.

The case of Jane Olsen vs. Hyrum Bagley et al was passed by consent.

Nellie Hall vs. Mary Stringham et al.; forest leave granted.

The case of Jesse W. Fox, Jr., vs. Scott Anderson et al. was passed on motion of plaintiff.

Owen J. Murphy et al. vs. Carbon Town Lot Co.; demurrer to complaint overruled.

Wm. Middleton vs. Utah Central Ry. Co.; motion overruled, writ of error allowed.

Thomas Larson vs. Utah Central Ry. Co. et al.; writ of certiorari granted; motion overruled.

Board of Education vs. L. G. Hardy, collector. The motion of defendant to deposit money in court was granted.

Court adjourned until 2 p.m.

Judge Zane, on Saturday afternoon, in the school tax cases of Edward Anton et al. and H. G. Raybould et al. vs. L. G. Hardy et al., signed the following decree:

He is remembered that on this day this cause came on to be heard before said court, upon the original complaint, and upon the default of the defendants duly entered herein, when it appeared to the court, from the allegations of said complaint, that the taxes herein complained of as levied upon the property of the plaintiffs, was levied upon the valuation as returned by the tax assessors for the year 1890, when the said taxes should have been levied upon the valuation of said property of the plaintiffs as returned for the year 1889.

Wherefore the court, proceeding in accordance with the opinion of the Supreme court in the case, doth now order, adjudge and decree, that the said taxes so levied upon the property of the plaintiffs as set out in said complaint, are void and there is no legal authority to collect the same.

It is further ordered, adjudged and decreed that the defendant, L. G. Hardy, tax collector aforesaid, be and he hereby is perpetually enjoined from any further proceedings for the purpose of collecting said taxes. It is likewise decreed that the plaintiffs recover of the defendant, the board of education of the city of Salt Lake, the costs, amounting to —— dollars.

His honor also made the following orders:

John Husting et al. vs. John Beck; demurrer overruled; ten days to answer.

Alex Dalbonnet al. vs. Ballou, Beck & Chanslor Mining company et al.; set for October.

Thomas G. Morton vs. Emeline Fabian et al.; strikes from docket.

George Calder vs. Preston Free; same order.

Salt Lake Power, Light and Heating Company vs. Salt Lake City Railroad Company; dismissed.

In the matter of Samuel P. Hoyt; strikes from docket.

Salt Lake Hill A Elevator Company vs. Great Salt Lake & Hot Springs; dismissed by plaintiff.

Clara Heath Sumner vs. Salt Lake City et al.; same order.

O. Wolenberg vs. R. H. Jones et al.; reinstated on docket.

A. J. Dunford vs. John W. Young; demurrer withdrawn; fifteen days to answer.

Edward Ashton et al. vs. Lemuel G. Hardy, collector, et al.; decree of perpetual injunction against defendant.

Benjamin G. Raybould et al. vs. same; same order.

O. W. Powers vs. Thomas G. Bywater; motion to dissolve attachment denied.

A LAWYER'S CLAIM.

In the case of Judge Powers vs. Thomas Bywater, in which the plaintiff sues to recover $100 for his services in bringing the damage suit for the defendant against Salt Lake City, and which resulted in Bywater's receiving $1000 in compromise, the defendant's motion to dissolve the attachment was overruled.

SUIT SETTLED.

J. M. Thompson has filed a suit against the Hyde Park Coal company for $25,000 damages for the alleged killing of his little son, Orson M. Thompson, July 6th, last.

John Sunsworth has brought suit against the Orca Insurance company to recover $1250, the amount due on a policy issued to cover a grist mill, which he owned in Tooele County, which was destroyed August 13th.

A Narrow Escape.

Dr. Holland had a narrow escape from death on east South Temple street shortly before noon yesterday. He was crossing the street railroad track opposite C street, in his buggy, and failed to notice an electric car that was approaching rapidly from the west. The motorman turned off the current and applied the brakes, but not in time to avert a collision. The buggy was overturned and badly wrecked while Dr. Holland sustained several bruises about the head and body. He was carried to the house of a friend, where he was cared for.

First District Court.

Judge Miner disposed of the following cases at Ogden on Saturday:

American Publishing company vs. C. E. Mayne et al.; on motion of C. C. Oye, attorney for plaintiff, order granting permission to open and publish depositions.

Mary A. Long vs. Isaac et al.; continuation of trial; verdict, no cause of action.

John C. Murray vs. Oregon Short Line railway et al.; order allowing supplemental answer to be filed on payment of court costs and $10 attorney's fee, and direction on motion of plaintiff that on such payment case may be dismissed.

Mingie Tuborg vs. F. W. La Franz; trial pending.

Laura A. Price vs. John E. Price; on motion of W. H. Dowling, order to strike case to P. J. Bagnall to report testimony.

United States vs. Sidney Stevens; on motion of J. M. Allison, Jr., order requiring defendant ten days' further time to prepare and serve a bill of exceptions.

Daniel Hamer vs. First National Bank, et al.; on motion of Kimball & Allison, order continuing case to October 22, on payment by plaintiff of attorney's fee for cost of term.

In recommencing of grand and petit jurors for November term. Order for venire for twenty grand jurors, returnable November 16, 1891.

The Usual Result.

On Friday afternoon, Sept. 18th, a dangerous combination—small children and matches—formed a junction with a large straw stack belonging to the paper mill, south of this city. The usual result ensued. Straw to the amount of nearly twenty tons was consumed. By the vigorous efforts of the residents of the neighborhood, mostly employes of the mill, a portion of the stack was saved and the house prevented from spreading to other buildings in close proximity. Those who assisted in extinguishing the fire have the thanks of the New Company.

IRRIGATION CONGRESS IN CACHE

Secretary Gillespie Gets a Souvenir From the Visitors.

The visit of the members of the Irrigation Congress to Cache Valley was a well chosen closing of their stay in Utah. The trip was a period enjoyed to every member. They left Salt Lake at 8 o'clock as announced. There were not less than three hundred in the company, counting the Salt Lake ladies and other invited guests who went along. Arrived at Ogden, they were taken from the depot in carriages by the Ogden committee, and after a drive around the city, were treated to a magnificent luncheon at the Reed hotel.

The party left Ogden little after one o'clock. At Brigham they were served with another load of fruit which was spread out at the depot awaiting them. At the head of Bear River canal some time was spent in inspecting the dam, etc.

The train arrived at Logan at about five o'clock, where the visitors were met with a train of carriages and taken to the Agricultural college.

The occasions there were necessarily brief. The company assembled in the college chapel and listened to an address of welcome from Governor Sanborn. They then repaired to the boarding hall where another much was spread for them.

A ride about town followed, when the visitors were taken to the depot. There the delegates got together on the platform and passed resolutions thanking the people of Ogden, Logan and Brigham for their hospitable reception.

The train then set out for home, arriving in Salt Lake a few minutes before 12 o'clock, midnight.

During the home run several delegates had taken upon themselves the work of calling the attention of the foreign members of the congress to the many gratuitous efforts of Secretary Gillespie of the Chamber of Commerce to make the visit of the delegates to Utah a pleasant one. The results of the canvass were made known at the depot when Dr. Martin, of Nebraska, calling the members together on the platform, announced that before separating it had become the privilege of the delegates to pay a little debt to Mr. Gillespie, who was then presented with an elegant gold badge on which was inscribed "First Irrigation Congress." The gratitude of the company was also expressed to Mr. W. A. B. Allen, the energetic and affable assistant of the secretary, who had done all in his power for the comfort and entertainment of the visitors.

THE APPROACHING FAIR.

Another Meeting Held Regarding It on Saturday Evening.

A meeting of the Territorial Fair committee on Saturday evening, there were among those present: Messrs. H. W. Lawrence, McDonald, Shepard, Peters, Wells, Wantland, Simon and Mason.

Mr. McDonald, who is visiting various portions of the Territory in the interest of the fair, reported that he had been to Provo and Lehi and found a disposition among all classes to make better and larger displays than ever before; that through the efforts of Mr. Ben H. Eldredge a movement was on foot in Provo to close all the stores on one of the fair days in order that all employes to go to the fair; also that Mr. Cutler, manager of the sugar factory, had promised the first make of sugar made at the Lehi factory would be placed in the fair, an exhibit of beets, pulp and sugar in various stages of manufacture will be made also. He also reported that he had secured an exhibit from the famous La Plata mining camp for the fair.

Mr. Mason reported that the committee appointed to examine into the feasibility of a dog show had visited the grounds in company with Mr. D. L. Levy, who was taking a great interest in the matter on account of having had charge of similar exhibits in Denver and elsewhere, and from a desire to encourage the breeding of good dogs here, and had concluded to offer prizes and construct benches and make the dog show a feature of the fair. The prizes will be announced in a few days.

The awards of premiums made by Messrs. Lawrence and Wells were confirmed.

Mr. Ben H. Eldredge appeared before the board, and expressed on behalf of the interests of beef cattle, that an expert or professional judge be employed, and offered to contribute more than one-fifth of the subject.

The question was discussed by the members, some of whom, while in favor of the proposition, feared the proceeds might be a loss. Mr. Eldredge, from the fact that the society could not afford to pay for expert judges in all the various classes, and that jealousies might possibly be engendered, if in this subject was referred to get some definite information in regard to the matter, and an expression of thanks was given Mr. Eldredge for his generous public spirit.

The naming of judges in the various departments was laid over till the next meeting.

The following special offers were authorized by the board:

For the best display of Utah manufactured pottery or stoneware—$20 and a diploma.

For the best display of pickles made by any of the Utah pickle factories—gold medal.

For the best exhibit of Utah soap—gold medal.

For the best display of fruit trees, not to be over years old, at least six of a kind—$10 and a diploma.

The following assistant supervisors were named:

In educational class, J. S. Peery, of Ogden.

In agricultural implements, etc., William Naylor.

In fruits and flowers, Prof. M. E. Jones.

In mines, S. J. Paul.

It was also decided to give a special premium of $25, or its equivalent in a medal, flag, banner or other device as may be decided upon, for the best drilled company or squad in Utah, the prize drilling to take place on the fair grounds, conditions to be announced hereafter.

Following are the prices and conditions of the band concerts so far as formulated:

Seventy-five dollars and gold medal for the best military band in the Territory of twenty or more men. Fifty dollars and silver medal as first prize for best military band of less than twenty men.

Second prize, gold mounted baton.

Third prize, one set of band books.

Twenty-five dollars as first prize for brass bands.

Silver medal as second prize for brass bands.

Bands must have been organized at least six months before the opening and at least two-thirds of the members shall have been members for that length of time. The selection of music will be one overture at their selection of the committee's own choice.

It is the object of the committee that previous to going to the Fair all the bands play the same selection on a grand march of sufficient down Main street, and a suitable gold baton will be furnished for this occasion early in the coming week.

Hermon H. Hong, E. Evans and J. R. Fairbanks, three Utah boys now studying in Paris, France, have made application for entry on original works of art in the line they are studying.

The following circular has been issued:

It is the desire of the directors of the coming Fair to make the art department a complete one, and to make it a lower entrance to the other departments of the Fair; and believes such a result is easy of accomplishment if we can secure the prompt and energetic support of painters and other home artists. It therefore requests your active interest in this direction, and invaluable work you can do, when you make your entry, to secure a copy of the list of premiums offered, to which we invite your special attention. We also beg to suggest you that the directors will be glad to meet in a body all such artists as may be in the city, or, if not, to receive their entries alone, by a specially appointed committee of competent critics.

We also beg to call your special attention to the fact that the interest of spectators, it is the intention to present a catalogue of the works of art exhibited, with name of artist, etc.

It has been further decided to have the prizes awarded in the catalogue of those persons who are the successful exhibitors, in order that the fame of the Fair may be kept alive with reference to the artists living outside of many of their works will be sent to us, to be on the ground, for instance, in New York and elsewhere.

The following special rules will apply this year:

1. Exhibitors must list their pictures with the superintendent or before September 30, to secure space in the printed catalogue. Unclassified work will have precedence in hanging.

2. There will be no charge for hanging a space sufficient for each picture.

3. No works will be received later than October 10, and no exhibitor will be allowed to exhibit more than three pieces, unless requested to have them in by October 1. For any further particulars consult with the undersigned at the Deseret Bank, 100 Main street.

Respectfully,

HERMAN W. WILLIS, Superintendent.

Mr. C. P. Mason, supervisor of the horse department, desires that exhibitors in his class make their entries at once, to avoid the rush of the last day. It is hoped to be able to state and classify the entries, and make the entries immediately. The rules provide that all entries be made at least two weeks before the fair and duels are being spoken for at a very rapid rate.

Funeral Services.

The funeral services of the late Thos. W. Muir will take place in the Twenty-fifth Ward meeting house tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. A brother of the deceased is expected to arrive from the north by that time.

Brother Muir was one of the oldest residents in that part of the city, locating there in 1847. The family is one of the best in the ward.

It will be remembered that while Brother and Sister Muir were at Logan last July, Sister Muir met with a severe accident, breaking her arm, from which she has not yet entirely recovered.

Notice.

Manti Temple will close for Conference Tuesday, Oct. 6th, and open for ordinance work on Thursday, October 8, 1891.

A. H. LUND,
President.

South Jordan Beets.

Brother E. D. Holt, of South Jordan, informs us that the sandy soil of that locality is admirably adapted for the raising of sugar beets. This fact has been proved by analysis of specimens of that product from this settlement. The beets tested have been pronounced first-class. Brother Holt is of opinion that beets are the most profitable crop that can be raised in South Jordan and vicinity.
