MINING, BUSINESS AND STOCKS

NEW DISCOVERY ON OUTZEN GROUP

Body of Fine Ore Uncovered Practically at Grass Roots.

GOLD VISIBLE TO NAKED EYE.

Discovery Made by Lorenzo Nielson, One of Best Known Prospectors In Mount Baldy Region.

To Lorenzo Nielson, one of the long-time and most indomitable prospectors of the Mt. Baldy region, is due the credit for another discovery which, from present indications, will add another important mining proposition to the growing list of high class properties of that region, says the Richfield Reaper.

Last week he made a new discovery on the Outzen group, about 1,500 feet up the hillside to the southwest from the point where Mr. Outzen opened up on a big ore lead last season. Mr. Nielson's other duties at present have prevented him following up the discovery extensively, but practically under the grass roots he has uncovered a fine quartz lead from which samples show gold to the eye.

This is undoubtedly an important find and no time will be lost in developing it.

Mr. Nielson has probably made more discoveries, and good ones, too, than any other prospector on the mountain and this latest adds to the already long list which stands to his credit.

TO HAVE NEW TUNNEL.

City Rocks Property Plans to Tap Sulphides at Depth.

According to present plans a second tunnel is to be started on the City Rocks property at Alta to tap the sulphide ore at depth. The company is now shipping two cars per week of oxides to the local market and their present workings are within 300 feet of the sulphides.

Supt. Edwards of the property spent Thursday and Friday in the city on business connected with the mine and states that while the matter of the new tunnel has not yet been definitely decided upon present plans are almost certain to go through and the work ordered commenced within a very short time.

DAY ON 'CHANGE.

Business of Good Volume With Generally Healthy Tone Prevailing.

Business on the floor of the local exchange opened up well this morning. The market was strong and values for the most part well sustained. Sales for the entire month are shown to be nearly twice as large as during the same month last year. The quotations for the day closed as follows:

NORTH TINTIC SHOWS UP WELL.

Raymond Illinois Expects to Encounter Rich Ore Within Next Few Days.

Mr John C. Sullivan well known in connection with mineral researches north of Eureka in the Tintic district, is in the city for a day or so on business. Some mention has been made of a strike on the Raymond Illinois, and while Mr. Sullivan is unable to give particulars he is strong in his belief that the mineralization at this hour is such as to warrant the belief that rich ore is very near. All the properties in the locality are contributing good sized shipments to the market of silver lead ores and with a market for the zinc ores of which it is now capable the production should be as heavy as any corresponding portion of the district.

ABOUT MONTE CRISTO.

District in Which Many Salt Lakers Are Interested With Excelent Prospects.

Salt Lake capital is pretty well represented up and down the length and breadth of Nevada, but in perhaps no section which promises more in the way of returns on the money than the camp of Monte Cristo located about 25 miles east of Goldfield and about half the distance south of the famous Cactus Springs.

It was from this point that H. C. and M. E. Bailey set out five years ago on a prospecting trip which was destined to make them both rich men. Their properties in this district today have given some remarkable showings and contain some of the strongest and richest ledges to be met with in the entire section. Thirty-five assays of ore have been made from a three-foot ledge practically at grassroots, and the returns show an average value of $25 per ton. A shaft is now being sunk on this ledge and when a sufficient depth has been reached crosscutting will be commenced to tap the three or four ledges known to cut the group within a small radius.

I. E. Pratt is one of the pioneers of this section. He has been spending a few days in Salt Lake and recently stated that the showings there were the best he had seen in Nevada. He is the owner of a group of claims in the very center of the district which carry ore rich in gold, silver and copper. Ore running as high as $450 per ton has been encountered and there is but little room for doubt but what development of these claims will show the district to be fully up to expectations.

TO BUY NEVADA MINE.

Coterie of Salt Lake Mining Men Are Making Plans.

Arrangements are now under way whereby a coterie of well known Salt Lake mining men will come into possession of what promises to become one of the foremost silver-lead propositions of Nevada.

The property is located within three miles of the ground of the Round Mountain Consolidated in Smoky valley and within the same mineral zone and just across the range from the famous old Jefferson and Prussian mines, which did so much in early days towards demonstrating the extent of the mineral wealth of the state. The main values are in silver, some assays showing as high as 500 ounces to the ton. The property is surrounded by mines which are making fortunes for their owners and the property is said to have all the earmarks of a highly meritorious proposition. Capt. A. O. Tibbitts will leave on Saturday to make a thorough examination and upon his report the decision will be made. Some very fine samples have been taken from a three-foot ledge on the surface which can be traced for several hundred feet across the group.

DAMAGE SUIT FILED.

Bingham Consolidated Asked to Contribute $10,000 for Injuries.

Forrest Gibson yesterday filed suit in the United States district court against the Bingham Consolidated Mining & Smelting company, from which he asks damages in the sum of $10,000 for personal injuries, alleged to have been received by him. He was a car man in the Commercial mine, and sets up in his complaint that he was injured by the caving in of a stope, by which he lost his left hand and was otherwise permanently injured.

HAS FAITH IN SOUTHPORT.

Promising Stockton Mine to be Developed on Large Scale.

J. R. Rand, president of the Southport Mining company of Stockton, but himself a resident of New York, left for his home Thursday evening, after an inspection of the property. The Southport mine is one of the youngsters of the camp, but has given evidence of having good values in ore and it is expected that the campaign of development soon to be organized will place this company in the front ranks of the producers of the camp.

Mr. Rand has great confidence in the west as a whole not only from a mining standpoint, but from a commercial as well. He has been investing in Utah mines and securities for some years now, and in not one case has he had occasion to regret his choice.

MANHATTAN CAMP HAS GREAT FUTURE

Atmosphere Surcharged With Energy and Aggressive Development Proceeding Steadily.

GROUND HARDLY SCRATCHED.

Immense Hoisting Plants Being Installed and Era of Systematic Mining Has Set In.

(Special to the "News.")

Goldfield, Nev., Aug. 28.—The Manhattan mining camp is taking on the airs of Cripple Creek. The atmosphere is surcharged with energy and aggressive development work. The great mining companies of the district are working day and night shifts in opening up the immense ore reserves that have been hardly scratched over. Greater depth is being obtained every day and the richness and extent of the orebodies are showing constant improvement. The chill air of the early mornings and late evenings seems to have started in renewed activity the men who are delving into Mother Earth to wrest from her treasure stores the gold that has been so plethorically deposited in the hills surrounding that mining town. Immense hoisting plants are being installed and an era of real, systematic mining has set in.

MILL READY SOON.

All details of the great milling project that the Tonopah Exploration company is back of, have been perfected and work is progressing rapidly towards its consummation. When completed, the mill will have a capacity of 200 to 300 tons per day. With such adequate milling facilities promised for present needs, the mine operators of the district feel an incentive to greater efforts, and with a prospective outlet for the production of the camp there has come a marked acceleration in the development of the mines and prospects of the camp.

Gold Hill just now is one of the principal centers of activity. The Stray Dog estate, scene of the first spectacular strike, has never lagged in popular favor or in its sensation-making proclivities. The ore reserves are valued at one-half million dollars, and the net shipping returns for July were in excess of $32,000. Development is being furthered with three full shifts, and the ore tonnage at the surface and the underground reserve are constantly being augmented.

Sidelining with the Stray Dog and the celebrated Union No. 9 claim is the no less famous estate of the Jumping Jack company. Shipments from the property, aggregating 73 tons, were made on July 11 and July 25. The net proceeds were $15,704.23. Like its plutocratic companion, the Jumping Jack is a treasure repository of almost unlimited wealth, and is a strong rival in the production of specimen ore. The company has acquired all leases on the acreage and is pushing development work night and day with three full shifts of miners. The rich Stray Dog-Union No. 9 ledge has been tapped in the crosscut run out from the 100-foot level of the Jumping Jack shaft, and is showing five feet in width. Three feet of the vein "breaks" at the rate of $157 per ton. Every pound of rock mined is ore, and the work is being prosecuted with a view of establishing a monthly output having a gross valuation of from $30,000 to $50,000.

GOOD ORE IN UPPER LEVELS.

J. D. ("Jack") Campbell, the man who developed the world famed Reilly lease on the Florence estate at Goldfield, is general manager of the Jumping Jack, Stray Dog, and Indian Camp properties. The Indian Camp property, third in the trio of millionaire-makers, lies to the northwest of its fashionable associates, but like them rubs sociably with Union No. 9. Operations at this time are confined to the sinking of a shaft to the depth of 300 feet, where extensive development work is to be prosecuted. In the upper levels a 12-foot ledge of high grade milling ore is exposed, and it is expected when the body is tapped at the 300 foot level, shipping values will prevail.

Dry washer operations on the Indian Camp are averaging three ounces of gold dust per day for each man engaged, by running the gold-burdened surface deposit through the machine. The Jumping Jack, Stray Dog, and Indian Camp properties surround the gulch from which this gold is being mind, and the ledge from which it was washed has been opened on the three estates. That it is quartz gold and not placer gold is evidenced by the fact that nearly all the nuggets of any size have pieces of quartz clinging to them.

The Manhattan Consolidated, Consolidated Extension, Pine Nut, and Little Grey are rapidly forging to positions of prominence in the mining world of Nevada. Their great deposits of gold ore are proving of immense size as the shafts go down, and below the 135-foot level there has been noted in each property a most satisfying increase in gold contents. These properties are now in condition to yield a tonnage of high grade milling ore that will give to the camp a justly deserved prestige as one of the great gold centers of the Sage Brush state.

SOME GOOD PROSPECTS.

Of the preferred "prospects," the Sedans and Belmont are now in the glare of the lime light. On the former a ledge is showing which returns assays as high as $555 in gold across five feet of ore. The same vein is being developed on the Belmont, and at a nominal depth the quartz shows a gold value as high as $350 to the ton. Operations are being advanced on both estates, and the consensus of opinion among mining men familiar with that section, is that both will develop into great mines.

The Broncho, Mustang, Wolftone, Crescent, Yellow Horse, and a score of others are showing to great advantage and from all view points the future of the Manhattan district pressages years of prosperity, plethoric production and plenty. The real growth of the camp will date from the fall of 1906.

CALL MONEY AT TWELVE PER CENT

Had a Repressive Effect on Stock Trading, Making Business Exceptionally Dull.

SOME TRADERS CLOSED OUT.

Effect Was to Wipe Out Rise in Several Stocks—Close Lifeless, Steady.

New York, Aug. 31.—Speculation was quiet and at the outset there was a little irregularity to prices. Neither the advances nor declines amounted to much, aside from a gain of a point in Union Pacific. The coal stocks were easier, including Reading and Pennsylvania.

A moderate demand arose and St. Paul, Union Pacific and New York Central advanced 1½. Reading 1 and the general market to a good reaction above yesterday's closing. Subsequently when call loans which came over until Tuesday were made at 9 per cent the market promptly weakened and advances were quite generally lost. Anaconda and Great Northern preferred, under last night's price and Reading, Northwestern, Wabash preferred and General Electric 1 to 1¼. Around 11 o'clock the market was showing steadiness but business was quite light.

Monetary conditions had a repressive effect on the general stock trading and business was exceptionally small. Union Pacific was pushed up over 2 points to 104½ in the face of a 10 per cent money rate. Other stocks affected the concern felt over money from time to time, but made in the main a better showing than would be generally expected.

Delaware & Hudson, Northern Pacific, Erie, Rock Island preferred, and American Car preferred declined 1 to 1½. The market was in a semi-stagnant condition at noon.

Business in stocks became progressively smaller as call money rates advanced, 11 per cent ruling at 1 o'clock. The active list fluctuated with very narrow limits but maintained a good undertone. One hundred shares of American Express sold at 300, compared with 270, the preceding sale on May 17. Pullman jumped 5 points.

In the late afternoon when Union Pacific moved slowly upward to 104½, other stocks began to show moderate sympathy with the movement and St. Paul, Southern Pacific, Reading and Amalgamated Copper recovered to the high prices of the morning. Pullman expanded its rise to 8 points, touching 250.

At 1:30 p. m. call money loaned at 12 per cent.

Traders who were reluctant to carry stocks over until Tuesday closed out in the last hour and the selling wiped out the day's rise in St. Paul and Reading and clipped off 1¼ of the advance in Union Pacific. The general market was about as inert as at any time during the day since the money situation became dominant. The close of the market was lifeless and fairly steady.

J. M. Kirkham of the Lehi Banner, was chosen president pro tem, and a meeting was called for Sept. 10, at the Wilson hotel, at which the association will be made over and officers chosen.

SIX ROUND BOUT.

Boxing Exhibition at Lagoon Between Bernstein and Christie.

Besides the big clam bake at Lagoon on Labor day, there will be other interesting features. One will be a six round boxing match between Jack Christie, champion middleweight of Utah, and Kid Bernstein, a 145 pounder, and cousin to Joe Bernstein, the lightweight of national fame. In addition to the six round exhibition between this pair, Joe Green of Chicago and Terry Davis of Salt Lake will box four rounds. The exhibitions will undoubtedly prove highly interesting and will be worth the journey out to Lagoon to see.
