THE ASIATIC WAR.

Japan Formally Declares Herself Ready to Whip China

AND SO NOTIFIES ENGLAND.

An Apology to Great Britain.—China Will Not Allow Europeans Injured Japan in China.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The Exchange Telegraph company declares that war between China and Japan was officially declared at noon today by Japan.

The Japanese minister at Pekin this afternoon informed Earl of Kimberley, secretary of state for foreign affairs, that a state of war exists between Japan and China.

THEY WERE SAVED.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 1.—It is reported that Colonel Von Hanneklin and another intelligent man were on the transport Kow Shung, when she foundered, have been saved.

JAPAN APOLOGIZES.

TOKIO, Japan, Aug. 1.—The Japanese government has instructed its minister in London to apologize to Great Britain for firing upon and sinking the transport Kow Shung, while she was flying the British flag. The Japanese minister has been instructed to inform Great Britain that the commander of the Japanese cruiser did not know that the Kow Shung was a British vessel when he fired the fight. Captain Galsworthy, of the Kow Shung, and many other persons on the transport were rescued by the boats of the Japanese warship.

SPAIN GETTING ANXIOUS.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The Spanish government, on account of misgivings regarding the possible results to the Philippine Islands in the event of Japan touching the dominant power in the East, has purchased three cruisers from English firms.

FOREIGN REPRESENTATIVES INFORMED.

TOKIO, Aug. 1.—The Japanese government has informed the representatives of the foreign powers here that a state of war exists between Japan and China. This is regarded as equivalent to a declaration of war.

MISSIONARIES NOT SAFE.

BELLEFONTE, Aug. 1.—Bishop Alfonso W. Wilson, of the Southern Methodist church, who has spent many years in mission work in China and Japan, says: There is much reason to fear for the safety of the missionaries, both Japan and China, now stationed in China and Corea. The mail was also always ready to visit the troublesome to decide no foreigners, no matter how evil to try may be from the name of humanity.

CONSIDER IT A SEIZURE.

YOKOHAMA, Aug. 1.—The government of Japan has been informed that Chinese transports have been sent to Corea, which Japan considers a seizure.

Messrs. Iskiwa Japanese officials have been stopped by Corea.

SONGS HAS SAID OF HIS MIND.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 1.—Russian newspapers are unanimous in saying that whatever may be the result of the war between China and Japan, Russia will not tolerate any diminishment of Corean territory or alienation of Corean independence on the part of Great Britain or any other power, if such interference endangers Russian interests.

OFFICIAL DISPATCHES OBSTRUCTED.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—A cablegram announcing the arrival of the U. S. steamer Monocacy at Nagasaki, was received by Secretary Herbert today and is the only official news that has come to the government from the representatives of China and Japan. The curious that official dispatches are being obstructed purposely now seemed to convention.

The Monocacy was at Chemulpo, Corea, with the Baltimore and it is supposed she ran over to Nagasaki for coal and supplies. It is thought here that the action of Japan is officially notifying the British government of the existence of a state of war between Japan and China was precipitated by the Kow Shung incident. Had such a notice preceded the sinking of the ship Japan would not have incurred liability to Great Britain and been obliged to apologize. In effect that notice is equivalent to a declaration of war, at least it imposes the same obligation upon the neutral nations. By the course Japan pursues she has seriously embarrassed China to her self-assumed right with warlike equipments in other countries.

Just what the effect will be on Chinese treaty port commerce is uncertain now. Japan has taken the ground that they are practically foreign settlements and therefore has abstained any intention to interfere with them, regarding them as outside the area of hostile operations. It is believed, however, that China will now proceed to close the more important treaty ports, beginning with Shanghai, perhaps by declaring the entrance.

JAPAN'S OFFICIAL ACCOUNT.

YOKOHAMA, Aug. 1.—The following is the official account from the Japanese government's standpoint of the battle on July 25th between the warships of Japan and China.

The Chinese cruisers Chih Yuen and the Kowsung were observed standing from Kasan, and a transport, carrying Chinese troops, was towed by the Chinese warship Tsao King, whose flag of truce towards Kasan. The Japanese cruisers Akitsu, Yoshino and Naniwa set to the Chinese warships and Palmes island. The Chinese cruisers replied but their warship projectiles. In order to get out of range of the Japanese cruisers put to sea, whereupon the Japanese Naniwa thereupon put about and steamed toward the two Chinese ships, Chih Yuen and Kowsung, however, retreated and Chih Yuen fired a white flag above the Japanese ensign. The Naniwa immediately ceased firing upon the w[illegible] and fired the Japanese flag in the bow of th Naniwa. The latter fired a shot and signaled the transport to stop. Meanwhile the Chih Yuen was approaching another Japanese cruiser and when within 300 metres, discharged a torpedo which missed the Japanese war ship. The Naniwa then opened fire upon the Chih Yuen and sunk the Chih Yuen and the Chih Yuen sunk. The second Chinese war ship, Kowsung, had meanwhile been engaged with the Japanese cruiser Akitsu, but after the Chih Yuen sunk she took to sea between the shore and shoal. The transport carried six guns and had 1,100 soldiers on board. The captain of the transport surrendered but the soldiers resisted capture. The Naniwa was ultimately obliged to open fire upon the transport and sank her. The captain and others were rescued by the boats of the Naniwa. It was afterwards discovered that the transport was the British steamer Kow Shung. She had on board her chart of Taitung and Bokeo outposts of the Chinese army. The Japanese government, as soon as it was informed of the sinking of the British ship, expressed regret, according to the British charge d'affaires that if, prior inquiry had been made, Japan was known to be in the wrong, the Japanese government was prepared to make all preparation for the loss sustained.

The naval engagement on July 25th should not be confounded with the naval battle on July 30th, but resulted the Chih Yuen, a Chinese man-of-war, of 2,300 tons, in this first encounter, be supplanted with the Chinese armored battle ship Chih Yuen, 3 tons.

INDIANS AND RANCHERS.

Trouble Between Them on a Fair Way to Settlement.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Governor Hughes of Arizona was here, states that the long standing friction between the Navajo Indians and ranchers who stock range is in a fair way of settlement. His efforts to have the San Carlos and Snake out off from White mountain Indian reservation will be helpful, result in the coal fields being segregated and opened to the public for settlement and development. All the Arizona legislatures during the past ten years by joint resolution, and all governors in their annual reports have urged the segregation of those coal fields, they being no other coal within 300 miles.

The gold engaged for shipment tomorrow amounts to $1,250,000, which $1,000,000 will be drawn from the United States sub-treasury.

BAXTER FOR RECEIVER.

An Effort to Secure Him for Oregon Short Line and Utah Northern.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 1.—A local paper says there is a well defined movement in local railway circles that H. W. Baxter, formerly assistant general superintendent of Union Pacific, will be made receiver of the Oregon Short Line and Utah Northern. It is well known that the Union Pacific interests made a vigorous effort to secure the appointment of Mr. Baxter as receiver of the O. R. and N. company, but Mr. McNeill's appointment, on the Sage interests controlling the bonds, defeated the same purpose and the appointment of McNeill. Failing in that direction it is believed that the Union Pacific will make a great effort to have Mr. Baxter made receiver in the Short Line.

FATALITIES AT A BEACH.

Bathers Go Beyond the Life Lines and Are Drowned.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Two fatalities occurred among the bathers at the Macalister beach bathing resort at Jackson Park yesterday afternoon and night. The dead are of those who were drowned are Julius Greenberg, 25 years old, Monroe McCants, of Salem, Ind.

For the convenience of patrons the proprietor of the Macalister beach bathing has provided a line which is stretched near the shore to enclose water. There were a dozen persons on the raft, among them Miss McCants, her sister and a friend. They were diving and swimming about when Greenberg, it was noticed that Miss McCants had disappeared. Greenberg was present and was with the shore for some time. A few minutes later he came to the surface some distance beyond the life lines. He struggled, brought to the raft and efforts at resuscitation made. Time, however, were unavailing.

The bruises of Greenberg's neck was also at the time with the case of Miss McCants.

A MYSTERY AT SEA.

A Rack Reported Stranded With Boats and Rigging Vanished.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—The mystery of the strange hark that three ship captains have reported as stranded on a reef 15 miles west of the straights of Juan de Fuca, with all her boats and rigging vanished, seems to be as far from solution as when it was first reported by the captain of the Olympia.

A few days ago a vessel footed Lombard and reported having passed another a short distance of the coast of Kent, and that the crew reported in the throng reported stranded vessel. All agreed in saying that the ship was in fine shape, and most likely at first no signs of destruction. Her was hard-rigged and her black painted portholes. Shipping and insurance men have been trying to determine the name of the wrecked bark, but without success. No vessel of her description should be anywhere in the vicinity of the bay, and none is overdue at any port that would pass within the ends of miles of the spot. It is not likely that she could be taken for the Crown of Italy, which ran on a reef in the straits of La Malle about two and a half years ago. She was a full-rigged ship, and when she struck most of her masts went by the board. A few days afterwards the sea was strewn with wreckage and nothing was again seen of her wreck.

SHOT A BOAT.

A few days ago the British ship Centric, the Nanaimo, arrived in port from Nanaimo and she passed close to the spot where the mysterious bark was last seen. Captain Ross tells a story which further complicates matters. He says the stranded bark is nothing but a raft, although in resemblance to a ship is so striking that he made an entry in his log to the effect that a bark was stranded with all the rigging intact. He says that he was about fifteen miles distant when he first saw it and was sure that it was a wreck. As he approached it he found that it was a huge raft sticking up out of the water. It was only about a half a mile away, but even then the resemblance to a bark with painted port was so striking that all hands had to be called to their opinion. The crew in the captains who have rounded the Horn dozens of times is that the strange rack has never been seen before.

INCENDIARY FIRE.

Resulting in the Arrest of Two Women—An Alleged Conspiracy.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Aug. 1.—Walpole is given excitement over an alleged incendiary fire which occurred in the street of Mrs. Susan J. Tyler and Mrs. Emma L. Foster. The fire was in a small outbuilding between and stole on Ninth street, used by Mrs. Tyler as a building shop and Mrs. Foster, who used the floor above for sleeping purposes. The interior of the building was entirely burned out, while in some other rooms the wood work was but slightly damaged but the furniture totally destroyed. The house has been through a fire experience before, having been burned out some time ago while occupied by the sister of one of the women under arrest.

The street of Mrs. Tyler is said to be but the inseparable of a series of sensational exposures of an alleged conspiracy to defraud insurance companies everywhere in the state of Massachusetts.

It is charged that seven persons are in the alleged conspiracy with no less than fifteen to twenty fires of an alleged incendiary nature charged to them.

Chicago Wrapped in Smoke.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—A heavy curtain of smoke spread over the city last night, which fled bitter by the northwesterly wind from the forest fires raging in Wisconsin. The smoke hung over the water in such a dense like a bank fog and such tones as were not caused their wishes at short intervals or less other precautions.

The delegates from the northern counties will join them at or in Junction. There is a lively contest on for nearly every place on the ticket and it is impossible to predict the outcome. Cheyenne has candidates for superintendent of schools, secretary of state, treasurer and supreme judge. There is a disposition among some of the delegates to give Cheyenne two places on the ticket unless some unknown compromise is effected. Mort Rose and C. E. Fuller will get the nominations for superintendent and supreme judge respectively. The contest is close between Mondell and Richards for governor, but the latter appears to be slightly in the lead. Some of the delegates are urging Mondell to withdraw and be made a candidate for Congress. If he consents he will probably receive the nomination. Geo. W. Fox, of Albany county, is to be lead for secretary of state. The treasurership is open to the field.

THE END IN VIEW.

Tariff Conferees Confident of a Speedy Agreement.

A CHANGE FOR THE BETTER.

The Compromise on the Sugar Schedule—Free Raw Materials—No Caucus for the Present.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Active negotiations are proceeding both in the tariff conference and in influential quarters outside, to bring about a complete agreement on the tariff bill and the prediction is made that the end is near at hand. It is denied with emphasis on the House side that the senate sugar schedule and the income tax on free raw material will receive substantial recognition, and they are impossible all reports that any agreement will be on the basis of accepting the Senate rate on coal and iron.

The Democratic conferees were again together two hours today, and at the close of the meeting the House members expressed the same confidence of a speedy settlement they had after the meeting yesterday. Chairman Wilson, of the conference caucus committee, said the tariff situation had changed so materially for the better that a caucus will not be held for the present.

The Senate conferees can be induced to say very little. One said there were some indications of reaching an understanding than there had been.

Report to the Marine Hospital Bureau at Washington.

The Plague Extending to Finland Where It was Never Seen Before—In Other Countries.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The marine hospital bureau has received a report on the cholera epidemic from its special officer stationed at Berlin, Surgeon Fairfax Irwin for the week ending July 28th. He wrote: The decrease has progressed materially since my last report especially in St. Petersburg, where it has assumed alarming proportions. It continues at Cronstadt and is even reported to be present in Finland, where it was never before seen. In Algeria there were many more cases than last week and new cases have appeared in Germany and the Netherlands. In Belgium cholera still continues, especially in towns along the Maz, which river is undoubtedly infected.

"I WANT TO SEE THE PRESIDENT."

But There Were Reasons for Not Granting the Request.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Thomas Cadogan, carrying a shoe maker's tool over his shoulder, appeared at the White House today and excitedly told the usherette: "I want to see the President."

"What for?" queried the policeman.

"They want to put me under ground, see? and I want to tell the President about it and you must not stop me," replied the man nervously. A telephone call brought a patrol wagon and the man was carried to the station. From crank papers in his pocket, it appeared that Cadogan wanted to secure the President's permission to "blow" the Capitol building. He has called before at the White House, but was easily persuaded to leave. He is now in jail for the President to be acquainted that the watchman kept him from discussing matters of importance with Mr. Cleveland.

HUNTINGTON'S PALACE.

Superstition Prevents the Owner from Occupying It.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—When Collis P. Huntington announced a short time ago that the big granite palace he had built for his family at Fifty-seventh street and Fifth avenue was for sale he did not accompany the statement with any reason. Now everybody knows that there must be some very good reason to make him give up the palace which had cost him nearly $1,000,000, and to speak of the thought and time he had put into his elaborate plans. First it was alleged that he was hard up and next that the palace had run down upon him, but these have proved outline. The real reason is to end why Huntington never moved into his house is so small that to most people it will seem ridiculous. The great millionaire, the strong man, the fearless speculator refused to move into his new house because he feared that if he moved in he would die. It was an old superstition that old men who grow rich build fine houses to their own funerals.

When Mr. Huntington started his plans back in 1889 he no doubt thought of this superstition, but let it have little weight with him. He expected to move in three years ago, but it was only last year that the house began to get near completed. In the meantime his health had become less and less vigorous. He advanced age and years of hard work and worry began to tell upon him. The superstition came back with renewed force and he began to think a great deal about it. At last he became absolutely convinced that if he should move in the first funeral to which the house would come would be his funeral. Then he decided that he would not even keep his house in the family, that he would sell it and remove every possible danger of his having to occupy it. And he will stick to his text.

THE MISSING CASE.

The Box Found but the Gold All Gone.

PARIS, Aug. 1.—What is supposed to be the missing case containing $20,000 gold consigned to Lazard Freres & Co. by the steamship La Touraine, from New York, was found now empty in the car to which all the other baggage had been sent. It is believed the gold was stolen during the transfer from the steamship at the railroad station in this city.

THE LABOR TROUBLE.

Ex-Governor Boies Says They Are the Results of Protection.

Parsons, temporary chairman, delivered an address, saying that Congress was McKinleyized, carried to its logical consummate. After the speech committees were chosen and the convention adjourned for dinner. On reconvening, ex-Governor Boies was chosen temporary chairman.

DES MOINES, Aug. 1.—In his address as chairman of the Democratic state convention today, ex-Governor Boies said that if Democracy would live it must fulfill all the promises on which its victory was won. He pictured the results of three decades of a most intense protective policy as seen in trusts, strikes, general discontent and armies of homeless men, and demanded that the tariff reform measure be adopted at once.

The silver plank of the last platform, he said, required affirmative action. Boies discussed the labor troubles at length, declaring the strike as then conducted "is revolution, scarcely, an incipient stage of civil war." Sympathetic strikes, he said, must go or unions would be destroyed.

They Joined the Butchers.

OMAHA, Aug. 1.—Two eight hundred men employed in the packing houses at South Omaha joined the butchers' strike today. All houses were affected and only a few cattle and hogs were killed.

BURS RECOVERS HIS SENSES.

He Says He Has Learned a Lesson and Will Profit by It.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—"I will never again be connected with any strike organization," said President Debs of the A. R. U. today. "This strike has developed the fact that the sentiment of the people in this country is against strikes and that the government stands ready to put down such movements at the point of the bayonet. I shall hereafter advise all workingmen to seek redress by the ballot."

WENT AFTER HORSE STEALERS.

Unfortunately, However, the Thieves Managed to Elude Capture.

On Monday afternoon Sheriff McQueen, accompanied by Constable Wright, started upon a journey by team in search of a supposed gang of horse and harness thieves, one of whose, last Saturday night, stole a rig from the Taylor sampling works at Murray. It is believed that the notorious "Kid" Martin is one of the number. The officers drove from here to Park City, Heber, proceeded to Kamas, and on to Provo river, having obtained a clue which it was hoped would lead to an arrest, but the steed was unknown but and they returned empty-handed shortly before noon today. It is a mistake, however, to suppose that the sheriff has abandoned all hope of a capture. He thinks that will be accomplished sooner or later.

GROUND TO DEATH.

Horrible Fate of an Unknown Tramp This Morning.

CRUSHED, TORN AND MANGLED.

Fragments of the Broken Body Scattered For Nearly Thirty Miles—A Sickening Sight.

One of the most horrifying and sickening sights ever presented in this city in connection with any fatality was witnessed at the Union Pacific depot this morning just after daylight.

A cattle train with Milford the starting point and Hide Springs as its destination had just pulled in from the south a few minutes before. Attached to it was a passenger coach beneath which one of the railway employes chanced to look. He was almost paralyzed with the awful scene which confronted him.

On the rear axle, wound tightly about the "speed recorder," were parts of a man's overalls, jumper and underclothing, covered with blood stains and shreds of human flesh. Appalled at the ghastliness of the sight the railway man turned away and called upon some of his colleagues, who on making a thorough inspection found the liver and portions of the lights and entrails of an unknown man suspended to dangle beneath the car. These parts were covered with dust and dirt and were worn away by being dragged over the rough road bed.

The coroner was notified and hastened to the spot with Undertaker Hughes and had the fragments gathered up and removed to the morgue. The coroner then requested to be run down the road a few miles on a hand car to look for the remaining portions of the unfortunate man whose earthly career had been closed in so strange a manner. Mr. Taylor, however, was informed that two cars had already been ordered out for that purpose. Later he was informed that the trunk of the body had been picked up near Lehi and that it would be sent up to Salt Lake this afternoon.

Who the man is and what he came from is not known here. The only article found in his clothes that may prove a clue to his identity is a scrap of manila wrapping paper bearing the trade mark and name of the New York Cash Store, of Provo.

The railway men are of the opinion, they say, that he was beating his way and had taken upon position under the car when his clothing caught in the "speed recorder" with the result that he was crushed to death instantly.

A BIG CELEBRATION.

Great Crowds Attend the Statehood Festivities at Saltair.

All the Leading Business Houses Close and Give a Holiday to Many—The Program.

AT 1 o'clock this afternoon the leading business houses of the city closed their doors and many hundreds of persons who would not otherwise have had the privilege of attending the Statehood Day celebration at Saltair were thus permitted to go out to the Lake and witness an event—such as they never before saw and such as they will never see again.

Early this afternoon people commenced to arrive in the city from outside points. The first train which came in from Utah county brought between six and seven hundred people. The one from Ogden brought a like number, and at 12 o'clock the beach management commenced running trains to the Lake every hour.

At three o'clock it was estimated that from 5,000 to 6,000 people were on the pavilion.

The program was a choice one and included oratory, reading of the proclamation calling a constitutional convention, to published in another column of this paper, and vocal and instrumental music.

A BICYCLIST MISSING.

F. E. Bryan, the Rider of a Victor Wheel, Wanted by His Father.

Francis E. Bryan, who left Denver on the 20th of June last, intending to make the trip to California on a Victor bicycle, is wanted. His parents are seriously alarmed regarding him, as he has not been heard from since June 25. He left Denver by the northern route, and was at Fort Collins on the 23rd of June.
