AN OLD RESIDENT. Father Lewis Celebrates Fiftieth Anniversary of His Arrival Here.

James S. Lewis, a veteran of the Fifcenth ward, was today celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of his arrival in this ity. Mr. Lewis is 75 years of age and the oungest son of Shardach Lowls, who fought in the battle of Waterloo. He is the father of Judge Lewis of the Third the father of judge Lewis of the Jund district court, and despite his advanced years is hale and hearty and locks us though he would yet see 'many happy re-turns of the day.' The gentleman is the proud possesse of his father's chilstment papers, and also holds his own appren-iceship papers when he bound himself to a journeyman shoemaker in Wales, his native tune. Mr. Lewis has seen many ups and downs since coming here, but has lived through it all without murmur-lus.

U. OF U. DRAMATIC CLUB. Will Present Shakespeare's "Winter

Tale" and Greek Tragedy.;

Plans for the coming season were formed by the University Dramatic club at a meeting yesterday. They include the presentation of Shakespeare's "Winter's Tale" and a classical Greek tragedy, either the "Agamemnon" or the "Antigone" of Sophicles. The first will be presented in elaborate style late in the football season, its cast will inlude over 60 students. The staging will be historically accurate in details The Greek tragedy will be reserved for presentation in the second sem-ester. To undertake to stage a Greek tragedy is an ambitious task, and perhaps no Greek play is more inviting than one of the great works of Sophicles. To find an "Antigone" in th ranks of the university students is no an easy task, as the part is one of the most difficult in dramatic literature most entirely on the art of its lead ing character. The club has many old members back to handle its leading roles, and a con-siderable number of new members to break in. Thomas Johnson and the Miss-es Harker and Knudson, are among the star members who are back, and Miss Alleen Maclean, "Bob" Ellerbeck, Rose Thomas and R. A. Hanson are listed as promising new material. The club elected the following officers for this President, William Mifflin; sec retary and treasurer, Leo Marshall; managers, Elbert D. Thomas and Jay E. Johnson; director, Maud May Bab-

Last night was one of the most illarious in the recent history of the Salt Lake Theater. The house was filled to the bulging point with people who came first to greet Miss Sallie Fisher, second, to welcome that perennial favorite, Frank Danlels. It was such a house as warmed the inmost time. cockles of the managerial heart, and made the manager of Florence Roberts and who has secured the fair and confer ence dates next week, wonder whether even the out of town throng could work up such an asemblage for his star. Miss Fisher had a reception whose armth almost swept her off her feet.

The applause rose and fell in big waves and it was more than a minute after she entered before the action of the lay was allowed to proceed

Articles of Incorporation have been pre-pared by State Engineer Doremus and P S. Richards as a basis or organization for the Bear Lake-Duchesne irrigation for the Bear Lake-Duchesne irrigation project, and which will be submitted the meeting of Oct. 8 for consideration.

At yesterday afternoon's organ recital Dorganist McClelan played the latroduc-tion to the third act of Lohengrin, a min-uet from Haydn's twelfth symphony, the spring Song, and soveral ofther fine se-tections. The attendance was excellent, and the recital much appreciated. The last regular Saturday recital of the sea-son will be given tomorrow afternoon.

The Utah Women's Press club will meet in the office of the Exponent tomorrow evening, when an address will be made by Miss Elizabeth S. Wilcox on the St. Louis exposition. Three original poems will be submitted by club members in competition for a place on the program at the coming convention of Women's clubs to be held in this city.

A ranchman from the northern part of the state called on Secy Bateman yes-terday afternoon and wanted to put a sheep on exhibition at the state fair. The secretary informed him that he was just a little too late, as the sheep department was full. However, when the rancher said that it was a mountain sheep, the secretary saw a new light, and was very glad to have the sheep in the fair.

President J. W. Houston of the Real Es-tate association says: "No certain fran-chize has been recommended by the as-sociation to be granted to the proposed interurban line. What we did recommend intervention line, what we did recommends was that the city council encourage the building of the proposed railroad by granting a proper franchise. Mr. Mahler has made a proposition for a franchise and it is now up to the council to deter-mine what it shall be just and right to exact in consideration for such a fran-chise heine granted. chise being granted.

chise being granted. An old-time railcoad man has been called home in the death of George Goss, aged 7s, of paralysis. He died at 12:30 this morning, at his late residence, 1074 east First South street. Mr. Goss was the orgi-nal chief engineer of the Rio Grande Western road, but retired 12 years ago, and has since been in poor health. He was a native of Maine, and after coming weat made an enviable name in railroad con-struction. He leaves a widow and two sons, one of whom resides here and the other in California. A daughter, Mrs. Richard Meintosh, died some years ago. The funeral will be held on Sunday.

The funeral will be held on Sunday. An important meeting of the Utah Wo-man's Press club is to be held Saturday evening. the audience in good nature, and waited for the tumult to subside. Miss Fisher decidedly shows what professionu experience can accomplish. In her act ing she is grace itself, and as her sweet and ringing righ soprano voice is telling as ever, it can be imagined that she makes a figure such as is carely seen in light opera or musical organ-izations. Indeed, from the musica standpoint, she dominated everything, and the way her volce rang out above chorus and orchestra in the ensembles was something that compelled keenest admiration. She was th over whelmed with floral offerings after he solo in the first act, and for the beauti-ful number in the second, by all means the gem of the opera; in her duet with Mr. Daniels, she was encored again and again.

Danlels himself has seldom had any thing funnier than his office boy role Looking back over his long career from the days of Old Sport in "The Rag Baby," "Little Puck," "The Wizard of the Nile," "The Idol's Eye," and "The Ameer," one will find that he is still climbing upward in his art of provoking screams of laughter. His song last night, "I'm on the Water Wagon Now," drew so many encores that the action of the play was extended nearly half an hour. He was called on for a speech, which was as alughable as any thing in his part.

The supporting company is big, bright and capable, the costuming, scenery, singing and dancing all of the bright and merry sort, which long ago made Daniels' productions notable. A charming little actress who made a hit with the audience was Miss Jerome, "The Office Boy" will be seen tonight and tomorrow afternoon and evening, and will undoubtedly go on doing and will heavy business,

After the final curtain fell last night o'clock. i large number of Miss Fishers' friends accompanied her father and mother of the scenes and warmly congratulated her upon her success. Many members of the Salt Lake Opera company with whom she formerly appeared, were in the throng.

Mr. Lewis Morrison, the distinguished actor, whose rendition of Mephisto in 'Faust'' is almost a household word throughout the land, was in last night's audience. He is the husband of Florence Roberts, the well known actress, who plays all next week at the Theater, and as Mr. Morrison is resting this season he will pass that period here visiting old friends. Mr. Morrison said last night that although he had essayed many productions, such as "Frederick the Great," "Richelleu," etc., the public would never allow him to get away from Mephisto, and he felt he would be compelled to return to it next sea-son. Mr. Morrison has a host of friends here who knew him back in the early 80's when he used to visit the Salt

Lake Theater regularly, and all will be glad to learn that he is to pass a
