GENERAL EXPULSION.

Rumors That All Foreign Missionaries Must Leave Turkey.

TO GIVE HOUR FOR RUSSIANS.

No Serious Trouble Feared On That Account, but Our Government Will Resist.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The officials of the state department are fully aware of the condition of the missionaries in Turkey, and the developments in the case of Missionary Knapp, who is reported by cable to be in confinement at Diarbekir, but they refuse to discuss the matter. However, it is apparent that they do not feel under any great degree of apprehension as to serious trouble in Turkey, and so, in addition to their private cable advices from Mr. Biddle, they have the benefit of the presence and advice of Dudley Blanc Mitchener Terrell, who was at the state department again this morning, their sole object in mind would appear to be justification.

So far as the case of Missionary Knapp is concerned, it presents no new or startling feature. The only point is raised on its face is the old question of extra-territorial jurisdiction by our legation in Turkey. The state department has been asked upon the existence of this right steadfastly, and the correspondence sent in the present Congress relative to the Armenian troubles shows that although the Turkish government always has interposed objections to the exercise of this right, it has generally exercised the point. It is presumed that this will be the outcome in the case of Mr. Knapp.

The more serious aspect of the matter is brought to light by the renewal in the report that emanates from Constantinople some weeks ago, to the effect that there is to be a general expulsion of all foreign missionaries from Turkish Armenia, and in the breaking up the recent raids upon the house department in reference to this subject, it is believed there is some foundation for this report.

Possibly the reserve shown by the department in the treatment of the matter is to be attributed, for lack of action on its part to avoid giving offense to another great power, by making public its belief that this power is really responsible for the attempt to expel the missionaries, but that is the fact, and the only one so far as Washington with every appearance of reality that the American and other foreign missionaries are to be driven out from Armenia only to make room for a church that they do not represent. However, this is not to be brought about without the most earnest resistance on the part of our government, and it happens that in the present case the United States has a vessel of unlimited capacity to assist in making the lives a short life expulsion of the citizens then it would take to the Turkish waters of Turkey. As a general principle, we have conceded the right of a nation to expel objectionable foreigners from its territory, as it happens that in the case of Turkey treaty stipulations come to the rescue of the missionaries in a peculiar fashion. The Treaty guarantees, has a treaty with Turkey expressly conferring the right of their missionaries to reside and work in Turkey, and as the United States has a treaty with Turkey including the usual favored nation clause, the consideration of our government is that we have as good a right as the French to maintain our missionaries in the country, and upon that point the issue will be made. It is clearly to come to the promulgation of the limit of expulsion.

THIRD FINANCIAL DEBATE.

Both Speakers Sidetracking Their Base Phrases.

NEWNAN, Ga., April 7.—The third of the joint financial discussions between Secretary Smith and ex-Speaker Crisp was listened to here today by an audience of about 4,000 people, chiefly farmers. Mr. Crisp and Secretary Smith journeyed hither from Atlanta together yesterday and last night they were tendered a banquet at the Virginia house. They are both suffering from throat trouble and have been forbidden by the specialists who are treating them from speaking on successive days.

Ex-Speaker Crisp had the opening today. In the recent he replied to the charge that he had not always been for silver. He said that when he was elected Speaker he was thirty-nine years old. He said that he was influenced by the Eastern account of his political views. He said that two Massachusetts Democrats had voted against his election. Men often change their views. With this personal excuse he then plunged into the silver discussion.

The secretary was cheered on being introduced. "Judge Crisp," he said, in the outset, "has sought to create the impression that I am opposed to the use of both gold and silver. I am in favor of that system which will give us the largest use of both. I deny that contraction of silver will give us a dollar and I propose to prove it."

ELECTION RESULTS.

The Reform Movement a Factor in Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 7.—Out of the thirty-five aldermen, the Republicans today elected twenty, the Democrats thirteen and two independents were chosen. There are thirty-four wards in the city, but two aldermen were chosen in the Tenth, there being a vacancy in that ward. The principal feature of the event was the effect of the reform element to cause a number of the gang aldermen. The reformers were successful with a majority of them, but they failed to reach the three or four straight particular scalps they desired. Party lines were not strong in a number of the wards and the reform movement was much weaker. The fight on the town offices was in all of the two straight party lines, and the Republicans were entirely successful, carrying all the town offices by majorities ranging from 2,000 to 4,000.

The election was very quiet, even in the First and Nineteenth wards, where there was a good deal of fight last year, and no shooting affrays—nobody, however, being seriously injured. Not over twenty arrests were made during the day. The returns from the different wards show that the Republicans have on the total vote carried the city by a majority of about 20,000.

There was a good deal of fight last Sixteenth ward, in which most of the fights occurred, show that twenty-six men were laid out in one way or another during the day. The great majority of these were not injured seriously and not one of them fatally. The man hurt the most was Joseph Tracy, who was cut in the neck. James Dawson had his skull fractured with a crutch. Gill Hennessy was knocked flat with a gaslight-fixture, and John Wilson's ear was cut off by a silver mitten of the same kind. William Hickey was shot in the breakfast and John McGrath was shot in the back, but slightly injured.

A. P. A. The Issue in Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, April 7.—After a campaign filled with unusual strife, and in which parties were split from center to circumference, the city went from today passed off as peacefully as a May party. Ten polls were open from 6 to 5, and the largest vote of years was polled. But one man was arrested for illegal voting. A. P. A. ism with A. P. A. was the principal issue, with a side issue of reform government. The activity was displayed of a Republican ex-Mayor, Henry C. Kumpf, a prominent banner, running for that office on an independent Democratic ticket. With him on the ticket were principles from both old parties. On the Republican side, James M. Jones had a long fight for the A. P. A.'s as the regular Republican nominee. Jones is a police judge and a young lawyer very popular, only in favor of the A. P. A. principles. The remainder of the ticket was a mongrel, as was the of the leading opposed. John S. Crosby, who headed the People's ticket, cut out little Sigler.

To the campaign the Kumpf managers have charged the present Republican administration with leaving a deficit in the city treasury of almost $200,000, and in addition to a desire to oust the A. P. A.'s many of both parties voted the Jones ticket, illustrate their fight for reform government. On the other hand many Democrats left their own ticket, claiming it was under the rule of "gang" politicians and voted with the Republicans.

Another interesting item was the refusal of two or three A. P. A. judges to support their organization's nominee, because of their being previously appointed from the order.

The election was for mayor, city treasurer, auditor, police judge, attorney, president of the upper house, four members of the upper and ten of the lower house, and one member of the school board.

The returns are coming in very slowly, not at midnight it is conceded that the Republicans in A. P. A. ticket has been elected. Returns have been received from 8 wards out of eighty-three precincts, and these give Jones, the Republican and A. P. A. candidate, a plurality of 8.8. Jones is not running ahead of his ticket, and it is estimated that the complete returns will show the election of the entire Republican ticket by about 1,000 plurality.

COLORADO ELECTIONS.

DENVER, Colo., April 7.—In most of the cities and towns of Colorado, outside of Denver and Pueblo, elections were held today. The contests were entirely on local issues, although the Populists made a hard fight in Denver in the field, and in most cases polled their entire strength. In Hot Sulphur Springs the Republicans won by 300 to 200.

In Leadville where the Populists have been in control, the result is in doubt, the Republicans having made decided gains. In many of the mining towns the Populists polled the vote at home, and almost invariably the temperance element won. The women were well represented at the polls everywhere.

Dispatches from Alamosa and Las Vegas, N. M., and Lamanie, Wyo., report complete victories for the Republicans.

LEADVILLE, Colo., April 7.—While the complete returns are yet received from the city election today are from the precincts presumed they show nearly possible the majorities contained by the Republicans in the same precincts last year. If Republican gains elsewhere throughout the state of their candidates will be elected, although yesterday there has been steadily in favor of the Populists. The election passed off quietly, although very hotly contested.

A seven many votes were cast.

Latest returns—The Republican gains indicated in early returns have been maintained and the last present was in the result was the election of the Republican candidates for police judge, city attorney, clerk, engineer, treasurer and street superintendent, the Populists electing the city attorney and two aldermen.

The successful Republican candidates averaged about 200 majority.

BOOM LICENSE THE ISSUE.

OMAHA, April 7.—Nebraska municipal elections were held today. A heavy vote was polled even in the face of heavy rains. A general impression was mentioned in disregard party lines, the issue being—shall license, and is a majority of cases was carried.

Killed for Registration.

ST. LOUIS, April 7.—A special to the Republic from New Orleans says: A serious riot, growing out of the registration troubles in St. Landry parish, occurred today in which two negroes were killed, six of seven others wounded and many others whipped. The supervisor of registration at St. Landry, before a substitute of the Sixth quarters in Opelousas, the express by reason of the presence of troops there would protect them in the regulation, or write no more tickets, and started in large bodies for that town. A party of a hundred negroes left Grand Prairie for Opelousas, but were intercepted about half way and were kept at bay by the negroes were warned back by the registrars and told they would not be allowed to register. They attempted to pass, when one they were fired upon and two killed and six or seven wounded. The others were given fifty lashes each and warned home. The affair created a panic among the Opelousas negroes and only a few of them registered. A large number of citizens of Opelousas say that quiet will be kept there until after the election, Apr 14th.

There have been ten killed and thirteen wounded so far over the St. Landry political troubles.

COVERED WITH HONOR.

American Athletes Distinguish Themselves in Greece.

ATHENS, April 7.—Another great day for the Greeks and Greek sport, and the interest continued unabated. The royal family of Greece witnessed the games from the pavilion specially provided for them, as they did yesterday.

The American contestants again covered themselves with laurels. Thos. P. Curtis (the Boston lad) was the first to which he completed his hurdle race. His time was 18 seconds, 4 tenths, Mr. Kelleher, who finished in 18.2 seconds.

E. H. Clark of the Boston team won the broad jump with 6 meters 24 centimeters. Robert Garrett, Princeton, was second with 6 meters. James B. Connolly of Boston was third, 6 meters 84 centimeters.

Thomas E. Burke, Boston, was the third best of the Athenian running race in 54 1-5 seconds. H. B. Jameson of Princeton was second.

Robert Garrett of Princeton won the shot-put, 11 meters 22 centimeters.

Flack, an Australian, won the first heat of the mile run in 4:33. Arthur Blake of the Boston team was second.

In the trial of the hurdle race, W. W. Hoyt of the Boston Athletic association was defeated by Thomas P. Curtis of the same team.

A SHIPWRECKED CREW,

Driven Out to Sea in an Open Boat, by Spaniards.

PHILADELPHIA, April 7.—A thrilling story of shipwreck and a narrow escape from death comes to us from a Spaniards patrolling the south coast of Cuba was told today by Mate William Adams of the British bark Farnville, which was recently wrecked on the coast found known as Cape de Cruz, lying to the southeast of Cuba. Mate Adams, with seven other members of the crew, arrived here from St. Marc on board the steamer Kirkwood. He says the crew took in the open boat when the vessel struck, as she became a total wreck, and pulled for the shore of the island, expecting to land. They were later from exhaustion, but were driven back into their boats by Spanish soldiers, who were only distinctive was to row north in Mr. Adams's estimate—I seventy-five miles, which port it took them forty-eight hours to reach. Food was scarce, they were thirsty, as the heat became unbearable.

They were hailed at 1 o'clock on March 2nd by a Spanish man-of-war. Mate Adams made a long set speech, but she came to them come alongside and officers came into the boat and searched not from men to stern. All proceeded that they were ship-wrecked seamen, but the Spaniards refused to take them on board. After about an hour's detention they were permitted, and on the evening of the following day, more dead than alive, they reached Manzanillo. Here they were again detained for some time, until the Spanish authorities satisfied themselves they were not filibusters.

THE BRIDAL PARTY

Double Gather to See Gen. Harrison and His Wife.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 7.—The Pennsylvania train bearing Gen. Harrison and his bride arrived here on time at 10:15 tonight. As early as 8 o'clock an unusual number of the Union station were crowded with people, so that by 10 o'clock the crowd overflowed into the outside streets and surrounding place. The crowd seemed to be a very miscellaneous one of people who were curious to get a glimpse of the social party, but when the other appeared there was quite an amount of generous cheering and good natured remarks. In the crowd was noticeable several grizzled veterans of the Grand Army, who had been on hand to pay their respects to their comrade Harrison.

Secretary Tibbits said to an Associated Press reporter that the question of another political contest for the presidency was not mentioned in one house, and it was the intention of the ex-President to lead a very quiet life in Indianapolis and to give his entire attention to his law practice.
